MEMORANDUM OF POINTS & AUTHORITIES

1
2 Plaintiff Ashley Hale (“Plaintiff”) requests final approval of this proposed 3 class action settlement agreement (the “Settlement Agreement,” Dkt. 45-3 Ex 1) 4 with Defendant Manna Pro Products, LLC (the “Defendant”).

5 I. INTRODUCTION

6 This Settlement provides for significant relief for Class Members allegedly 7 harmed by Defendant’s false labeling practices. The Settlement Agreement provides 8 for a substantial financial benefit of pro rata share of $62,500.00, on a claims made 9 basis. To date, there are 74 Class Members with valid claims. Though the precise 10 number of class members is unknown, Defendant disclosed the total number of units 11 sold, as well as the total number of pounds sold. As will be set forth further in 12 Plaintiff’s Motion for Final Approval, it is Class Counsel’s counsel estimation that 13 74 class members indeed represents a large percentage of the class, especially where 14 this particular product is marketed and sold to rabbit breeders who will have 15 purchased a large number of units/pound of feed each, during the class period.
16 Plaintiff estimates the take rate, based on the data it has extrapolated from the 17 Defendant’s own records and Plaintiff’s experience as a rabbit breeder, to be 18 approximately 32.5%.

19 This outstanding result for the Class did not come easy. Plaintiff endured 20 through three years of litigation, challenges to the pleadings, review of a substantial 21 amount of documents, a class mediation, a motion for preliminary approval, 22 substantial third party confirmatory discovery which involved a Motion to Compel 23 in Arkansas District Court, an amendment to the pre-approval order and a new notice 24 plan at considerable expense to class counsel, settlement notice, overseeing 25 administration, and now final approval of the settlement.

26 The Notice Plan approved by the Court has been implemented successfully by 27 the parties and the Court-approved Settlement Administrator, Simpluris 28

1 (“Simpluris” or “Settlement Administrator”). The reaction of the Class has been very 2 positive. There are no objections to the settlement. There have been 0 opt outs. As 3 of April 29, 2021, Simpluris has received 74 total valid claims. Declaration of Mary 4 Butler (“Butler Decl.”) at ¶¶ 21-23.

5 The deadline to submit claims is June 9, 2021. Id at ¶ 21. Based on the 6 participation rate, participating Class Members can be expected to each receive 7 approximately $844.59/claim based on the claims made. In addition to providing 8 Settlement Class Members with monetary relief, the Settlement incentivizes 9 Defendant and other businesses to comply with the Unfair Competition Law Cal.
10 Business & Professions Code §§ 17500 et seq., the Unfair Competition Law Cal.
11 Business & Professions Code §§ 17200 et seq., the Consumer Legal Remedies Act 12 Cal. Civ. Code §§ 1750 et seq., which benefits the Settlement Class Members, 13 consumers in general, and compliant competitive businesses. See David R. Hodas, 14 Enforcement of Environmental Law in A Triangular Federal System: Can Three Not 15 Be A Crowd When Enforcement Authority Is Shared by the United States, the States, 16 and Their Citizens?, 54 Md. L. Rev. 1552, 1657 (1995) (“[A]llowing a violator to 17 benefit from noncompliance punishes those who have complied by placing them at 18 a competitive disadvantage. This creates a disincentive for compliance.”). The 19 Settlement is abundantly fair and reasonable and should be finally approved.

20 II. PROCEDURAL HISTORY

21 Plaintiff moved for preliminary approval of the Settlement on October 25, 22 2019. (Dkt. No. 45). The Court granted preliminary approval on July 6, 2020 (Dkt.
23 No. 58). The Court signed an Order Amending the Preliminary Approval plan to 24 approve the new publication notice plan on January 15, 2021 (Dkt. 66). Plaintiffs 25 filed their motion for attorneys’ fees and costs and for service awards on April 26, 26 2021 (Dkt. No. 67). Plaintiff now submits this motion for final approval.

27 III. SETTLEMENT

28 In an earnest attempt to settle the action and avoid the risks inherent in 1 proceeding to trial, the parties engaged in a mediation with retired Judge James P.

2 Gray (ret.). As noted by Plaintiffs' Motion for Preliminary Approval of Class Action
3 Settlement and Certification of Settlement Class, which was approved by this Court 4 (Dkt. No. 45), the Settlement Agreement in this action resulted from extensive arm's 5 length negotiations, including a full-day mediation session before Hon. Judge James 6 Gray (Ret.). (Friedman Decl ¶ 9). The arm's length negotiations, especially those 7 before Judge Gray (Ret.), serve as "independent confirmation" of the reasonableness
8 of the Settlement's terms including the attorneys' fees, costs, and incentive award 9 sought by this Motion. See Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 1011, 1029 (9th Cir.
10 1998). The parties also conducted all necessary discovery, including discovery 11 pertaining to the issues of product labeling and corn content, class scope, damages, 12 financial viability, and class certification issues.

