April 2008

I started taking PXP in March of 2007. I was a plumber by trade and had to find another job because my body hurt so much so I quit my job and went into real estate. I had rotator cuff pain so bad that I could not sleep at night. I was on 3 different medications for pain and after taking PXP for a short time I didn't have to take them anymore. I also noticed that my hips and shoulders didn't hurt anymore and that I was much more flexible.

About 25 years ago I had a head injury and I had a blind spot in the corner of my eye due to nerve damage. Every year when I went to the Veterans Hospital it would show up on my tests. On a recent trip to the VA hospital the test came back and the doctor, in disbelief, looked at my chart and immediately sent me across the hall to perform a test to check my peripheral vision. This machine had a button that you pressed when the light flashed. They found to their amazement that the nerve was healed and I can now see out of the corner of my eye. To top it off, my stigmatism that I had my entire life is now gone! My doctor was totally amazed. I've worn glasses since the first grade and this is the lowest prescription I had in 15 years.

My wife found out she had Non-Hodgkin's Lymphoma. She had a tumor on the right side of her abdomen, had meningitis and nearly died a number of times approx 5 years ago. She had a lot of health problems and was pretty much bed ridden. Plus, she also had a heart valve replaced. Now being a realtor I was able to stay home more and care for her much more because of my schedule. We didn't have much of a social life. She started taking 3 scoops of the PXP per day in Jan 2005 and not too long after that we would go on short shopping trips. Her long naps started to decrease and so did the scoops of PXP because she had so much energy she couldn't sleep. Today our lives have pretty much returned to normal, the tumor in her abdomen is gone. She still deals with the cancer in her blood and we are waiting for that to go away. The PXP is helping her to live a much more normal life. We are so grateful that we found PXP, God has been good to us!
