1 I. INTRODUCTION

2 Plaintiffs Gabriela Bayol and Bruce Verbeck (“Plaintiffs”), by and through Class Counsel,¹ 3 respectfully submit this memorandum in support of Plaintiffs’ Motion for Preliminary Approval of 4 Class Action Settlement. The Settlement Agreement (hereafter, “Settlement”) and its exhibits are 5 attached as Exhibit 1 to the Declaration of Yeremey Krivoshey (“Krivoshey Decl.”), filed herewith.

6 Plaintiffs’ operative complaint, the Amended Class Action Complaint, Dkt. No. 16, alleges 7 that Defendant Health-Ade LLC (“Health-Ade”) mislabeled its kombucha beverages by (1) selling 8 the Subject Products as non-alcoholic when those products allegedly contain more alcohol than 9 permitted for non-alcoholic beverages; and (2) understating the sugar content of the Subject 10 Products on the labels of the Subject Products. The lawsuit also alleges that Defendant Whole 11 Foods Market California, Inc. violated the law by reselling the Health-Ade’s mislabeled products.
12 Defendants have vigorously denied these allegations and asserted numerous defenses.

13 After two full-day mediations before Jill R. Sperber, Esq. of Judicate West, undertaking a 14 thorough investigation, including several rounds of laboratory testing of the Subject Products, and 15 protracted discovery, the parties have reached a settlement that provides a real and substantial 16 monetary benefit to the Class. Defendants have agreed to provide up to $3,997,500 to pay claims 17 for those who purchased on or more flavors of the Subject Products on a claims-made basis. Class 18 Members can receive a $4.00 cash award for each Subject Product the Authorized Claimant 19 purchased during the Class Period, up to a maximum of ten (10) claims (or $40.00 in cash) if the 20 Authorized Claimant does not provide Proof of Purchase. Authorized Claimants who claim more 21 than $40.00 in cash awards must submit Proof of Purchase establishing their purchase during the 22 Class Period of each Subject Product claimed and may receive up to $80.00 in cash awards based 23 on the retail value of the Subject Products shown in the Proof of Purchase. This is an excellent 24 result for Class Members, given that the Settlement effectively provides a full refund to Class 25 Members that submit claims. See supra Argument § VI.A.

26
27 ¹ All capitalized terms not otherwise defined herein shall have the same definitions as set out in the 28 settlement agreement. See Krivoshey Decl., Ex. 1.

1 The Settlement also provides significant injunctive relief. Health-Ade has agreed to (1) 2 maintain on the labels of the Subject Products the following warning statement: “Kombucha should 3 not be consumed if left unrefrigerated for an extended period of time. Pregnant/breast feeding?
4 Consult your doctor. Due to natural fermentation, there may be trace amounts of alcohol and small 5 pieces of culture”; (2) effectuate a formulation change that will control the variability of the 6 alcohol and sugar content in its products to ensure that the declared sugar and alcohol content on 7 such products’ labels do not vary to a greater extent than allowed by federal or state labeling 8 standards; and (3) regularly test samples of its products using a third-party laboratory to ensure 9 compliance with federal and state labeling standards and to ensure the accuracy of the 10 representations regarding the sugar content of its products.

11 As in any class action, the Settlement is subject initially to preliminary approval and then to 12 final approval by the Court after notice to the class and a hearing. Plaintiffs now request this Court 13 to enter an order in the form of the Proposed Preliminary Approval Order, which is attached to the 14 Settlement as Exhibit D. That Order will: (1) grant preliminary approval of the Settlement; (2) 15 conditionally certify the Class, designate Plaintiffs as Class Representatives, and appoint Bursor &
16 Fisher, P.A. as Class Counsel; (3) appoint RG/2 Claims Administration LLC as the Settlement
17 Administrator and establish procedures for giving notice to members of the Class; (4) approve 18 forms of notice to Class Members; (5) mandate procedures and deadlines for exclusion requests 19 and objections; and (5) set a date, time and place for a final approval hearing.

20 Class certification for purposes of settlement is appropriate under Federal Rules of Civil 21 Procedure 23(a), (b)(2), and (b)(3). The proposed Class is so numerous that the joinder of all Class 22 Members is impracticable; there are questions of law or fact common to the proposed Class; the 23 proposed Class Representatives’ claims are typical of those of the Class; and the proposed Class 24 Representatives will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the proposed Class. In addition, 25 common issues of law and fact predominate over any questions affecting only individual members 26 and a class action as proposed here is superior to other available methods for the fair and efficient 27 adjudication of the controversy. Issues of manageability of a nationwide class are of little 28

1 consequence as the parties now seek certification only of a settlement Class. Further, Defendants
2 have acted on grounds that apply generally to the Class, so that final injunctive relief is appropriate 3 respecting the class as a whole.

4 The Settlement is fair and reasonable and falls within the range of possible approval. It is 5 the product of extended arms-length negotiations between experienced attorneys familiar with the 6 legal and factual issues of this case and all Class Members are treated fairly under the terms of the 7 Settlement. Plaintiffs, by and through their counsel, have conducted an extensive investigation into 8 the facts and law relating to this matter as set forth below and in the accompanying Krivoshey 9 Declaration. Plaintiffs and their counsel hereby acknowledge that in the course of their 10 investigation they received, examined, and analyzed information, documents, and materials that 11 they deem necessary and appropriate to enable them to enter into the Settlement on a fully 12 informed basis. It is an outstanding result Class Members. The Court should enter the proposed 13 order granting preliminary approval.

14 II. PROCEDURAL BACKGROUND

15 On March 6, 2018, Plaintiff Gabriela Bayol filed this case in this Court alleging that 16 Health-Ade made false or misleading representations regarding the alcohol and sugar content of its 17 kombucha beverages. Dkt. No. 1. On May 4, 2018, Defendants filed an Answer to the Complaint.
18 Dkt. No. 15. On May 10, 2018, Plaintiffs filed an Amended Class Action Complaint, adding 19 Plaintiff Bruce Verbeck to this action. Dkt. No. 16. The Amended Class Action Complaint 20 contained the same allegations as the initial Complaint, but also asserted violations of the New 21 York General Business Law §§ 349 and 350 (“NYGBL”). The Amended Class Action Complaint 22 also added a proposed New York subclass. On May 24, 2018, Defendants filed an Answer to 23 Plaintiffs’ Amended Class Action Complaint. Dkt. No. 27.

24 On March 23, 2018, a complaint was filed in Gonzalez, et al. v. Health-Ade LLC, Case No.
25 3:18-cv-01836 (N.D. Cal.) (hereafter, the “Gonzalez action”). The Gonzalez action is, however, 26 significantly narrower than Bayol action. Unlike the Bayol action, the Gonzalez action rested 27 exclusively on the allegation that Health-Ade’s kombucha beverages contain more sugar than listed 28

1 on the label. No allegations regarding alcohol content were ever made. On May 30, 2018, the 2 Court related the Bayol and Gonzalez actions. Dkt. No. 29.