13 Despite strong views about both merits and certification issues from both 14 sides, the parties engaged in settlement negotiations, and during the mediation 15 sessions, were able to reach an understanding with the assistance of Judge Gray, the 16 terms of which are memorialized in the Agreement. As explained below, all of the 17 factors that courts consider weigh in favor final approval of the proposed Settlement.
18 The relief provided by the settlement is significant, particularly given the risk and 19 expense of continued litigation. The settlement ensures that class members are 20 compensated without delay and eliminates the risk of loss at trial or on appeal. The 21 parties are fully apprised of the strengths and weaknesses of the claims and defenses.
22 Class Counsel have successfully litigated many false labeling cases and fully support 23 the settlement. And that no class members objected further supports final approval 24 of the settlement. Plaintiff requests that the Court finally approve the settlement as 25 fair, reasonable and adequate.

26 A. The Fairness Hearing

27 At the Fairness Hearing scheduled for May 28, 2021, the Court will decide 28

1 whether to finally approve the Settlement and whether to grant Class Counsel’s 2 request for attorneys’ fees, actual litigation costs, and service awards to the Class 3 Representative.

4 B. Attorneys’ Fees, Costs Application, And Service Awards

5 Class Counsel seek $125,000.00 in attorneys’ fees and costs and a service 6 award in the amount of $7,500 to the Class Representative Ashley Hale to be 7 distributed separately from the Class Recovery. (Dkt No. 67).

8 C. Class Action Settlement Terms

9 The significant terms of the Settlement are as follows:

10 1. The Class

11 The “Class” has been certified by this Court (Dkt. No. 58) and is defined 12 the same in the Agreement as follows:

13 The “Settlement Class” is defined in the Agreement as follows:

14 “All individuals in California who purchased one or more units of Select 15 Series Pro Formula Rabbit Food, for which the packaging contained a 16 representation which stated: “Contains No Corn” between January 30, 2014 to May 17 14, 2019 (the “Class Period”).” (Agreement at § 2.07).

18 2. Class Recovery

19 Under the Proposed Settlement, Defendant agrees that each person or entity 20 in the Settlement Class who submit a valid claim form (Qualified Class Members), 21 will receive a pro rata share of $62,500.00, on a claims made basis. (Friedman Dec.
22 ¶16). Defendant has also agreed to separately fund the following: (1) providing 23 notice to Class Members; (2) providing settlement checks to Class Members entitled 24 to receive a settlement check; (3) creating and maintaining the Settlement Website; 25 (4) maintaining a toll-free telephone number; (5) providing CAFA notice 26 (Agreement § 9.04) (6) to pay the proposed $7,500 Incentive Payment to the 27 Plaintiff; and (7) payment of reasonable Attorneys’ Fees, and litigation costs, in an 28

1 amount to be determined by the Honorable Court at Final Approval (Agreement § 2 6-Dkt. 45-3, Exhibit 1), and not to object to any request up to $125,000.00. Id.
3 Consequently, the amount that each Qualified Class Member receives will not be 4 affected at all by the payment of Attorney’s fees or any Costs. Id.

5 As of April 29, 2021, Simpluris has received 74 valid claims. (Butler Decl. ¶ 6 21). Based on these numbers, it is presently estimated that each Class Member that 7 submitted a valid claim will receive approximately $844.59/claim (a pro rata share 8 of $62,500.00). Simpluris will send the settlement checks via U.S. mail and/or direct 9 deposit after receiving approval from counsel to the Parties that judgment has 10 become final.

11 Class Members shall be advised that the checks must be negotiated within one 12 hundred and eighty (180) days, and after the 180-day period for approved Class 13 Members to cash their check has run, the Settlement Administration shall stop 14 payment on all outstanding checks, and any residual amounts left uncashed shall be 15 distributed to cy pres recipient Public Justice.¹ (Dkt. No. 66). This cy pres 16 distribution of residual settlement funds to the Public Justice Foundation addresses 17 the objectives of California’s consumer protection statutes and advances the interests 18 of the plaintiff class by supporting the organization’s work on behalf of consumer 19 protection for California consumers. The Public Justice Foundation will use this cy 20 pres award to further the underlying goals of this case, directly and indirectly 21 benefiting the class members and similarly situated persons. In particular, the Public 22 Justice Foundation will use any such award to help advance the rights of California 23 consumers under its consumer protection laws to enforce—and help others 24 enforce—the laws protect consumer rights. (See Declaration of Paul Bland [“Bland

25 ¹ The Court approved Public Justice as a cy pres recipient contingent upon receiving 26 a Declaration from Public Justice certifying that they would use any recipient funds 27 specifically for the purposes and goals of this Action. Plaintiff has filed the 28 Declaration of Paul Bland, herewith, declaring under penalty of perjury that is exactly what will be done.

1 Decl.”]¶2. Public Justice assures the Court that will only spend any cy pres award 2 from this case on protection of consumers from false labeling, mislabeling or false 3 advertising claims. Id. at ¶3.

4 The Class Recovery shall not revert to Defendant.

5 In addition, and as set forth in the Motion for Preliminary Approval, 6 Defendant has already changed the labeling of their product packaging, as part of 7 the MOU, which was to be completed within six months from the date of the 8 mediation. From a consumer protection standpoint, Defendant’s change of practices 9 will eliminate any false labeling concerns, and therefore protects consumer interests.
10 (Friedman Decl., ¶23).

11 V. ACTIVITY IN THE CASE AFTER PRELIMINARY APPROVAL

12 A. CAFA Notice

13 Simpluris was separately retained by Defendants to administer the notice 14 mandated under the Class Action Fairness Act (CAFA), 28 U.S.C. § 1715, to the 15 U.S. Attorney General and to the Attorney Generals of all states and territories 16 where class members reside. Simpluris mailed the notice to these persons on July 17 31, 2020, in compliance with 28 U.S.C. § 1715(b). (Butler Decl. ¶24).

