

JEUNESSE FTC COMPLAINTS

b(3);21(f)

Jeunesse is a multi level scam and should also be investigated by the FDA for outlandish stem cell claims on Luminesce. Thank you!

* I mailed back products and your company received them on 111912 * Called two weeks ago and was informed that Jeunesse could that up to 30 days to return my money * When I spoke to the manager (Bernice) the conversation escalated and I was told that even though the money is taken out of my account immediately 30 days for a return was the law and I could do nothing * I called back and asked where it was printed in the paperwork I signed and it wasnt. It was however on your web site. The person I spoke to was in ear shot of Bernice and I heard her telling the customer service rep to tell me to go where to go online. * On 121812 I spoke to John who in turn said that the refund would be in my account by the end of the day * On 121912 John then said the money was being processed. I asked to speak to you and was that if I used that "tone" no one would help me. By law that is what is known as a threat. Listen to the recording and you will hear John talk over my statements and try to talk down to me. When I told him I wasnt a child he responded with "Im not either" and put me on hold. * I called back and this time a lady by the name of Denni answered. She said you were on a conference call - I then asked for your phone number and email. * John then called back and said the refund was processed. After several exchanges he finally emailed me a copy of a document with no dates of the transaction. Debbie, its one thing to have to wait for a refund but should your people delay it on purpose? We both know Bernice did that on purpose. I cant imagine every refund being processed only after your company gets a phone call. Your company culture at least in customer service is adversarial. The same attitude I heard from John is the same one I heard from Bernice. Are they graded on holding on to money or are they just rude because they are allowed to be? Would you please make sure my money hits my account today? Bank of America said that if the money is sent to them it takes the same amount of time to put it back as it does to take it out ... its instant!

Consumer states that he and his girlfriend joined a multi level company. He paid $1250 to joined. Consumer met a person who knew about Google. He then paid this man who was a marketing person who put him on the top of the search. He paid him $150 to do this. Consumer has been online but has not sold anything. He searched the products himself online. He found that same products on sale especially with Amazon were the prices were lower than suggested prices. He states that his contract stated that he should not sell it lower. He told them that he was told it was a level playing UPDATE: 02/11/2013 Consumer calling to make sure his information isn't shared with the company. JAtkinson

I looked at all my statements and no such charge was made, I clicked on none of the links and am sending the emails to spam@uce.gov.

My sister has been conned into this pyramid scheme called Jeunesse Global. It is operated by 'Randy Ray' and 'Wendy Lewis', the exact same shysters who the Florida State Attorney investigated 6 years ago for the Fuel Freedom International scheme. That company was killed in the US but still operates in Europe. Now they are tricking thousands more with the exact same scheme but different product. My sister paid $1200 for the right to earn money and recruit others into the scheme. Their 'training webinars' are publicly accessible, although I'm not sure if they're aware that their incriminating content is unprotected. You can find it in the web here:

<http://theglobalpartnersgroup.com/leaders-archived> They are teaching members to cut ties with anyone, including close family members, who oppose the idea of MLM, and my sister has already cut ties with her father and myself. She is 44 years old and there have never been any abnormal problems in our family, until now. It is a CULT, and it's unhealthy for the country and it requires a relatively large entry fee compared to other pyramid schemes I've heard of in the past. Randy Ray and Wendy Lewis are parasites in my mind, and they need to be stopped. Thank you so much for your consideration and time and the work you do.

My daughter is caught-up in a pyramid scheme called Jeunesse Global. It cost her $1200 to have the ability to recruit others and earn commissions on their sales. The minimum $29.95 entry fee does not allow them to earn any money. So they must spend several hundred dollars to take advantage of this 'business opportunity'. She is naive and fell for it. They have a new video out (<https://joffice.jeunesseglobal.com/v2/Social/video/?m=976294&nocache=04700140#>) which claims distributors can make over $27,500 per week. This is misleading since it's a ridiculous amount of money plus they state on their website that a typical 'participant' makes approx. $85.00 per month. All of their training videos focus on 'sponsoring' new people and selling training materials, and rarely talk about the products they are supposed to sell. All they want her to do is recruit more and more people. There was a $6000 cash bonus being offered to anyone who can 'sponsor' 36 new people into the 'business' before the end of July; No mention of how many products must be sold to qualify. I just want her out of it but they have her convinced she can make big money and she's now cutting ties with everyone in the family who does not agree with the pyramid style of business. It's terrible. Hope you can help. The man at the top, Randy Ray, was running another scheme called Fuel Freedom International and apparently the Florida Attorney General investigated him for running a 'pyramid club' and Ray had to shut the business down in North America. Now he's at it again with several more schemes, but Jeunesse Global is the one I'm concerned about because of my daughter being involved. Thank you.

