Hi, I'm very much interested to know more about the person whom you mentioned had had brain tumor and recovered with TF without chemo or surgery. Is there anyway I can get in touch? Cos my 8yr old son just diagnosed with brain tumor. He went thru 4 chemos and hadn't shrunk and so now we start him with TF plus. Do get back to me asap yah as we're not keen to put him for more chemo as suggested by his oncologist. My email

Hi, But is the person totally recovered? Currently my son's tumor is also inactive aft chemo. Plus giving him TF his blood levels are even better. Im happy at the moment with his condition. He is active n eating well. Just hv to monitor hi closely and stricly giving his TF and other supplements on time. Apart from these, I send him for Bio Resonance Therapy and Ozone therapy too. With these therapies,he recovered faster from chemo side effects. Im trying him with TF for almost a mth now. TF also works wonders for me n other kids in fighting Flu virus and pain. Do let me know more abt the person's recovery process if u get more info yah. Thx!!

I just know Transfer Factor because my boyfriend's aunt who just been diagnosed by cancer stadium 4. Already 1 week after consuming TF but no improvement yet. According to the distributor, 2 years old cancer patient is being diagnosed by a doctor that her life is only 2 weeks left. After consuming TF, this child does not feel much pain anymore and also she live for 3 months.

Anyway there is not much testimonial about TF curing cancer...i only get informed that TF lessen the pain, lengthen the life but not yet i heard it cured cancer.

I just found a supplement from USA which i found out have higher curing level for cancer than TF. The name is CELLFOOD. you might check the testimonials at websites.

Dear Nuru,

I was last week at a meeting where I heard two amazing testimonials winning the battle to this condition. One of them was uterine cancer and the other one prostate cancer. Both of them went into a complete megadosis treatment of 4Life Transfer Factor plus and they have been cancer free for more than 5 years now.

Best of luck to you and your family!

Ana

Hi, I'm in the Philippines and my mother is battling against liver cirrhosis. Had undergone paracentesis recently, removed 2L of fluid. She currently has jaundice, with 940mL of fluid in left lung, O2 at 94-95 with 24/7 help of oxygen. According to the doctors, she's stable for now but needs to be closely monitored. She's in the hospital for more than two weeks now.

After hearing some excellent reviews about 4Life, we visited a local office. The representative advised that my mother needed to take 4Life Transfer Factor 2 capsules, 3 times a day (before meals) for 2 weeks up to 2 months. We have been assured by the representative that, as this is not a supplement, no side effects would result from after taking this dosage along with the medications my mother is taking in the hospital. Is this okay?

Are there members here with similar case as my mother who have taken TF and had positive results? Hope to hear from anyone soon. Thanks and more power!

In order for Transfer factor plus to be effective for cancer, you need to take approx 8 capsules a day. 2 capsules 4 times a day, is usually the most effective. the amount can be reduced to 2 capsules a day, after it controls the cancer, as a preventive measure just wanted to ad to my last post. When someone starts taking large doses of transfer Factor plus, it sometimes brings about what is called a herxheimer response. when this happens they may start sweating, and getting red in the skin. this happens because the TFPlus starts detoxifying very quickly, and normal means of elimination are not able to cary off the toxins fast enough. If this happens you can cut back to 6 or 4 capsules daily, til you get relief, but you have to return to the higher amount for the effectiveness thast is needed. Since your mother has been taking 2 capsules a day, this may mot happen. God bless Tranfer Factor is normally bovine colostru, and does have benefits, but look at IGYIMMUNE, which like Hyperimmuneegg, is IgY. IgY does not cause inflammation like IgG does. IGYIMMUNE is much cheaper than both, and very pure. There is no residual egg to it.

My sister, sister in law and mother all have lupus, which they treat almost soley with good nutrition and this product.

Hello Florin

I would like to know how is your son? How does he felt after the quimio while he was takeing this product. I recieved information about this product but in my country this is sell in a multinivel company and that gives me not so much confiance. Im in my 2/6 quimio now from a breast cancer and im 28 years old.

My oncologist denied me to use any other supplement (natural or not) he told me to only eat well (he said i can eat all) but in my last quimio i felt very bad during a week and i dont want to feel like that before.

My doctor told me there were bad experiences with natural supplements, one case a young men took a supplement (it wasnt transfer factor) and he had a very strong allergic reaction, by this he has to stop the quimio and the cancer grew and sadly died. So by this i doesnt feel that trustable in products but im still open to options... even if my doc said no ;(

Hi Irma, In response to your question about Transfer Factor Plus being sold via a MLM company, it's totally legitimate. This is the only way 4Life Research distributes their products. They are a completely legitimate company that has been in business for 17 years. They are present in 104 countries and growing as we speak. I'm a distributor myself for 4Life Research and like yourself was very, very skeptical on MLM companies but when I saw what these products did to the mother of a friend that had cancer and diabetes, I decided to try them out for myself and my husband for various ailments. Personally know someone that was sent home to meet her maker. Had stage 4 lung cancer. Was given 3-5 months to live. Was introduced to 4Life products and started taking them aggressively. Long story short, this was almost two years ago. She continues taking them, not as aggressive but for maintenance. Will be more than happy to answer any additional questions you may have. Hope this information helped you. Margarita