18 B. Class Notice

19 On July 6, 2020, the Court approved the Notice Plan and appointed Simpluris 20 as the Claims Administrator. (Dkt. No. 58). Subsequently, the class Notice Plan was 21 amended, and the Court approved the amendment. (Dkt. No. 66).

22 The class notice consisted of digital notice, direct notice, print notice, and an 23 established settlement website. (Butler Decl. ¶¶ 6-20).

24 1. Direct Mail Notice

25 On July 10, 2020, Simpluris received the Court-approved Post Card 26 Notice/Claim form and Long Form Notice (“Notice Packet”) from Counsel. The 27 Notice Packet advised Class Members of their right to submit a claim, opt out from 28

1 the Settlement, object to the Settlement, or do nothing, and the implications of each 2 such action. The Notice Packet advised Class Members of applicable deadlines and 3 other events, including the Final Approval Hearing, and how Class Members could 4 obtain additional information. A true and correct copy of an exemplar Notice is 5 attached hereto as “Exhibit A” to the Declaration of Mary Butler (Butler Decl., ¶6).

6 On July 20, 2020, Counsel for Defendant provided Simpluris with a mailing 7 list containing the name and last known address. The Class List contained data for 8 28 unique Class Members, to whom mail notice was effectuated. The mailing 9 addresses contained in the Class List were processed and updated utilizing the 10 National Change of Address Database (“NCOA”) maintained by the U.S. Postal 11 Service. The NCOA contains changes of address filed with the U.S. Postal Service.
12 Of these, only one came back undeliverable. (Butler Decl. ¶¶7-10).

13 2. Digital Notice

14 Beginning on February 15, 2021, and continuing, Simpluris caused two 15 online banner ads to run across social media (Facebook and Google) and targeted 16 websites. The first ad has reached 30,250 individuals with 468 link clicks and the 17 second ad reaching 8,717 individuals with 182 link clicks. Id. at ¶ 13. Simpluris 18 also posted the information and url link to the settlement website to the Top Class 19 Actions website, a website that consolidates class action news in a consumer-20 friendly way. Id. at ¶ 14. Rachel Taylor, the leader of the California Rabbit Breeders 21 Group, agreed to post this information about this case on the group’s Facebook 22 page. Id. at ¶ 15.

23 In addition, Simpluris contacted the following targeted rabbit breeder groups, 24 providing information on the class settlement, as well as the url to the settlement 25 website: The Humane Society, Petfinder.com, Petfinder Foundation, Friends of 26 Rabbits, Los Angeles Rabbit Foundation. Simpluris also emailed the leaders of 60 27 different rabbit breeder clubs in California, requesting them to share a url for claims.
28

1 3. Print Publication Notice

2 In addition to the digital media campaign, Simpluris ran a one page ad in the 3 “Domestic Rabbits” Magazine on March 15, 2021, and another ad will be running 4 on May 15, 2021. (Butler Decl., ¶20).

5 4. Detailed Notice Posted on The Settlement Website

6 Simpluris has also established the Settlement Website 7 MannaProSettlement.com. Visitors to the Settlement Website can download the 8 Long Form Notice, the Claim and exclusion forms, as well as Court Documents, 9 such as the Class Action Complaint, the Settlement Agreement, Motions filed by 10 Class Counsel, and Orders of the Court. Id. at ¶11. Visitors are also able to submit 11 claims and exclusion requests electronically, submit documentation and address 12 updates electronically, and to find answers to frequently asked questions (FAQs), 13 important dates and deadlines, and contact information for the Claims Administrator 14 Among other things, the website contains the Settlement Agreement, Preliminary 15 Approval Order, Motion for Attorneys’ Fees, detailed Class Notice, Mail Notice, 16 Claim Form and online Opt-Out Form. As of April 29, 2021, the Settlement Website 17 has received 1923 unique visitors and 13,297 page views. Id. at ¶ 11.

18 5. Toll-Free Information Line

19 Simpluris also established a case-specific toll-free number for Class 20 Members to call to obtain information regarding the Settlement, and leave inquiry 21 messages. Id. at ¶ 4-5. As of April 29, 2021, the toll-free number has received 3 22 calls. Id. Simpluris will continue to maintain the toll-free number throughout the 23 Settlement administration process. Id.

24 C. Claims Procedure, Including Expenses, And Claims Received

25 The procedure for submitting a claim was made as easy as possible – a claim 26 form could be submitted online via the Settlement Website or sent by U.S. Mail.
27 (Butler Decl. at ¶6, 11, Exhibit A). To date, Simpluris has received 74 valid claim 28 forms from Class Members. Id. at ¶ 17.

1 1. No Objections and No Requests For Exclusion

2 Class Members were permitted to opt-out² or to submit an objection. (Butler 3 Decl., ¶¶ 11, 21-23). The deadline to submit a request for exclusion or object is May 4 10, 2021. Id. As of April 27, 2021, Simpluris has received no requests for exclusion, 5 and there are no objections to the Settlement. Id. The fact that there are no 6 objections and no exclusion requests highly supports the adequacy of the proposed 7 Settlement. In re Diamond Foods, Inc., 2014 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 3252, *9 (N.D. Cal.
8 Jan. 10, 2014) (“Also supporting approval is the reaction of class members to the 9 proposed class settlement. After 67,727 notices were sent to potential class members, 10 there have been only 29 requests to opt out of the class and no objection to the 11 settlement or the requested attorney’s fees and expenses.”)

