For your hair — and your health.

We believe that when you take charge of your health and your hair growth, you also grow in other ways: in confidence, inner strength, and in feeling more empowered to help others around you grow too.

For yourselves and each other... keep growing.

A whole new category in hair growth.

Nutrafol couldn't be just another untested alternative to hair drugs. We had to innovate beyond both hair vitamins and prescriptions.

Our team of scientists and doctors take a scientifically rigorous approach to hair wellness research and the use of potent natural ingredients in clinically tested formulas.

Most people experience thinning hair at some point. If you're one of them, you're one of us.

We went through the same experience as millions of others. Our hair was thinning and it was stressful and scary. We tried conventional treatments, but we wanted a natural way to take control of our hair growth. So, we made one. The first Nutrafol hair stories are our own.

Giorgos Tsetis C.E
Co-founder, CEO

Giorgos started to see thinning hair while he was working as a model in his early 20s due to genetics and the stress of a demanding lifestyle. Fearing that it could affect his career, he tried a prescription hair drug. But after experiencing years of sexual side effects, he decided the health costs outweighed any benefits. He became dedicated to finding a natural solution.

Roland Peralta
Co-founder, Chief Innovation & Product Officer

Roland is an entrepreneur with a passion for the science of holistic wellness. He experienced thinning hair as he recovered from thyroid cancer and rheumatoid arthritis. On his healing journey, he began to research and use botanical Nutraceuticals to treat his health conditions and saw his hair growth improve as he increased his overall health.

Dr. Sophia Kogan, M.D.
Co-founder, Chief Medical Advisor

Dr. Kogan saw her hair shedding and thinning due to the stress of medical school and residency. Lack of sleep, an intense schedule, and poor nutrition took a toll on her health and her hair. She applied her medical education to her research on modes of whole-body healing for hair wellness as the basis for co-founding Nutrafol.

The experts who helped make it possible.

Meet our esteemed board of scientific advisors. Each a leader in their own field, they ensure that Nutrafol is always at the forefront of hair wellness research and their expertise is instrumental in the development of our hair growth formulas.