3 Plaintiffs in both the Bayol and Gonzalez actions moved for appointment of their respective 4 counsel as Interim Class Counsel. On August 23, 2018, the Court granted the Bayol Plaintiffs’ 5 motion, denied the Gonzalez Plaintiffs’ motion, and appointed Bursor & Fisher, P.A., counsel for 6 the Bayol Plaintiffs, as sole Interim Class Counsel. Dkt. No. 43. In appointing Bursor & Fisher, 7 P.A. as sole Interim Class Counsel, the Court found that Bursor & Fisher, P.A. “ha[s] more 8 extensive experience in representing clients in false advertising cases, including a case factually 9 similar to that here, and, in the instant case, have done a considerable amount of pre-filing work in 10 an effort to identify and plead potential claims.” Id.

11 The Parties have engaged in significant discovery. See Krivoshey Decl. ¶ 2. The Parties 12 exchanged and met and conferred concerning a number of discovery requests, including 13 interrogatories and requests for production. See id. In response, Health-Ade produced critical 14 documents concerning the merits of the case and its overall financial condition to Plaintiffs, 15 including Health-Ade’s test results concerning the alcohol and sugar content of the Subject 16 Products. Id. Plaintiffs also deposed Health-Ade’s Fed. R. Civ. P. 30(b)(6) witness regarding the 17 sales and pricing of Health-Ade’s beverages, Health-Ade’s financial welfare and standing, Health-18 Ade’s alcohol and sugar testing concerning the Subject Products, the alcohol and sugar content of 19 Health-Ade’s beverages, and the formulation of Health-Ade’s beverages, including formulation 20 changes anticipated in the future. Id. Plaintiffs reviewed all of the documents produced by Health-21 Ade, as well as documents and information obtained through their own research and investigation.
22 Id. For instance, Plaintiffs commissioned separate, independent tests concerning the alcohol and 23 sugar content of the Subject Products. Id.

24 Counsel for Plaintiffs and counsel for Defendants have engaged in substantial arm’s-length 25 negotiations in an effort to resolve this action. Id. ¶ 3. On June 26, 2018, the Parties participated 26 in a full day of mediation with Jill R. Sperber, Esq. of Judicate West. The June 26, 2018 mediation 27 did not result in a settlement. Id. After the Court’s August 23, 2018 Order appointing Bursor & 28

1 Fisher, P.A. as Interim Class Counsel, the Parties engaged in weeks of back and forth settlement 2 negotiations. Id. On October 4, 2018, the Parties participated in another full day of mediation with 3 Ms. Sperber. The Parties agreed on the material terms of this Settlement at the October 4, 2018 4 mediation. Id.

5 III. THE STANDARD FOR PRELIMINARY APPROVAL OF CLASS ACTION 6 SETTLEMENTS

7 Approval of class action settlements involves a two-step process. First, the Court must 8 make a preliminary determination whether the proposed settlement appears to be fair and is “within 9 the range of possible approval.” In re Syncor ERISA Litig., 516 F.3d 1095, 1100 (9th Cir. 2008); In 10 re Tableware Antitrust Litig., 484 F. Supp. 2d 1078, 1079 (N.D. Cal. 2007); Alaniz v. California
11 Processors, Inc., 73 F.R.D. 269, 273 (N.D. Cal. 1976), cert. denied sub nom. Beaver v. Alaniz, 439
12 U.S. 837 (1978). If so, notice can be sent to class members and the Court can schedule a final 13 approval hearing where a more in-depth review of the settlement terms will take place. See 14 Manual for Complex Litigation, § 21.312 at 293-96 (4th ed. 2004).

15 The purpose of a preliminary approval hearing is to ascertain whether there is any reason to 16 notify the putative class members of the proposed settlement and to proceed with a fairness
17 hearing. See In re Tableware Antitrust Litig., 484 F. Supp. 2d at 1079. Notice of a settlement 18 should be disseminated where “the proposed settlement appears to be the product of serious, 19 informed, non-collusive negotiations, has no obvious deficiencies, does not improperly grant 20 preferential treatment to class representatives or segments of the class, and falls within the range of 21 possible approval.” Id. (quoting NEWBERG ON CLASS ACTIONS § 11.25 (1992)). Preliminary 22 approval does not require an answer to the ultimate question of whether the proposed settlement is 23 fair and adequate, for that determination occurs only after notice of the settlement has been given 24 to the members of the settlement class. See In re Tableware Antitrust Litig., 484 F. Supp. 2d at 25 1079 (finding that “[t]he question currently before the court is whether this settlement should be 26 preliminarily approved” for the purposes of notifying the putative class members of the proposed 27 settlement and proceeding with a fairness hearing, which requires the court to consider whether the 28 settlement appears to be fair and “falls within the range of possible approval”) (emphasis added).

1 Nevertheless, a review of the standards applied in determining whether a settlement should 2 be given final approval is helpful to the determination of preliminary approval. One such standard 3 is the strong judicial policy of encouraging compromises, particularly in class actions. See In re
4 Syncor, 516 F.3d at 1101 (citing Officers for Justice v. Civil Serv. Comm’n, 688 F.2d 615 (9th Cir.
5 1982), cert. denied, 459 U.S. 1217 (1983)).

6 While the Court has discretion regarding the approval of a proposed settlement, it should 7 give “proper deference to the private consensual decision of the parties.” Hanlon v. Chrysler
8 Corp., 150 F.3d 1011, 1027 (9th Cir. 1998). In fact, when a settlement is negotiated at arm’s-9 length by experienced counsel, there is a presumption that it is fair and reasonable. See In re Pac.
10 Enters. Sec. Litig., 47 F.3d 373, 378 (9th Cir. 1995). Ultimately, the Court’s role is to ensure that 11 the settlement is fundamentally fair, reasonable and adequate. See In re Syncor, 516 F.3d at 1100.

12 In evaluating preliminarily the adequacy of a proposed settlement, particular attention 13 should be paid to the process of settlement negotiations. Here, the negotiations were conducted at 14 arm’s length, were non-collusive and were well informed, with an assessment of the strengths and 15 weaknesses of the claims on both sides, were conducted between counsel on both sides with 16 decades of class action experience, and utilized at the appropriate time the assistance of a well-17 respected mediator. Under such circumstances, the settlement is entitled to a presumption of 18 reasonableness, and the court is entitled to rely upon the opinions and assessments of counsel.
19 Boyd v. Bechtel Corp., 485 F. Supp. 610, 622-23 (N.D. Cal. 1979).

