NOTICE OF MOTION AND UNOPPOSED MOTION FOR PRELIMINARY APPROVAL OF PROPOSED SETTLEMENT, TO AMEND
COMPLAINT FOR SETTLEMENT
PURPOSES, AND TO MODIFY CLASS
DEFINITIONS; MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES IN SUPPORT THEREOF

Judge: Hon. Haywood S. Gilliam, Jr.
Courtroom: 2, 4th Floor
Date: January 16, 2020
Time: 2:00 p.m.

NOTICE OF MOTION AND UNOPPOSED MOTION

TO ALL PARTIES AND THEIR RESPECTIVE ATTORNEYS OF RECORD:

PLEASE TAKE NOTICE that on January 16, 2020, at 2 p.m., in Courtroom 2 of the United States District Court for the Northern District of California, Ronald V. Dellums Federal Building and U.S. Courthouse, 1301 Clay Street, Oakland, California 94612, the Honorable Haywood S. Gilliam, Jr., presiding, Plaintiffs Martin Schneider, Sarah Deigert, Theresa Gamage, and Nadia Parikka (“Plaintiffs”) will and hereby do move for an Order pursuant to Rule 23 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure (“Rule”): (i) preliminarily approving the proposed Settlement; (ii) certifying a modified Settlement Class for settlement purposes only; (iii) approving the form and manner of notice to the Class; and (iv) scheduling a final approval hearing before the Court. Plaintiffs further move for an Order granting leave to file a First Amended Complaint in connection with the proposed Settlement.

The proposed Settlement is within the range of what is fair, reasonable, and adequate such that notice of its terms may be disseminated to Class members and a hearing for final approval of the proposed Settlement scheduled. And, in connection with the Settlement, the parties agree that Plaintiffs seek leave to file an amended complaint. Defendant Chipotle Mexican Grill, Inc. (“Defendant” or “Chipotle”) does not oppose this Motion.

This Motion is based upon this Notice of Motion and Unopposed Motion, the Memorandum of Points and Authorities set forth below, the accompanying Declaration of Laurence D. King in Support of Plaintiffs’ Unopposed Motion for Preliminary Approval of Settlement, to Amend Complaint for Settlement Purposes, and to Modify Class Definitions, dated September 11, 2019 (“King Declaration”), and the exhibits thereto, the pleadings and records on file in this Action, and other such matters and argument as the Court may consider at the hearing of this motion.

STATEMENT OF ISSUES TO BE DECIDED

1. Whether leave should be given to file a First Amended Complaint in connection with the proposed Settlement;
2. Whether the proposed Settlement is within the range of fairness, reasonableness and adequacy as to warrant: (a) the Court’s preliminary approval; (b) certification of a modified

1 Settlement Class for settlement purposes only; (b) the dissemination of Notice of its terms to 2 proposed Settlement Class Members; and (c) setting a hearing date for final approval of the 3 Settlement as well as application of attorneys' fees and reimbursement of expenses;

4 3. Whether the proposed Notice adequately apprises the Settlement Class Members of 5 the terms of the Settlement and their rights with respect to it;

6 4. Whether the proposed Plan to Allocate Settlement proceeds should be preliminarily 7 approved; and

8 5. Whether the Claim Forms are sufficient.

MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND AUTHORITIES

2 Plaintiffs respectfully submit this Memorandum of Points and Authorities in support of their 3 unopposed motion for preliminary approval of the Settlement, to amend the Complaint, and to 4 certify, for settlement purposes only, a modified class definition in the above-captioned action
5 (“Action”), and entry of the [Proposed] Order Certifying Provisional Settlement Class, 6 Preliminarily Approving Class Action Settlement and Providing for Notice to the Settlement Class
7 (“Preliminary Approval Order”). The Preliminary Approval Order will: (i) grant preliminary 8 approval of the proposed class action settlement on the terms set forth in the Stipulation of 9 Settlement, dated September 11, 2019 (“Stipulation” or “Settlement”); (ii) certify a modified 10 proposed Settlement Class, for settlement purposes only; (iii) approve the form and manner of 11 notice of the proposed Settlement to the Class; and (iv) schedule a hearing date for final approval
12 of the Settlement (“Final Approval Hearing”) and a schedule for various deadlines in connection 13 with the Settlement.

14 Defendant has represented that it supports preliminary approval, amending the complaint, 15 and modifying the class definition for settlement purposes only, and does not otherwise oppose 16 Plaintiffs’ motion.

I. INTRODUCTION

17
18 After more than three years of hard-fought and contentious litigation, the parties have 19 reached an agreement to resolve the Classes’ claims against Chipotle pursuant to the accompanying 20 Stipulation. See King Decl., Ex. 1. The Settlement provides for the non-reversionary payment of 21 six million five hundred thousand dollars ($6,500,000.00) in cash for the benefit of the Class.

22 The Settlement was reached only after extensive, aggressive litigation and prolonged, well-23 informed, and extensive arm’s-length negotiations—including three in-person mediation sessions 24 and additional negotiations—between experienced and knowledgeable counsel finally facilitated 25 by mediator Judge Jay C. Gandhi (Ret.) of JAMS at the last two sessions. The Settlement, based 26 upon a mediator’s proposal, was reached less than three months before trial, and after the 27 completion of fact and expert discovery, the briefing on class certification and summary judgment, 28 briefing on Defendant’s motion for decertification, and during the parties’ pre-trial preparations.

1 During the course of the litigation, Plaintiffs, through Kaplan Fox & Kilsheimer LLP and 2 Kobre & Kim LLP (“Counsel”), and/or their agents had, among other things: (i) conducted a wide-
3 ranging investigation into the Class’ claims; (ii) filed a comprehensive complaint; (iii) successfully 4 opposed Defendant’s motion to dismiss; (iv) engaged in a comprehensive discovery program, 5 including 17 depositions throughout the United States, responding to hundreds of discovery 6 requests, reviewing hundreds of thousands of pages of documents, and engaging in motion practice 7 over discovery issues; (v) successfully sought reconsideration of the Court’s order dismissing 8 injunctive relief; (vi) successfully briefed Plaintiffs’ motion for class certification and opposed 9 Defendant’s efforts to seek appellate interlocutory review of the Court’s order granting class 10 certification; (vii) successfully opposed Defendant’s motion for summary judgment; (viii) briefed 11 Defendant’s motion for decertification; (ix) consulted with experts; and (x) prepared for trial. As 12 a result, Plaintiffs and Counsel had a thorough understanding of the relative strengths and 13 weaknesses of the claims asserted at the time the Settlement was reached.

