1 Pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23(e), Plaintiffs Chayla Clay, Erica 2 Ehrlichman, Logan Reichert, and Chris Roman move this Court for preliminary 3 approval of the Settlement with Defendant Cytosport Inc., the terms of which are set 4 forth in the Amended Settlement Agreement (“Agreement”) attached as Exhibit A to 5 the Declaration of Trenton R. Kashima (“Kashima Decl. II”), filed herewith.¹

6 Plaintiffs previously moved for preliminary approval of the Settlement. ECF
 7 No. 222-1. Court denied preliminary approval without prejudice and gave the parties 8 guidance regarding how to revise the settlement and accompanying materials in certain 9 respects to address the Court’s concerns. The parties acted on the Court’s guidance, 10 made revisions, and now move for preliminary approve of the revised agreement. This 11 Motion largely follows the arguments previously forwarded by Plaintiffs in support of 12 preliminary approval (see ECF No. 222-1), noting the relevant changes made to the 13 Amended Settlement Agreement, which includes:

- 14 • The definition of the “Settlement Classes” include only consumers of the Class 15 Products (Agreement at ¶ 2.29);
- 16 • The Settlement Administrator is required to staff the Toll-Free Telephone 17 Number with live representatives (Id. at ¶ 8.04);
- 18 • The parties will provide a template Request for Exclusion on the Settlement
 19 Website (Id. at ¶ 11.02);
- 20 • Requests for Exclusion can be submitted by mail or online (Ibid.);
- 21 • Class Members can submit written objections or oral objection at the Fairness
 22 Hearing (Id. at ¶ 11.04);
- 23 • The “Released Claims” was limited to the scope allowed by Hesse v. Spring
Corporation, 598 F.3d 581 (9th Cir. 2010) (Id. at ¶ 14.01);
- 24 • References regarding “assisting other” from initiating a claim was removed 25 from the release language (Id. at ¶ 14.04); and
- 26 • Language was changed to reflect Trenton Kashima’s change of law firm (Id. at 27 ¶ 2.07).

28 See Kashima Decl. II, at ¶ 53. Additionally, Plaintiffs submit the declaration of Steven Weisbrot (“Weisbrot Decl. II”), filed herewith, which further details the reach and ¹ All capitalized terms used herein have the same definitions as those defined in the Settlement Agreement.

1 scope of the notice process.

2 I. INTRODUCTION

3 After a hard-fought litigation including multiple rounds of written discovery, 4 depositions, expert discovery, extensive motion practice, and two rounds of 5 mediations, Plaintiffs and Defendant reached a Settlement. Plaintiffs' underlying 6 action alleges that Defendant misleadingly advertised the fat, L-Glutamine and protein 7 content of its protein supplements; claims that Defendant vigorously denies. The 8 Settlement addresses these allegations and provides the Class with $12 million dollars 9 of relief, in addition to requiring Defendant to pay for the administration of the 10 Settlement and Notice to the Class. Compared to Plaintiffs' initial estimates, the 11 individual recovery offered under this Settlement could exceed the amount Class 12 Members could reasonably expect at trial. Accordingly, this Settlement provides a 13 significant and immediate benefit to the Settlement Class.

14 Given the extensive relief provided, it is unsurprising that the proposed 15 Settlement is the result of lengthy and contentious negotiations conducted with the 16 assistance of an experienced mediator, David Rotman, Esq. The Settlement was only 17 reached after the Court ruled on Plaintiffs' Motion for Class Certification and 18 Defendant's Motion for Summary Judgment, and the Ninth Circuit had accepted 19 Defendant's petition for review under Rule 23(f). Additionally, as noted herein, the 20 Settlement (as amended) addresses each of the concerns in the Court's previous order 21 on Preliminary Approval. Accordingly, this Settlement is the result of well-informed 22 arm's length negotiations.

23 If approved, the Settlement will bring an end to what has otherwise been, and 24 likely would continue to be, contentious and costly litigation under extremely 25 favorable terms to the Settlement Class. Therefore, Plaintiffs request that the Court 26 preliminarily approve the Settlement, order that Class Notice be disseminated, and 27 schedule a final approval hearing.

1 II. FACTUAL BACKGROUND AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

2 A. The Factual Allegations and Causes of Action

3 Plaintiffs filed this class action on January 23, 2015. See generally Plaintiffs’
4 Complaint [Dkt. No. 1]. Defendant manufactures and markets the popular Muscle 5 Milk protein supplements. See generally First Amended Complaint (“FAC”) [Dkt.
6 No. 156]. at ¶ 1. There are two product types involved in this case: the “Powder 7 Products” and the ready-to-drink “Shake Products” (collectively referred to herein as 8 the “Class Products”). Id. at ¶¶ 2-3. The Powder Products are protein drink powders 9 that consumers typically mix with water or milk. The Shake Products come in a 10 premixed liquid form and are sold as individual serving sized containers.

11 1. The Lean Claims

12 During the Class Period, Defendant labeled its Powder Products with a number 13 of “Lean” claims, including: (1) the front labels stated that they contain “[XX] g LEAN
14 PROTEIN”; (2) the Products identified as “LEAN MUSCLE PROTEIN,” “LEAN 15 MUSCLE PROTEIN SUPPLEMENT,” “LEAN MUSCLE PROTEIN POWDER,” or 16 “NEW LEANER FORMULA”; and (3) the vast majority of the products also advertise 17 they contain “Lean Lipids.” See Declaration of Trenton Kashima (“Kashima Decl. I”) [Dkt. No. 157-21], ¶¶ 7-9, App. A.

18 Plaintiffs contend that the “Lean” claims are both misleading and illegal under 19 federal law. FAC, ¶¶ 46-52. The Powder Products are fortified with oils and fats.
20 Kashima Decl. I, ¶ 27. Plaintiffs, thus, argue that use of the term lean to describe these 21 Products was misleading.² Further, pursuant to the Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act
22 (“FDCA”), federal regulations prohibit the use of the word “lean” unless the food meets 23 the requirements of 21 C.F.R. § 101.62(e). See 21 C.F.R. § 101.62(a). Plaintiffs assert 24 that each “Lean” Muscle Milk Product fails to satisfy 21 C.F.R. § 101.62(e) and is a per 25

26 ² The lean claims involve the following products: Muscle Milk: Lean Muscle
27 Protein Powder; Muscle Milk Light: Lean Muscle Protein Powder; Muscle Milk
28 Naturals: Nature’s Ultimate Lean Muscle Protein; Muscle Milk Pro Series 50: Lean Muscle Mega Protein Powder; and Monster Milk: Lean Muscle Protein Supplement.

1 se violation of the FDCA.³

2 2. The Protein Claims

3 Plaintiffs further alleges that Defendant’s Shake Products do not contain the 4 advertised quantity of protein. Id., ¶¶ 16-30. The shake Products state that they 5 contain a specific amount of protein per container. Kashima Decl., I ¶¶ 18-20, App.
6 C; see also id., Exs. S & T.⁴ Plaintiffs assert the stated protein content of the Products 7 is deficient. 21 C.F.R. § 101.9(g)(4)(i).

8 Based on these assertions, Plaintiffs alleged—on behalf of a National Class—9 that Defendant had violated the California Unfair Competition Law (“UCL”), CAL.
10 BUS. & PROF. CODE §§ 17200 et seq., and the California False Advertising Law 11 (“FAL”) a CAL. BUS. & PROF. CODE §§ 17500 et seq. FAC, ¶¶ 61-69, 83-104.
12 Plaintiffs also claim, on behalf of classes of purchasers of Shake and Powder Products
13 in California, Michigan, and Florida, that the advertisements of the Class Products 14 violate their respective state’s consumer protection statutes⁵, warranty laws, and the 15 Magnuson–Moss Warranty Act (“MMWA”), 15 U.S.C. § 2301 et seq. FAC, ¶¶ 61-16 146.⁶

17 B. Procedural History

18 1. Defendant’s Motion to Dismiss

19 On March 30, 2015, Defendant moved to dismiss Plaintiffs’ claims. See 20 generally Defendant’s Motion to Dismiss [Dkt. No. 24-1]. It was argued that 21 Plaintiffs’ allegations were preempted by the FDCA, were subject to the Primary

22 ³ California, Florida and Michigan have each expressly adopted the requirements of 23 FDCA into their own state statutory regimes. See CAL. HEALTH & SAFETY CODE §

24 ⁴ The protein claims involve the following products: Cytosport Whey Isolate 25 Protein Drink; Monster Milk: Protein Power Shake; Genuine Muscle Milk: Protein Nutrition Shake; and Muscle Milk Pro Series 40: Mega Protein Shake.

