Melaleuca's new vitamin and mineral complexes contain high amounts of antioxidants which studies have shown play a large part in the prevention of cellular damage and the occurrence of cancer.

San Diego, CA (PRWEB) September 27, 2012

Melaleuca, a wellness company that is named after a genus of Australian medicinal plants, has developed a patented anti-oxidant formula which may be able to help fight cancer. While the company is known for its concentrated eco-friendly cleaning products, it is also known for its development of many vitamin and mineral supplements.

One of the most promising formulas they have developed, in regards to cancer fighting abilities, is the broad spectrum antioxidant, CellWise. This complex contains both vitamin C (a powerful antioxidant) and Oglio, which is Melaleuca's patented formula that protects minerals. These combine to help reduce excess free radicals. Damage by free radicals, according to the National Cancer Institute, is what causes the occurrence of cancerous cells. Antioxidants help to protect against this damage, and even reverse it, by preventing the generation of free radicals in the body.

Aside from CellWise there are also other vitamin complexes in the Melaleuca line which could be useful in the prevention of cancer. The Vitality MultiVitamin and Supplement contains beta-carotene, vitamins C and E, and the mineral selenium, all of which improve the functioning of the immune system and protect against free radicals.

Melaleuca's Vitality Calcium Complete, a calcium and vitamin D complex, is also purported to help keep your immune system healthy, as it provides a natural source of vitamin D. Usually, we get this vitamin in small amounts from the foods we eat; in things like eggs, milk and fish. However, one of the main sources of vitamin D is what we get when we are exposed to the UVB rays of the sun. While in small amounts, this has no harmful affects, too much sun exposure will also result in the development of free radicals. As such, the vitamin complex offers a safe and natural way to obtain this nutrient.

While Frank Vandersloot, the founder of Melaleuca, ensures that all products that are produced are 100% safe and of the highest quality, the claims about the vitamin complexes are not FDA tested. However, studies have shown that having a healthy lifestyle, which is supplemented with a quality diet and consumption of antioxidants in foods and supplement form, can help prevent the occurrence of cancer and many other preventable diseases.
