My Son's Closet

imaustingodsey This is a picture of me back in 2013..... 📸

I would sit in @imaidengodsey 2 foot by 4 foot closet in his room literally 14-18 hours every fckin day (terrible for my spine lol), every week, every month, for over a year straight working on our business until we got evicted because we couldn't afford this little $800 apartment in the hood..... See everyone sees the shine but never the grind that took that person there..... 📺😞🏠🔄

At 1 point I made it an affirmation "I'm learning and studying more about my career than any other person in the world."..... I made it a goal to do more personal development, listen to more audios, read more books, watch more videos than not only anyone on my team, in my company, or within my industry, but on all planet earth..... I know I won't give up the way I am knew I wasn't gunna see the money or success right away because I wasn't out there taking action, doing meetings or events, connecting with people, blah blah blah, but I knew I was building the value to attract it, MAINTAIN it (80% ppl lose their wealth/success) and make it exponentially grow.... I was patient and knew long term it would pay off because you make more money by the VALUE that you're adding to the world or marketplace..... I mastered the math I'd rather be homeless with no physical money and do personal development for 8 hours a day than make $10 an hour and barely get by every month and stay afloat..... I was building the wealth in my mind before the pockets.... Everyone wants to be a millionaire until it comes time to put the MILLION DOLLAR WORK ETHIC IN..... Man people used to come over and laugh at me in my face and tell me I'm crazzzzzy cuz I had a piece of paper in this room that said "$100,000/year" on it. ~~THAT was my goal, didn't even know~~ it, THAT was my goal, didn't even know how to write a proper affirmation lol..... Funny cuz now we pay more than that in a month on taxes..... They tried limiting my reality based upon their shitty belief level within their own dreams.... People looked at me stoopid sitting in this closet like this sitting on my sons Spider-Man pillow talking about traveling the world, changing millions of lives, living in mansions and penthouses in the sky...

SEEM like on your come up and journey to the top, I went homeless 3 more times after this picture, I didn't care I knew it was apart of the process..... ALL that fckin matters is how you certain you THINK and FEEL..... This kid right here, knew EXACTLY what he wanted and embodied it and "HAD" it BEFORE it came about into the physical..... Look at the whiteboard next to me zoom in..... Talks about retiring my mom traveling with my son around the globe, speaking on stage, and hitting the highest rank in that company which was "$100,000/monthly..... I knew..... Literally 100% not a doubt in my mind even during the lows..... You gotta know this shit too..... People follow people who know EXACTLY where they're going, because they're scared to miss out.... You gotta see it in your mind before you can hold it in your hand....
