Product Description

We Don't Have Limits! Evolve With Next Level Nootropic Brain Support!

Nootropics and smart drugs have been all the rage since everyone saw Bradley Cooper take the fictional limitless pill known as nzt-48 on the big screen but that was hollywood and this is real life. "Smart Drugs" lack credible research and they are not FDA approved.

Genius Consciousness is not a smart drug. Genius Consciousness is a combination of the strongest all-natural brain ehnhancing ingredients brought together in an all-in-one, great tasting daily drink for high performance thinking. Genius Consciousness has redefined the nootropic category by harnessing the power of nature.

How do you really progress & evolve mentally? You give your brain what it needs to be successful. What factors really drive brain function? What ingredients really drive focus? How do you become limitless?

Find out how you can unlock your complete neuro function, below.

Synergistic Neurological Functions Enhanced for Cerebral Revolution!

Rapid E.M.F. Enhancement

Some days we all lack motivation & drive.

Fortunately "turning it on" is now an option with modern science. Clinically studied Dynamine has been shown to elevate energy, mood and focus in less than 15 minutes.

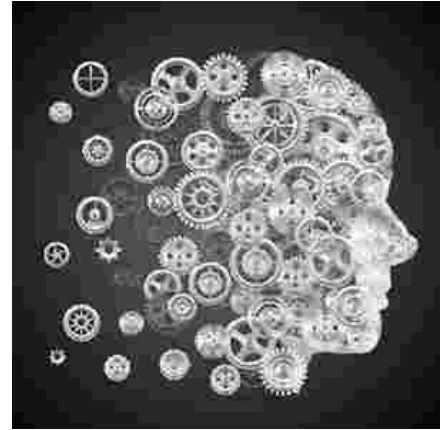

Lack motivation for the day? That's okay. It's 2018 and all-natural biohacking has proven a

Psychological Stress Relief

Brain power can be dramatically drained by negative detractors such as anxiety, depression and of course, stress!

If any of these detractors play a factor in your life, you aren't reaching your full potential. You can't focus if you're anxious & stress has clouded the vision of men & women for decades.

Benefit Working Memory

Did you know Coffee doesn't actually help your memory? Lions Mane Mushroom does though. While caffeine & stimulants might help to make you more alert, they don't actually benefit your memory or help much at all in the long-run.

Short-term alertness is important and we cover that (EMF) but bolstering your long-term

Why Genius Consciousness?

Most synthetic nootropics and smart drugs on the market today use unproven chemicals to alter neurochemistry. They provide short term results but don't warrant the dangerous, long-term implications & unwanted side effects. They aren't FDA Approved and the manufacturers trying to pass them off as natural, dietary supplements are just flat out wrong.

Consciousness is much different.

Made to elevate mental capacity in all significant areas of measures, Consciousness was made for your own evolution. Support brain health, unlock clarity and boost concentration! This is cerebral revolution! Rediscover your goals with focus so intense, nothing on earth can hold you back. Backed by the Genius Promise, this all-in-one stack is a sure bet against any stack on the market.

Finnally found what I have been looking for! "Locked in" all day

March 30, 2018

Verified Purchase

Holy smokes this stuff is legit! I took my first serving yesterday and I was seriously locked in all day. Distractions, brain fog, all of that gone. I finally found what I have been looking for in this supplement right here. My work environment is very "young" and the oldest person in our office is in their 30's. So as you can imagine the office can get pretty loud sometimes and it is easy to get side tracked. Of course we are still required to hit our sales numbers.

I took this the first day and everyone kept coming up to me and asking me whats wrong. haha It was in a joking manner because nothing was actually wrong with me I was just killing it. Setting a bunch of meetings, cold calls, etc. I was "in the zone". Feel like this is almost like natural adderall. I'm really thankful that I found this product and I think I will be trying some of the other Genius Brand products. Genius Consciousness for the win!!

Mind Is My Matter

August 2, 2018

Verified Purchase

Let me preface my opinion by telling you that I had a brain injury 5 years ago. So it's been a uphill battle to find the right type of supplement that will give me the energy and the additional brain capacity that I want without throwing it over the top. Either the jitters or that uncomfortable caffeine side effects feeling.

I tend to have a hard time feeling really awake and able to focus. This helps me stay alert and focused. I add one scoop to my Gatorade in the morning to help keep me awake and focused. It seems like the perfect cocktail of sustaining my alertness and I'm definitely more productive for the most of the day.

I have yet to have a crash in the afternoon since I started using it. My usual uncontrollable morning and then afternoon yawning LOL seems to have faded away. The only different thing is the usual flavor. It's not bad, just a unusual fruit type flavor that takes a day or two to get. Hopefully they offer more flavors in the future.

It's almost like natural adderall but without any side effects

June 29, 2018

INSANE FOCUS. INSTANT MOTIVATION. INCREDIBLE PRODUCT.

That's my eye catching headline review for ya'll and I mean every bit of it. I struggle from time to time with staying motivated but that's not an issue when I take a scoop of this in the morning. It's almost like natural adderall but without any side effects. I've kind of dreamed like a product like this but I never found one before. I did notice if you take it for like 15 days straight it starts to lose some of it's potency but I figured out that if you just take a couple breaks in between, you'll be fine.

Nootropic featuring Lion's Mane? I'M IN!

May 17, 2018

Verified Purchase

I have used lots of nootropics to clear brain fog and focus better. Consciousness does just that, hence the 5 stars. The truth is, there are lots of nootropics out there in the supplement industry. What sold me on purchasing this particular supplement is the ingredient Lion's Mane. Lion's Mane is a mushroom that has been used for centuries and centuries in an effort to enhance the nervous system. This proven ingredient has been discovered as having an increased production of NGF aka nerve growth factor. NGF determines the rate at which new brain cells are produced. I have done some reading on the interwebs that stated that six months of using Lion's Mane showed an increase in mental function in dementia patients. By no means am I close to having dementia but if it works for people that have dementia, it will definitely work for me.

Decent

December 16, 2018

Verified Purchase

This stuff works pretty well. It is a decent product; not dissimilar to the boost I get from caffeine. Like caffeine, however, the effects wear off quickly. I take my dose early in the morning, about 30 minutes before I get to work and, after working for a couple hours, the effects have dissipated. This makes sense as I don't expect anything to stay in my system forever but after reading the reviews, I hoped it would last longer.

Single Mother Studying Better

March 27, 2018

Verified Purchase

Being a single mom & trying to go to school has never been easy and I don't think anyone ever would mistake it as such. When you have to cook the kids dinner, get their lunches ready for the next day and then sit down and study for 3 or 4 hours, your chances of doing well diminish due to pure mental fatigue.

Fortunately I had a classmate recommend this nootropic and it's been a literal eye opener for me. As I'm finishing dinner, I begin sipping on a water bottle mixed with this stuff and by the time they are fed, I'm ready to study late into the night if need be. I also feel my level of attention increased so much that I'm about to get more done in much shorter periods of time!

Beats $3 per day energy drinks!

March 28, 2018

Verified Purchase

I love so many things about consciousness I really don't even know where to begin but I guess for starters I'll say the taste! I was never a big coffee drinker in the mornings and never really got used to the taste so naturally I drifted toward energy drinks. First it was red bull and monsters but I learned those aren't good for me so I started drinking Zevia drinks and zambozon energy, sometimes starbucks refreshers.

Eventually my healthier habits led me to this :) It's like an energy drink on (healthy) steroids lol. I really enjoy the focus, energy and mood boost that I get from it. I've been drinking half a scoop every day and it's lasting me the entire month. Not a bad price compared to my $3 per day energy drinks.