26 ⁵ For the California Subclass, the UCL, FAL, and Consumer Legal Remedies Act,
CAL. CIV. CODE §§ 1700 et seq. For the Michigan Subclass, the Michigan Consumer
27 Protection Act, M.C.L. §§ 445.901 et seq. For the Florida Subclass, the Florida Deceptive and Unfair Trade Practices Act, FL.ST. §§ 501.201 et seq.

28 ⁶ Plaintiffs also challenged the L-Glutamine claims made on Defendant’s Powder Products. FAC, ¶¶ 31-45. These claims were not certified, and are no longer being pursued.

1 Jurisdiction Doctrine, Plaintiffs lacked standing to bring their claims, and Plaintiffs’ 2 allegations were insufficient to satisfy the elements of their underlying causes of 3 action. See generally id.

4 The Court denied Defendant’s Motion to Dismiss in its entirety. Order Denying 5 Motion to Dismiss [Dkt. No. 53]. In doing so, the Court clarified the correct protein 6 testing methodology applicable under federal law and that Plaintiffs would have to 7 prove their case under these standards. Id. at pp. 5:20-6:4 & 7:3-23.

8 2. Plaintiffs’ Motion for Judgment on the Pleadings

9 After Defendant answered the Complaint, Plaintiffs filed a Motion for Judgment
10 on the Pleadings to contest the validity of Defendant’s twenty-seven affirmative 11 defenses. Dkt. No. 68-1. The Court granted Plaintiffs’ Motion as to all but seven of 12 Defendant’s affirmative defenses. Order Granting in Part and Denying in Part 13 Plaintiffs’ Motion [Dkt. No. 163]. Between Defendant’s Motion to Dismiss and 14 Plaintiffs’ Motion for Judgment on the Pleading, the parties had defined the scope of 15 the dispute.

16 3. Plaintiffs’ Motion for Class Certification and Defendant’s Motion 17 for Partial Summary Judgment and to Exclude Certain Opinions of Dr. Howlett

18 On September 9, 2016, Plaintiffs moved to certify national and three separate 19 state classes. See Dkt. No. 109. Defendant, however, moved for an extension of time
20 to file its response to Plaintiffs’ Motion for Class Certification, arguing that Defendant 21 needed additional time to conduct expert discovery. Defendant’s Ex Parte Motion for 22 Extension of Time [Dkt. No. 121]. Accordingly, the Court referred the discovery 23 dispute to the Magistrate Judge and denied Plaintiffs’ Motion for Class Certification 24 without prejudice. See Order Granting in Part Defendant’s Ex Parte Application [Dkt.
25 No. 124].

26 In turn, the Magistrate Judge decided on the parties’ discovery dispute and 27 entered an order resetting the class certification deadline to March 3, 2017. Order 28 Granting in Part and Denying in Part Joint Motion for a Status Conference and Briefing

1 Schedule [Dkt. No. 133]. But, before Plaintiff filed the Motion for Class Certification, 2 Defendant filed a Motion for Partial Summary Judgment and to Exclude Certain 3 Opinions of Dr. Howlett (Plaintiffs' Damages Expert). See Order Regarding Briefing
4 Plaintiffs' Motion for Class Certification [Dkt. No. 154]. The Court denied 5 Defendant's Motion for Summary Judgment without prejudice and ordered that 6 Defendant refile its Motion with its opposition to Plaintiffs' Motion for Class 7 Certification. This would allow the concurrent briefing of both parties' Motions for a 8 single hearing, if necessary. Order Regarding Briefing Plaintiffs' Motion for Class 9 Certification [Dkt. No. 154].

10 The parties' arguments on these matters proved extensive. Kashima Decl. II, at 11 ¶ 20. In total, the parties submitted 135 pages of briefing and seventeen declarations 12 (including five expert declarations) with over 4,000 pages of evidence in support of 13 their respective class certification and summary judgment motions. Id.; See Dkt. Nos.
14 157-1, 170-1, 185 & 191. The Court ultimately granted in part, and denied in part, 15 both Plaintiffs' Motion for Class Certification and Defendant's Motion for Summary
16 Judgment. The Court granted summary judgment as to Plaintiffs' Michigan Consumer 17 Protection Act (sections 445.903(1)(a), (e), (s) and (cc); but not 445.903(1)(c)), 18 express warranty and MMWA claims (Order Regarding Motion for Summary 19 Judgment [Dkt. No. 209]), while certifying the following classes:

20 (1) the nationwide classes as to the UCL and FAL claims to the extent they 21 are based on statements of protein content on protein shake labels and "lean" 22 statements on protein powder labels; (2) the California subclasses as to the 23 UCL, FAL and CLRA claims to the extent they are based on statements of 24 protein content on protein shake labels; and UCL and FAL claims to the 25 extent they are based on "lean" statements on protein powder labels; (3) the 26 Florida subclasses as to the FDUTPA violation based on the protein content 27 statements on protein shakes and "lean" statements on protein powders; and 28 (4) the Michigan subclass as to the MCPA violation based on the protein content statements on protein shakes."

Order Regarding Class Certification [Dkt. No. 210], at p. 38.

4. Defendant's Appeal

Following the Court's ruling, Defendant filed a Petition for Permission to 1 Appeal the decision on class certification pursuant to Rule 23(f). See Dkt. No. 218.

2 Defendant sought review of the Court’s certification of a national class under the UCL 3 and FAL, as well as the sufficiency of Plaintiffs’ proposed damages model. See 4 Chayla Clay et al. v. Cytosport, Inc., Case No. 18-80123 [Dkt. No. 1-2]. In a rare 5 decision by the Ninth Circuit on December 21, 2018, the Petition was granted, but 6 briefing was subsequently stayed at the parties’ request to permit them to attempt to 7 mediate a settlement. Id., at Dkt. No. 11; Kashima Decl. II, at ¶ 24.

8 C. The Parties’ Discovery Efforts

9 The parties have engaged in extensive discovery to prosecute this case.
10 Plaintiffs propounded fifty-six document requests, thirty-two interrogatories, sixteen 11 requests for admissions, and a number of subpoenas. Id. at ¶ 25. As a result, Plaintiffs 12 have received and reviewed over 47,000 pages of documents, plus voluminous 13 amounts of product sales data. Id. at ¶ 26. Plaintiffs deposed several of Defendant’s 14 key employees, including Defendant’s Chief Marketing Officer, Senior Vice President 15 of Innovation and Business Development, and Compliance Manager. Id., ¶ 27. In 16 total, Plaintiffs took six depositions over seven days. Id.

17 The parties further relied on expert witnesses. Plaintiffs offered the declaration 18 of Dr. William Campbell regarding the effects of L-glutamine on the human body, as 19 well as the declarations of Dr. Jeffrey Harris and Dr. Elizabeth Howlett in support of 20 Plaintiffs’ proposed class damages model. See Dkt. Nos. 157-6, 157-7 & 157-8.
21 Defendant offered the declarations of Professor Ravi Dhar and Dr. Keith R. Ugone to 22 challenge Plaintiffs’ damages model. See Dkt. Nos. 170-7 & 170-22. This discovery 23 offered considerable insight into the likelihood Plaintiffs’ prevailing on their claims 24 and, consequently, the value of the case.⁷

25 The parties’ discovery efforts have not only been extensive, but contentious.

26
27 ⁷ Defendant has also issued multiple document requests and interrogatories to 28 Plaintiffs, all of which had been answered. Kashima Decl. II, ¶ 29. Defendant deposed each of the named Plaintiffs, and subpoenaed several retailers for the records of Plaintiffs’ purchases. Id., ¶¶ 29-30.