14 Plaintiffs submit that this is a very good recovery for the Settlement Class in light of the 15 substantial risks of decertification and trial. Indeed, unlike in other similar cases where litigants 16 failed at various stages of the litigation,¹ here, Plaintiffs have succeeded to the point of preparing 17 for trial. Moreover, the settlement compares quite favorably to other food mislabeling class actions.
18 Chipotle charged approximately $10 for an entrée during the Class Period. Each Settlement Class 19 Member is eligible to obtain $2 back on each qualifying purchase and may submit a claim for up 20 to five qualifying purchases ($10) without any documentation. Further, each Settlement Class 21 Member can obtain up to $20 for ten qualifying purchases with proof of payment, subject to a 15-22 claim ($30) cap per household. Plaintiffs believe this recovery is quite good considering the limited 23 damages available to each class member at trial, and the ease of filing a claim for up to $10 without 24 proofs of purchase. Such a recovery is in line with, if not better than, other food mislabeling 25 settlements approved in this District. See, e.g., Miller v. Ghirardelli Chocolate Co., No. 12-cv-

27 ¹ See Reilly v. Chipotle Mexican Grill, Inc., No. 1:15-cv-23425 (S.D. Fla.) (denying class 28 certification and granting summary judgment); Pappas v. Chipotle Mexican Grill, Inc., No. 16-cv-0612 (S.D. Cal.) (dismissal prior to class certification); Joseph v. Chipotle Mexican Grill, Inc.,
No. 15-cv-62604 (S.D. Fla.) (voluntary dismissal while motion to dismiss was pending).

1 04936-LB, 2015 WL 758094 (N.D. Cal. Feb. 20, 2015) (final approval of $5.25 million settlement); 2 Larsen v. Trader Joe's Co., No. 11-cv-05188-WHO, 2014 WL 3404531 (N.D. Cal. July 11, 2014)
3 (final approval of $3.375 million settlement); Zeisel v. Diamond Foods, Inc., No. C 10-01192 JSW, 4 2012 WL 4902970 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 16, 2012) (final approval of $2.6 million settlement). Indeed, 5 Plaintiffs' legal theory was largely untested at the time the case was filed, and Chipotle has 6 vigorously contested the claims through the eve of trial.

7 Based on an informed evaluation of the facts and governing legal principles, and their 8 recognition of the substantial risk and expense of continued litigation, the parties respectfully 9 submit that the proposed Settlement is fair, reasonable, and adequate under Rule 23. Accordingly, 10 Plaintiffs move for preliminary approval and submit this Memorandum of Points and Authorities 11 in support thereof.

12 II. BACKGROUND

13 A. Summary of the Litigation

14 Plaintiffs filed their class action complaint on April 22, 2016 (Dkt. 1). Plaintiffs alleged 15 that Defendant's "non-GMO" in-store campaign, from April 27, 2015 until June 30, 2016 (the 16 "Class Period"), was false and misleading and was in violation of, among others, the consumer 17 protection laws of California, New York, and Maryland. See id. ¶¶ 15-49, 69-96, 107-146.

18 On May 17, 2016, Defendant filed a motion to dismiss (Dkt. 15). The Court granted in part 19 and denied in part Defendant's motion on November 4, 2016, dismissing Plaintiffs' request for 20 injunctive relief but otherwise denying the motion (Dkt. 36). See Schneider v. Chipotle Mexican 21 Grill, Inc., No. 16-cv-02200-HSG, 2016 WL 6563348, at *3 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 4, 2016). Chipotle 22 answered the Complaint on December 1, 2016 (Dkt. 40) and discovery commenced thereafter.

23 Pursuant to Court order (Dkt. 48), extensive discovery was completed prior to briefing on 24 Plaintiffs' motion for class certification and Defendant's motion for summary judgment. Discovery 25 included the production and review of hundreds of thousands of pages of documents from the 26 parties and non-parties, preparing for and defending Plaintiffs' depositions, taking a Rule 30(b)(6)
27 deposition of Chipotle and the depositions of its fact witnesses, the submission of expert reports, 28 the taking or defending of the experts' depositions, and the serving or responding to hundreds of

1 discovery requests. In addition, Plaintiffs served multiple subpoenas on non-parties and deposed 2 and/or defended several non-party witnesses. And, Plaintiffs conducted multiple meet and confers
3 with Defendant and filed no less than four joint discovery letters and other requests for resolution 4 before this Court and the magistrate judge (Dkt. 60-62, 66, 70-74, 77, 80).

5 On October 30, 2017, Plaintiffs filed a motion for leave to file a motion for reconsideration
6 of the Court's order dismissing Plaintiffs' request for injunctive relief (Dkt. 85), which the Court 7 granted on November 1, 2017 (Dkt. 86). Plaintiffs filed their motion for reconsideration on 8 November 8, 2017 (Dkt. 87).

9 Nine days later, Defendant filed its motion for summary judgment (Dkt. 92). The same day, 10 Plaintiffs filed their motion for class certification (Dkt. 95). On December 22, 2017, Defendant 11 filed two motions to exclude Plaintiffs' experts (Dkt. 100, 101). Plaintiffs filed their motion to 12 exclude Defendant's experts on January 17, 2018 (Dkt. 117). The Court heard the various motions 13 on February 8, 2018 (Dkt. 131). On September 29, 2018, the Court resolved these motions (Dkt.
14 136): The Court granted reconsideration, denied summary judgment, granted class certification, 15 and denied the motions to exclude. See Schneider v. Chipotle Mexican Grill, Inc., 328 F.R.D. 520, 16 543 (N.D. Cal. 2018).

17 On October 15, 2018, Defendant filed a Rule 23(f) petition before the Ninth Circuit seeking 18 permission to appeal that portion of the Court's decision granting class certification (Dkt. 137).
19 And, on December 6, 2018, Defendant sought to reopen discovery (Dkt. 143). The Court of 20 Appeals denied Defendant's petition on March 20, 2019 (Dkt. 167). The next day, the Court heard 21 and denied Defendant's motion to reopen discovery from the bench (Dkt. 168).

22 On January 9, 2019, Plaintiffs submitted an administrative motion to approve Plaintiffs' 23 selection of notice administrator, the proposed notice plan pursuant to Rule 23(c)(2), as well as a 24 proposed scheduling order that would plan out the schedule from execution of notice until trial 25 (Dkt. 150). The Court held a hearing on the administrative motion on January 24, 2019 and, due 26 to Chipotle's response to the administrative motion, ordered, among other things, Plaintiffs to file 27 a motion to modify the class definitions (Dkt. 159). Plaintiffs filed the motion on January 31, 2019 28 (Dkt. 159), and, on February 12, 2019, the Court granted Plaintiff's motion in part (Dkt. 164).

1 On March 28, 2019, the Court entered a pre-trial and trial schedule stipulated by the parties
2 (Dkt. 174), setting a September 16, 2019 trial date as well as a number of other pre-trial deadlines.
3 The parties engaged in further discussions and motion practice over the contours of notice
4 administration (Dkt. 172, 175-79), which the Court resolved on April 8, 2019 (Dkt. 180). Class 5 notice was disseminated beginning April 15, 2019 (Dkt. 188).