I am concerned that my mother is entering a pyramid scheme by becoming a member of Jeunesse Global. She is attempting to recover the initial fee ($1200) she paid for membership when she became suspicious of this. Although it seems like she cannot recover the initial fee, she has decided against recruiting more members. This is a highly suspicious company, and their CEO Randy Ray's other company (Fuel Freedom International) seems like it is also a scam and has been investigated by Florida State. --- CA Source: Web Form --- CA Status: Closed

I joined Jeunesse as a distributor. I signed up via a Jeunesse tablet app. The app had a list of products that I would receive for a payment of $1824.70 including tax. The products listed that I was to receive for this payment was long: Luminesce entire line, 2 boxes of reserve, 2 sets of AM/PM 2 sets of Finiti, Entire Zen line, 2 boxes of instantly ageless and Zen Bodi. I received the Luminesce products and the Reserve only and was told by another distributor that I would not receive anything else. I called jeunesse Global and they confirmed that I would not be receiving any of the other products. I was within my 30 days and was able to receive a refund of 90% of the money that I paid if I returned the products. I returned all of the products vial xpresspost to Jeunesse. The jeunesse employees who received the returns, signed for the packages I sent. Jeunesse is now saying that they did not receive the shipments and they will not give me a refund. I believe that they are scamming me. I have tracking numbers as well as the Jeunesse employees that signed for my packages and Jeunesse will not call me back or refund my money. UPDATE: 02/25/2015 Consumer reports issue is resolved. She got her money back. LMaruca the company claim to have products which has medical effect when they do not have the FDA approve. they claim to have the effect of cell repair, and treat major illness such as cancer and diabetes. and they even want to feed my 4 month old daughter their product. i talked to a pediatrician and he stated that infant should not use them. they repeatedly wanted to test their product on my daughter. they advertise through their membership meetings. some people would go up the stage and do testimonies which i think are fake as well. i think it is a large ponzi scheme. you have to become member to buy product. and then you have to recruit someone else to join the membership. and they claim you will make money in the meantime. i had enough. please stop them.

The consumer placed a order online and cancelled the order in 01/2015 and she only received a partial refund. The consumer ordered the product through Jeunesse Global LLC and paid $648 on a credit card.

On 12/31/2014 I placed an order online for this companies product (Instantly Ageless skin cream). I was unclear as to how it was to be shipped out. So I included my physical address for delivery. But because I live in a remote area... my physical address is not the same as my mailing address. So if the company sends the package via UPS I have to input a different address than if they send via USPS. The package was originally sent via UPS Sure Post and then contracted to USPS. Therefore I never received the order. It was returned to sender. I requested via their online trouble ticket communication method; the order to be re-sent to my 'mailing address' of which I was told it would be as a courtesy. After 30 days I still had not received the item or a tracking # for the re-submission. I tried several times to get a response from the customer service by using their 'trouble ticket' inquiry from their website. I never received a reply. So I attempted to contact them via the phone number listed on my invoice. Only to sit on hold for 40 minutes and no one ever answered. I called twice, at which both times on hold the hold music stopped about 10 minutes into the hold and went silent. Finally after 33 days I was able to track the returned package via USPS tracking # and discovered that on 01/30/2015 it was delivered to their facility. I then requested a FULL refund since a month later I had not received it or received any further correspondence. As of today 02/19/2015 I STILL have not received a refund or a response or the order for that matter. I have record of all correspondence, invoice and tracking information and verification of returned delivery. Product_Or_Service: Instantly Ageless Order_Number: 8395681 --- Additional Comments: DesiredSettlementID: Refund I just want a full refund of the purchase price and shipping of $79.16 USD

I ordered several products. I received some but not others but the undelivered products were on the shipping invoice and billed to my credit card. Several items ordered. Some did not come but were listed on the shipping invoice and billed to my credit card. I have called multiple times over 6 weeks to their customer service number, leave messages, no calls returned even tho they say they will call back in 24 to 48 hours. Account name b(6). Order No b(6) dated 2/15/15. Items missing are the Jkit of materials needed to become a distributor. I can understand a mistake made on an order but NOT my calls being disrespected and not returned. AND being billed for products not received. --- Additional Comments: I want the product that I paid for. If not, I want to cancel all affiliation with this company. I cannot promote a company that had shown such blatant disrespect of people who are trying to promote and sell your product. And if I cannot get the product, the charge should be credited to my credit card. At least a returned phone call could have avoided all this!!!!