1 The parties conferring on their various discovery requests expended significant effort.
2 Id., ¶ 35. These discovery disputes required judicial intervention on three occasions.
3 See Joint Motion for Determination of Discovery Dispute [Dkt. No. 89], Joint Motion
4 for Determination of Discovery Dispute [Dkt. No. 95], Joint Motion for Determination 5 of Discovery Dispute [Dkt. No. 125].

6 Plaintiffs' discovery efforts would have continued had the Settlement not have 7 been negotiated. Kashima Decl. II, ¶ 33. The parties agreed to bifurcate discovery 8 and had not yet fully explored the merits of their claims, including, likely, additional 9 product testing. Id.

10 D. Settlement Negotiations

11 The parties had periodically discussed settlement of this case. On October 26, 12 2015, the parties attended an Early Neutral Evaluation Conference before Magistrate 13 Judge David Bartick. See Dkt. No. 65. While Judge Bartick and the parties made a 14 sincere effort, the case did not settle. Kashima Decl. II, ¶ 36.

15 The parties later agreed to meet for settlement discussion on March 1, 2016 in 16 Walnut Creek, California. Id., ¶ 37. Again, while the parties elaborated as to their 17 respective settlement positions, no significant progress was achieved. Id. Both parties 18 accordingly focused on litigating this action. Id.

19 It was only following the Court's decision on Motions for Summary Judgment 20 and Class Certification that settlement discussions began in earnest. Id., ¶ 38. Because 21 the parties had, by this point, engaged in extensive discovery, including expert 22 discovery regarding damages, and had the benefit of the Court's decision on key 23 disputes, the parties were fully informed of the strengths and weakness of their 24 respective claims. This allowed for frank and meaningful settlement discussions.

25 This time, the parties agreed to mediate before the well-respected mediator, 26 David Rotman. The first mediation session with Mr. Rotman took place at his office 27 in California on November 5, 2018. Id., ¶ 39. The parties discussed the structure of 28 potential settlements and made some headway, but were unable to reach an agreement.

1 Id., ¶ 48. The parties, nonetheless, continued their settlement discussions. Id., ¶ 49.

2 The parties met with Mr. Rotman, again, on March 7, 2019, and eventually were 3 able to come to an agreement on the material terms of the Settlement. Id., ¶ 50. The 4 Settlement Agreement was signed on May 12, 2019. Id., ¶ 51.

5 E. The Court’s December 23, 2019 Order on Preliminary Approval
6 and Amended Settlement Agreement

7 Plaintiffs initially submitted their Motion for Preliminary Approval on May 13, 8 2019 [ECF No. 222]. The Court denied the Motion, without prejudice, seeking 9 additional information regarding the notice process and suggesting changes to the 10 propose Settlement’s class definitions and release. See generally Order Denying 11 without Prejudice Plaintiffs’ Unopposed Motion for Preliminary Approval (“Order”) 12 [ECF No. 229]. The parties met and conferred regarding the issues raised and agreed 13 to resubmit the resulting amended Settlement for the Court’s approval. Kashima Decl.
14 II, at ¶¶ 52-53.

15 III. SUMMARY OF THE PROPOSED SETTLEMENT

16 1. The Monetary Settlement Benefit

17 Defendant will contribute $12 million to a non-reversionary common fund (the 18 “Settlement Fund”) which will be paid out to Class members after payment of 19 counsel’s attorneys’ fees and costs and the requested incentive awards. Agreement at 20 ¶¶ 2.31, 4.01, 10.01. Defendant agreed to separately pay the costs of notice and claims 21 administration. Id. at ¶ 2.31; Kashima Decl. II, at ¶ 61.

22 The Settlement Fund will be provided to the proposed Settlement Class, which 23 mirrors the Class previously certified by the Court. Compare Order Regarding Class 24 Certification [Dkt. No. 210], at pp. 38-41 and Agreement at ¶ 2.29.⁸ The Settlement 25 Fund will be distributed to the Settlement Class on a claims-made basis, according to 26 ⁸ Excluded from the Powder Settlement Class are: (1) employees of Defendant, 27 including its current and former directors, officers and counsel; (2) any entity that has 28 a controlling interest in Defendant; (3) Defendant’s affiliates and subsidiaries; and (4) the judge to whom this case is assigned and any member of the judge’s immediate family. Agreement at ¶ 2.29

1 the number of Shake and Powder Products purchased during the Class Period:

2 For Shake Products, Class Members with proof of purchase may submit 3 claims for $1 per purchased shake, with no limit on the number of shakes 4 that may be claimed. Class Members with no proof of purchase may submit claims for $1 per purchased shake, capped at $25.

5 For the Powder Products, Class Members with proof of purchase may 6 submit claims for $3 for each purchase of a product weighing 2 ³/₄ lbs or 7 less and $5 for each purchase of each product weighing more than 2 ³/₄
8 lbs, with no limit on the number of purchases that may be claimed. Class Members with no proof of purchase may submit claims for $3 for each purchase of a product weighing 2 ³/₄ lbs or less and $5 for each purchase of each product weighing more than 2 ³/₄ lbs, capped at $25.

9 Agreement at ¶ at ¶¶ 4.01-4.04.

10 If the amount of money claimed by the Class exceeds the net amount provided 11 by the Settlement Fund, each Class Member will receive a reduced pro rata share of 12 the Fund. Id., at ¶ 4.05. However, if the funds claimed is less than the net amount in 13 the Settlement Fund, each Class Member will receive a pro rata share of any remaining 14 money. Id.

15 To receive a cash payment, Class Members must file a timely and valid Claim 16 Form. Id. at ¶¶ 4.02, 9.01. The Claim Form may be completed either online or by 17 mail and must provide: (i) the number and type of Class Product(s) purchased, and (ii) 18 that the purchase or purchases were made within the applicable Class Period. Id. The 19 Settlement Administrator will be responsible for reviewing all claims to determine 20 their validity. Id. at ¶ 9.02.

21 In additional to the monetary benefit, Defendant has removed the challenged 22 “lean” references from the Powder Product’s labels. Agreement, at ¶ 4.01. Defendant 23 has also agreed to review its manufacturing processes and protocols to minimize 24 variability of the protein content contained in its Shake Products. Id.

25 2. The Release of Claims by the Class

26 In exchange for the Settlement benefits, Settlement Class members will release 27 Defendant and related entities from:

28 any and all claims, causes of action, suits, obligations, debts, demands, agreements, promises, liabilities, damages, losses, controversies, costs,

1 expenses, and attorneys' fees of any nature whatsoever, whether based on 2 any federal law, state law, common law, territorial law, foreign law, contract, 3 rule, regulation, any regulatory promulgation (including, but not limited to,
 4 any opinion or declaratory ruling), common law, or equity, whether known 5 or unknown, suspected or unsuspected, asserted or unasserted, foreseen or 6 unforeseen, actual or contingent, liquidated or unliquidated, punitive or 7 compensatory, that arise out of or relate in any way to the claims asserted or the factual allegations made in the Amended Complaint in this Action, including without limitation the marketing, advertising, promotion, or distribution of the Class Products and the purchase of any of the Class Products at any time during the Class Period. This release is intended to cover the full scope allowed by Hesse v. Spring Corporation, 598 F.3d 581 (9th Cir. 2010).

8 Id. at ¶ 14.01. The definition of Released Claims was specifically limited to the scope
 9 allowed by Hesse in response to the Court's concerns in its Preliminary Approval
 10 Order. Order at ¶ 2; Kashima Decl. II, at ¶ 53.⁹

11 3. Proposed Notice and Class Members' Right to Opt Out or Object

12 The parties have agreed to disseminate the Class Notice through an aggressive 13 advertisement campaign:

14 The notice program features a robust media campaign consisting of state-of-15 the-art targeted internet banner notice, print publication notice in widely-16 read consumer magazines, sponsored notice on two leading class action-17 related websites, and two advanced custom social media campaigns. The notice program also includes a dedicated website and toll-free telephone line where Class Members can learn more about their rights and responsibilities in the litigation.

18 Weisbrot Decl. II at ¶ 9. The proposed forms of notice are attached to the class 19 administrator's declaration for the Court's review. Weisbrot Decl. II at Exs. A-D.