6 On April 25, 2019, Chipotle filed its motion to decertify the classes (Dkt. 184). At the time 7 of settlement, the decertification motion was fully briefed and was specially set for oral argument 8 on July 18, 2019 (Dkt. 190, 191, 192). Upon the parties having informed the Court of a settlement, 9 all pending dates and motions were terminated (Dkt. 193-95).

10 B. Settlement Negotiations and Mediation

11 The parties engaged in three in-person mediations over the course of this Action. The 12 parties held their first in-person mediation on May 9, 2017 with a mediator from the Court's ADR
13 Unit (Dkt. 65). The parties did not settle. On January 29, 2019, the parties held a second in-person 14 mediation, this time with Judge Gandhi. While some progress was made, the parties did not reach 15 a settlement. The parties continued negotiations through Judge Gandhi while litigating the Action 16 and preparing for trial. On July 2, 2019, the parties held a third in-person mediation with Judge 17 Gandhi, where Judge Gandhi made a mediator's proposal during the in-person mediation. The 18 parties accepted the mediator's proposal, culminating in the execution of a settlement term sheet.

19 III. SUMMARY OF AND REASONS FOR THE SETTLEMENT

20 The Settlement provides for the non-reversionary payment of $6.5 million in cash for the 21 benefit of the Class. The Stipulation also provides for payment of Counsel's fees and expenses, 22 releases, the parameters of the Class Notice program, payment of the costs for notice and claims 23 administration, and, under limited circumstances, a cy pres remedy.

24 Based upon their investigation, Plaintiffs and Counsel concluded that the terms and 25 conditions of this Stipulation are fair, reasonable, and adequate to the Class and in their best 26 interests. The parties agreed to settle the Action pursuant to the terms and provisions of the 27 Stipulation, after considering: (i) the substantial benefits that Class members will receive from 28 resolution of the Action; (ii) the risks of continued litigation; and (iii) the desirability of permitting

1 the Settlement to be consummated as provided by the terms of the Stipulation.

2 The parties accepted the mediator's proposal and settled the claims with an understanding 3 of the strengths and weaknesses of their claims and defenses. While Plaintiffs believe that the 4 claims have merit, Plaintiffs concluded that a risk existed that the proposed Settlement Class could 5 recover less than the Settlement, or nothing at all, if the Action continued. Because the Settlement 6 falls within the range of possible approval, and is otherwise fair and reasonable, the Court should 7 grant preliminary approval of the Settlement.

8 IV. ARGUMENT

9 A. Leave to File First Amended Complaint in Connection with Proposed 10 Settlement is Warranted

11 As part of the Settlement Agreement, the parties agreed that Plaintiffs will seek the Court's 12 permission to file an amended complaint, which would redefine the class definition to be consistent 13 with the proposed Settlement Class as described in the Stipulation. Stip. § 2.F.; see King Decl., 14 Ex. 2 (proposed Amended Class Action Complaint).

15 Rule 15(a)(2) permits plaintiffs to amend their pleading with the opposing party's written 16 consent. "Where the parties have agreed to file an amended complaint as part of the class 17 settlement, judges in this district have granted leave to amend, subject to the terms of the 18 settlement." McCabe v. Six Continents Hotels, Inc., No. 12-cv-04818 NC, 2015 WL 3990915, at 19 *4 (N.D. Cal. June 30, 2015) (citations omitted); Altamirano v. Shaw Indus., Inc., No. 13-cv-00939-20 HSG, 2015 WL 4512372, at *10 (N.D. Cal. July 24, 2015).

21 Because the parties agreed through provisions of the Stipulation requiring the Court to 22 consider the content pled in the Amended Class Action Complaint, the Court should grant the 23 motion for leave to file.

24 B. The Class Definition as Contemplated by the Settlement Satisfies Rule 23 and 25 Certification is Warranted

26 On September 29, 2018, the Court granted class certification pursuant to Rules 23(a), 27 23(b)(2), and 23(b)(3). Schneider, 328 F.R.D. at 543. Thereafter, the Court modified the class 28 definitions (Dkt. 164). Ordinarily, there would be no reason to revisit the class definitions at this

1 juncture. See Carter v. Anderson Merchandisers, LP, No. EDCV 08-0025-VAP (OPx), 2010 WL
 2 1946784, at *4 (C.D. Cal. May 11, 2010). However, the Settlement is conditioned upon Plaintiffs 3 filing an amended complaint and, in connection with the amended complaint, the Court amending 4 the three state class definitions, for settlement purposes only, to and approving the following 5 definition:

6 All persons in the United States who purchased Chipotle’s Food Products in its 7 restaurants during the Class Period.

8 Stip. § I.AA.² Excluded from the Settlement Class are all persons who validly opt out of the 9 Settlement in a timely manner; governmental entities; counsel of record (and their respective law 10 firms) for the Parties; Defendant and any of its parents, affiliates, subsidiaries, independent service 11 providers and all of its respective employees, officers, and directors; the presiding judge in the 12 Action or judicial officer presiding over the matter, and all of their immediate families and judicial 13 staff; and any natural person or entity that entered into a release with Defendant prior to the 14 Effective Date concerning the Food Products. Id.

15 The Court can amend or alter the class definition at any time before a decision on the merits.
 16 Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(c)(1)(C); Vizcaino v. U.S. Dist. Ct. for W.D. Wash., 173 F.3d 713, 721 (9th Cir.
 17 1999) (citing Rule 23(c)(1), giving court “explicit permission to alter or amend a certification order 18 before [a] decision on the merits”). Here, the requested modification should be granted because it 19 is appropriate to include and award settlement proceeds to those consumers who were likely 20 exposed to the same or similar Non-GMO Claims and practices as Plaintiffs and the certified 21 Classes throughout the United States. Moreover, Chipotle’s headquarters are located in California.
 22 And, the various states require similar elements or proof with respect to Plaintiffs’ consumer fraud 23 and unjust enrichment claims. Cf. Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 17203 (authorizing the Court to restore 24 to any person any money “which may have been acquired” as a result of unfair competition); 25 Stearns v. Ticketmaster Corp., 655 F.3d 1013, 1020 (9th Cir. 2011), cert. denied, 132 S. Ct. 1970

26 _____
 27 ² “Food Products” is defined as “all beverages sold by Chipotle, including but not limited to non-28 diet sodas, and foods sold by Chipotle containing meat and/or dairy ingredients, including but not limited to burritos, burrito bowls (a burrito without the tortilla), tacos, salads, and quesadillas.” Id.
 § I.P.

1 (2012) (recognizing that “relief under the UCL is available without individualized proof of 2 deception, reliance, and injury.”); see also In re Hyundai and Kia Fuel Economy Litig., 926 F.3d 3 539, 564-65 (9th Cir. 2019) (applying California law to nationwide class).

