The liquid vitamin Kyani is a main staple of our holistic health approach here at Moanalua Massage LLC. We proudly offer Kyani here in our office and we're happy to answer any questions that you may have both in person and over the phone!

Reap the many benefits of Kyani

"I was diagnosed with diabetes about 3 years ago and have been on medication for it. I had been going to Ron Oshiro for joint issues. He recommended Kyani to me and I tried it for 9 months. I am in my late fifties and not as active as I should be. But by just taking the Kyani products, I have been able to get ahold of my diabetes. I will continue to use Kyani products and would recommend them to others who have tried other regimens without success. Remember that you didn't get your problems overnight and they won't go away overnight, either. I have tried other products, but this is the first one that I have seen results from and am willing to stick with."

"I'm 30 years old and have been struggling with a weak immune system all my life. After taking Kyani products for a year, I've gone from getting sick every month to having a strong and solid immune system and body."
— Kit Y.

"It must be about 6 or 7 months that I've been taking Kyani: FX, SunRise, SunSet.

When I first came to you I had a problem with my sinus which intern, seemed to also have affects to my left lung. My sinus's were really bothering me and were becoming infected and in the last two years, I had to take antibiotics to get cured. When I came to you, you also observed that there was a lot of swelling in my feet and legs. And of course, I always spoke about my high blood pressure.

So I took a chance to take Kyani because nothing that I was doing seemed to be working. I first heard about Kyani through a Christian radio program and since I was studying my Bible at 99 Moanalua, your massage clinic was right there for me to have the opportunity to try Kyani. By the way, my doctor noticed that there was a lot of tension in my shoulders, so you were right there for me to take advantage for massage and so you got me going on Kyani, too.

So at this time, I do know that taking Kyani has made a big change in my sinus condition. There is no more pressure and I don't even think about it anymore. As my left lung feels a lot better, it's now more comfortable to breathe and there's not that noticeable weird condition I was feeling daily. I can't really describe that weird feeling in my left lung, but it used to be a hardness, like a board in my back, just behind the left lung.

As for the swelling, you were right about my condition (swelling) and if it's the Kyani working, then I can truly say that today, there is no noticeable swelling that I can feel or see, especially in my feet and legs. You're more knowledgeable about what swelling does in one's body. I'm just reaping the benefits of not being swelled up.

About my high blood pressure, one great benefit that I figured out is that the best benefit of taking my regular high blood pressure pills is when I take FX and SunRise before the high blood pressure meds. Somehow, the Kyani must relax my blood vessels, etc. and when I take my high blood pressure meds, there is no big stress that I feel. If I took the high blood pressure meds first, I would experience almost like migraine like stress in my head, which is deeply painful. It's like a "buzz" that would be so noticeable, that I would have to live with this stressful condition until the meds wear out as the day goes on by. If I were to measure my blood pressure in the morning, it would be about 125-130 over 80 something. Before, I would wake up at 160s over 90 something. I cannot yet depend on the Kyani products alone, yet the affects of taking my high blood pressure meds are a lot more comfortable and tolerable.

I hope this letter will be a mark for my health condition after taking Kyani for over a half year. I am hopeful that there will more changes that I can report to you about while continuing to take the Kyani products.

Thanks for introducing me to Kyani, and for being there for my weekly massage!"