20 The advertisements will direct Settlement Class Members to a website, created 21 by the Settlement Administrator, that will advise Class Members of the pendency of 22 the Action, including the nature of the Action, the Settlement's essential terms, the 23 Class Members' right to submit a claim, object to the Settlement, or request exclusion
 24 from the Class within 75 days of the distribution of the Class Notice; the Class
 25 Members' right to appear before the Court at the Final Approval Hearing; and the time 26 and place of the Final Approval Hearing. Agreement, at ¶¶ 8.01-8.04; Weisbrot Decl.

27 ⁹ The parties also removed any language enjoining class members from "assist[ing] 28 others" in filing claims against Defendant. See Agreement at ¶ 14.01; see also Order at ¶ 2; Kashima Decl. II, at ¶ 53.

1 II at Exs. A-D (copies of the proposed online and publication notices). To address the 2 Court's concerns, the Amended Settlement Agreement allows Class Members to 3 request exclusion both by mail and online. Agreement at ¶ 11.02; see also Order at ¶ 4 6; Kashima Decl. II, at ¶¶ 53-54.

5 Additionally, Class Members are entitled to object either by submitting an 6 objection to the Court or by orally raising such objections at the Final Fairness
7 Hearing. Id. at ¶ 11.04; see also Order at ¶ 7; Kashima Decl. II, at ¶¶ 53-54. All 8 written objections, regardless of timeliness, that are submitted by the Final Fairness 9 Hearing may be considered by the Court. Agreement at ¶ 11.04; see also Order at ¶ 10 7; Kashima Decl. II, at ¶¶ 53-54. Additionally, Class Members will be informed that 11 they can both object to the Settlement and submit a claim thereunder. Kashima Decl.
12 II, at ¶ 54 and Ex. A; see also Order at ¶ 7.

13 The Notices will also contain information regarding the allocation of the 14 Settlement Fund. Agreement at ¶ 11.04. The notice will provide the necessary 15 information for Class Members to make an informed decision regarding the 16 Settlement. Id. In addition, the Settlement Administrator will (1) maintain a toll-free 17 number that Class Members can use to request a copy of the Settlement Agreement, a 18 claims form, and obtain any other information concerning the Settlement; (2) process 19 and record timely requests to be excluded from the Settlement; and (3) serve notice of 20 the Settlement on the appropriate state and federal officials pursuant to the Class 21 Action Fairness Act, 28 U.S.C. § 1715. Id., at ¶¶ 8.04-8.05, 11.02-11.04. The toll-22 free line will be staffed by live operators during business hours (9 a.m. EST to 5 p.m.
23 EST). Weisbrot Decl. II at ¶ 23, See also Order at ¶ 6; Kashima Decl. II, at ¶ 53.

24 4. Plaintiffs' Incentive Awards and Class Counsel's Attorneys' Fees
25 and Costs

26 As is customary in common fund cases, Class Counsel intend to seek up to 27 30.78% or $3,832,010.86 of the common fund as an award of attorneys' fees. Id. at ¶ 28 5.01. Plaintiffs' counsel also incurred over $317,574.14 in costs litigating this action

1 to date, and those costs too should be reimbursed from the common fund. Id.; Kashima 2 Decl. II, p. 19 n.1. Finally, Plaintiffs’ counsel intend to seek incentive awards of 3 $10,000.00 for each of the named Plaintiffs, for their assistance in helping to prosecute 4 the case and for participating in discovery and multiple mediations. Id. at ¶ 5.02.

5 IV. THE CLASS DEFINITION SHOULD BE CONDITIONALLY
6 CERTIFIED AS AMENDED BY THE SETTLEMENT

7 The reasons to certify the Settlement Class remain unchanged from Plaintiffs’ 8 previous Motion for Preliminary Approval (as well as their successful Motion for 9 Class Certification). The Parties, however, have amended the Settlement Agreement 10 to address the concerns of the Court.

11 A. The Amended Settlement Agreement Addresses the Concerns
12 Expressed by the Court

13 In the Court’s previous Order on Preliminary Approval, the Court held that the 14 Settlement Class should be limited to “consumers.” Order, at ¶ 1. The Amended 15 Settlement Agreement, accordingly, limits the proposed Settlement Classes to 16 consumers:

17 “Powder Settlement Class” means and includes all consumers in the United 18 States (including its states, districts or territories) who purchased a Powder
19 Settlement Class Product that had the phrase “lean lipids,” “lean protein,” 20 “lean muscle protein,” or “new leaner formula” on the label during the 21 Powder Settlement Class Period.

22 “Shake Settlement Class” means and includes all consumers in the United 23 States (including its states, districts or territories) who purchased a Shake 24 Settlement Class Product during the Shake Settlement Class Period or, for 25 members of the Michigan subclass only, the Michigan Shake Settlement 26 Class Period.

27 Agreement at ¶ 2.29. Additionally, references regarding “assisting other” from 28 initiating a claim were removed from the Settlement Agreement. Id. at ¶ 14.04. No other changes to the previously proposed Settlement Class were made.

29 B. The Settlement Class Should be Certified

30 While several classes were certified in this case, the parties’ Settlement 31 contemplates a slightly different class definition for settlement purposes (as noted

1 above).¹⁰ “An order that grants or denies class certification may be altered or amended
 2 before final judgment.” FED. R. CIV. P. 23(c)(1)(C); Armstrong v. Davis, 275 F.3d
 3 849, 871 n. 28 (9th Cir. 2001) (“[w]here appropriate, the district court may redefine
 4 the class”). Modifying the class definition is particularly appropriate where the motion
 5 is unopposed. Ades v. Omni Hotels Mgmt. Corp., No. 13-2468, 2015 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 6 126121, *5 (C.D. Cal. Sept. 21, 2015). “In considering the appropriateness of 7 [modifying a class], the standard of review is the same as a motion for class 8 certification: whether the Rule 23 requirements are met.” Czuchaj v. Conair Corp., 9 No. 3:13-cv-1901, 2016 WL 4272374, at *2 (S.D. Cal. Aug. 15, 2016).

10 Here, streamlining the Settlement Class definition will help in the 11 administration of the Settlement and make it less confusing for Class members to 12 determine which Class and products they are eligible for (as well limiting the scope of 13 the release to the relevant time periods).¹¹ Compare Order Regarding Class 14 Certification [Dkt. No. 210] with Agreement at ¶ 2.29.

15 Beyond the slightly different wording of the Settlement Class definition, the 16 legal reasoning and the evidentiary support for certifying the Class are the same as 17 those previously asserted in Plaintiffs’ Motion for Class Certification.¹² And the 18 Court’s reasoning to certify the action as a class action applies equally Settlement 19 Class. See Order Regarding Class Certification [Dkt. No. 210].

20 The Settlement Class still encompasses millions of individuals; an amount so 21 numerous that joinder of all members is impracticable. Id., at pp. 5-6. The case still 22 involves the same common contentions of law and fact, which predominate, making

23 _____
 24 ¹⁰ While Defendant does not oppose the amendment of the class for settlement
 25 purposes, Defendant does not waive its right to challenge the propriety of the Court’s 26 September 7, 2018 Order. Should the Settlement not be finalized or finally approved, 27 certification of the Settlement Classes will be void, the parties will return to the 28 position occupied before the Settlement. Agreement at ¶ 3.01.

¹¹ The lean claims were removed from the Powder Products’ labels by December 31, 2016. Kashima Decl. II, ¶ 5.

¹² Plaintiff incorporates the arguments from its Motion for Class Certification and Reply in support thereof into this Motion as fully asserted herein. See Dkt. No. 157 & 185.

1 class-wide resolution of the case superior to individual litigation. The parties 2 stipulated that the formulation and amount of protein did not vary materially between 3 different batches of the same product during the class period. See id., at pp. 20-21.
4 Thus, it should not be difficult to decide Plaintiffs' state law consumer protection 5 claims, which are determined using an objective "reasonable person" standard, on a 6 classwide basis. See id., at pp. 11-19, 25-26. While this class action also remains 7 manageable at trial (see id., at pp. 36-28); this is less of a concern in settlement context.
8 Amchem Prods. Inc. v. Windsor, 521 U.S. 591, 620 (1997) ("Confronted with a request 9 for settlement-only class certification, a district court need not inquire whether the 10 case, if tried, would present intractable management problems.")