20 Beyond the public policy favoring settlements, the principal consideration in evaluating the 21 fairness and adequacy of a proposed settlement is the likelihood of recovery balanced against the 22 benefits of settlement. “[B]asic to this process in every instance, of course, is the need to compare 23 the terms of the compromise with the likely rewards of litigation.” Protective Committee for 25 That said, “the court’s intrusion upon what is otherwise a private consensual agreement negotiated 26 between the parties to a lawsuit must be limited to the extent necessary to reach a reasoned 27 judgment that the agreement is not the product of fraud or overreaching by, or collusion between, 28

1 the negotiating parties, and that the settlement, taken as a whole, is fair, reasonable and adequate to 2 all concerned.” Officers for Justice, 688 F.2d at 625.

3 IV. TERMS OF THE PROPOSED SETTLEMENT

4 The proposed Class consists of “all persons in the United States and United States 5 Territories who purchased at retail one or more of the Subject Products² during the Class Period.”
6 Settlement at ¶ 7. Excluded from the Class are (a) Defendants and their employees, principals, 7 officers, directors, agents, affiliated entities, legal representatives, successors and assigns; (b) the 8 judges to whom the Action has been or is assigned and any members of their immediate families; 9 (c) those who purchased the Subject Products for the purpose of re-sale; and (d) all persons who 10 have filed a timely Request for Exclusion from the Class. See id.

11 A. Monetary Relief for Class Members

12 Health-Ade has agreed to pay up to $3,997,500 to cover all claims filed by Class Members 13 as well as the costs of settlement administration, incentive awards, and attorneys’ fees, costs and 14 expenses. Class Members can receive a cash payment of $4.00 for each Subject Product they 15 purchased during the Class Period up to $40 without proof of purchase. Class Members with proof
16 of purchase can receive a cash payment up to $80 based on the retail value of the Subject Products
17 shown in the Proof of Purchase during the Class Period. This is a particularly strong settlement 18 because the average retail price of the Subject Products during the Class Period generally varied 19 between $3.52 and $4.95. Declaration of Gary Cooperman (“Cooperman Decl.”) ¶ 5. Indeed, the 20 weighted average retail price of the Subject Products throughout the class period is $3.83 – less 21 than the $4.00 offered by the Settlement. See Krivoshey Decl. ¶ 5.

22 Due to a combination of an expansive notice program and the high cash awards provided by 23 the Settlement, Class Counsel anticipates a high claims rate and outstanding monetary relief for the 24 Class. In the Court’s Order Granting Bayol Plaintiffs’ Motion for Appointment of Interim Class 25 Counsel, the Court appointed Bursor & Fisher, P.A. as sole Interim Class Counsel in part because

 2 Specifically, the Court noted that “Bayol Plaintiffs have had more experience in cases involving 3 false advertising claims.” Id. “Further, in that regard, counsel for the Bayol Plaintiffs brought, in 4 2015, a nationwide class action against another manufacturer of kombucha beverages, which case
 5 was based on statements similar to those allegedly made by Health-Ade, and wherein a settlement 6 providing both monetary and injunctive relief was obtained.” Id. (citing Retta v. Millennium 7 Prods., Inc., 2017 WL 5479637, at *1-3, 11 (C.D. Cal. Aug. 22, 2017)).

8 Like here, the plaintiffs in Retta alleged that the defendants in that case unlawfully sold 9 kombucha beverages that failed to disclose that they contained more alcohol than permitted for 10 non-alcoholic beverages and contained more sugar than declared on the bottles’ labels. See Retta, 11 2017 WL 5479637, at *1. Further, as here, the settlement in Retta settled claims on a nationwide 12 basis, was claims-made, and provided largely identical injunctive relief. See id., at *2. A 13 comparison of the settlement agreement approved in Retta and the present settlement agreement 14 shows that the present settlement provides greater relief than the settlement in Retta on a per claim 15 basis (and a total number units sold basis), and will likely result in the entire Net Cash Amount 16 being exhausted:

	Retta Settlement	Bayol Settlement

To date, Class Counsel has reasonably incurred $14,243.78 in costs. (Krivoshey Decl. ¶ 8)
7	Injunctive Relief	Removal of term "antioxidant," disclaimer regarding alcohol content, warning regarding risk of leaking bottles, and periodic testing. ¹⁰	Disclaimer regarding alcohol content, formulation change, and periodic testing.

17 Based on the similarity of the settlement in Retta, and the number of expected claims, Class
18 Counsel expects that the entire Net Cash Amount will be exhausted and that the Settlement 19 provides tremendous monetary relief for the class.

20 B. Injunctive Relief

21 The Settlement also provides significant injunctive relief. For one year, Health-Ade has 22 agreed to maintain a warning on the labels of the Subject Products stating: "Kombucha should not 23 be consumed if left unrefrigerated for an extended period of time. Pregnant/breast feeding?"

4 that the declared sugar and alcohol content on such products’ labels do not vary to a greater extent 5 than allowed by federal or state labeling standards. Id. Further, Health-Ade has agreed to 6 regularly test samples of its products using a third-party laboratory to ensure compliance with 7 federal and state labeling standards and to ensure the accuracy of the representations regarding the 9 C. Payment of Incentive Awards and Attorneys’ Fees, Costs and 10 Expenses

11 Subject to the Court’s approval, Defendants have agreed to pay incentive awards to each 12 Plaintiff in the amount of $2,000. Settlement, at ¶ 55. Both named Plaintiffs, Gabriela Bayol and 13 Bruce Verbeck, have spent substantial time on this action, have assisted with the investigation of 14 this action and the drafting of the complaint, have been in contact with counsel frequently, and 15 have stayed informed of the status of the action, including settlement. See Declaration of Gabriela 16 Bayol in Support of Plaintiffs’ Motion for Preliminary Approval; Declaration of Bruce Verbeck in 17 Support of Plaintiffs’ Motion for Preliminary Approval.

18 Class Counsel will make an application to the Court for an award of attorneys’ fees, costs 19 and expenses. Defendants have the right to challenge the amount of Plaintiffs’ fees, costs and 20 expenses and there is no agreement as to the amount of attorneys’ fees, costs and expenses that will 21 be sought by Class Counsel.