Refund has not been issued for a product I did not like and returned to the company! I place an order with Jeunesse Order #b(6) and did not like the product, so Per customer service Rep. Kell Jensen, I mailed it back over 2 months ago and I have no refund as of yet. I have sent at least 5 emails to Mr. Jensen, and also via FB to the corporate page and I get no answers. Customer Service phones are always 'high call volume' so you can never get through. I simply want the money refunded for the product I returned to the company! --
- Additional Comments: Refund of my money for the Simply Ageless I returned!

I ordered 'Instantly Ageless' and 'ZEN Shape' on 1/23/15. The 'Instantly Ageless' did not come with my shipment- back-ordered. Have not received yet. I ordered 'Instantly Ageless' and 'ZEN Shape' on 1/23/15. The 'Instantly Ageless' did not come with my shipment- back-ordered. Have not received yet. My ID number is b(6) and the order number is b(6). I have sent in 2 referral tickets and left several phone messages with no response. --- Additional Comments: I would like a refund in the amount of $34.95 plus shipping $8.85 = $43.80.

Had a bad reaction to their products. Was instructed that I would get a full refund minus the shipping and given an RMA number but now they will not I purchased a pack of products & distributorship but their products caused me a lot of pain in 2 to 3 weeks of use. The AM & PM products have 900 combined ingredients which are not listed and when I got the bottles, the PM label had a silver film on it so it was illegible. As time went on, my neck was even worse and finally it was grinding bone on bone, I was extremely tired and my joints were making snapping noises. Once I stopped taking the products, I noticed the symptoms were less and so I knew they were the problem. I called emailed them to report this but did not get a response, so I called and was told I would get a full refund minus the shipping. And of course being a multi level marketing company, they seemed uncaring of the problems I had. The customer service person gave me an RMA # and I sent it back. Then the box containing the kit came ($49) and I marked it REFUSED RETURN TO SENDER. After they have received the package, now the emails are saying it will take 30 days! This is a lot of money and I need to get MINERALS to help with this damage the products caused! After emailing and faxing, they are unresponsive. ---
Additional Comments: I want all my money back and am going to send a letter of complaint to the Maryland and Florida Attorney Generals, the FTC, and the FDA because I am sick and tired of these high priced so they can pay commissions MLM company's just putting out products that are not delivering health benefits or causing me more problems - and then they could care less about any injuries.

I was charged out of my account for items I Never purchased on part of this order. I returned the full order and they only gave me credit for $194.23 the total I was charged was $425.50 There is no phone number for the company and they only accept email through the help desk. Charging me for items I never ordered I believe is Illegal. This company has been very hard to deal with and they will not give me a refund in full with no explanation. I will follow up with my bank for any future billing they might feel like doing. Sincerely b(6) --- Additional Comments: DesiredSettlementID: RefundFull refund would be $425.50 not a partial return of $194.23

I returned my product and only received a partial refund. I bought three boxes (of 25 vials in each) of Instantly Ageless January 14th, 2015. I did not receive the product until 3.5 weeks later by Canada Post. I tried the product and had a family member and friend try as well. It did not work as stated or shown it would. I decided to return the product. I started calling and leaving messages Feb 23, they say they will get back to you within 24-48 hours but I still have not received a call back from the messages I left. I also opened Help Desk complaints under my online account. I found a link for return label on their Facebook page from one of their high up distributors stating some of their products had froze and were not working properly and follow this link to send it back for a full refund, which I did. They received the product back March 6th by Canada post. They Finally issued me a refund April 14th but for only half of what I paid, stating I did not return all of the product. I returned 72 out of 75 vials which is two full boxes and one box less 3 vials. I should have received $118.47 (US) they refunded my $71.08 (US). I want what their invoice states as their return policy which is full refund minus shipping costs plus I would like my membership fee of $29.95 refunded as well. I also want my account with them cancelled and proof of that sent to me in writing so that they cannot charge my account for anything further. I have screen shots of everything documented. They have terrible customer service, do not answer calls or return messages and now I feel like they cheated me out of my refund based on false refund promises. Terrible company to deal with any issues. BUYER BEWARE! --- Additional Comments: I would like a full refund minus the cost of shipping which was promised. I received $71.08 (US) back instead of the $118.47 (US). (They still owe me $47.39) I would also like my account cancelled with proof in writing so they cannot charge me for anything further. I would also like my $29.95 (US) sign up fee refunded for my trouble. That would mean I am asking for $77.34 (US) refund further.

