What is the Active Ingredient in Lipozene®?

Lipozene® is made from Glucomannan, most commonly known as the Konjac Root. This water-soluble fiber has been cultivated as a weight loss aid in Japan for generations. The main active ingredient in Lipozene® is one of the most studied ingredients for weight loss. It is believed that this water-soluble fiber expands and acts as a dietary fiber gel in your stomach that will give you a a feeling of fullness, so you eat less and as a result, reach your weight loss goals quicker.

In fact, there are even studies that connect its main ingredient Glucomannan with alleviating constipation, helping to maintain healthy cholesterol and supporting healthy blood sugar levels.†

Lipozene® does not contain any stimulants. There are no known harmful side effects when used as directed. **