12 2. Settlement Checks

13 Each Class Member that submitted a valid claim will receive a pro rata share 14 of the $62,500.00 settlement fund, estimated approximately $844.59, based on 15 claims made to date. (Friedman Decl., ¶36, 40). The Class Recovery is separate 16 from any amount to be paid for attorneys’ fees and costs, incentive award, and 17 settlement administration. Simpluris will send the settlement checks via U.S. mail 18 or direct electronic deposit if the Class member elected to receive such payment, 19 after receiving approval from counsel to the Parties and funding to be received. Id.

20 VI. THE PROPOSED SETTLEMENT IS FUNDAMENTALLY FAIR, 21 REASONABLE, AND ADEQUATE, AND SHOULD BE FINALLY 22 APPROVED

24 “Unlike the settlement of most private civil actions, class actions may be 25 settled only with the approval of the district court.” Officers for Justice v. Civil 26

27 _____
28 ² Under Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(4), the Court may afford an additional opportunity for Class Members to request exclusion from the Settlement.

1 Service Com'n of City and County of San Francisco, 688 F.2d 615, 623 (9th Cir.
2 1982). “The court may approve a settlement . . . that would bind class members only 3 after a hearing and on finding that the settlement . . . is fair, reasonable, and 4 adequate.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23 (e)(1)(C). The Court has broad discretion to grant such 5 approval and should do so where the proposed settlement is “fair, adequate, 6 reasonable, and not a product of collusion.” Hanlon v. Chrysler Corp., 150 F.3d 7 1011, 1026 (9th Cir. 1998).

8 “To determine whether a settlement agreement meets these standards, a 9 district court must consider a number of factors, including: ‘the strength of plaintiffs’ 10 case; the risk, expense, complexity, and likely duration of further litigation; the risk 11 of maintaining class action status throughout the trial; the amount offered in 12 settlement; the extent of discovery completed, and the stage of the proceedings; the 13 experience and views of counsel; the presence of a governmental participant; and 14 the reaction of the class members to the proposed settlement.’” Staton v. Boeing 15 Co., 327 F.3d 938, 959 (9th Cir. 2003). “The relative degree of importance to be 16 attached to any particular factor will depend upon and be dictated by the nature of 17 the claim(s) advanced, the type(s) of relief sought, and the unique facts and 18 circumstances presented by each individual case.” Officers for Justice, 688 F.2d at 19 625. The Court must balance against the continuing risks of litigation and the 20 immediacy and certainty of a substantial recovery. See Girsh v. Jepson, 521 F.2d 21 153, 157 (3d Cir. 1975); In re Warner Communications Sec. Litig., 618 F. Supp. 735, 22 741 (S.D. N.Y. 1985).

23 The Ninth Circuit has long supported settlements reached by capable 24 opponents in arms’ length negotiations. In Rodriguez v. West Publishing Corp., 563 25 F.3d 948 (9th Cir. 2009), the Ninth Circuit expressed the opinion that courts should 26 defer to the “private consensual decision of the [settling] parties.” Id. at 965 (citing 27 Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1027 (9th Cir. 1998)). The district court must exercise “sound 28 discretion” in approving a settlement. See Torrasi v. Tucson Elec. Power Co., 8 F.3d

1 1370, 1375 (9th Cir. 1993); Ellis v. Naval Air Rework Facility, 87 F.R.D. 15, 18
 2 (N.D. Cal. 1980), aff'd 661 F.2d 939 (9th Cir. 1981). However, “where, as here, a 3 proposed class settlement has been reached after meaningful discovery, after arm’s 4 length negotiation conducted by capable counsel, it is presumptively fair.” M.
 5 Berenson Co. v. Faneuil Hall Marketplace, Inc., 671 F. Supp. 819, 822 (D. Mass.
 6 1987); In re Ferrero Litig., 2012 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 15174, *6 (S.D. Cal. Jan. 23, 7 2012) (“Settlements that follow sufficient discovery and genuine arms-length 8 negotiation are presumed fair.”) (citing Nat'l Rural Telcoms. Coop. v. Directv, Inc., 9 221 F.R.D. 523, 528 (C.D. Cal. 2004)).

10 In addition, under the recent amendments to Rule 23, courts consider whether:
 11 (A) the class representatives and class counsel have adequately represented the class;
 12 (B) the proposal was negotiated at arm’s length; (C) the relief provided for the class 13 is adequate, taking into account: (i) the costs, risks, and delay of trial and appeal; (ii) 14 the effectiveness of any proposed method of distributing relief to the class, including 15 the method of processing class-member claims; (iii) the terms of any proposed award 16 of attorney’s fees, including timing of payment; and (iv) any agreement required to 17 be identified under Rule 23(e)(3); and (D) the proposal treats class members 18 equitably relative to each other. Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2).