4 This is all the more important because, in many states, the time to bring similar claims has 5 passed due to the statutes of limitation; thus, it would be unlikely that these consumers would 6 receive any compensation for the alleged wrongdoing committed by Chipotle. It is also appropriate 7 for Chipotle to buy and obtain peace with respect to all consumers who were likely exposed to such 8 practices, and the Settlement was negotiated with these principles in mind.³

9 While the new class definition must satisfy Rule 23 requirements, Astiana v. Kashi Co., 295
10 F.R.D. 490, 492 (S.D. Cal. 2013), those requirements are easily met here because the parties 11 essentially seek only to add more people who were likely exposed to the same practices, and who 12 have the same claims, as Plaintiffs and the certified Classes. Thus, the Court’s prior analyses as to 13 the Rule 23(a) requirements have not changed. See Schneider, 328 F.R.D. at 536-38.

14 The requirements under Rule 23(b)(2) have also been met. A plaintiff must show that “the 15 party opposing the class has acted or refused to act on grounds that generally apply to the class, so 16 that final injunctive relief or corresponding declaratory relief is appropriate respecting the class as 17 a whole.” Fed. R. Civ. P. 23(b)(2). This requirement applies whether or not the parties contest 18 settlement approval. See Amchem Prods., Inc. v. Windsor, 521 U.S. 591, 620-22 (1997). Here, 19 while Defendant has argued otherwise, the question remains as to whether declaratory relief is 20 appropriate respecting the class as a whole. Schneider, 328 F.R.D. at 538-39.

21 Finally, predominance under Rule 23(b)(3) holds true with the proposed Settlement Class.
22 Plaintiffs’ claims continue to be based on the same facts and the same legal and remedial theories 23 as the claims of the Settlement Class because they are all based on Chipotle’s alleged and uniform 24 use of deceptive advertisements. Schneider, 328 F.R.D. at 539-41; see also Hyundai, 926 F.3d at 25 559-60. And the superiority requirement of Rule 23(b)(3) remains satisfied because the ultimate

27 ³ If for any reason the Court does not approve the settlement, each party shall retain all their 28 respective rights as they existed as of the date of the execution of the Settlement Agreement, including maintenance of the Classes certified by the Court on February 12, 2019. Stip. § VI.

1 recovery by Settlement Class Members would be dwarfed by the cost of litigating on an individual
 2 basis, any Settlement Class Member who wishes to opt out may do so pursuant to the proposed 3 Notice plan, and there is currently one potentially related case pending state court.⁴ Schneider, 328
 4 F.R.D. at 541-42; see also Spann v. JC Penney Corp., 314 F.R.D. 312, 323 (C.D. Cal. 2016) (noting 5 that, “in the context of settlement, the other requirements of Rule 23(b)(3) . . . are rendered moot 6 and are irrelevant” (internal quotations and citations omitted)).⁵

7 In sum, because the Court’s prior Rule 23 analysis applies with equal force to the Settlement 8 Class, the Class Definition should be modified as requested.

9 C. The Law Favors and Encourages Settlement

10 Rule 23 requires judicial approval of any compromise of claims brought on a class-wide 11 basis. Rule 23(e) (“The claims . . . of a certified class may be settled . . . only with the court’s 12 approval.”). In deciding whether to approve a proposed settlement, the Ninth Circuit has a “strong 13 judicial policy that favors settlements, particularly where complex class action litigation is 14 concerned.” Hyundai, 926 F.3d at 556; Officers for Justice v. Civil Serv. Comm’n, 688 F.2d 615, 15 625 (9th Cir. 1982); In re Heritage Bond Litig., No. 02-ML-1475 DT, 2005 WL 1594403, at *2 16 (C.D. Cal. June 10, 2005). “[T]here is an overriding public interest in settling and quieting 17 litigation,” and this is “particularly true in class action suits.” Van Bronkhorst v. Safeco Corp., 529 18 F.2d 943, 950 (9th Cir. 1976). Moreover, the Ninth Circuit expressly recognizes that:

19 [I]n making its assessment pursuant to Rule 23(e), the Court’s[] “intrusion upon 20 what is otherwise a private consensual agreement negotiated between the parties to 21 a lawsuit must be limited to the extent necessary to reach a reasoned judgment that 22 the agreement is not the product of fraud or overreaching by, or collusion between, the negotiating parties, and that the settlement, taken as whole, is fair, reasonable and adequate to all concerned.”

23 Heritage Bond, 2005 WL 1594403, at *2 (quoting Officers for Justice, 688 F.2d at 625).

24 Recognizing that “[p]arties represented by competent counsel are better positioned than courts to

25 _____
 26 ⁴ To the extent the plaintiff in the action styled Cruz v. Chipotle Mexican Grill, No. 19STCV25669
 (Super. Ct., LA Cty.), seeks to intervene and somehow “carve out” a specific litigation, the parties 27 oppose intervention for the reasons stated in their respective oppositions (Dkts. 203 & 204).

28 ⁵ Since modification is in the settlement context, the Court need not consider Rule 23’s manageability requirement. Amchem Prods., Inc. v. Windsor, 521 U.S. 591, 620 (1997).

1 produce a settlement that fairly reflects each party’s expected outcome in [the] litigation,” courts 2 favor approval of settlements. In re Pac. Enters. Sec. Litig., 47 F.3d 373, 378 (9th Cir. 1995).

3 D. The Proposed Settlement Should Be Preliminarily Approved

4 At the preliminary approval stage, the court “evaluate[s] the terms of the settlement to 5 determine whether they are within a range of possible judicial approval.” Wright v. Linkus Enters., 6 Inc., 259 F.R.D. 468, 472 (E.D. Cal. 2009). Although “[c]loser scrutiny is reserved for the final 7 approval hearing[.]” Harris v. Vector Mktg. Corp., No. C-08-5198 EMC, 2011 WL 1627973, *7 8 (N.D. Cal. 2011), the showing at the preliminary approval stage—given the amount of time, money, 9 and resources involved in, for example, sending out new class notices—should be good enough for 10 final approval. Spann, 314 F.R.D. at 319.

11 At this stage, the Court may grant preliminary approval of a settlement and direct notice to 12 the class if “the proposed settlement appears to be the product of serious, informed, non-collusive 13 negotiations, has no obvious deficiencies, does not improperly grant preferential treatment to class 14 representatives or segments of the class, and falls within the range of possible approval.” In re 15 Tableware Antitrust Litig., 484 F. Supp. 2d 1078, 1079 (N.D. Cal. 2007) (citing MANUAL FOR 16 COMPLEX LITIGATION, 2d § 30.44 (2d ed. 1985)). The Court does not need to “specifically weigh[] 17 the merits of the class’s case against the settlement amount and quantif[y] the expected value of 18 fully litigating the matter.” Rodriguez v. W. Publ’g Corp., 563 F.3d 948, 965 (9th Cir. 2009).
 19 Instead, the Court must only evaluate whether the Settlement is “the product of an arms-length, 20 non-collusive, negotiated resolution[.]” Id.

21 As demonstrated below, the proposed Settlement is a fair and just result. Given the 22 complexity of this litigation, the potential difficulty of proving certain elements of the Class’s 23 claims, and the continued risks if the parties proceeded to trial, the Settlement represents a favorable 24 resolution of this Action and eliminates the risk that the Class might otherwise recover nothing.