11 Finally, the identity of the Class Representatives has not changed. Nor has the 12 identity of their Counsel. Therefore, Plaintiffs are still adequate and their claims are 13 still typical of the Settlement Class. See Order Regarding Class Certification [Dkt.
14 No. 210], at pp. 34-36. Thus, the proposed Settlement Class should be conditionally 15 certified as amended.

16 V. THE SETTLEMENT SHOULD BE PRELIMINARILY APPROVED

17 Settlements of class actions are favored. In re Syncor ERISA Litig., 516 F.3d 18 1095, 1101 (9th Cir. 2008); Officers for Justice v. Civil Serv. Comm'n of City & Cty.
19 of San Francisco, 688 F.2d 615, 625 (9th Cir. 1982) ("[V]oluntary conciliation and 20 settlement are the preferred means of dispute resolution. This is especially true in 21 complex class action litigation."). When the proposed settlement appears to be the 22 product of serious, informed, non-collusive negotiations, has no obvious deficiencies, 23 does not improperly grant preferential treatment to class representatives or segments 24 of the class, and falls within the range of possible approval, preliminary approval is 25 appropriate. McDonald v. Bass Pro Outdoor World, LLC, No. 13-cv-889, 2014 WL 26 3867522, *6 (S.D. Cal. Aug. 5, 2014); FED. R. CIV. P. 23(e)(2).

27 The Court may examine a number of factors when determining preliminary 28 approval, including: (1) whether the relief provided to the class is commensurate with

1 “the costs, risks, and delay” of anticipated trial and appeal; (2) “the effectiveness of 2 any proposed method of distributing relief to the class, including the method of 3 processing class-member claims;” and (3) “the terms of any proposed award of 4 attorney’s fees, including timing of payment.” FED. R. CIV. P. 23(e)(2)(C).
 5 Additionally, the Court should consider “the proposal was negotiated at arm’s length,” 6 “whether the proposal treats class members equitably relative to each other,” and 7 whether “the class representatives and class counsel have adequately represented the 8 class.” FED. R. CIV. P. 23(e)(2)(A), (B) & (D).

9 Here, the Settlement remains a fair and reasonable compromise of the 10 Settlement Class’ claims. In addition, the Parties have amended the release contained 11 in the Settlement in a response to the issue identified by the Court in the Preliminary 12 Approval Order. Order at ¶ 2; Agreement at Id. at ¶ 14.01. These changes address the 13 concerns the Court had regarding the Settlement Agreement.

14 A. The Amended Settlement Agreement Addresses the Concerns
 15 Expressed by the Court

16 In the Court’s previous order on Preliminary Approval, the Court noted 17 concerns with the release proposed. Order, at ¶ 2. As noted above, the parties have 18 limited the release to only include claims based on the factual predicates of the First 19 Amended Complaint. Id.; see also FAC and Agreement at ¶ 14.01. “Settlements of 20 this breadth are common and unobjectionable.” Rangel v. PLS Check Cashers of 21 California, Inc., 899 F.3d 1106, 1110-11 (9th Cir. 2018) (affirming dismissal of 22 released claims that were or “could have been pled based on the factual allegations” 23 in settled class action). In exchange for this reasonable release, the Settlement 24 provides the very remedies that the Plaintiffs sought in the First Amended Complaint: 25 complete monetary relief for the alleged misrepresentations.

26 B. The Settlement Provides Fair and Immediate Relief to the Class

27 1. The Settlement Benefits Achieved are Excellent

28 Each participating Settlement Class Member will receive $1 per purchased

1 Shake Product, $3 for each purchase of a Powder Product weighing 2 ³/₄ lbs or less, 2 and $5 for each purchase of a Powder Product weighing more than 2 ³/₄ lbs.
3 Agreement, at ¶¶ 4.01-4.04. When the amount of individual recovery under the 4 Settlement is compared to the amount that could have been recovered at trial, it 5 represents considerable value. See Lerma v. Schiff Nutrition Int'l, Inc., No. 11CV1056, 6 2015 WL 11216701, at *5 (S.D. Cal. Nov. 3, 2015) (“[R]estitutionary disgorgement, 7 which is the price paid minus the value actually received—not nonrestitutionary 8 disgorgement of profits—is the proper measure of damages on the unfair competition 9 and false advertising claims.”).

10 Based on information assembled from the parties’ discovery, Plaintiffs’ 11 damages expert was able to estimate that each gram of protein missing from the Shake 12 Products would be worth approximately $0.06 per gram. Declaration of Dr. Jeffrey 13 Harris [Dkt. No. 157-7] at ¶¶ 18, 23. Plaintiffs further alleged that Defendant’s Shake 14 Products contained between three and eleven less grams of protein per bottle than 15 advertised. FAC at ¶¶ 18-21. Consequently, the expected individual recovery at trial 16 for the protein claims was between $0.24 and $0.66 per bottle—less than the amount 17 agreed to under the Settlement. Kashima Decl. II, ¶ 46.

18 The individual recovery for the Powder Products is similarly favorable. Class 19 Counsel initially estimated that damages associated with the “lean” claims would be 20 approximately 4-5% of the retail price of the Powder Products. Id. at ¶ 44. Based on 21 this assumption, the Settlement benefit will likely exceed the expected recovery at 22 trial. For example, Defendant’s most popular product during the Class Period was the 23 Genuine Muscle Milk Powder. Id. The average retail price of the Genuine Muscle
24 Milk Powder was approximately $25.00 for a 2.47 lbs. package and $49.00 for a 4.94 25 lbs. package. Id. Thus, Plaintiffs anticipated a possible recovery at trial of between 26 $1.00 and $2.45 per package; less than the $3 to $5 dollars proposed under the 27 Settlement. Id.

28 Nonetheless, recovery under the Settlement is not only a function of the number

1 of Class Products purchased, but the number of Claims submitted. Given the pro rata
 2 distribution under the Settlement, Plaintiffs estimate that the average individual Class 3 Member recovery will be approximately $52.07, also a meaningful amount. Id., at ¶ 4 61.

5 When viewed in the aggregate, the Settlement still provides significant value.
 6 Based on information from the parties' initial discovery, Plaintiffs were able to 7 estimate that the total liability would be between $41 million and $139 million, under 8 the most optimistic circumstances. Id. at ¶ 47. Here, the Settlement provides for at 9 least $12.45 million in relief to the Settlement Class, or approximately 9-30% of the 10 total outstanding liability.¹³ This is well within the bounds of reasonableness in a 11 consumer class action (See City of Omaha Police & Fire Ret. Sys. v. LHC Grp., No.
 12 6:12-1609, 2015 WL 965696, at *7-8 (W.D. La. Mar. 3, 2015) (finding that a “7.4%– 13 10.3% [recovery] of estimated provable damages” amounts to “a high degree of 14 success” because “[t]he typical recovery in most class actions generally is three-to-six 15 cents on the dollar.”)) and is more favorable than a recently approved settlement in a 16 similar protein supplement case. See Gregorio v. Premier Nutrition Corporation, 17 1:17-cv-05987, ECF No. 101 (S.D.N.Y Jan. 17, 2019) (unpublished) (approving a $9 18 million class settlement regarding allegations that a popular protein drink did not 19 contain the amount of protein advertised).

20 2. The Settlement is Fair for All Class Members

21 Moreover, the Settlement does not improperly discriminate between any 22 segments of the Settlement Class. FED. R. CIV. P. 23(e)(2)(C). Each Settlement Class
 23 Member is entitled to the same relief calculated from the same formula. Settlement 24

25 ¹³ The total benefit to the Class is measured as the value of the Settlement Fund 26 ($12 million) and the cost of administration of the Settlement (estimated to be between 27 $446,944 and $654,989) or, at least, $12,446,944. See Kashima Decl. II, ¶ 62; Staton 28 v. Boeing Co., 327 F.3d 938, 966 (9th Cir. 2003) (“constructing a hypothetical fund' by adding together the amount of money Boeing would pay in damages, the amount of fees provided to various counsel, the cost of the class action notices paid for by Boeing, and a gross amount of money ascribed to all the injunctive relief contained in the agreement”)\

1 Agreement at ¶¶ 4.01-4.04. Indeed, the only variation between Class Members’ 2 recovery is a function of the type and number of qualifying products purchased during 3 the Class Period. Id. Given that both restitution and damages accrued by Settlement 4 Class Member would be logically proportional to the number of products purchased 5 and the price of those products, the payment formula forwarded in the Settlement 6 Agreement is both rationally based and directly related to the claims asserted. See In 7 re Omnivision Techs., Inc., 559 F. Supp. 2d 1036, 1045 (N.D. Cal. 2008) (“It is 8 reasonable to allocate the settlement funds to class members based on the extent of 9 their injuries or the strength of their claims on the merits.”).