22 1. Attorneys’ Fees, Costs, and Expenses Sought

23 The Settlement provides for an $3,997,500 “claims-made” fund to pay all valid and timely 24 claims, attorneys’ fees and costs, incentive awards to the Class Representatives, and costs of notice
25 and administration. As discussed in detail below, this is an excellent result. See supra Argument 26 §§ V, VI.A. In light of such a result, Class Counsel will request 25% of the Settlement Fund, or 27 $999,375 in their anticipated application for attorneys’ fees. Krivoshey Decl. ¶ 8. This method of 28 calculating the fee award, based on a percentage of the Settlement Fund, is straightforward, is fair

1 under the circumstances, and is supported by the laws of this Circuit. The 25% fee is also fair in 2 light of the significant time Class Counsel has devoted to this case on a contingency fee basis with 3 the threat of no recovery at all absent a successful resolution. Class Counsel will also seek 4 reimbursement of all reasonably expended out-of-pocket expenses. Id. To date, Class Counsel has 5 incurred $14,243.78 in out-of-pocket expenses.

6 Under the common fund doctrine, courts typically award attorneys' fees based on a 7 percentage of the total settlement. See State of Florida v. Dunne, 915 F.2d 542, 545 (9th Cir.
8 1990); see also In re Pac. Enters. Sec. Litig., 47 F.3d 373, 378-79 (9th Cir. 1995) (affirming 9 attorney's fee award of 33% of the recovery); Morris v. Lifescan, Inc., 54 F. App'x 663, 664 (9th 10 Cir. 2003) (affirming attorney's fee award of 33% of the recovery). To calculate attorneys' fees 11 based on the percentage of the benefit, the Court must first determine the value of the Settlement 12 Fund. In doing so, the Court must include the value of the benefits conferred to the Class, 13 including any attorneys' fees, expenses, and notice and claims administration payments to be made.
14 See, e.g., Staton v. Boeing Co., 327 F.3d 938, 972-74 (9th Cir. 2003); Hartless v. Clorox Co., 273 15 F.R.D. 630, 645 (S.D. Cal. 2011), aff'd, 473 F. App'x. 716 (9th Cir. 2012). Stated otherwise, 16 California courts include the requested attorneys' fees when calculating the total value of the 17 settlement fund. Lealao v. Beneficial California, Inc, 82 Cal. App. 4th 19, 33 (2000). Thus, "the 18 sum of the two amounts ordinarily should be treated as a settlement fund for the benefit of the class 19" In re Consumer Privacy Cases, 175 Cal. App. 4th 545, 554 (2009) (citation omitted).

20 Moreover, the Court must not consider the total monetary amount distributed to the Class; 21 rather, the Court should only consider the amount made available to the Class. As articulated in 22 Young v. Polo Retail, LLC, 2007 WL 951821, at *8 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 28, 2007), Ninth Circuit 23 precedent requires courts to award class counsel fees based on the total benefits being made 24 available rather than the amount actually paid out. Id. at 23 (citing Williams v. MGM-Pathe 25 Comm'ns Co., 129 F.3d 1026 (9th Cir. 1997) (ruling that a district court abused its discretion in 26 basing attorney fee award on actual distribution to class instead of amount being made available).

1 Here, Class Counsel expects that the settlement fund will be fully subscribed by timely and valid 2 claims, and that there will be no difference between the amount made available and the actual 3 payout. Accordingly, the total value of the Settlement Fund is $3,997,500.

4 Class Counsel will seek the Ninth Circuit's established 25% starting benchmark of the 5 common fund. Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1029. The Ninth Circuit has identified five factors that are 6 relevant in determining whether requested attorneys' fees in a common fund case are reasonable:
7 (a) the results achieved; (b) the risk of litigation; (c) whether Class Counsel's work generated 8 benefits beyond the Class settlement fund, (d) market rates as reflected by awards made in similar 9 cases; and (e) the contingent nature of the fee and the financial burden carried by the plaintiffs.
10 Vizcaino v. Microsoft Corp., 290 F.3d 1043, 1048–50 (9th Cir. 2002). Each of these factors shows 11 that the Ninth Circuit's 25 percent benchmark is reasonable in this case, and that any downward 12 adjustment would be manifestly unfair. Here, as discussed in greater details, Class Counsel has 13 easily satisfied each factor.

14 The Court may alternatively grant the requested Attorneys' fees under the lodestar method.
15 Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1029. The lodestar figure is calculated by multiplying the hours spent on the 16 case by reasonable hourly rates for the region and attorney experience. See, e.g., In re Bluetooth 17 Headset Prods. Liab. Litig., 654 F.3d 935, 941-42 (9th Cir. 2011); Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1029. The 18 resulting lodestar figure may be adjusted upward or downward by use of a multiplier to account for 19 factors including, but not limited to: (i) the quality of the representation; (ii) the benefit obtained 20 for the class; (iii) the complexity and novelty of the issues presented; and (iv) the risk of 21 nonpayment. Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1029; Kerr v. Screen Extras Guild, Inc., 526 F.2d 67, 70 (9th 22 Cir. 1975). Courts typically apply a multiplier or enhancement to the lodestar to account for the 23 substantial risk that class counsel undertook by accepting a case where no payment would be 24 received if the lawsuit did not succeed. Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1051. As of March 13, 2019, Class
25 Counsel has billed a total of 417.2 hours at a blended rate of $551.37 per hour. Krivoshey Decl. ¶ 26 9. Accordingly, Class Counsel's lodestar to date is $230,030.00. Id. Should the Court award the 27 Ninth Circuit's 25 percent benchmark, Class Counsel would receive a multiplier of 4.34 based on 28

1 their current lodestar. Id. However, Class Counsel anticipates spending 100 additional hours
 2 before final approval, thus lowering the lodestar multiplier to 3.50. Id. A multiplier between 3.50
 3 and 4.34 is reasonable in light of the risks and benefits obtained in this action. For instance, in a 4 historical review of numerous class action settlements, the Ninth Circuit found that lodestar 5 multipliers normally range from 0.6 to 19.6, with most (83%) falling between 1 and 4, and a bare
 6 majority (54%) between 1.5 and 3. See Vizcaino, 290 F.3d at 1051 n.6; see also Alba Conte &
 7 Herbert B. Newberg, Newberg on Class Actions § 14:03 (3d ed. 1992) (recognizing that multipliers 8 of 1 to 4 are frequently awarded). State and federal courts often approve multipliers of 4 or more.¹¹

9 D. Payment of Notice and Administrative Fees

10 The parties propose that RG/2 Claims Administration LLC (“RG/2”) act as the Settlement 11 Administrator. RG/2 will implement the Settlement and Notice Plan agreed to by the Parties. The 12 costs of notice and claims administration will be paid from the Settlement Fund. Based on quotes 13 given by RG/2, Plaintiffs anticipate that the costs of notice will range between $350,000 to 14 $375,000. Krivoshey Decl. ¶ 10.

