Natural Supplement for ADD and ADHD like Symptoms - ADD-care®

The FDA prohibits any supplement company or natural product from claiming to have a natural treatment for any health care condition and this includes mental health conditions such as ADD (Attention Deficit Disorder) or ADHD (Attention Deficit Hyperactivity Disorder). ADD-care® therefore makes no claim to be a treatment for or any other mental health condition.

However, ADD-care® has been shown repeatedly to rival the stimulants on several diagnostic indices that strongly suggest its efficacy for symptoms that are often associated with ADD and ADHD. These symptoms include distractibility, impulsiveness, lack of concentration, irritability, procrastination, restlessness, preoccupation, and other ADD and ADHD like symptoms.

In head to head comparisons with SPECT internal brain imaging and the Conner's ADD impulsivity tests at the Amen Clinic ADD-care® met or exceeded the performance of the stimulants. For the surface SPECT scan ADD-care® performed between 80% to 125% as well. These studies are available for viewing on the SPECT page. Client's written testimonials and video testimonials are also available from numerous ADD/ADHD clients who clearly state their opinion as to how well ADD-care® compares to the stimulants for many of their symptoms.

ADD-care® was developed by a psychotherapist with over 35 years of clinical experience and a specialty in ADD and a noted naturopathic physician. It has been studied extensively since 2005 by having clients with ADD or ADHD who had been successfully treated with regular stimulant and/or antidepressant medication try ADD-care®.

85% of these clients have decided to forgo their medication and now use ADD-care for their symptoms of distraction and impulsiveness. Most of the other clients use stimulant medication for their symptoms during the day and then use ADD-care® in the late afternoon or evening since stimulant medication can't be used after 4 PM due to appetite and sleep disturbances. ADD-care® has no such side effects. There are even a couple of these clients who use a stimulant medication and ADD-care® together and have reported that they feel even more focused, but feel that ADD-care® minimizes some of the side effects of the stimulants.

ADD-care® is a natural supplement made with all natural ingredients. Original ADD-care® consists of two amino acids often used to support neurotransmitter balance which is frequently suggested for those suffering from ADD and ADHD. In addition ADD-care® is made with a revolutionary proprietary homeopathic blend which seems to increase the main neurotransmitters of dopamine, serotonin, acetylcholine, and GABA.

Because of this overall improvement of the neurotransmitters ADD-care® has been able to change the basic formula to address different symptoms often seen with other mental health conditions. All of the ADD-care® products share the proprietary homeopathic blend, but by adding St. John's Wort to make MOOD-care symptoms of depression, low self-esteem, and sadness are lessened significantly.

Our natural calming supplement, ADD-calm acts like a natural tranquilizer for general anxiety. Many people who suffer from obsessive thoughts or compulsions have benefited from OBSESS-care and those who have general memory problems or memory loss associated with older age and/or menopausal symptoms have benefited by ADD-memory.