19 All of these factors support a finding that the settlement is fair, reasonable, 20 and adequate. Moreover, the Settlement was reached with the assistance of Hon.
 21 James P. Gray (Ret.). See Jones v. GN Netcom, Inc. (In re Bluetooth Headset Prods.
 22 Liab. Litig.), 654 F.3d 935, 948 (9th Cir. Cal. 2011). Finally, Class Counsel and the 23 Plaintiff agrees that this Settlement is fair and reasonable; among other things, the 24 Settlement will avoid costly and time-consuming additional litigation and the need 25 for trial. (Friedman Decl. at ¶¶ 32-33).

- 26
 27 1. The Strength of The Lawsuit and The Risk, Expense, Complexity, and 28 Likely Duration of Further Litigation

1 Plaintiff believes she have a strong case against Defendant but recognizes the 2 significant risks in litigating it to trial. Defendant has vigorously contested the 3 claims asserted by Plaintiffs in this Litigation, which is described in detail in the 4 contemporaneous declaration of Mr. Friedman. (Friedman Decl. ¶¶ 6-8; 50-57).
5 Defendant was expected to raise defenses to the merits of its practices on the basis 6 that the mislabeling was not material, and to contest the certifiability of the action 7 on a dozen different theories. There were expected to be challenges to the 8 appropriate remedy, the appropriate scope, to procedural issues, and whether this 9 should be a case at all.

10 While both sides strongly believed in the merits of their cases, there are risks 11 to both sides in continuing the Litigation. (Friedman Decl, ¶¶ 50-57. If the 12 Litigation were to continue, challenges would likely be made to certify the action, 13 and challenge it at summary judgment before trial. Moreover, there would be 14 challenges in proving damages. In considering the Settlement, Plaintiffs and 15 Counsel carefully balanced the risks of continuing to engage in protracted and 16 contentious litigation, against the benefits to the Class. The Court agreed with this 17 reasoning in preliminarily approving the settlement.

18 Again, while Plaintiff strongly disagrees with this position, such would have 19 undermined the entire case, if the Court was persuaded by Defendant's position.
20 There are also questions as to damages that are not insignificant – i.e. determining 21 how much consumers were actually harmed by the mislabeling, when most 22 consumers likely placed small value on the added statements on the labels. It is 23 likely that a conjoin survey would have resulted in a small percentage of the purchase 24 price being attributed to this one advertised characteristic, and unlikely that 25 consumers would be legally entitled to a full refund, or even anything approaching 26 half of their purchase price being returned to them as a result of the alleged 27 mislabeling at issue. Id. While both sides strongly believed in the merits of their 28 respective cases, there are clearly numerous palpable risks to both sides in

1 continuing the Litigation. If the Litigation were to continue, challenges would likely 2 be made to any class certification motion made by Plaintiff, thereby placing in doubt 3 whether certification of a class could be obtained and/or maintained in the Litigation.
4 Also, additional substantive challenges to the claims might be raised, including a 5 challenge on summary judgment. The law is fluid in many of these areas, which 6 means that inevitably there would be appeals that would drag out for years. In 7 considering the Settlement, Plaintiff and Class Counsel carefully balanced the risks 8 of continuing to engage in protracted and contentious litigation, against the benefits 9 to the Class. As a result, Class Counsel supports the Settlement and seek its Final 10 Approval. Id.

11 Considering the potential risks and expenses associated with continued 12 prosecution of the lawsuit, the probability of appeals by both sides, the certainty of 13 delay, and the ultimate uncertainty of recovery through continued litigation, the 14 proposed settlement is fair, reasonable, and adequate. See Officers for Justice, 688 15 F.2d at 624 (“Naturally, the agreement reached normally embodies a compromise; 16 in exchange for the saving of cost and elimination of risk, the parties each give up 17 something they might have won had they proceeded with litigation . . .”)

18 2. The Amount Offered In Settlement

19 As set forth above, Defendant has agreed to pay $62,500.00 to fund the 20 settlement, as well as separately covering the costs of notice and claims 21 administration, creating and maintaining a Settlement Website and toll free number, 22 providing CAFA notice, an Incentive Award to Plaintiffs in the amount of $7,500 23 and attorneys’ fees in the amount of $125,000.00. (Friedman Decl, ¶40-43).
24 Simpluris has received 74 valid claims, thus the Class Members are expected to 25 receive approximately $844.59 each on average, based on the current number of 26 claims. (Friedman Decl. ¶ 36). Defendant also agreed as a condition of the 27 settlement to revise the package labeling to remove the “no corn” statement.
28 (Friedman Decl. ¶23).

1 This payment is a significant recovery for Class Members. The settlement 2 amount to class members is comparable to numerous similar false advertisement
3 class action settlements which have been approved by courts within the Ninth Circuit 4 and California in particular. See Pappas v. Naked Juice Co. of Glendora, Inc. Case
5 No. 2:11-cv-8276-JAK-PLA (C.D. Cal.). (class members were to receive either up 6 to $45 without proof of purchase or up to $75 with proof of purchase per claimant); 7 Hilsley et al v. Ocean Spray Cranberries, Inc., Case No. 3:17-cv-2335-GPC-MDD
8 (S.D. Cal.). (Class members were to receive $1 per bottle for up to 20 bottles of 9 product). It is well-settled that a proposed settlement may be accepted where the 10 recovery represents a fraction of the maximum potential recovery. See e.g., Nat'l
11 Rural Tele. Coop v. DIRECTV, Inc., 221 F.R.D 523, 527 (C.D. Cal. 2004) (“well 12 settled law that a proposed settlement may be acceptable even though it amounts to 13 only a fraction of the potential recovery”); In re Global Crossing Sec. ERISA Litig., 14 225 F.R.D. 436, 460 (E.D. Pa. 2000) (“the fact that a proposed settlement constitutes 15 a relatively small percentage of the most optimistic estimate does not, in itself, weigh 16 against the settlement; rather, the percentage should be considered in light of 17 strength of the claims”); In re Mego Fin. Corp. Sec. Litig., 213 F.3d 454, 459 (9th 18 Cir. 2000) (approving a settlement that comprised one-sixth of plaintiffs’ potential 19 recovery).