10 3. The Settlement Utilizes a Simple Claims Process and Ensures that 11 the Class Retains the Entirety of the Settlement Fund

12 “Approving a plan for the allocation of a class settlement fund is governed by 13 the same legal standard that applies to the approval of the settlement terms: the 14 distribution plan must be ‘fair, reasonable and adequate.’” Edwards v. Nat’l Milk 15 Producers Fed’n, No. 11-CV-04766, 2017 WL 3616638, at *4 (N.D. Cal. June 26, 16 2017). Here, Settlement Class Members may participate in the Settlement via a clear 17 and uncomplicated claims process. Individuals are only required to submit a simple 18 claim form stating the number and type of products purchased (with the option to 19 provide proof of purchase, if available) to participate. Agreement, ¶ 9.01 (only 20 requiring a Class Member to confirm the number and type of Class Product(s) 21 purchased within the applicable Class Period). This information can be submitted to 22 the Settlement Administrator either online or by mail. Id. Settlement Class Members 23 are provided 75 days to submit their claims. Id. at ¶ 2.04.¹⁴ In return, Class Members 24 with valid claims are provided a check. This process is common and has been 25 approved in other consumer class actions. See, e.g., Brown v. Hain Celestial Grp.,
 26 Inc., No. 3:11-CV-03082, 2016 WL 631880, at *3, 11 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 17, 2016)

27 ¹⁴ The Claims Deadline may be extended for another 15 days (90 total), upon 28 recommendation of the Settlement Administrator and approval by the parties.
 Agreement, at ¶ 2.04.

1 (approving a similar claims process); In re Magsafe Apple Power Adapter Litig., No.
2 5:09-CV-01911, 2015 WL 428105, at *9 (N.D. Cal. Jan. 30, 2015) (approving a 3 similar claims process, even absent the ability to submit claims online).

4 Moreover, the Settlement envisions a pro rata distribution of any unallocated 5 funds to the participating Settlement Class Members and a secondary distribution of 6 any unclaimed funds after the initial payment. Agreement, at ¶¶ 4.05-.06. This 7 “redistribution of unclaimed class action funds to existing class members is proper and 8 preferred” because it “ensures that 100% of the [settlement] funds remain in the hands
9 of class members.” Hester v. Vision Airlines, Inc., No. 2:09-CV-00117, 2017 WL
10 4227928, at *2 (D. Nev. Sept. 22, 2017); Keepseagle v. Vilsack, 118 F. Supp. 3d 98, 11 117 (D.D.C. 2015) (citing NEWBERG ON CLASS ACTIONS § 12:28 (5th ed. 2015)) (“as 12 a general matter, ‘a court’s goal in distributing class action damages is to get as much 13 of the money to the class members in as simple a manner as possible”).

14 C. The Risk of Further Litigation Favors Settlement

15 When evaluating the Settlement benefits, the Settlement should be weighed 16 against the uncertainty of protracted litigation, and, in this case, at least one appeal.
17 “It can be difficult to ascertain with precision the likelihood of success at trial. The 18 Court cannot and need not determine the merits of the contested facts and legal issues 19 at this stage, [Citation], and to the extent courts assess this factor, it is to ‘determine 20 whether the decision to settle is a good value for a relatively weak case or a sell-out of 21 an extraordinary strong case.’” Misra v. Decision One Mortg. Co., No. SACV070994, 22 2009 WL 4581276, at *7 (C.D. Cal. Apr. 13, 2009).

23 Plaintiffs remain confident regarding their claims and the Court’s class 24 certification ruling, but concede success is not guaranteed. While Plaintiffs were able 25 to certify a Class, such orders are not immutable. “A district court may decertify a 26 class at any time.” Rodriguez v. W. Publ’g Corp., 563 F.3d 948, 966 (9th Cir. 2009);
27 see also FED. R. CIV. P. 23(c)(1)(C). Plaintiffs would have to maintain the class 28 through trial, which has proven difficult in national consumer class actions. See, e.g.,

1 Czuchaj, 2016 WL 1240391 (decertifying a national class due to differences in state
2 law). Indeed, Defendant’s Petition for Appeal Pursuant to Rule 23(f) was accepted
3 and, absent this Settlement, the parties will argue the propriety of class certification 4 before the Ninth Circuit.

5 Even if Plaintiffs could maintain the Class, their ability to prove the merits of 6 the case present a further risk. Plaintiffs recognize that their damages analysis has 7 encountered difficulties in other courts. See, e.g., Saavedra v. Eli Lilly & Co., No.
8 2:12-cv-9366, 2014 WL 7338930, at *6 (C.D. Cal. Dec. 18, 2014) (rejecting damages 9 model where expert had not yet collected any data from which to determine class-wide 10 damages); Werdebaugh v. Blue Diamond Growers, No. 12-CV-02724, 2014 WL 11 7148923, at *12-13 (N.D. Cal. Dec. 15, 2014) (rejecting damages model that failed to 12 control for other critical factors affecting price). Moreover, litigating a complex case 13 through trial is inherently perilous regardless of the strength of the claims:

14 [N]othing is assured when litigating against commercial giants with vast 15 litigative resources, particular in such complex litigation as this, which 16 would strain the cognitive capacities of any jury. Defense judgments were hardly beyond the realm of possibility. Accordingly, this factor weighs in favor of preliminary approval.

17 Rebney v. Wells Fargo Bank, 220 Cal. App. 3d 1117, 1140 (1990). “The Settlement 18 eliminates these and other risks of continued litigation, including the very real risk of 19 no recovery after several years of litigation.” In re Nvidia Derivs. Litig., No. C-06-20 06110, 2008 WL 5382544, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Dec. 22, 2008).

21 For these reasons, this Settlement, like all settlements, is a product of 22 compromise. Nonetheless, Class Members are provided the opportunity to obtain 23 more than 100% of the damages asserted. This Settlement is inherently reasonable 24 when compared to the relief ordinarily obtained in other similar cases. In re
25 Newbridge Networks Sec. Litig., No. CIV. A. 94-1678, 1998 WL 765724, at *2 26 (D.D.C. Oct. 23, 1998) (“[A]n agreement that secures roughly six to twelve percent of 27 a potential trial recovery, while preventing further expenditures and delays and 28 eliminating the risk that no recovery at all will be won, seems to be within the targeted

1 range of reasonableness.”).

2 D. Complexity, Expense, and Likely Duration of Further Litigation

3 Continuing to litigate this action would incur additional expenses, coupled with 4 considerable time to proceed through trial and post-trial motions. This case has 5 already been pending for four years. Now that Defendant’s Rule 23(f) Petition has 6 been granted by the Ninth Circuit, the appellate review of this case would likely extend 7 this case at least another two years before trial preparations could begin.

8 But even if Plaintiffs secured a favorable judgment, it would not end the dispute.
9 Any judgment can be appealed, which would take another few years. Kashima Decl.
10 II, at ¶ 69. Defendant has demonstrated that it is willing to seek appellate review; 11 nothing indicates that Defendant’s tactics will change. Id. at ¶ 70. “Avoiding such a 12 trial and the subsequent appeals in this complex case strongly militates in favor of 13 settlement rather than further protracted and uncertain litigation.” Nat’l Rural 14 Telecomms. Coop v. DirecTV, 221 F.R.D. 523, 527 (C.D. Cal. 2004).

