Continued research into the health effects of vaping

2014/10/17

Virgin Vapor fully supports continued medical research and investigation into examining the health effects of vaping. Here's a collection of articles from this week:

"Nicotine absorbed from "passive vaping" is minimal and with no health implications" by Dr. Konstantinos Farsalinos

New study finds no health concerns in e-cig vapor posted by American Council on Science and Health -- "The levels of contaminants e-cigarette users are exposed to are insignificant -- far below levels that would pose any health risk."

And from Georgetown University Medical Center, a perspective on an article in the New England Journal of Medicine: The FDA, E-Cigarettes, and the Demise of Combusted Tobacco -- The authors call on the FDA "to accelerate their regulations to eliminate uncertainty regarding safety, drive the substitution and use of clean nicotine, and hasten the demise of ethically combusted tobacco."