20 As the Linder Court explained, “... it is firmly established that the benefits of 21 certification are not measured by reference to individual recoveries alone. Not only 22 do class actions offer consumers a means of recovery for modest individual 23 damages, but such actions often produce several salutary by-products, including a 24 therapeutic effect upon those [entities] who indulge in [illegal] practices, aid to 25 legitimate business enterprises by curtailing illegitimate [conduct], and avoidance to 26 the judicial process of the burden of multiple litigation involving identical claims.” 27 Linder v. Thrifty Oil Co., 23 Cal. 4th 429, 445 (Cal. 2000) (internal quotations 28 omitted).

1 3. The Extent of Discovery Completed

2 In the present case, Class Counsel performed significant factual investigation 3 prior to bringing the action, conducted extensive written discovery and review of 4 voluminous data from Defendant and third parties, engaged in motion practice and 5 pleadings challenges, and engaged in additional mediation discovery and 6 confirmatory discovery, including motions to compel compliance out of state.
7 (Friedman Decl., ¶7, 13, 15). The Class Counsel are satisfied that the information 8 provided about the distribution and sales of Class Products is accurate. The time and 9 effort spent examining and investigating the claims militate in favor of preliminary 10 approval of the proposed Settlement, as the process strongly indicates that there was 11 no collusion. See In re Wireless Facilities, Inc. Sec. Litig. II, 253 F.R.D. 607, 610
12 (S.D. Cal. 2008) (“Settlements that follow sufficient discovery and genuine arms-13 length negotiation are presumed fair.”).

14 As detailed in the motion for preliminary settlement approval (Dkt. No. 45), 15 the parties engaged conducted considerable discovery and litigation prior to counsel 16 for the parties attending an all-day private mediation before the Hon. James P. Gray 17 (Ret.). Thus, the litigation here had reached the stage where “the parties certainly 18 have a clear view of the strengths and weaknesses of their cases.” In re Warner 19 Communications, 618 F. Supp. at 745.

20 4. The Experience and Views of Class Counsel

21 “The recommendations of plaintiff’s counsel should be given a presumption 22 of reasonableness.” Boyd v. Bechtel Corp., 485 F. Supp. 610, 622 (N.D. Cal. 1979).
23 The presumption of reasonableness in this action is fully warranted because the 24 settlement is the product of arm’s length negotiations conducted by capable, 25 experienced counsel. See M. Berenson Co., 671 F. Supp. at 822; Ellis, 87 F.R.D. at 26 18 (“that experienced counsel involved in the case approved the settlement after 27 hard-fought negotiations is entitled to considerable weight”); 2 Newberg on Class
28 Actions § 11.24 (4th Ed. & Supp. 2002); Manual for Complex Lit., Fourth § 30.42.

1 It is the considered judgment of Class Counsel experienced in class action 2 litigation that this settlement is a fair, reasonable and an adequate settlement 3 benefiting Settlement Class Members nationwide. Class Counsel are experienced 4 consumer class action lawyers. This Settlement was negotiated without collusion 5 by experienced and capable Class Counsel who recommend its approval. (Friedman 6 Decl., ¶ 42, 58-66). Given their experience and expertise, Class Counsel are well-7 qualified to not only assess the prospects of a case, but also to negotiate a favorable 8 resolution for the class. Class Counsel have achieved such a result here in this class 9 action, and unequivocally assert that the proposed Settlement should receive final 10 approval.

11 5. The Reaction of Class Members To The Settlement

12 To date, there are 74 claims, there are no objections and only no requests for 13 exclusion (Butler Decl., ¶¶21-23), which is important in evaluating the fairness, 14 reasonableness and adequacy of the settlement and supports approval of the 15 settlement here. See Steinfeld v. Discover Fin. Servs., 2014 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 44855, 16 *21 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 31, 2014) (only specific objections or comments from 9 class 17 members, and 239 out of the approximately 8 million class members chose to opt 18 out); Couser v. Comenity Bank, 125 F. Supp. 3d 1034, 1044 (S.D. Cal. 2015) (“Upon 19 considering the high rate of Class Member claims and the relatively low number of 20 requests for exclusion, the Court finds the reaction of the Class to the Settlement 21 favors approval of the Settlement.”); Stemple, 2016 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 157207 at *7-22 8 (finding the lack of objections supported approval of the settlement).

23 In the context of this litigation, Class Counsel was highly successful at 24 achieving a broad class settlement for California consumers (of which Plaintiff was 25 one), through hard fought negotiations leading up to and at mediation.