15 E. The Class Representatives and Class Counsel Adequately
16 Represented the Class Through Contentious and Informed 17 Settlement Negotiations

18 “A critical factor in determining whether a settlement is worthy of court 19 approval under FRCP 23(e) is whether the class has been ‘fairly and adequately’ 20 represented by the class representative during settlement negotiations.” In re 21 California Micro Devices Sec. Litig., 168 F.R.D. 257, 260 (N.D. Cal. 1996); see also 22 FED. R. CIV. P. 23(e)(2)(A). “A presumption of correctness is said to ‘attach to a class 23 settlement reached in arm’s-length negotiations between experienced capable counsel
24 after meaningful discovery.” In re Heritage Bond Litig., No. 02-ML-1475, 2005 WL 25 1594403, at *9 (C.D. Cal. June 10, 2005); see also FED. R. CIV. P. 23(e)(2)(B). “Parties 26 represented by competent counsel are better positioned than courts to produce a 27 settlement that fairly reflects each party’s expected outcome in litigation.” In re Pac.
28 Enterprises Sec. Litig., 47 F.3d 373, 378 (9th Cir. 1995). Thus, “the Court should not without good cause substitute its judgment for [counsel’s].” Boyd v. Bechtel Corp.,

1 485 F. Supp. 610, 622 (N.D. Cal. 1979).

2 In this case, the Class was represented by individuals who had previously been 3 subject to judicial scrutiny. The undersigned counsel and the named Plaintiffs were 4 deemed adequate and appointed to represent the certified Class prior to negotiating the 5 Settlement. Order Regarding Class Certification [Dkt. No. 210]; Kashima Decl. II, ¶
6 38. Thus, this Settlement does not engender the same concerns associated with cases 7 where class certification is delayed until a class settlement has been reached. See, e.g., 8 Mars Steel Corp. v. Cont'l Illinois Nat. Bank & Tr. Co. of Chicago, 834 F.2d 677, 681-
9 82 (7th Cir. 1987) (noting the criticisms and practical concerns with negotiating a class 10 settlement before class certification) (J, Posner).

11 Additionally, Class Counsel and the Class Representatives faithfully
12 represented the Class and vigorously litigated this case on their behalf. The Settlement 13 was only reached after the parties had weighty amount of discovery. Class Counsel 14 have reviewed thousands of pages of written evidence, took several key depositions, 15 and conducted expert discovery. Kashima Decl. II, ¶¶ 25-32. The parties had litigated 16 key legal theories, so the proffered bargain was made with the benefit of “adversarial 17 investigation.” Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 1011, 1021 (9th Cir. 1998) 18 (“Our... adequacy inquiry is directed to the vigor with which the named 19 representatives and their counsel will pursue the common claims.”).

20 It is likely for these reasons that the parties’ settlement discussions were so 21 contentious. The parties’ settlement discussions lasted several months and the dispute 22 was only resolved in their second mediation session with Mr. Rotman. Id., ¶¶ 48-51.
23 “Where a ‘case is near trial, and the parties have conducted extensive discovery’ and 24 thoroughly litigated the issues, the extent of discovery and the stage of the proceedings 25 weigh in favor of the proposed settlement.” Low v. Trump Univ., LLC, 246 F. Supp.
26 3d 1295, 1302 (S.D. Cal. 2017).¹⁵

In discharging its duty to determine the fairness of attorneys' fees awarded in a class action settlement, the Court's primary concern is to ensure that the process of negotiation leading to the fee has "adequately protected the class from the possibility that class counsel were accepting an excessive fee at the expense of the class." Staton, 327 F.3d at 977; see also FED. R. CIV. P. 23(e)(2)(C)(iii). The amount of attorneys' fees and costs that Class Counsel intends to request is approximately 30 percent of the benefits received by the Settlement Class, demonstrating that the fee and cost award to be requested will not be extraordinary. Kashima Decl. II, at p. 18 n.1; see also, e.g., In re Pacific Enterprises Sec. Litig., 47 F.3d 373, 379 (9th Cir. 1995) (affirming award of 33% of $12 million common fund); In re Activision Sec. Litig., 723 F. Supp. 1373, 1375 (N.D. Cal. 1989) (awarding 32.8% of $3.5 million common fund); In re Mego Fin. Corp. Sec. Litig., 213 F.3d 454 (9th Cir. 2000) (affirming award of 33.3% of $1.725 million). In fact, attorneys representing a class "routinely recover attorneys' fees in the range of 20 to 40 percent of the common fund." In re Quantum Health Res., Inc., 962 F. Supp. 1254, 1258 (C.D. Cal. 1997). At the time of the Final Approval Hearing, Class Counsel will request that the Court award fees based upon the value of the benefits achieved in the proposed Settlement and will present their time and expense declarations to allow for a cross-check under the lodestar/multiplier method.

It is also well established that courts have discretion to approve incentive awards for class representatives as compensation for their expenditure of time and for having undertaken the risks inherent in serving as a named plaintiff. See, e.g., Staton, 327 F.3d at 977; Van Vranken v. Atl. Richfield, 901 F. Supp. 294, 299 (N.D. Cal. Aug. 16, 1995). The Incentive Awards that Defendant has agreed to pay to each Plaintiff ($10,000.00) are likewise well within the customary range of awards in cases of this recommendation of this Settlement is unreasonable. Plaintiffs' counsel has extensive class action experience and Plaintiffs have no conflict with the Class. Kashima Decl. II, ¶ 57, Ex. B; Declaration of Jason Thompson, concurrently filed herewith; Declaration of Nick Suci III, concurrently filed herewith; Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1020 (adequacy looks to the competence of class counsel and the named plaintiffs and their counsel have any conflicts of interest with other class members).

1 magnitude and are not extraordinary. Bellinghausen v. Tractor Supply Co., 306 F.R.D.
 2 245, 267 (N.D. Cal. 2015) (“Incentive awards typically range from $2,000 to 3 $10,000”) (collecting cases). Nevertheless, at the Final Approval Hearing, Plaintiffs 4 will supply declarations establishing that Plaintiffs contributed value to the resolution 5 of the case and that the requested Incentive Awards are reasonable.

6 The Settlement is not conditioned on the Court’s approval of either Class 7 Counsel’s fee request or Plaintiffs’ incentive award. Agreement at ¶ 5.03. Any 8 payment of any attorneys’ fees or incentive awards will only occur upon the payment 9 of funds to the Settlement Administrator for distribution to the Class. Here, any 10 payment to Class Counsel and Plaintiffs are aligned with that of the Class.

11 The Settlement was a product of extensive arm’s length negotiations and 12 involved counsel experienced in class litigation. It provides the Settlement Class 13 meaningful relief, likely more than that which could have been achieved at trial. The 14 Settlement does not suffer any obvious deficiencies. It is for these reasons that 15 Plaintiffs request that the Settlement be preliminarily approved.

16 VI. THE PROPOSED NOTICE WILL ADEQUATELY APPRISE THE 17 CLASS OF THEIR RIGHTS UNDER THE SETTLEMENT

18 Should the Court grant preliminary approval, due process requires the best 19 notice practicable, reasonably calculated under the circumstances to apprise a class 20 member of the settlement. Silber v. Mabon, 18 F.3d 1449, 1453-54 (9th Cir. 1994);
 21 FED. R. CIV. P. 23(e)(1)(B). The parties have agreed to retain an experienced class 22 notice and claims administrator, Angeion Group. See Weisbrot Decl. II. The proposed 23 Notice plan provides for targeted publication notice and the content of the notice 24 allows the Class to make an educated decision regarding this Settlement.

25 A. Amended Settlement Agreement Addresses the Concerns Expressed 26 by the Court

27 The Court previously noted a number of concerns regarding the previously 28 proposed Class Notice, and requested further information the notice process. See
 Order at ¶¶ 3-7. The Parties addressed each of the Court’s points through the revisions

1 in the Amended Settlement Agreement:

- 2 • The Settlement Administrator is required to staff the Toll-Free Telephone 3 Number with live representatives (Agreement at ¶ 8.04);
- 4 • The parties will provide a template Request for Exclusion on the Settlement
5 Website (Id. at ¶ 11.02);
- 6 • Requests for Exclusion can be submitted by mail or online (Ibid.); and
- 7 • Class Members can submit written objections or oral objections at the Fairness
8 Hearing (Id. at ¶ 11.04).

