I was diagnosed with fibromyalgia.

It is a very difficult condition to manage.

It causes constant pain and discomfort and is very distressing, to say the least.

Six months ago, I was introduced to ganoderma coffee.

I had no idea what this simple, pleasant tasting coffee was going to do to my life.

After drinking about 10 cups of ganoderma coffee, I felt quite different.

It was strange at first. With the fibromyalgia, I always had to be careful not to over exert myself or do too much of anything, because if I did, it triggered flare ups and awful pain. Due to this condition, it is usually very difficult for me to get up in the morning after a busy day.

After drinking the coffee, I found that when I rose in the morning, I shined. I now feel rested, awake, and full of energy when I get up.

I am no longer afraid to do things or over exert myself.

Ganoderma coffee has allowed me to escape all of the pain medications I had to take.

There are many Medications that I refused to take due to their horrible side effects as nosebleeds, headaches, kidney damage. depression, and the potential to cause suicidal thoughts.

Who needs to live in pain and then take some pharmaceutical that could cause you to want to die? That was unacceptable to me. Often I opted to just try to deal with the pain free life.

Now that I have ganoderma coffee, I live a pain free life.

I can go about my normal daily routine without pain and medication.

Ganoderma coffee has profoundly changed my existence
