How do I register for SRC 23?

Get all the details on how to register for our 2023 Social Retail Conference to be there in-person for the official launch of Project 2023 here.

Q: How many products are there in the hormonal health line for women?

A: There are 2 products. One is for women who menstruate. It is a customizable system of 3 formulas designed to be taken during your period, pre-ovulation and post-ovulation respectively. The second product is a single formula for women in perimenopause, menopause or post-menopause.

Q: What makes Project 23 different from other health supplements for women?

A: Your body's responses to the different phases of your menstrual cycle and the phases of menopause aren't due to hormones alone, but also due to fluctuating metabolites and micronutrients. Project 23 takes a unique approach to hormonal health unlike anything else, by addressing these biochemical responses with easy-to-use, customizable products that sync to your cycle or menopausal needs, all without the use of hormones or soy isoflavones.

Q: How do I take the menstrual health product?

A: Take one pill daily with food and water, coinciding with your menstrual cycle and beginning on the first day of your period. Your pills are distributed as follows:

- Formula #1: Days 1-4 (period)
- Formula #2: Days 5-16 (pre-ovulation)
- Formula #3: Days 17-32 (post-ovulation)

If your next period starts before you have finished formula #3, discontinue use and start a new supplement cycle, beginning with formula #1 in the second box. For best results, take at the same time each day. Depending on what's most convenient for you, this may be first thing in the morning, before bedtime or sometime during the day.

Q: How do I take the menopausal health product?

A: Take two capsules daily with food and water. For best results, take at the same time each day. Depending on what's most convenient for you, this may be first thing in the morning, before bedtime or sometime during the day.

Q: What age range is the menstrual health product for?

A: We recommend the menstrual health product for women 18+ who menstruate regularly and who are not taking hormonal birth control. Once symptoms of perimenopause start, typically around age 45, switch to the menopause product.

Q: Can I take the menstrual health product if my cycle doesn't line up with a four-week cycle?

A: Yes, we know that not all women experience a regular four-week cycle length, and every woman is unique. The menstrual health product is formulated to be used by women with varying cycle lengths and you can customize your regimen as needed. The doses provided will support most women, most cycles.

Anything beyond a 32-day cycle should be discussed with a doctor. If it is determined perimenopause plays a role in increased cycle length, we recommend the menopause formula. If perimenopause is ruled out, we recommend waiting until your next period begins to start the menstrual health product, beginning with formula #1.

Q. Can I take the menstrual health product if I use hormonal birth control like an IUD?

A: The menstrual health product is recommended for menstruating women ages 18+ not using hormonal birth control. Its ingredients are generally considered to be safe for women taking birth control to use. However, hormonal birth control users may not experience as many noticeable benefits because hormonal birth control typically prevents ovulation and helps maintain more consistent hormone levels week to week.

For women using hormonal birth control who don't get a period but want to take the product, we suggest starting with Formula 3 when you feel symptoms of PMS. From there you can move to Formula 1 and then Formula 2. For best results, try to align your pills with a 28-day cycle. Consult your doctor before starting any supplement regimen.

Q. What is considered hormonal birth control?

A: Any birth control that consistently administers hormones is considered hormonal birth control. This could include birth control pills or mini-pills, IUDs with hormones, a birth control shot, patch, implant, pellet or ring. Copper IUDs, condoms, diaphragms, cervical caps, spermicides/vaginal gels and sponges are not hormonal birth control.

Q: What are soy isoflavones?

A: Soy isoflavones are a specific category of phytoestrogens — plant-based compounds — that have the ability to produce a strong estrogenic effect in the body that may directly influence hormone response. Many women's health supplements use soy isoflavones because they can mimic estrogen hormones. Not all phytoestrogens produce this effect to this degree.

Q: How do the formulas in Project 23 work without hormones or soy isoflavones?

A: Our women's health line supports your body's energy metabolism, detoxification process, inflammatory response, mood and more during your menstrual cycle and the phases of menopause, focusing on supporting optimal biochemical responses rather than acting directly on hormones.

Q: Why are hormones and soy isoflavones undesirable for hormonal health?

A: Long-term use of hormones and soy isoflavones has been linked to an increased risk of certain cancers and should only be done under the supervision of a doctor.

Q: If I know when I ovulate and it's before I'm done with formula #2, should I move on to formula #3?

A: If you are tracking ovulation and experience it before finishing formula #2, you can move to formula #3. However, because most women don't know when they ovulate, we recommend taking all the pills in formula #2 before moving to the next bottle.

Q: What should I do if I run out of formula #3 before my next period begins?

A: We recommend waiting until your next period to begin a new supplement cycle with formula #1.

Q: What clinical and/or testing has been done on our P23 formulas?