1 There are a substantial amount of claims by consumers (74 to date) who make 2 up a large percentage of the class.³ While this estimation is imprecise, it is done
3 with knowledge and evidence from both the Plaintiff and her ties to the rabbit 4 breeding community, as well as Defendant’s knowledge of its own customer 5 demographics. With rabbit breeders making up the Defendant’s typical consumer 6 for this particular product, there is unlikely a single consumer who has only a single 7 rabbit. (Declaration of Dr. Rob McCoy [“McCoy Decl.”], ¶6). Indeed, Plaintiff, who 8 owned between 20 to 100 rabbits at a time (similar to many breeders) went through 9 2,433 lbs/year. An owner of only five rabbits would likely go through 1/5 this much 10 feed, which amounts to 487 lbs of feed/year. (Declaration of Ashley Hale, Dkt 67-11 3, ¶11).

12 Documents produced in formal discovery showed that Defendant sold a total 13 of 15,367 units (bags) in California during the Class Period. (McCoy Decl., ¶7).
14 Defendant carried multiple other product lines that were not within the Class 15 Definition. Because 2304 of these units were 50 lb. bags (effectively double bags), 16 the *adjusted total number of units is 17,671, and the total number of lbs. (a more 17 accurate measure) is 441,775 lbs. of feed. (Friedman Decl., ¶28, McCoy Decl., ¶8).

18 The Class Definition encompasses the “pro” series but Defendant also sold 19 the gro, sho, sho supplements, and regular bunny food, all of which were separately 20 manufactured and could have been used by many consumers as supplements.
21 Moreover, investigation and discovery showed that there are a small number of 22 competing big brands of rabbit feed in the market, and a number of smaller sellers 23 that do not make up a large segment of the market. Additionally, Plaintiff provided 24 Class Counsel with information about three mitigating factors. First, some class 25 members will occasionally switch brands of products, though it is done gradually 26 over time, and not frequently in order to prevent adverse effects such as bloating or 27 ³ The claims period is still open and the number of claimants may increase by the 28 time of Final Approval.

1 digestive difficulties. Second, some Class Members became breeders at some point 2 during the Class Period, or stopped as breeders during the Class Period, and may not 3 have purchased Class Products continuously through the entirety of the Class Period.
4 Finally, there are variations amongst breeders throughout the year as to how many 5 rabbits they own at any given time. During breeding season, Class members would 6 own more rabbits until the offspring were raised to age of being able to be sold to 7 market. Defendant confirmed these phenomena were characteristic of their customer 8 base. Due to these factors, Class Counsel believe that in estimating the number of 9 unique Class Members, it is appropriate to apply a 1/3 reduction ratio to the expected 10 average feed/Class Member. Id. ¶ 29-31. (See also Declaration of Ashley Hale, Dkt 11 67-3).

12 Based on the information obtained from Defendant, in discovery, and these 13 sources, Class Counsel conservatively estimate that the typical Class Member would 14 have purchased between 1,948 lbs. and 9,732 lbs. of feed, during the class period. If 15 1/3 of this amount of feed would be comprised of Class Products, on average, then 16 this would equate to a range of 649 lbs. to 3,244 lbs. of Class Product per Class 17 Member, with an average of 1,947 lbs. Thus, using these conservative figures, the 18 74 claims to date likely amounts to a take rate of between 10.8% (74 claims * 649 19 lbs. / 441,775) and 54.3% (74 claims * 3,244 lbs. /441,775), with an average 20 expected take rate of 32.5% of the number of products sold. By all accounts, by 21 extrapolating from the data available to Class Counsel, there is no doubt that there 22 is a high participation rate, and this is a truly excellent result for the class members.
23 Id.

24 Accordingly, with respect to participation, even though the total number of 25 claims appears small, in fact the claims rate represents a much higher percentage 26 than is typical in consumer class actions involving false advertising of low priced 27 goods. Normally, one would expect to see something in the 3-5% take rate range, 28

1 but here, the take rate is estimated to be 32.5%.⁴ No doubt this was a result of the 2 strong efforts of Plaintiff's counsel in subpoenaing the retailers on multiple 3 occasions, and fighting hard with major retailers like Walmart, as well as amending 4 the notice plan to a publication plan to ensure the best notice possible reached the 5 Class in a targeted manner. The placement of exactly what benefits would be 6 received on the notice itself also no doubt had an effect on this. Class Members were 7 happy with the result, because the result made sense, and they participated at a high 8 rate, showing that this was an outstanding settlement.

9 There can be very little argument that the result achieved by this settlement 10 was a strong one.

11 6. The Rule 23(e)(2) considerations favor approval.

12 The considerations outlined in the newly revised Rule 23(e)(2) also support 13 final approval of the settlement. The first consideration is the adequacy of Plaintiff's 14 and his counsel's representation of the Class. The Court already ruled that Plaintiff 15 and her counsel that competently and adequately represented the Class in the Order 16 granting preliminary approval of the Settlement. (Dkt. No. 22). Class Counsel, who 17 have a great deal of experience litigating and settling class action cases, also 18 wholeheartedly support the settlement. This consideration therefore supports

1 approval.

