RE: Jeunesse Claims

Dear Ms. Patton:

I recently attended the Direct Selling Legal and Compliance Summit in Austin, Texas and saw your presentation. Thank you for taking the time to participate in the conference. Your comments and views of the direct selling industry are helpful for member companies.

During your presentation, you mentioned that if there were posts that were being identified by Truth in Advertising as problematic which the company had already worked to have taken down we could advise you so that your records can be updated accordingly. In that regard, I am providing you with a list of claims that were identified in your most recent notification as being potentially problematic, but which had already been dealt with by the Jeunesse Compliance Department and removed.

I think the list is fairly self-explanatory, but I wanted to note that the columns in the middle of the page identify the date the post was taken down ("Complied Date"), the date a distributor was terminated, if applicable ("Terminated Date"), and the date a post was sent to legal for action where a former distributor would not do it voluntarily ("Sent to Legal Date").

This summary likely provides more information than you need to check it against your internal list, but I included it because I wanted to highlight the fact that in the vast majority of cases when we notify a distributor of a problematic post they take it down or modify it without issue. However, we do encounter cases where the person that made the post is no longer affiliated with our company and it can be more difficult to get it removed. We take all action available to us in such cases to get it taken down.

If you have any questions about this information, please feel free to call me on my direct line at 321-275-7094.

Sincerely,

A handwritten signature in blue ink that reads "Greg Hogenmiller".

Greg Hogenmiller
General Counsel