15 1. The Settlement Administration Selection Process Was 16 Fair and Reasonable

17 The Parties have selected RG/2 through a competitive bidding process. Plaintiff solicited 18 bids from two settlement administrators. Id. 11. The first settlement administrator estimated that 19 the cost of its notice program would be $616,610. Id. Class Counsel believed that $616,610 for a 20 notice program was too high in light of the total amount provided by the Settlement and asked the 21 same settlement administrator to make a lower bid. Id. The first settlement administrator then (N.D. Cal. 1999, 2000) (approving multiplier of 9.14; cited in California Class Actions and Coordinated Proceedings §15.05).

1 submitted a second bid with a notice program estimated to cost $586,075. Id. Class Counsel 2 believed that the improved bid was still too expensive. Id. After receiving the two bids from the 3 first notice administrator, Class Counsel solicited a bid from RG/2. Id. RG/2 estimated that it 4 could administer notice in this case for a cost of roughly $350,000 to $375,000. Id.

5 Both settlement administrators proposed very similar notice plans: both settlement 6 administrators proposed using an expansive banner ad campaign on Google and social media, using 7 regional publication notice, a toll-free telephone line, a settlement website, and providing direct 8 notice to any class members for whom Defendant had contact information. Id. ¶ 12. Both 9 settlement administrators anticipated that their respective notice programs would result in an 80
10 percent reach. Id. Considering that the notice programs proposed by both settlement 11 administrators were remarkably similar, and that both anticipated an 80 percent reach, Class 12 Counsel decided to engage RG/2 because it could effectively do the same job at roughly 60 percent 13 of the cost. Id. Class Counsel’s competitive bidding process saved roughly $200,000 in notice 14 costs for the Class.

15 V. THE COURT SHOULD PRELIMNARILY APPROVE THE SETTLEMENT
16 BECAUSE IT IS FAIR, ADEQUATE, AND REASONABLE

17 Rule 23(e)(2) provides that “the court may approve [a proposed class action settlement] 18 only after a hearing and on finding that it is fair, reasonable, and adequate.” When making this 19 determination, the Ninth Circuit has instructed district courts to balance several factors: (1) the 20 strength of plaintiffs’ case; (2) the risk, expense, complexity, and likely duration of further 21 litigation; (3) the risk of maintaining class action status throughout the trial; (4) the amount offered 22 in settlement; (5) the extent of discovery completed and the stage of the proceedings; and (6) the 23 experience and views of counsel. Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1026.¹² Courts, however, give “proper 24 deference to the private consensual decision of the parties,” since “the court’s intrusion upon what 25 is otherwise a private consensual agreement negotiated between the parties to a lawsuit must be

26 _____
27 ¹² In Hanlon, the Ninth Circuit also instructed district courts to consider “the reaction of the class 28 members to the proposed settlement.” Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1026. This consideration is more germane to final approval, and will be addressed at the appropriate time.

1 limited to the extent necessary to reach a reasoned judgment that the agreement is not the product 2 of fraud or overreaching by, or collusion between, the negotiating parties, and the settlement, taken 3 as a whole, is fair, reasonable and adequate to all concerned.” Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1027; accord, 4 Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(e)(2) (settlement must be “fair, reasonable, and adequate”). Here, the balance of 5 the Hanlon factors readily establishes that the Settlement should be preliminarily approved.

6 A. Strength of Plaintiffs’ Case

7 In determining the likelihood of a plaintiff’s success on the merits of a class action, “the 8 district court’s determination is nothing more than an amalgam of delicate balancing, gross 9 approximations and rough justice.” Officers for Justice, 688 F.2d at 625 (internal quotations 10 omitted). The court may “presume that through negotiation, the Parties, counsel, and mediator 11 arrived at a reasonable range of settlement by considering Plaintiff’s likelihood of recovery.”
12 Garner v. State Farm. Mut. Auto. Ins. Co., 2010 WL 1687832, at *9 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 22, 2010)
13 (citing Rodriguez v. West Publ’g Corp., 563 F.3d 948, 965 (9th Cir. 2009)).

14 Here, as set forth in the Krivoshey Declaration, Class Counsel engaged in arms-length 15 negotiations with Defendants’ counsel, and Class Counsel was thoroughly familiar with the 16 applicable facts, legal theories, and defenses on both sides. Krivoshey Decl. ¶¶ 3, 14-15. Although 17 Plaintiffs and Class Counsel had confidence in their claims, a favorable outcome was not assured.
18 Id. ¶ 15. They also recognize that they would face risks at class certification, summary judgment, 19 and trial. Id. Defendants vigorously deny Plaintiffs’ allegations and assert that neither Plaintiffs 20 nor the Class suffered any harm or damages. In addition, Defendants would no doubt present a 21 vigorous defense at trial, and there is no assurance that the Class would prevail – or even if they 22 did, that they would not be able to obtain an award of damages significantly more than achieved 23 here absent such risks. Thus, in the eyes of Class Counsel, the proposed Settlement provides the 24 Class with an outstanding opportunity to obtain significant relief at this stage in the litigation. Id.
25 The Settlement also abrogates the risks that might prevent them from obtaining any relief. Id.

26 B. Risk of Continuing Litigation

27 As referenced above, proceeding in this litigation in the absence of settlement poses various 28

1 risks such as failing to certify a class, having summary judgment granted against Plaintiffs, or 2 losing at trial. Such considerations have been found to weigh heavily in favor of settlement. See
3 Rodriguez, 563 F.3d at 966; Curtis-Bauer v. Morgan Stanley & Co., Inc., 2008 WL 4667090, at *4 4 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 22, 2008) (“Settlement avoids the complexity, delay, risk and expense of 5 continuing with the litigation and will produce a prompt, certain, and substantial recovery for the 6 Plaintiff class.”). Even assuming that Plaintiffs were to survive summary judgment, they would 7 face the risk of establishing liability at trial in light of conflicting expert testimony between their 8 own expert witnesses and Defendants’ expert witnesses. In this “battle of experts,” it is virtually 9 impossible to predict with any certainty which testimony would be credited, and ultimately, which 10 expert version would be accepted by the jury. The experience of Class Counsel has taught them 11 that these considerations can make the ultimate outcome of a trial highly uncertain.

12 Moreover, even if Plaintiffs prevailed at trial, in light of the possible damage theories that 13 could be presented by both sides, there is a substantial likelihood that Class Members may not be 14 awarded significantly more than is offered to them under this Settlement on an individual basis.
15 For example, in In re Apple Computer Sec. Litig., 1991 WL 238298, at *1 (N.D. Cal. Sept. 6, 16 1991), the jury rendered a verdict for plaintiffs after an extended trial. Based on the jury’s 17 findings, recoverable damages would have exceeded $100 million. However, weeks later, Judge 18 Ware overturned the verdict, entering judgment notwithstanding the verdict for the individual 19 defendants, and ordered a new trial with respect to the corporate defendant. Id. By settling, 20 Plaintiffs and the Class avoid these risks, as well as the delays and risks of the appellate process.
21 Here, under the Settlement, Class Members stand to recover more than a full refund of up to ten 22 Subject Products purchased within the Class Period. It is hard to imagine obtaining a recovery 23 greater than this at trial.