25 1. The Proposed Settlement, the Product of a Mediator’s Proposal, was 26 Vigorously Negotiated, and is Supported by Experienced Counsel

27 Courts recognize that the opinion of experienced counsel supporting settlement after 28 vigorous arm’s-length negotiation is entitled to considerable weight. See, e.g., Ellis v. Naval Air

1 Rework Facility, 87 F.R.D. 15, 18 (N.D. Cal. 1980), aff'd, 661 F.2d 939 (9th Cir. 1981) (“the fact 2 that experienced counsel involved in the case approved the settlement after hard-fought 3 negotiations is entitled to considerable weight”); Spann, 314 F.R.D. at 323-24 (same). Courts have 4 also recognized that agreements based upon a mediator’s proposal demonstrate non-collusive 5 conduct. See, e.g., Ebarle v. Lifelock, Inc., No. 15-cv-00258-HSG, 2016 WL 234364, at *6 (N.D.
6 Cal. Jan. 20, 2016) (finding that acceptance of a mediator’s proposal following mediation sessions 7 “strongly suggests the absence of collusion or bad faith”); Spann, 314 F.R.D. at 324 (same).

8 Here, the parties actively litigated the Action, and Counsel, who have extensive class action 9 and litigation experience, see King Decl., Exs. 3 & 4, conducted an extensive investigation into and 10 prosecution of the alleged claims. Counsel also engaged in a rigorous negotiation process with 11 Defense Counsel, and fully considered and evaluated the fairness of the Settlement to the 12 Settlement Class. The parties’ settlement negotiations were protracted and hard-fought and 13 included the determined assistance of an experienced mediator. At Judge Gandhi’s direction, the 14 parties submitted comprehensive mediation and supplemental statements. After submitting their 15 statements, counsel for all parties attended in-person mediations before Judge Gandhi on 16 January 29, 2019, and again on July 2, 2019, and gave detailed and thoughtful presentations on the 17 perceived strengths and weaknesses of their respective cases. It was only after several additional 18 months of intense discussions and a mediator’s proposal that the parties were ultimately able to 19 reach an agreement. See Villegas v. J.P. Morgan Chase & Co., No. CV 09–00261 SBA (EMC), 20 2012 WL 5878390, at *6 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 21, 2012) (noting that private mediation “tends to support 21 the conclusion that the settlement process was not collusive”).

22 Additionally, throughout the Action and settlement negotiations, Defendant has been 23 vigorously represented by no less than three national law firms, their representation of Defendant 24 being no less rigorous than Counsel’s representation of the proposed Settlement Class. Because 25 the Settlement is the product of serious, informed, and non-collusive negotiations among 26 experienced counsel and the product of a mediator’s proposal, it deserves preliminary approval.

1 2. The Proposed Settlement Class Provides a Favorable Recovery for the 2 Settlement Class and Falls Within a Range of Possible Approval

3 As the Ninth Circuit has articulated, “the very essence of a settlement is compromise, ‘a 4 yielding of absolutes and an abandoning of highest hopes.’” Officers for Justice, 688 F.2d at 624 5 (quoting Cotton v. Hinton, 559 F.2d 1326, 1330 (5th Cir. 1977)).

6 [It is the very uncertainty of outcome in litigation and avoidance of wasteful and 7 expensive litigation that induce consensual settlements. The proposed settlement is 8 [thus] not to be judged against a hypothetical or speculative measure of what might 9 have been achieved by the negotiators.

10 Id. at 625.

11 Here, the Class Settlement Amount of $6.5 million is substantial by any measure and 12 certainly falls within a range of possible approval. This is particularly true given the real and 13 substantial risk that Plaintiffs could have successfully proven liability at trial yet still recovered 14 nothing because the fact and amount of restitution that could be recovered in this case are still 15 uncertain. Accord Pulaski & Middleman, LLC v. Google, Inc., 802 F.3d 979, 986 (9th Cir. 2015).
16 Indeed, as the Court noted in its order granting class certification and denying summary judgment, 17 the “import of” Plaintiff’s expert’s results “is ambiguous at best,” and, moreover, would be “subject 18 to myriad challenges on cross-examination.” Schneider, 328 F.R.D. at 534, 541. Accordingly, 19 there would always be uncertainty as to whether Plaintiffs would recover any restitution even if 20 liability were proven at trial.

21 Moreover, Chipotle continues to dispute the Court’s decision granting class certification, 22 arguing that certification was unwarranted because Plaintiffs failed to demonstrate commonality 23 and predominance. Indeed, as further articulated in Defendant’s motion to decertify the classes 24 (Dkt. 184), Defendant continues to believe that the Court incorrectly found that there was a 25 common question of law or fact to the classes warranting certification, id. at 12-15, and that, even 26 if there were common questions, the Court incorrectly determined that those questions 27 predominated over individual issues, including “exposure, reliance, materiality, causation, and 28 inquiry.” Id. at 15-25. Moreover, Defendant has argued that injunctive relief no longer is applicable given its purported cessation of the alleged unlawful activity. Id. at 25. While Plaintiffs

1 firmly believe that their liability case is exceptionally strong and that the Court properly found that 2 class certification was warranted, which was upheld by the Ninth Circuit when it denied 3 Defendant's 23(f) petition to appeal (Dkt. 167), nonetheless there is always the uncertainty that the 4 Court may reverse itself and conclude otherwise. See Vizcaino, 173 F.3d at 721.

5 In evaluating the Settlement, it is of course relevant to consider what Settlement Class 6 Members will actually recover. While there will not be injunctive relief given Defendant's claim 7 that it has ceased advertising the Non-GMO Claims, only Settlement Class Members who make a 8 claim will receive cash, and the amount that they receive will depend on the fees and costs awarded 9 by the Court, the number of Claims submitted, and the amount that Claimants spent. Nonetheless, 10 the Settlement guarantees an immediate recovery to those making claims of an amount much 11 greater than the theoretical recovery a Claimant could have recovered per purchase had Plaintiffs 12 prevailed at trial.⁶ And, the Court's reliance on these figures must be tempered by the additional 13 costs and delay of trial coupled with the risk that Plaintiffs could prove liability yet still recover
14 nothing. See, e.g., Schaffer v. Litton Loan Serv., LP., No. CV 05-07673 MMM (JCx), 2012 WL 15 10274679, at *11 (C.D. Cal. Nov. 13, 2012) ("Estimates of a fair settlement figure are tempered by 16 factors such as losing at trial, the expense of litigating the case, and the expected delay in recovery
17 (often measured in years.); Linney v. Cellular Alaska P'ship, 151 F.3d 1234, 1242 (9th Cir. 1998)
18 ("The fact that a proposed settlement may only amount to a fraction of the potential recovery does 19 not, in and of itself, mean that the proposed settlement is grossly inadequate and should be 20 disapproved.") (citation omitted).

