Tom,

Thank you for the call last Thursday with your team. As a follow-up, I want to let you know that one of the companies with inaccurate Made in the U.S.A. representations on the GSA Advantage website informed us that they did not supply false U.S.-origin information to the GSA and are squarely placing the blame for the error on GSA. Is it possible to definitively identify the source of the error as either a GSA input issue or a company representation issue?

Many thanks,

Laura