24 C. Risk of Maintaining Class Action Status

25 In addition to the risks of continuing the litigation, Plaintiffs would also face risks in 26 certifying a class and maintaining class status through trial. Even assuming that the Court were to 27 grant a motion for class certification, the class could still be decertified at any time. See In re 28

1 Netflix Privacy Litig., 2013 WL 1120801, at *6 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 18, 2013) (“The notion that a 2 district court could decertify a class at any time is one that weighs in favor of settlement.”) (internal 3 citations omitted). From their prior experience, Class Counsel anticipates that Defendants would 4 likely appeal the Court’s decision pursuant to Rule 23(f), and/or move for decertification at a later 5 date. “[C]onsummating this Settlement promptly in order to provide effective relief to Plaintiff and 6 the Class” eliminates these risks by ensuring Class Members a recovery that is certain and 7 immediate. Johnson v. Triple Leaf Tea Inc., 2015 WL 8943150, at *4 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 16, 2015).

8 D. The Extent of Discovery and Status of Proceedings

9 Under this factor, courts evaluate whether class counsel had sufficient information to make 10 an informed decision about the merits of the case. See In re Mego Fin. Corp. Sec. Litig., 213 F.3d 11 454, 459 (9th Cir. 2000). Plaintiffs, through their counsel, have conducted extensive research, 12 discovery, and investigation during the prosecution of the Action, including, without limitation: (i)
13 the review of documents produced by Defendants; (ii) the review of product tests initiated and paid 14 for by Plaintiffs and Class Counsel; (iii) the review of other publicly available reports and tests 15 concerning Defendants’ products; (iv) the review of publicly available information regarding 16 Defendants, their business practices and prior litigation involving them; and (v) the deposition of 17 Health-Ade’s Fed. R. Civ. P. 30(b)(6) witness regarding the sales and pricing of Health-Ade’s 18 beverages, Health-Ade’s financial welfare and standing, Health-Ade’s alcohol and sugar testing 19 concerning the Subject Products, the alcohol and sugar content of Health-Ade’s beverages, and the 20 formulation of Health-Ade’s beverages, including formulation changes anticipated in the future.
21 Krivoshey Decl. ¶ 2. The parties also held numerous telephonic and written discussions regarding 22 Plaintiffs’ allegations, discovery and settlement as well as two mediations with Jill Sperber of 23 Judicate West. Id. at ¶ 3. The Settlement is the result of fully-informed negotiations.

24 E. Experience and Views of Counsel

25 “The recommendations of plaintiffs’ counsel should be given a presumption of 26 reasonableness.” In re Omnivision Techs., Inc., 559 F. Supp. 2d 1036, 1043 (N.D. Cal. 2008).
27 Deference to Class Counsel’s evaluation of the Settlement is appropriate because “[p]arties 28

1 represented by competent counsel are better positioned than courts to produce a settlement that 2 fairly reflects each party's expected outcome in litigation." Rodriguez, 563 F.3d at 967. Here, the 3 Settlement was negotiated by counsel with extensive experience in consumer class action litigation.
4 See Krivoshey Decl. Ex. 2 (firm resume of Bursor & Fisher, P.A.). Based on their experience, 5 Class Counsel concluded that the Settlement provides exceptional results for the Class while 6 sparing the Class from the uncertainties of continued and protracted litigation.

7 VI. THE COURT SHOULD PROVISIONALLY CERTIFY THE CLASS, AND ENTER
8 THE PRELIMINARY APPROVAL ORDER

9 A. The Proposed Settlement Class Should Be Certified

10 The Class consists of "all persons in the United States and United States Territories who 11 purchased at retail one or more of the Subject Products during the Class Period." Settlement, at ¶¶ 12 7, 10. Excluded from the Class are (a) Defendants and their employees, principals, officers, 13 directors, agents, affiliated entities, legal representatives, successors and assigns; (b) the judges to 14 whom the Action has been or is assigned and any members of their immediate families; (c) those 15 who purchased the Subject Products for the purpose of re-sale; and (d) all persons who have filed a 16 timely Request for Exclusion from the Class. Id. ¶ 7. This Court has not yet certified this case as a 17 class action. For settlement purposes, the parties and their counsel request that the Court 18 provisionally certify the Class.

19 The Ninth Circuit has recognized that certifying a settlement class to resolve consumer 20 lawsuits is a common occurrence. Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1019. When presented with a proposed 21 settlement, a court must first determine whether the proposed settlement class satisfies the 22 requirements for class certification under Rule 23. In assessing those class certification 23 requirements, a court may properly consider that there will be no trial. Amchem Prods., Inc. v.
24 Windsor, 521 U.S. 591, 620 (1997) ("Confronted with a request for settlement-only class 25 certification, a district court need not inquire whether the case, if tried, would present intractable 26 management problems . . . for the proposal is that there be no trial."). For the reasons below, the 27 Class meets the requirements of Rule 23(a) and (b).
28

1 1. The Class Satisfies Rule 23(a)

2 a. Numerosity

3 Rule 23(a)(1) requires that “the class is so numerous that joinder of all members is 4 impracticable.” See Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(1). “As a general matter, courts have found that 5 numerosity is satisfied when class size exceeds 40 members, but not satisfied when membership 6 dips below 21.” Slaven v. BP Am., Inc., 190 F.R.D. 649, 654 (C.D. Cal. 2000). Here, the 7 proposed Class is comprised of millions of consumers who purchased the Subject Products – a 8 number that obviously satisfies the numerosity requirement. See Wickersham Decl. ¶ 13.
9 Accordingly, the proposed Class is so numerous that joinder of their claims is impracticable.

10 b. Commonality

11 Rule 23(a)(2) requires the existence of “questions of law or fact common to the class.” See 12 Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(2). Commonality is established if plaintiffs and class members’ claims 13 “depend on a common contention,” “capable of class-wide resolution ... meaning that 14 determination of its truth or falsity will resolve an issue that is central to the validity of each one of 15 the claims in one stroke.” Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. v. Dukes, 131 S. Ct. 2541, 2551 (2011). Because 16 the commonality requirement may be satisfied by a single common issue, it is easily met. H.
17 Newberg & Conte, 1 Newberg on Class Actions § 3.10, at 3-50 (1992).