2 The second consideration also supports approval because the settlement was 3 negotiated at arms' length. None of the "red flags" of potential collusion the Ninth 4 Circuit has identified exist in this case. See In re Bluetooth Headset Products Liab.
5 Litig., 654 F.3d 935, 947 (9th Cir. 2011) (noting that plaintiffs' counsel may have 6 allowed pursuit of their own self-interest to infect settlement negotiations when they 7 receive a disproportionate portion of the settlement, the parties agree to a "clear 8 sailing" arrangement providing for the payment of attorneys' fees separate and apart 9 from class funds, or the parties agree that any fees not awarded will revert to 10 defendants rather than be added to the class fund). In fact, the fees being requested 11 by Class Counsel as explained in great depth in their Motion for Fees (filed 12 separately) are significantly less than their reasonable lodestar, and thus match the 13 Ninth Circuit benchmark for reasonableness. (See Dkt. No.67)

14 The third consideration — the adequacy of the relief — also supports 15 Settlement. As discussed above, the estimated $844.59 per Class Members claim is 16 more than adequate to warrant approval, particularly in light of the costs, risks and 17 delay of trial and appeal. The distribution plan ensures that Settlement Class 18 Members will be treated equitably relative to each other. The Class Recovery will 19 be distributed to all Class Members who filed valid claims. Further, as outlined 20 above, the injunctive relief obtained by Plaintiff provides substantial benefits to the 21 Class as well.

22 Finally, Plaintiff addresses the reasonableness of the requested attorneys' fees 23 in the previously filed Motion for Fees. (Dkt. No. 67).

24 B. The Notice Program Complied with Rule 23 and Due Process

25 The notice program approved by the Court and implemented by Simpluris 26 satisfied the requirements of Rule 23 and due process. Rule 23 provides that "[t]he 27 court must direct notice in a reasonable manner to all class members who would be 28

1 bound by the proposal.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(1). When the class is certified under 2 Rule 23(b)(3), the notice must also be the “best notice practicable under the 3 circumstances, including individual notice to all members who can be identified 4 through reasonable effort.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(c)(2)(B). To comply with 5 constitutional due process standards, the notice must be “reasonably calculated, 6 under all the circumstances, to apprise interested parties of the pendency of the 7 action and afford them an opportunity to present their objections.” Mullane v.
8 Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., 339 U.S. 306, 314 (1950).

9 The court-approved notice was “reasonably calculated, under all 10 circumstances, to apprise interested parties of the pendency of the action and afford 11 them an opportunity to present their objections” and described “the action and the 12 plaintiffs’ rights in it.” Phillips Petroleum Co. v. Shutts, 472 U.S. 797, 812 (1985).
13 The notice was written in plain English and included the dates for class members to 14 object and the final approval hearing. See Chavez v. PHC Corp., No. 13-cv-01797-15 LHK, 2015 WL 581382, at *6 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 11, 2015) (“Notice is satisfactory if 16 it ‘generally describes the terms of the settlement in sufficient detail to alert those 17 with adverse viewpoints to investigate and to come forward and be heard.’” (citation 18 omitted)).

19 In total, the Notice Plan delivered 170 million online and social impressions 20 across all digital media platforms. (Butler Decl., ¶19). By using a multi-media 21 channel approach in providing notice, (which employs direct notice, print, digital, 22 and social and mobile media), an estimated 70-90 percent of targeted Class Members 23 were reached with an average frequency of approximately 4 times. (Butler Decl.
24 ¶18). These numbers satisfy due process. See Federal Judicial Center’s Judges’ 25 Class Action Notice and Claims Process Checklist and Plain Language Guide, at p.
26 3 (2010) (recognizing that a reach of between 70-95% is reasonable); see also, 27 Wilson v. Airborne, Inc., 2008 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 110411, *13-14 (C.D. Cal. Aug.
28 13, 2008) (court granted final approval of settlement where measurements used to 1 estimate notice reach suggested that 80% of adults learned of the settlement).

2 Simpluris also established a settlement website with detailed information 3 about the settlement. (Butler Decl., ¶ 11). Located at 4 www.MannaProSettlement.com, the website had 1923 unique visitors and 13,297 5 page views as of April 29, 2021. Id. at ¶ 11. The website lists important dates and 6 class members' rights and options, includes frequently asked questions and key 7 documents from the case like the settlement agreement and motion for attorneys' 8 fees, and allowed class members to submit an online claim. The website (and 9 notices) also provided a toll-free number that class members could call to obtain 10 information about the Settlement, speak to a live customer service representative 11 during business hours, and leave inquiry messages during non-business hours. Id.
12 at ¶¶ 4-5, 7. As of April 29, 2021, 3 Class Members had called the toll free number.

14 V. CONCLUSION

15 In sum, the parties have reached this Settlement following extensive arms' 16 length negotiations, with the assistance of an experienced mediator. The Settlement 17 is fair and reasonable to the Class Members who were afforded notice that complies 18 with due process. For the foregoing reasons, Plaintiff respectfully requests the Court:

- 19 • Grant final approval of the proposed class action settlement;
- 20 • Order payment from the settlement proceeds in compliance with the Court's 21 Preliminary Approval Order and the Settlement Agreement;
- 22 • Grant the Motion for Attorneys' Fees and Costs and Service Award;
- 23 • Enter the proposed order of Final Approval of Class Action Settlement and 24 Judgment; and,
- 25 • Retain continuing jurisdiction over the implementation, interpretation, 26 administration and consummation of the Settlement.