9 See Kashima Decl. at ¶ 53. With these changes, the notice program described by the 10 Settlement provides the Class with sufficient notice of the terms of the Settlement.

11 B. Notice is Reasonably Calculated to Reach the Settlement Class

12 Preliminary approval permits notice to be given to class members of the 13 settlement and the right to be heard. Rule 23 provides that the Court “must direct to 14 class members the best notice that is practicable under the circumstances, including 15 individual notice to all members who can be identified through reasonable effort.” See 16 also Amchem Prods. Inc., 521 U.S. at 617.

17 Notice of this Settlement will be provided via a multifaceted advertisement 18 campaign that is designed to specifically reach purchasers of the Class Products. See 19 Weisbrot Decl. II at ¶¶ 5-8. Based on review of the class definition, the Settlement 20 Administrator determined the potential audience size is estimated at 2,998,000
21 individuals. See ECF No. 222-9 (“Weisbrot Decl. I”) at ¶ 14. The Angeion Group 22 will service notice primarily through online advertisements (including on social media 23 platforms such as Twitter and Facebook). This notice program is appropriate as the 24 Settlement Class Members are “heavy internet users, who surf the internet an average 25 of 25 hours per week (compared to the national average of 19 hours per week).” Id.
26 at ¶ 16. To ensure that these advertisements are delivered to Settlement Class 27 Members, the Settlement Administrator will use advanced targeting, machine 28 learning, and a known and verifiable target audience profile. See Weisbrot Decl. II at ¶¶ 4-15. These advertisements will use “an algorithm that identifies and examines the

1 Target Audience’s demographic profile and uses advanced technology to place
2 advertisements on the websites where members of the audience are likely to visit.” Id.
3 at ¶ 5.

4 The Settlement Administrator will monitor information regarding those 5 individuals who click on the banner advertisements and change the reach of the notice
6 campaign to better target the appropriate online audiences. Id. These targeted online
7 advertisements will run for 60 consecutive days, starting on the Court-approved Notice 8 Date and are designed to result in serving approximately 5,217,000 impressions. Id.
9 at ¶ 15. These advertisements will be augmented with Social Media notice, including 10 advertisements that target Facebook users who exhibited interest in fitness or protein 11 supplements and monitoring Twitter traffic for discussion of the Settlement. Id. at 12 ¶¶ 16-18. These social media campaigns will run for a minimum of eight consecutive 13 weeks, starting on the Court-approved Notice Date. Id. The Facebook campaign of 14 the Notice Program is designed to result in an estimated daily reach of between 13,000-15 38,000 people per day over the course of the campaign. Id. at ¶ 18.

16 Notice will be further provided by publication. First, the Settlement will be 17 promoted on two leading class action settlement websites, www.topclassactions.com 18 and www.classaction.org. Id. at ¶ 22. While the reach of these websites is unknown, 19 both websites regularly provide public notice of class settlements.¹⁶ Second, the online
20 notice will be supplemented by advertisements in print media to reach potential Class 21 Members. Id. at ¶¶ 19-21. Specifically, People (with a circulation of 3,510,533) and 22 Sports Illustrated (with a circulation of 2,700,000) were chosen for the notice program
23 due to their strong reach among the Settlement Class. Id. (the Settlement Class reads 24 an above-average 7 magazines per month). Collectively, the notice regime is predicted 25 to directly reach 70.14% reach with an average frequency of 2.93 views per person.

26
27 ¹⁶ Indeed, these two websites represent the top Google search results for “class 28 settlements.” Accordingly, posting on these sites is designed reach those individual searching for the Settlement on the internet.

1 Id. at ¶ 26. The Court previously expressed concern whether the selection of People
2 and Sports Illustrated targeted men more than women. But People Magazine
3 readership is comprised of 72.2% female and 27.8% male, while Sports Illustrated 4 readership is comprised of 77.34% male and 22.66% female, so the combination of 5 the two strikes an ideal balance. Id. at ¶ 20.

6 While Plaintiffs considered posting notice of the Settlement at retailers of the 7 Class Periods, such efforts would be both unduly costly, and administratively 8 inefficient. Kashima Decl. II at ¶ 63; Weisbrot Decl. at ¶ 27. Through class 9 certification discovery, Plaintiffs are aware that Defendant sell its products through 10 bottlers and distributors to thousands of retailers. Kashmia Decl. II at ¶ 63. In order 11 to identify each of the retailers, who actively sell the Class Products, Plaintiffs would 12 have to contact (or subpoena) each of these distributors for their business records and 13 compile a complete list. Id. Then, Plaintiff would have to print several thousand class
14 notices and contact the retailers to secure their posting. Id. This method of notice
15 would be prohibitively expensive and would not be a benefit to the Settlement Class 16 Members. Weisbrot Decl. II at ¶ 27.

17 The notice distribution plan is based on a similar regime that was approved in 18 other consumer cases. See, e.g., Wilson v. Airborne, Inc., No. CV 07-770, 2008 WL
19 3854963, at *4 (C.D. Cal. Aug. 13, 2008); Arnold v. Fitflop USA, LLC, No. 11-CV-20 0973, 2014 WL 1670133, at *4 (S.D. Cal. Apr. 28, 2014); Pappas v. Naked Juice Co
21 of Glendora, Inc., No. CV1108276, 2014 WL 12382279, at *5 (C.D. Cal. Jan. 2, 22 2014); see also The Federal Judicial Center, Judges' Class Action Notice and Claims 23 Process Checklist and Plain Language Guide (noting that it is reasonable to reach 24 between 70–95% of the class). And a similar result should follow here.

25 C. The Notice Allows Settlement Class Members to Make an Informed 26 Decision

27 Additionally, Class Notice “must clearly and concisely state in plain, easily 28 understood language: (i) the nature of the action; (ii) the definition of the class

1 certified; (iii) the class claims, issues, or defenses; (iv) that a class member may enter 2 an appearance through an attorney if the member so desires; (v) that the court will 3 exclude from the class any member who requests exclusion; (vi) the time and manner 4 for requesting exclusion; and (vii) the binding effect of a class judgment on members.”
5 FED. R. CIV. P. § 23 (c)(2)(B). The purpose of these requirements is to ensure that 6 Class Members are fully informed of their rights under the Settlement.

7 Class Notice will direct individuals to the Settlement Website (www.lean 8 proteinsettlement.com). The Settlement Website will include the Class Notice, which 9 is written in an easy-to-understand and clear language and provides Class Members 10 with (1) more extensive information about the lawsuit; (2) a description of the benefits
11 provided by the Settlement; (3) an explanation of how Class Members can exercise
12 their right to object to or opt-out of the Settlement; (4) an explanation that any claims 13 against Defendant that could have been litigated in this action will be released; (5) the 14 names of counsel for the Class and information concerning attorneys’ fees and 15 incentive awards; and (6) the date and time of the fairness hearing. Kashima Decl. II, 16 Ex. B. The Settlement Website will also contain relevant court documents and 17 information regarding the claims process. Id. at ¶ 8.03.

18 The proposed Notice, combined with the right to exclude themselves from the 19 Settlement, ensures that absent Class Members’ due process rights are protected. See 20 Phillips Petrol. Co. v. Shutts, 472 U.S. 812 (1985) (due process requires that class 21 members be given an opportunity to opt out). The Class Members have seventy-five 22 (75) days in which to exercise their right to exclude themselves from or object to the 23 Settlement either by online or by mail. Agreement, at ¶¶ 2.15, 2.22. In response to 24 the Court’s previous concern, template opt-out forms will be provided to the Class.
25 Id., at ¶ 11.02. And should a Settlement Class Member have any questions, they can 26 receive additional information via the Settlement Website or by calling a live operator 27 via a toll-free number, id., at ¶ 8.04, consistent with the Court’s comments. The Court 28 should accordingly approve the notice plan because it satisfies the notice requirements

1 of Rule 23 and due process.

2 VII. CONCLUSION

3 Plaintiffs request that the Court enter the proposed Preliminary Approval Order 4 submitted concurrently herewith and set a hearing for final approval on the first date 5 convenient to the Court.