18 There are ample issues of both law and fact here that are common to the members of the 19 Class. Indeed, all of the Class Members’ claims arise from a common nucleus of facts and are 20 based on the same legal theories. The Plaintiffs allege that Defendants mislabeled their kombucha 21 beverages by (1) labeling the products as non-alcoholic when in fact they allegedly more than the 22 alcohol permitted for non-alcoholic beverages, and (2) allegedly understating the sugar content of 23 the products. Accordingly, commonality is satisfied by the existence of these common factual
24 issues. See Arnold v. United Artists Theatre Circuit, Inc., 158 F.R.D. 439, 448 (N.D. Cal. 1994) 25 (commonality requirement met by “the alleged existence of common discriminatory practices”).

26 Second, Plaintiffs’ claims are brought under legal theories common to the Class as a whole.
27 Alleging a common legal theory alone is enough to establish commonality. See Hanlon, 150 F.3d 28

1 at 1019 (“All questions of fact and law need not be common to satisfy the rule. The existence of 2 shared legal issues with divergent factual predicates is sufficient, as is a common core of salient
3 facts coupled with disparate legal remedies within the class.”). Here, all of the legal theories 4 asserted by Plaintiffs are common to all Class Members (with the exception of New York statutory 5 claims, which are pled only on behalf of the New York Subclass). See Amended Class Action 6 Complaint, Dkt. 16, at ¶¶ 166-133. Thus, commonality is satisfied.

7 c. Typicality

8 Rule 23(a)(3) requires that the claims of the representative plaintiffs be “typical of the 9 claims ... of the class.” See Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(a)(3). “Under the rule’s permissive standards, 10 representative claims are ‘typical’ if they are reasonably co-extensive with those of absent class 11 members; they need not be substantially identical.” See Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1020. In short, to 12 meet the typicality requirement, the representative plaintiffs simply must demonstrate that the 13 members of the settlement class have the same or similar grievances. Gen. Tel. Co. of the 14 Southwest Falcon, 457 U.S. 147, 161 (1982).

15 The claims of the named Plaintiffs are typical of those of the Class. Like those of the Class, 16 their claims arise out of the purchase of Health-Ade’s kombucha beverages and the alleged 17 mislabeling of those products. See Amended Compl. ¶¶ 6-7; Bayol and Verbeck Declarations, at 18 ¶¶ 2. Each named Plaintiff purchased several of Health-Ade’s kombucha products and was 19 exposed to the allegedly false or misleading labels. See id. The named Plaintiffs have precisely 20 the same claims as the Class, and must satisfy the same elements for each of their claims. The 21 named Plaintiffs and all Class Members have been injured in the same course of conduct.
22 Therefore, Plaintiffs satisfy the typicality requirement.

23 d. Adequacy

24 The final requirement of Rule 23(a) is set forth in subsection (a)(4) which requires that the 25 representative parties “fairly and adequately protect the interests of the class.” See Fed. R. Civ. P.
26 23(a)(4). A plaintiff will adequately represent the class where: (1) plaintiffs and their counsel do 27 not have conflicts of interests with other class members; and (2) where plaintiffs and their counsel 28

1 prosecute the action vigorously on behalf of the class. See Staton v. Boeing Co., 327 F.3d 938, 958
2 (9th Cir. 2003). Moreover, adequacy is presumed where a fair settlement was negotiated at arm's-3 length. 2 Newberg on Class Actions, supra, §11.28, at 11-59.

4 Class Counsel have vigorously and competently pursued the Class Members' claims. The 5 arm's-length settlement negotiations that took place and the investigation they undertook 6 demonstrate that Class Counsel adequately represent the Class. Moreover, the named Plaintiffs 7 and Class Counsel have no conflicts of interests with the Class. See Bayol and Verbeck
8 Declarations, at ¶¶ 3-9. Rather, the named Plaintiffs, like each absent Class Member, have a strong 9 interest in proving Defendants' common course of conduct, and obtaining redress. See id. In 10 pursuing this litigation, Class Counsel, as well as the named Plaintiffs, have advanced and will 11 continue to advance and fully protect the common interests of all members of the Class. See id.
12 Class Counsel have extensive experience and expertise in prosecuting complex class actions. Class 13 Counsel are active practitioners who are highly experienced in class action, product liability, and 14 consumer fraud litigation. See Krivoshey Decl. Ex. 2 (firm resume of Bursor & Fisher, P.A.).
15 Accordingly, Rule 23(a)(4) is satisfied.

16 2. The Class Satisfies Rule 23(b)(3)

17 In addition to meeting the prerequisites of Rule 23(a), Plaintiffs must also meet one of the 18 three requirements of Rule 23(b) to certify the proposed class. See Zinser v. Accufix Research 19 Inst., Inc., 253 F.3d 1180, 1186 (9th Cir. 2001). Under Rule 23(b)(3), a class action may be 20 maintained if “the court finds that the questions of law or fact common to the members of the class 21 predominate over any questions affecting only individual members, and that a class action is 22 superior to other available methods for fairly and efficiently adjudicating the controversy.” See 23 Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(3). Certification under Rule 23(b)(3) is appropriate and encouraged 24 “whenever the actual interests of the parties can be served best by settling their differences in a 25 single action.” Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 1022.

26 a. Common Questions of Law and Fact Predominate

27 The proposed Class is well-suited for certification under Rule 23(b)(3) because questions 28

1 common to the Class Members predominate over questions affecting only individual Class
2 Members. Predominance exists “[w]hen common questions present a significant aspect of the case
3 and they can be resolved for all members of the class in a single adjudication.” Hanlon, 150 F.3d
4 at 1022. As the U.S. Supreme Court has explained, when addressing the propriety of certification 5 of a settlement class, courts take into account the fact that a trial will be unnecessary and that 6 manageability, therefore, is not an issue. Amchem, 521 U.S. at 620.

7 In this case, common questions of law and fact exist and predominate over any individual 8 questions, including (in addition to whether this settlement is reasonable (see Hanlon, 150 F.3d at 9 1026-27)), inter alia: (1) whether Defendants’ representations regarding the Subject Products were 10 false and misleading or reasonably likely to deceive consumers; (2) whether the Subject Products 11 are misbranded; (3) whether Defendants violated the CLRA, UCL, FAL, and NYGBL 349 and 12 350; (4) whether Defendants breached an express or implied warranty; (5) whether Defendants had 13 defrauded Plaintiffs and the Class Members; and (6) whether Plaintiffs and the Class have been 14 injured by the wrongs complained of, and if so, whether Plaintiffs and the Class are entitled to 15 damages, injunctive and/or other equitable relief, including restitution or disgorgement, and if so, 16 the nature and amount of such relief.

