Kyani Nitro Xtreme Parkinson's Disease Update

Jennifer Smith, IL - The best Christmas present ever is Jacob telling me as he was running down the aisle in farm m fleet "mom I can run as good as I did before I got arthritis".. this is one week on natural meds!

"My 7yo son Jacob was diagnosed with juvenile arthritis in October 2011. He was unable to have full motion of his left knee due to significant inflammation. He saw a specialist at Children's Memorial in Chicago who just kept giving he stronger doses of medicine. Nothing helped. In November his doctor said we would try 3 weeks on another medicine and if it did not work we would have to go to Humera or Enebrel. I remember crying that day thinking my son's only hope of a normal life was medicine with horrible side effects. That day, however, I had brought my Kyani information to the Dr. to get her opinion and tell her I wanted to try other options before Humera. The doctor told me she knew nothing about Kyani but I could try it. I started with Nitro for 3 weeks then added in the full triangle pack after consulting with a Kyani representative. We have never looked back. Little by little I would see the swelling go down. I took pictures at 1 month and 2 months for my own reference. By the end of December his swelling was gone and he had full range of motion in January 2012! My son asks for his Kyani beause he knows it helps him! It is a true blessing for him. Nothing is more heart breaking then seeeing your 7yo not be able to walk and have to drag himself to the bathroom. This week he started soccer again something we did not know if he would be able to play anytime soon. I encourage everyone with any type of inflammation illness to take Kyani's health triangle pack!"

Debbie Thames, OR - I have nerve damage all over my body – ranging from my feet up into my face. I have neuropathy, trigeminal neuralgia, Raynaud's Disease, bursitis, sciatica nerve damage, arthritis, bone spurs, and the list goes on....

I own a tree nursery, and am outside walking the field in boots often. In doing so, my feet generally go numb and it is painful. With the Raynaud's, my toes also have no circulation, again with a lot of pain, as well as turning white and purple due to the lack of circulation.

The trigeminal neuralgia in my face is quite painful. The nerve damage runs along my cheek and into my teeth. When the wind blows on my teeth, I would have shooting pain in my teeth and face. I have had several surgeries on my gum line, and all of the nerves have been removed, but the pain remained.

The Raynaud's Disease in my hands and feet is absolutely miserable! In the winter, if it's just a little cold, my hands go into instant shock and immediately turn purple and white and hurt to touch. I would always have hand warmers with me to alleviate the pain.

A few years back, my sciatica really flared up to the point that I could no longer sleep on my bed. The only comfortable place to sleep was on the floor, and that sleep was very minimal – an hour or two at a time, then needing to get up and walk before attempting sleep again.

About three years ago, I got bursitis in my hip, and over a course of three days, I gained an eight-pound ball of fluid on my hip. Again, with working out in my nursery, the pain sent me through the roof. The bursitis had gotten so bad that I couldn't lift my leg to get into my car. And, if I had bent down for something, it took forever to stand back up, and with a lot of tears!

I had gone to numerous doctors, specialist, chiropractors, acupuncture, etc, and taken all kinds of prescriptions to help with the nerve damage / pain. Not surprisingly, none of the prescriptions helped – they only gave me a ton of side effects, such as dizziness, nauseous, blurred vision and weight gain. The last specialist I saw suggested that I should start checking into pain management since nothing else was working. Being frustrated and annoyed with doctors and prescriptions with the side effects. I stopped all of my prescriptions and continued on with life – in pain.

Not long after, a friend of ours had invited my husband and I over to a Kyani presentation. I was unable to attend, so my husband went with strict instructions NOT to purchase anything or sign up for anything. (We had been involved with other network marketing in the past). My husband came back from the meeting all excited and happy to say that he signed us up to "hold a spot". Well, a few days later, Kyani products showed up at my house. Needless to say, I was not happy, so the products just sat on the counter. The next month, more products showed up. Again, I was not happy. I thought to myself – how on earth will these products work for me when all of the specialist and prescriptions didn't help at all.

We went camping with our friends, who introduced Kyani to my husband, and over the weekend of camping, I was in a lot of pain. I could hardly walk up the steps into my trailer. Our friend kept asking me all weekend if I had taken the Kyani products, and of course my answer was always no, and I had no intention of taking them. By the end of the weekend, with her persistent questioning about Kyani, I told her I would take the products. I started taking the products a few days later. I didn't notice any difference, but I continued to take the products. After about two weeks, it dawned on me that I was no longer lifting my leg with my hand to get into my car, my feet were not numb when working out in the nursery. As the month continued, other ailments had gotten better as well. I was able to sleep in my bed again and all night (as well as feeling rested). Most of my nerve pain has diminished or is gone, and I feel so much better!

I have been taking Kyani now for about 22 months, and I cannot imagine my life without it! I am very thankful for Kyani and even more thankful for getting my life back! Thank you Kyani!!