21 In sum, a number of factors militate toward Settlement. Given Defendant's decertification 22 motion, it is at best uncertain whether the Court would uphold its prior opinion certifying this 23 Action. And, even if Plaintiffs successfully proved their case at trial, the amount of restitution 24 recovered, if any, could vary widely depending on other factors, including the Court's discretion 25 as to whether and how much to award in restitution, if any. Importantly, even if anything were 26 recovered, it would take years to secure, as Chipotle would undoubtedly appeal any adverse

1 judgment. In comparison, the Settlement provides a guaranteed, fixed, immediate and substantial 2 recovery of $6.5 million, which is in line with, if not better than, other food mislabeling settlements
3 approved in this Circuit and District. See, e.g., Miller, 2015 WL 758094; Larsen, 2014 WL 4 3404531; Zeisel, 2012 WL 4902970.

5 The Settlement is fair and reasonable, and within the range of possible approval.

6 3. The Proposed Settlement Does Not Unjustly Favor Any Class
7 Members, Including Plaintiffs

8 The Settlement Agreement authorizes a Service Award for Plaintiffs in an amount to be 9 determined by the Court but not to exceed a total of $20,000, or $5,000 per Plaintiff. Stip. § III.G.2.
10 “Incentive awards typically range from $2,000 to $10,000.” Bellinghausen v. Tractor Supply Co., 11 306 F.R.D. 245, 267 (N.D. Cal. 2015) (collecting cases). The Settlement is not conditioned on the 12 Court’s approval of the full (or any) amount of a Service Award. Stip. § III.G.2.

13 In evaluating whether the Settlement grants preferential treatment to Plaintiffs, the Court 14 may consider whether there is a “significant disparity between the incentive award[] and the 15 payments to the rest of the class members” such that it creates a conflict of interest. Radcliffe v.
16 Experian Info. Solutions, Inc., 715 F.3d 1157, 1165 (9th Cir. 2013). More important considerations, 17 however, are “the number of class representatives, the average incentive award amount, and the 18 proportion of the total settlement that is spent on incentive awards.” In re Online DVD-Rental 19 Antitrust Litig., 779 F.3d 934, 947 (9th Cir. 2015) (quoting Staton v. Boeing, Co., 327 F.3d 938, 20 977 (9th Cir. 2003)). The Court may also consider “the actions the plaintiff has taken to protect 21 the interests of the class, the degree to which the class has benefitted from those actions, and the 22 amount of time and effort the plaintiff expended in pursuing the litigation.” Cook v. Niedert, 142 23 F.3d 1004, 1016 (7th Cir. 1998). Finally, the Court must evaluate whether a conflict exists due to 24 the incentive award being conditioned on the class representative’s approval and support of the 25 Settlement. Radcliffe, 715 F.3d at 1161.

26 While the $5,000 requested per Plaintiff represents many times more than the estimated 27 monetary benefit per Claimant, this does not rise to the level of unduly preferential treatment.
28 Indeed, courts have approved similar or greater disparities between incentive awards and individual

1 class member payments. See, e.g., Cox v. Clarus Mktg. Group, LLC, 291 F.R.D. 473, 483 (S.D.
2 Cal. 2013) (approving a $5,000 incentive award where class members would receive a maximum 3 payment of $36); see also Fulford v. Logitech, Inc., No. 08-cv-02041 MMC, 2010 WL 807448, at 4 *3 n.1 (N.D. Cal. Mar. 5, 2010) (collecting cases awarding incentive award payments ranging from 5 $5,000 to $40,000).

6 More importantly, there are only four class representatives who seek, at most, only three-7 thousandths (0.003%) of the $6.5 million Class Settlement Amount. This amount is reasonable 8 considering how miniscule the award is in relation to the full amount of the Settlement Fund. See 9 Online DVD-Rental, 779 F.3d at 947-948 (approving incentive awards that were roughly 417 times 10 larger than $12 individual awards because the awards were reasonable, the number of 11 representatives were relatively small, and the total amount of incentive awards “ma[d]e up a mere 12 0.17% of the total settlement fund”); cf. Staton, 327 F.3d at 976-77 (reversing approval of incentive 13 awards that averaged $30,000 each for 29 class representatives, totaling $890,000, or roughly 6% 14 of a potential $14.8 million settlement). Thus, the Settlement does not improperly grant preferential 15 treatment to Plaintiff or segments of the Class. In re Portal Software Sec. Litig., No. C-03-5138 16 VRW, 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 51794, at *14-15 (N.D. Cal. June 30, 2007).

17 The amount requested is also appropriate given the time and risk of Plaintiffs’ participation 18 in this Action. Plaintiffs spent more than three years prosecuting this Action, and have spent many 19 hours reviewing pleadings, responding to hundreds of discovery requests, reviewing and producing 20 documents, and sitting for all-day depositions. These factors further support and justify the amount 21 requested. See, e.g., Eddings v. Health Net, Inc., No. CV 10-1744-JST (RZX), 2013 WL 3013867, 22 at *7 (C.D. Cal. June 13, 2013) (approving $6,000 service award from $600,000 settlement to 23 compensate the named plaintiff for her time, effort and risk in prosecuting the action). Finally, 24 Plaintiffs’ approval of the Settlement was not conditioned on them receiving an incentive award.
25 Stip. § III.G.2. Accordingly, Plaintiffs’ interests do not conflict with or diverge from the interests 26 of the Settlement Class. Radcliffe, 715 F.3d at 1161.

27 4. The Stage of the Proceedings and the Discovery Completed

28 The stage of the proceedings and discovery completed are additional factors supporting the 1 Settlement. As discussed above, Counsel (or its agents) engaged in extensive investigation, 2 research, and analysis of the Class' claims, resulting in the Court upholding the Complaint.

3 Plaintiffs thereafter aggressively pursued discovery from Defendant through requests for 4 production of documents, interrogatories, and requests for admission. Regarding document 5 production, it was only through intense meet and confers as well as discovery motion practice that 6 resulted in hundreds of thousands of pages of fact-related material produced by Defendant for 7 review. Plaintiffs also subpoenaed relevant non-parties, reviewed expert reports, and took the 8 depositions of Defendant's witnesses. This discovery helped Plaintiffs evaluate the merits of their 9 claims. Importantly, discovery helped Plaintiffs successfully brief their motion for class 10 certification and in opposition to Chipotle's motion for summary judgment.

11 Further, the parties engaged in no less than three in-person mediations. The parties 12 presented their best arguments to an objective audience in the form of the mediator, Judge Gandhi.
13 Judge Gandhi gave the parties a reasonable assessment of the strengths and weaknesses of their 14 case, and further, provided a mediator's proposal which the parties accepted. Considering this, the 15 litigants had sufficient bases to make informed decisions about the relative merits of the case and 16 the fairness of the Settlement.