17 b. A Class Action Is the Superior Mechanism for 18 Adjudicating This Dispute

19 The class mechanism is superior to other available means for the fair and efficient 20 adjudication of the claims of the Class Members. Each individual Class Member may lack the 21 resources to undergo the burden and expense of individual prosecution of the complex and 22 extensive litigation necessary to establish Defendants’ liability. Individualized litigation increases 23 the delay and expense to all parties and multiplies the burden on the judicial system presented by 24 the complex legal and factual issues of this case. Individualized litigation also presents a potential 25 for inconsistent or contradictory judgments. In contrast, the class action device presents far fewer 26 management difficulties and provides the benefits of single adjudication, economy of scale, and 27 comprehensive supervision by a single court.
28

1 Moreover, since this action will now settle, the Court need not consider issues of 2 manageability relating to trial. See Amchem, 521 U.S. at 620 (“Confronted with a request for 3 settlement-only class certification, a district court need not inquire whether the case, if tried, would 4 present intractable management problems, see Fed. Rule Civ. Proc. 23(b)(3)(D), for the proposal is 5 that there be no trial.”). Accordingly, common questions predominate and a class action is the 6 superior method of adjudicating this controversy.

7 3. The Class Also Satisfies Rule 23(b)(2)

8 The proposed class is also well suited for certification under Rule 23(b)(2). See gen. Lilly
9 v. Jamba Juice Co., 2015 WL 1248027 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 18, 2015) (granting preliminary approval 10 of a Rule 23(b)(2) class of smoothie kit purchasers). See also Ellis v. Costco Wholesale Corp., 657 11 F.3d 970, 978 (9th Cir. 2011) (explaining that the district court may certify a Rule 23(b)(2) class 12 and a separate Rule 23(b)(3) class). As discussed above, the Settlement provides precisely the 13 injunctive relief sought in the Complaint, consisting of, inter alia, changing the formulation of the 14 Subject Products to ensure that they do not contain more alcohol and sugar than permitted by law
15 and listed on the labels, requirements that Health-Ade regularly pay for testing of the Subject
16 Products to be conducted by an independent laboratory, and changing the labels of the Subject 17 Products with regards to the declared sugar content if testing shows that the declared amounts are 18 inconsistent. Absent the Settlement, this type of injunctive relief would only be available to Class 19 Members after prevailing at trial on the merits.

20 VII. THE PROPOSED NOTICE PROGRAM CONSTITUTES ADEQUATE NOTICE
21 AND SHOULD BE APPROVED

22 Once preliminary approval of a class action settlement is granted, notice must be directed to 23 class members. For class actions certified under Rule 23(b)(3), including settlement classes like 24 this one, “the court must direct to class members the best notice that is practicable under the 25 circumstances, including individual notice to all members who can be identified through 26 reasonable effort.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(c)(2)(B). In addition, Rule 23(e)(1) applies to any class 27 settlement and requires the Court to “direct notice in a reasonable manner to all class members who 28

1 would be bound by a proposal.” Fed R. Civ. P Rule 23(e)(1)

2 When a court is presented with class notice pursuant to a settlement, both the class
3 certification notice and notice of settlement may be combined in the same notice. Manual, § 4 21.633 at 321-22 (“For economy, the notice under Rule 23(c)(2) and the Rule 23(e) notice are 5 sometimes combined.”). This notice allows Class Members to decide whether to opt out of or 6 participate in the class and/or to object to the Settlement and argue against final approval by the 7 Court. Id. The proposed notice program here informs the Class of their rights and includes a 8 comprehensive plan for direct notice (for those Class Members for whom Health-Ade has contact 9 information), a settlement website, publication in the Los Angeles Times, San Francisco Chronicle, 10 and Sacramento Bee, an expansive digital and social media notification campaign, and constitutes 11 the best notice practicable under the circumstances. See gen. Wickersham Decl. ¶¶ 5-29.

12 The notice accurately informs Class Members of the salient terms of the Settlement, the 13 Class to be certified, the final approval hearing and the rights of all parties, including the rights to 14 file objections and to opt out of the class. Additionally, the notice provides information on how 15 Class Members can object and opt out of the Class and to send those objections to the Court, 16 information on how Class Members may access the case docket through the Court’s Public Access 17 to Court Electronic Records (“PACER”), and the contact information of Class Counsel. The 18 Parties in this case have created and agreed to perform the following forms of notice, which will 19 satisfy both the substantive and manner of distribution requirements of Rule 23 and due process.
20 See Exs. E and F to the Settlement, at Krivoshey Decl. Ex. 1.

21 Internet and Social Media Banner Notice and Keyword Search Term Notice: The 22 internet and social media banner ad part of the notice program will collectively obtain roughly 44
23 million individual notice impressions. These forms of digital notice were designed to reach 24 persons most likely to be Class Members. The digital and social media notice program is described 25 in detail in the Wickersham and Resnikoff Declarations.

26 Email and U.S. Mail Notice: A notice substantially in the form attached as Exhibit E to 27 the Settlement shall be e-mailed or mailed to the last known e-mail address or mailing address of 28

1 any Class Member whose contact information is available to Health-Ade. E-Mail Notice will be 2 followed by U.S. Mail Notice to any recipient for whom E-Mail Notice is unsuccessful.

3 Settlement Website: The parties will post a copy of the Long Form Notice (Ex. E) on a 4 website to be maintained by the Administrator, which will additionally contain the settlement 5 documents, an online claim form (Ex. C.), a list of important dates, and any other information to 6 which the parties may agree. The website shall also contain a Settlement Email Address and 7 Settlement Telephone Number in addition to Class Counsel's contact information, where Class 8 Members can submit questions and receive further information and assistance.

9 Publication Notice: The parties shall supplement direct notice by publishing the Summary 10 Notice, attached as Exhibit F to the Settlement, once a week for four consecutive weeks in the Los 11 Angeles Times, Sacramento Bee, and San Francisco Chronicle.

12 CAFA Notice: The parties shall also cause to be disseminated the notice to public officials 13 required by the Class Action Fairness Act ("CAFA"). See Settlement at ¶ 78.

14 Defendant's Website and Social Media Accounts: Health-Ade has agreed to post notice 15 of the settlement on its website and on its Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter accounts in the form of 16 a link to the Settlement Website. Of course, persons that follow Health-Ade on social media 17 accounts are incredibly likely to also be Class Members.

18 These proposed methods of giving notice are appropriate because they provide a fair 19 opportunity for Class Members to obtain full disclosure of the conditions of the Settlement and to 20 make an informed decision regarding the proposed Settlement. Thus, the notices and notice 21 procedures amply satisfy the requirements of due process.

22 VIII. CONCLUSION

23 For the foregoing reasons, Plaintiffs and Class Counsel respectfully request that the Court 24 grant preliminary approval to the Settlement, provisionally certify the Class, approve the proposed 25 notice plan, and enter the Proposed Preliminary Approval Order in the form submitted herewith.
