Michael Beazley was introduced to Kyani in 2009. He said he wasn't looking for an opportunity, but was looking for something that he could use to grow for generations so that he could leave a legacy. He was immediately impressed with Kyani and its Founders.

Michael and his wife ended up taking 18 months off from Kyani when they had twins, but the team that they had put together stayed engaged so when Michael got back to being more involved, they began making more residual income than most make in their full time jobs and now he has a new Audi!

Michael notes, "I was told that Kyani was SPECIAL! But the Founders, Products, Business Model, Leadership and System has allowed our team and business to go beyond!"
