I'm seeing real results.

July 15, 2018

Verified Purchase

I have cognitive problems because of rare neurological manifestations of Celiac Disease. I take a prescription focus medication that does help; but not enough. Over the last nine years since my diagnosis, I've worked hard to help my brain health. I eat an anti-inflammatory diet. I exercise six days a weeks. I've tried many supplements with no real results. I was familiar with Dr Perlmutter's work on brain health and was intrigued to try this product.

I gave it a few months trial period. At the end of two months of daily use, I suddenly noticed I could remember strings of numbers. That was HUGE for me. I've done three different neuro-physic evaluations (brain function testing) in the past.

Test results since 2008.

- 2008 initial test showed my brain function at 9-11% of what should be expected for someone with my educational background, age and IQ.
- 2009 (following six months of a strict gluten free diet) showed a marked improvement of 50-65% in all areas.
- 2011 (approximately 10 days after being accidentally exposed to gluten in my food), back down to 10-15%.

Has rejuvenated my mental sharpness

March 12, 2019

Verified Purchase

I've noticed gradual cognitive decline, over the last year, or so. Nothing debilitating, but definitely noticeable. After hearing Dr Perlmutter discuss how coffee fruit promotes BDNF, I checked-out a study he had cited. And I decided to give this supplement a try. The very first day that I started taking these, I experienced a distinct return to my old "normal", in terms of the mental acuity I used to enjoy, before the recent decline. Further, I can report that on a recent short vacation, I didn't bring enough supplements, and I experienced a return to the feelings of cognitive decline. Once home, and back on this supplement, the mental sharpness quickly returned. I'm a believer. I take one pill with breakfast, and one with lunch. This has really worked for me. Perhaps, had I not already started noticing cognitive decline, I'd not have noticed any positive effects from taking this.

Large tablets

If I take these and have a cup of coffee, I feel a little jittery. I can't tell if they improve my focus or not. The tablets are too big for my liking though. I prefer capsules.