17 In a class action setting, courts look for indications that the parties carefully investigated 18 the claims before reaching a resolution; significant written discovery (such as requests for 19 production, interrogatories, and requests for admission) weighs in favor of approving the 20 settlement. In re Volkswagen "Clean Diesel" Mktg., Sales Practices, & Prods. Liab. Litig., 21 No. 2672 CRB (JSC), 2016 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 148374, at *758-59 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 25, 2016)
22 ("extensive review of discovery materials indicates [Plaintiffs have] sufficient information to make 23 an informed decision about the Settlement. As such, this factor favors approving the Settlement."); 24 In re Portal Software Sec. Litig., No. C-03-5138 VRW, 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 88886, at *10-11
25 (N.D. Cal. Nov. 26, 2007).

26 In light of these considerations, the Settlement is reasonable and within the range of possible 27 approval. The parties therefore respectfully ask the Court to grant preliminary approval of the 28 Settlement and direct that notice be given to the Class.

1 E. The Proposed Notice to the Class is Adequate

2 Rule 23(c)(2)(B) requires that notice of a settlement be “the best notice that is practicable 3 under the circumstances, including individual notice to all members who can be identified through 4 reasonable effort.” See also Rule 23(e)(1) (“The court must direct notice in a reasonable manner 5 to all class members who would be bound by the propos[ed settlement].”). Notice “must ‘generally 6 describe[] the terms of the settlement in sufficient detail to alert those with adverse viewpoints to 7 investigate and to come forward and be heard.’” Lane v. Facebook, Inc., 696 F.3d 811, 826 (9th 8 Cir. 2012) (quoting Rodriguez, 563 F.3d at 962).

9 The parties negotiated the form of Notice to be disseminated to all persons falling within 10 the proposed Class definition. See Stip § 4. The parties propose to supplement the Notice with 11 digital media advertising as well as an additional description of the Action and proposed Settlement 12 to be published four times in The East Bay Times and once in People magazine. Id. § 4.A. The 13 Claims Administrator will also send out CAFA notices. Id. § 4.E. Counsel will also make copies 14 of the Notice and Proof of Claim available for download via the website maintained by the Claims 15 Administrator (“Website”). Id. § 4.B. The Website address is set forth in the Notice and in the 16 digital media advertising. Id. In addition, the Website will provide the Complaint and other 17 important pleadings, as well as important information regarding the Action and proposed 18 Settlement. Id. And, the Website will allow claimants to submit claims to the Claims 19 Administrator. Id.

20 Rule 23(h)(1) requires that “[n]otice of the motion [for attorneys’ fees] must be served on 21 all parties and, for motions by class counsel, directed to class members in a reasonable manner.” 22 The proposed Notice satisfies the requirements of Rule 23(h)(1), as it notifies Class Members that 23 Counsel will apply to the Court for attorneys’ fees not to exceed 30% of the Settlement Amount, 24 plus costs, to be paid from the Settlement Fund. Id., Ex. B. The proposed Notice describes the 25 proposed Settlement and sets forth, among other things: (1) the nature, history, and status of the 26 litigation; (2) the definition of the Class and who is excluded from the Class; (3) the reasons the 27 parties have proposed the Settlement; (4) the Settlement amount; (5) the estimated reimbursement 28 per individual; (6) the Class’ claims and issues; (7) the parties’ disagreement over damages and

1 liability; (8) the maximum amount of attorneys' fees and costs that Counsel intends to seek in 2 connection with final settlement approval; (9) the $5,000 Service Awards for Plaintiffs in 3 connection with their representation of the Class; (10) the plan for allocating the Settlement 4 proceeds to the Class; and (11) the date, time, and place of the final settlement hearing. Id.

5 The proposed Notice discusses the rights Class Members have concerning the Settlement, 6 including to: (1) request exclusion and the manner for submitting such a request; (2) object to the 7 Settlement, or any aspect thereof, and the manner for filing and serving an objection; and 8 (3) participate in the Settlement and instructions on how to complete and submit a Proof of Claim 9 to the Claims Administrator. The Notice also provides contact information for Counsel, as well as 10 the postal address for the Court. Id. The notice program proposed in connection with the Settlement 11 and the form and content of the Notice and Proof of Claim therefore satisfy the requirements of 12 Rule 23. Accord Schneider v. Chipotle Mexican Grill, Inc., No. 16-cv-02200-HSG, 2019 WL
13 1512265, at *5-6 (N.D. Cal. Apr. 8, 2019). Courts routinely find that comparable notice procedures 14 meet the requirements of due process and Rule 23, including that which the Court approved in 15 connection with the class notice plan. See id.; see In re Toys R Us-Delaware, Inc.-(FACTA) Litig., 16 295 F.R.D. 438, 449 (C.D. Cal. 2014). Accordingly, in granting preliminary approval of the 17 Settlement, Plaintiffs similarly request that the Court approve the proposed form and method of 18 giving notice to the Class.

19 F. The Plan to Allocate Settlement Funds Should Be Preliminarily Approved

20 The plan to allocate the Settlement funds also warrants preliminary approval as it establishes 21 the manner in which each participating Class Member may receive reimbursement. Claims will be 22 computed using the method described in the Settlement. Stip. § III.E. Specifically, each Settlement 23 Class Member is eligible to obtain $2 back on each qualifying purchase and may submit a claim 24 for up to five qualifying purchases ($10) without any documentation. Further, each Settlement 25 Class Member can obtain up to $20 for ten qualifying purchases with proof of payment, subject to 26 a 15-claim ($30) cap per household. The Plan complies with the requirements of case law 27 governing the approval of such allocation, as it has a reasonable and rational basis for distribution 28 and provides any consumer who had purchased a Food Product from Chipotle during the Class

1 Period with reimbursement even without a receipt.

2 Courts have approved similar settlement terms in class actions alleging consumer deception.
3 For instance, in In re Aurora Dairy Corp. Organic Milk Marketing & Sales Practices Litigation, 4 No. 4:08-md-01907 (E.D. Mo. 2013), the Eastern District of Missouri granted final approval of a 5 class action settlement in which the plaintiff brought causes of action under various state consumer 6 protection statutes and for breach of warranty based on alleged misrepresentation of the manner in 7 which the dairy cows used in the defendant's production process were raised and fed. See id., 8 Feb. 26, 2013 (Dkt. 356). The approved settlement certified a nationwide class of all purchasers of 9 the product prior to September 1, 2012, providing class members with settlement value amounting 10 to $7.5 million in rebates ($10 for those consumers lacking proof of purchase). Id.

11 In In re Nutella Marketing & Sales Practices Litigation, No. 3:11-cv-01086 (D.N.J. 2012), 12 the plaintiffs there brought a class action for violation of state consumer protection statutes and 13 breach of warranty alleging that television and print advertisements for the chocolate-hazelnut 14 spread Nutella® were false and misleading by suggesting that the product is nutritious and an 15 appropriate part of a balanced breakfast. See id., July 30, 2012 (Dkt. 104); Feb. 3, 2012 (Dkt. 67).
16 The settlement terms that were granted final approval by the District of New Jersey included 17 certification of a nationwide class of Nutella® purchases over a four-year period (slightly shorter 18 for a California subclass also certified) and a total value of $6.95 million in cash refunds ($4 per 19 jar up to $20 per household). See id.

