Frequently Asked Questions

Why should I use a personal vaporizer?

Personal Vaporizers (PVs) are the newest smoking alternative to hit the market and are gradually taking over the country. PVs offer the same sensation as a regular cigarette without all the poisons and tar. PVs are also, over time, much less expensive than smoking normally. And aside from personal benefits, PVs do not produce any second-hand smoke as the vapor it creates is odorless - the vapor is a water-based mist. Current medical opinion is that e-cigarette use is less harmful than smoking. E-cigarettes do not contain any tobacco, and there is no combustion or ignition. There is no second-hand smoke.

Is it prohibited indoors?

An e-cigarette has no tobacco, no ignition, no combustion and no smoke - so it is not covered by any smoking legislation. An ecig can be legally used in a no-smoking area. However: any property owner, or local authority, or transport provider can prohibit ecig use on their own property or vehicles. You may need to check first.

How do PVs work? What is vapor?

PVs are a non-flammable product that use a small rechargeable battery, an atomizing heater coil, a replaceable cartridge containing water, propylene glycol, and tobacco or other flavors, and a mouthpiece. Active tobacco alkaloid is optional. Instead of inhaling smoke from a cigarette, you will simply inhale a puff from your PV. This action provides you with the same sensation a traditional smoker gets. PVs will satisfy your cravings and the process actually releases a mist to simulate smoke.

Do PVs taste the same as my cigarette?

One of the best things about PVs is that they come in multiple flavors! At Nhaler, we offer several tobacco flavors as well as a huge assortment you would never be able to try otherwise! From grape to rootbeer float, the choices are endless when it comes to Nhaler Eliquids! But if you're looking solely for an authentic tobacco taste, it all comes down to personal preference, and we have a range of tobaccos to try.

Are PVs hard to use?

When you purchase an Nhaler product, you can rest assured you will receive everything you need to get started, along with links to videos explaining exactly how to use your new PV. Your PV will normally come in two or three pieces depending on the model you buy. The long tube is the battery, and it mimics the look of the end of a cigarette. The second piece is the cartomizer, which looks like the filter, and simply screws into the battery. The cartomizer is the section that holds the flavored liquid. It doesn't take long to get the hang of it - you'll be vaping successfully in a few minutes. After a day or two you'll be an old hand. After a week you'll be trying to convert family and friends - we all did that when we found a whole new lifestyle!

Do PVs look any different than a regular cigarette?