I was issued an RMA# over the phone, but they wouldn't give me anything in writing. So now I'm returning this item, and don't know if I will get my $ back! I asked for a RMA# to be given to me through email, but this company said that I need to just write my RMA# that was given to me on the returned package. This isn't professional! I wanted something in writing to have. So, I could KNOW I was going to receive my money back. Then when I was asking for it, the person was really rude to me! Also, I'm having to pay for the item to be shipped back! --- Additional Comments: I wanted to be given an RMA# via email. So, I know I'm going to receive my money back, and a return slip!

I was misinformed by a sponsor. I specifically told sponsor I do not have the time for a multi level marketing company or pyramid company. On 3-11-2015 I joined Jeunesse. I was looking to buy retail products for my salon. I was told by the sponsor who I thought was a sales rep, that the company was not a multilevel marketing company. I explained to her (b(6)) I was not interested in a 'pyramid' company. She assured me they weren't. The money I paid for product ended up being money to join the company. As of now the company will only refund 90% of what I can send back. I was told to open the first set of products to try them myself in which I did so therefore I can't return them. They were very misleading in getting my money. I was led to believe I was buying product to retail in my salon, not buying into a membership. Companies like this should be put out of business for false advertising. Any rep I deal with for my salon I don't have to join to be able to carry the products and Jeunesse sponsor misled me. Also it has been past the 30 day return policy because it took me this long to get a live person on the phone. Every time I called they said they experienced a hi call volume and the recording states after being on hold for 15 min to please call back. --- Additional Comments: I am seeking 100% money back for the company's lack of truth to what kind of company they really are. I have a company to run and I specifically told this rep, 'sponsor' that I did not have time to run another company. I told her if they were a pyramid company, multi level marketing or anything other than a distributor company I had no time for that. I was reassured over and over they weren't. Since joining I haven't heard from the 'sponsor' not once to see how I liked the product or how it was working out. She knew she got my money and that was the end of that. Poor business practices!

I was approached by 2 people I go to church with about this company. They are both involved. I was told I would have to invest $249 to get started. If I invested $1000 it would bring me in at a higher level. The company does have products, but they didn't go into any real detail about the products, just that they are health, beauty and weight loss products. Randy Ray is the owner and his company Jeunesse may even be banned in Canada. I am not absolutely sure its a pyramid scheme, but I used to sell Mary Kay which is an MLM and this company is nothing like that. The structure is very confusing and its all about recruiting people in. I am hoping someone at the FTC can look into this. Thanks. I did not invest any money, I just want to make sure others don't end up losing their money.

I ordered 2 boxes of Mona Vie Pulse, one arrived broken on 6/5. I have tried for days to contact Mona Vie and Jeunesse Global but they don't respond. I ordered 2 cases of Mona Vie Pulse on 6/3. They arrived on 6/5, one case OK, the other one the bottles were all shattered and broken. I called 6/5 to Mona Vie 866-217-8455 and spoke with someone who told me to set it outside and she would call me back with return instructions Monday 6/8. I never got a call on 6/8 or 6/9. That phone number is now out of service. I put two help desk tickets on Jeunesse Global website on 6/5. As of end of day 6/9, no one has responded to those at all. I tried calling the number Jeunesse Global has listed online 855-729-1693, but it's some French individual and not the company at all. I tried calling their other number 407-215-7414. It says you can leave a message but when you try to it just hangs up on you. Beginning to think this whole company is a fraud. Customers cannot contact them in any way at all. --- Additional Comments: Would like a refund for the broken case (I have photos of it to prove it) and I'll never do business with them again.