A: Project 23 delivers intuitive nutrition based on the latest available research surrounding women's health. Its comprehensive formulas feature potent, hormone-free and soy isoflavone-free ingredients extensively studied and backed by science. Several key ingredients have undergone clinical trials, however, the final Project 23 formula trials are still pending.

Q: Can I take P23 if I'm breastfeeding?

A: Consult your doctor before starting any supplement regimen.

Q: Will Project 23 be available in our other global markets?

Coming soon to other global markets! Beginning March 2023, both Project 23 products will be available on modere.com and modereglobalshop.com for Canada.

Q: Can I take the menstrual health product if I'm trying to become pregnant?

A: Yes, it is formulated to support optimal hormonal health and supports health leading up to ovulation. However, it does not take the place of a prenatal vitamin. Consult with your doctor before starting any supplement regimen.

Q: Can I take the menstrual health product if I'm pregnant?

A: If you become pregnant, discontinue use. Consult your doctor before starting any supplement regimen.

Q: Which product should I take if I've had a tubal ligation (tubes tied)?

A: Take the menstrual health product as long as you get regular menstrual periods and are not experiencing normal symptoms of perimenopause.

Q: Which product should I take if I’ve had a hysterectomy or uterine ablation?

A: Women without ovaries who no longer experience menstrual cycles can take the menopausal health product. For partial hysterectomies or ablations, we recommend taking the menstrual health product as your hormones still fluctuate cyclically even though you may not get a period. We suggest starting with Formula 3 when you feel symptoms of PMS. From there you can move to Formula 1 and then Formula 2. For best results, try to align your pills with a 28-day cycle. Consult your doctor before starting any supplement regimen.

Q: How do I know if I’m in perimenopause, menopause or post-menopause?

A: Most women enter perimenopause — the phase leading up to menopause — around age 45, but everyone’s body is different. If you begin noticing irregular periods that fall outside of a 32-day cycle or symptoms of menopause like hot flashes, night sweats, or low libido, you are likely experiencing perimenopause and should switch from the menstrual health product to the menopause product.

Menopause is defined as one full year without periods. Normal symptoms of menopause like hot flashes and vaginal dryness may still be present, and you may notice drier skin and nails.

After at least one full year without periods, you enter post-menopause. At this stage, cardiovascular health becomes a top priority, as does continued support for vaginal health and healthy skin and nails. We recommend continuing to take the menopause formula in post-menopause as long as you experience unwanted symptoms and are looking for benefits including help to:

- Reduce mild hot flashes*
- Reduce night sweats*
- Reduce vaginal dryness*
- Support libido*
- Improve sleep health*
- Support cognitive health*
- Support cardiovascular health*
- Protect cells from oxidative stress*
- Support healthy looking skin and nails*
- Support energy levels*
- Support mood*

*These statements have not been evaluated by the Food and Drug Administration. This product is not intended to diagnose, treat, cure or prevent any disease.

Q. Which product should I take if I’m in perimenopause and have irregular periods?

A: We recommended taking the menopause product which is formulated to support women experiencing perimenopause, menopause, and post menopause. It is normal to have irregular periods during perimenopause. The menopause formula provides continuous support regardless of when or if you get a period, whereas the menstrual health product is formulated for women who get regular periods.

Q: Can I take the menopausal health product if I’m taking soy isoflavones or hormone replacement therapy?

A: Consult your doctor before starting any supplement regimen, or before discontinuing any medically supervised therapy.

Q: Will the Project 23 supplements help with PCOS?

A: We recommend consulting with your doctor before starting any supplement regimen.

Q: Is Project 23 safe for those who have a genetic disorder called MTHFR?

A: We recommend consulting with your doctor before starting any supplement regimen.

Q. Is Project 23 safe for someone who has/had breast cancer or a hormonal cancer?

A: The formulas for both the menstrual and menopause product are hormone- and soy isoflavone-free. We recommend consulting with your doctor before starting any supplement regimen.

Q: Is there an ingredient deck that I can take to my doctor?

A: Menstrual Formula #1

Q: How quickly will I see results?

Q: Does Project 23 replace the other daily nutritional supplements?

A: No, we recommend incorporating your Project 23 regimen alongside the Modere Axis™ line, which provides bioceutical nutrition for optimal health™ with foundational supplements like TreBiotic, OptiPack™ and Phytos. Consult your doctor before discontinuing any supplements you currently take.

A: Project 23 is not a weight management supplement. However, it is formulated to help support aspects of health that may indirectly contribute to weight, like energy levels, sleep health, nutrient absorption, occasional stress, detoxification and inflammatory response. For a comprehensive approach to healthy weight management, we suggest pairing Project 23 with Axis OptiPack™ and the Lean Body System.