20 Pursuant to Court approval, the Settlement provides that if any funds remain in the Cash 21 Award Fund by reason of uncashed distribution checks after 120 days of its mailing, such funds 22 will be used to pay any additional settlement administration fees, costs, and expenses. Stip. § III.F.
23 Any remaining balance will then be donated to a cy pres recipient jointly agreed upon and requested 24 by the parties. Id.

25 G. The Intended Request for Attorneys' Fees and Expenses

26 Counsel intends to request an attorney fee award not to exceed 30% of the Settlement 27 Amount ($1,950,000), plus out-of-pocket expenses up to $650,000, respectfully suggesting that 28 both amounts are reasonable.

1 To provide the Court with more precise information about their hours and lodestar, Counsel 2 carefully reviewed their time records. As of August 31, 2019, Counsel had devoted 4930.2 hours
3 to litigating this Action, for a lodestar of $3,422,756.50. See King Decl., Ex. 5. Counsel’s request 4 for a fee of $1,950,000 therefore represents a deflator of 0.57 on their current lodestar. See Smith
5 v. CRST Van Expedited, Inc., No. 10-CV-1116-IEG (WMC), 2013 WL 163293, at *5 (S.D. Cal.
6 Jan. 14, 2013) (“Under the percentage method, California has recognized that most fee awards 7 based on either a lodestar or percentage calculation are 33 percent.”) (citing In re Consumer Privacy
8 Cases, 175 Cal. App. 4th 545, 556 n. 13 (2009)); McDonald v. CP OpCo, LLC, No. 17-cv-04915-9 HSG, 2019 WL 2088421 (N.D. Cal. May 13, 2019) (finding “noteworthy that the requested fees 10 are lower than the lodestar”).

11 The types of expenses that Counsel seek reimbursement for are necessarily incurred in 12 litigation and routinely charged to clients billed by the hour. These expenses include, among others, 13 court fees, service of process, experts and consultant fees, mediation costs, online legal and factual 14 research, travel costs, reproduction costs, and messenger, courier and overnight mail expenses. See 15 King Decl., Ex. 5.⁷ These expenses were critical to Counsel’s success in not only obtaining class 16 certification, but in achieving this Settlement.

17 Counsel’s lodestar will undoubtedly increase (increasing the deflator), as will Counsel’s 18 expenses, as the settlement process progresses, including time they spend attending the preliminary 19 approval hearing and, if the Court grants preliminary approval, as they oversee the Claims 20 Administrator’s work, respond to class member inquiries about the case, prepare the motion for 21 final approval of the settlement, and attend the Final Approval Hearing.

22 H. The Proposed Claims Administrator

23 In connection with this Motion, Plaintiffs also request that the Court authorize the retention 24 of Angeion Group (“Angeion”) as Claims Administrator for the Settlement. Angeion, which has 25 not served as administrator in any of Counsel’s class action settlements over the prior two years, 26 has extensive experience and is a nationally recognized notice and claims administration firm. See

27 _____
28 ⁷ Counsel’s expenses do not include the costs associated with notice administration by Court-approved administrator KCC Class Action Services. See id.

1 King Decl., Ex. 6.

2 Before selecting Angeion as the Claims Administrator for this Action, Counsel solicited 3 bids from a total of five potential settlement administrators and engaged in further negotiations for 4 the benefit of the proposed Class. Counsel, then in consultation with Defendant, carefully 5 considered each bid, evaluating each administrator's assumptions, experience, and pricing.
6 Angeion offered reasonable pricing, extensive experience in class actions, and a cost-effective 7 publication notice program. Id.

8 Angeion has estimated that it will cost approximately $600,000 to fully administer the 9 Settlement in this Action. Id. The amount, which will come out of the Settlement fund, is 10 reasonable, representing approximately 9.2% of the total Settlement.

11 I. Past Distributions

12 Counsel's recent settlement in Careathers v. Red Bull North America, Inc., No. 1:13-CV-13 0369 (KPF) (S.D.N.Y.), provides a useful comparison to this Settlement.

26 Though Counsel expect the claims rate in this case to be 1%-2% of the potential audience 27 reach of 30,100,000, the rate may be higher given Defendant's brand recognition and the proposed 28 Claims Administrator's notice plan. More likely, however, the claims rate will be depressed

1 because there will not be direct notice to the proposed Settlement Class. See, e.g., Toys R Us, 295
 2 F.R.D. at 468 n. 134 (citing authority that claim rates in consumer litigation generally range from 3 two to 20 percent, but when direct notice is not possible for the entire class, the claim rate may be 4 depressed); Spann, 314 F.R.D. at 325 (noting varying claims rate due to lack of direct notice to 5 approximately half the settlement class).⁸

6 V. PROPOSED SCHEDULE OF EVENTS AND FINAL APPROVAL PROCEEDINGS

7 In connection with preliminary approval of the Settlement, the Court must also set dates for 8 certain events. The parties suggest a schedule based on the following intervals:

Event	Proposed Time for Compliance
Deadline for the Claims Administrator to publish Newspaper Notice in the East Bay Times , notice in People Magazine , and Internet Media Publication Notice.	Not later than sixty (60) calendar days following entry of the Preliminary Approval Order (see Preliminary Approval Order, ¶ 14).
Deadline for Class Members to submit Claim Forms and proof of purchase, if applicable.	Postmarked or submitted electronically no later than one hundred and twenty (120) calendar days after Preliminary Approval (see Preliminary Approval Order, ¶ 14).
Deadline to submit opening briefs and supporting documents for motion for attorneys' fees and incentive awards	Not later than 35 days before the deadline to object, noticed for the same date as Final Approval Hearing (see Preliminary Approval Order, ¶ 14).
Deadline for Class Members to submit a Request for Exclusion, if desired.	Postmarked no later than one hundred and twenty (120) calendar days after Preliminary Approval (see Preliminary Approval Order, ¶ 14).
Deadline for objectors to either deliver written objections by hand or postmarked/sent by First Class Mail.	Postmarked no later than one hundred and twenty (120) calendar days after Preliminary Approval (see Preliminary Approval Order, ¶ 14).
Deadline to submit opening briefs and supporting documents in favor of Settlement	Not later than sixty (60) calendar days prior to date of Final Approval Hearing (see Preliminary Approval Order, ¶ 14).
Deadline to submit responses to motion for final approval and for attorneys' fees and incentive awards	Not later than twenty-five (25) calendar days prior to date of Final Approval Hearing (see Preliminary Approval Order, ¶ 14).
Deadline to submit replies to any responses to motion for final approval and for an award of attorneys' fees and expenses.	Not later than fourteen (14) calendar days prior to date of Final Approval Hearing (see Preliminary Approval Order, ¶ 14).
