Recently, my body contracted a virus which attacked my lungs and caused my body to totally lack energy. I felt awful and disempowered since I had no energy to do anything much. The Olympics was a great distraction! Thankfully, all is better now. It feels SO good to now breathe freely and easily. One of the supplements that helps the lungs is Reishi Max. Others in my team report that their asthma has abated when they started taking these little capsules. This is not a medical solution, but anecdotal evidence is strong. If you are interested PM me. #asthma #lungs #supplements #reishimax