Shipment did not include all products ordered. On 06/03/2015 an order was placed with Jeunesse Global for three items. One Core Vanilla Protein and 2 Core Boost Cleanse. Only one of the three items item shipped.(Core Vanilla Protein) After receiving the shipment of only the Core Vanilla a call was immediately made to customer service. At this point I was told the full shipment was made and pictures of the shipping labels were required to prove the balance of the product was missing. The photos as attached in this complaint where sent to Jeunesse with the expectation that the balance of the product would ship. Since the full shipment of the product was not received a request for overnight shipment cost was requested to be refunded at which point Jeunesse refused but committed to shipping the balance of the product. On Monday 06/08/15 the shipment had not arrived and another call was made to customer service at this point Jeunesse has not seen any notes in the system and claimed a full shipment was made. After explaining the situation once again Jeunesse committed to shipping the product out. On 06/10/15 another call was made because the overnight shipment had not been receive at that point once again Jeunesse said the shipment would ship overnight but tracking was not available. On 06/12/15 a call was made asking what the tracking number was and customer service once again said it was not available but that the shipment was sent overnight on 06/10/15. At this point I do not believe that Jeunesse will fulfill this shipment. After speaking with the distributor of this order she has 2 other individuals who did not receive their Core boost cleanse either. Photos of shipment package label and weight are available. Jeunesse claimed the package weighed the correct amount of 2.54 lbs which shows in the invoice however the fedex label only shows 1.6 lbs --- Additional Comments: I would like a refund of the shipping,tax and 2 Core Boost Cleanse.

I believe a relative was at an event where people were trying to possibly get him to join a pyramid scheme. He was told by an acquaintance to go to the Hilton in San Gabriel, CA to go to a meeting. He was told that a lady who works for Bill Gates was offering a high paying job working for his charity. It was not so. A bunch of people talked about how to make money by referring people to go to these Jeunesse (the name of the company). It seemed shady. My relative who went to this was upset because he felt fooled into attending this. Other-Other Update

False advertisement. 30-day money guarantee. ALL a scam. I purchased on April 5 Zen Fit (weight loss product) I purchased in Toronto at the Wedding show at the Exhibition place. I was assisted by two sale reps which they provide business cards with the following details (see below). They both promised a 30-day money back guarantee I still have the form but don't have a scanner. Hi there, I'm from Australia and I just received an email about another company your currently investigating...that is Vemma. That is where I read up about whats going on with them and found the link to this site. I was told about vemma by a very eager lady my mother is friends with. In the end even though very sceptical they convinced me to join and I spent over $600 of which is money down the drain, so I'm not surprised with this turn of events and I'm rather annoyed with my self to losing a lot of money. THIS IS NOT THE REASON WHY I'M FILLING THIS OUT, I came across another company called Jeunesse Global and a product called instantly ageless...well it looked amazing and the pyramid style plan (which they swore is not a pyramid selling company) seemed a lot more easier and better than Vemma. So I stupidly paid $32 which gives me my website for the year...this everyone has to pay. From there you HAVE to purchase a pack which ranges from $200-$2000 after this you are told to place yourself on autoship and order a product every month which has to be to the value of around $100 which equals a point system of 60qv (qualifying volume) What I have been feeling very uncomfortable with is they tell you.. you don't have to worry about selling products the main aim is to recruit other people to join and do exactly the same. I will start earning a commission once I have something like 6 people on my left side and 3 people on my right side of which they ALL HAVE to be on the autoship (so spending $100 every month plus they have to purchase a pack) then you are encouraged to get them recruiting and so repeating the process over and over again. everytime the cycle is completed over the month I will get $35. NOW....this lady who I contacted and splashes all over facebook how much money she is earning per week (which is $11,000+) her name is b(6) and the lady above her (b(6)) earning something insane like $25,000 a week. OMG!! It seems impossible to achieve any of these things and the products are very very expensive and not all they are cracked up to be for the price. After reading what's happened with Vemma this company is much worse I feel as they are very similar in structure but push and push and push to keep signing people up and making them order every month. It is really just ripping people off and also very very unachievable to reach anywhere close to the status of these people constantly posting how well they are doing and the life styles they are leading. When I asked this lady b(6) about tax side of things she said its U.S dollars so it doesn't matter to us in Australia its all profit...How can this be!!! I DON'T WANT MY NAME LINKED TO THIS SO THAT ANYONE INVOLVED IN THIS COMPANY KNOWS OF ME SENDING THIS IN...PLEASE. BUT I'M HAPPY TO BE CONTACTED BY YOU AS I REALLY STRONGLY FEEL THEY ARE OF VERY SIMILAR NATURE TO VEMMA AND MAY VERY WELL NEED TO BE LOOKED AT.

this company is the definition of a pyramid scheme. making false accusations that it is anti aging lotion and their affiliate packs range from $200-2000 dollars. their autoshipment is about 120 dollars and canadian price its more. alex morton is a huge issue as well. recruiting college students to sign up so he can make huge bonus checks and leaves everyone losing money
