Product description

Size: 60 Count

The best of the old world combined with the science of the new. Huntington Labs offers a Focus, Memory and Clarity supplement that delivers a targeted and specifically stacked combination of nootropics, or "brain enhancers." Specially chosen extracts, herbs and substances work together to boost attention, creativity, flexibility, focus, speed, memory and clarity. Green Tea Extract: Traditional supplement for mental performance. Promotes better brain function naturally. Huperzine A: Boosts alertness and enhances memory; extracted from Fir moss. Bacopa Monnieri: Contains Bacosides which improve cognitive function and memory. L-Glutamine: An essential amino acid that builds protein and aids memory. Huntington Labs pays special attention to the "stacking" benefits of all of these natural nootropic brain boosters, and hopes that you will experience the max benefits from your daily recommended dose. We guarantee it or your money back!

Answer: When I received my first paid bottle, there was a coupon for a free bottle if I wrote a review. There was no mention of a positive review. Wouldn't want the free bottle if I didn't like the product.

Great neotropic. Definitely works well.

February 16, 2018
Size: 60 Count Verified Purchase

I really like this stuff. I've been taking it for over a year. It's always made a noticeable difference. I'm always more alert, and more able to think quickly and clearly even when I don't get enough sleep (which is often).

About 2 weeks ago, I went a full week without them because I was in Florida. Immediately noticed a difference. I didn't feel nearly as sharp as usual. Got back home, resumed taking them daily and noticed the difference right away.

If you want something that will allow you to be closer to your full potential, I recommend these.

Thanks for the free bottle!

August 22, 2018
Size: 60 Count Verified Purchase

I purchased Neuro Health in July 2018 for $13.55 and it product included an offer for an additional, free, bottle in exchange for leaving a review. I can't honestly say whether or not this product has improved my brain performance, but I'm hopeful. Thanks!

Edit: In August of 2018, the vendor for this product contacted me and requested that I edit this review to exclude details of their free offer. The customer service representative, Emma, explained that my review could create unfavorable results for me personally as Amazon would likely flag me for "bias" and prevent me from reviewing products in the future. The vendor also reminded me that I can update my star rating positively.

More Focus, More Alertness - no side effects or jitters!

May 31, 2018
Size: 60 Count Verified Purchase

This product is a miracle! I have purchased it TWICE because it is so helpful with my memory and cognition. I bought this product because I needed to strengthen my memory and focus, and I wanted to be awake when I did it! I had just switched to a job that is second shift (2PM-11PM) and it was very difficult to adjust to those hours AND learn all of the new technical systems required for my new job. But after taking this supplement, I noticed a HUGE difference in a few days! I was awake and alert like it was 11AM everyday. But it wasn't like the jolt you sometimes get from caffeine, more like an alertness after a good night's sleep. No jitters, no headaches, no stomach upset. Just energy and the feeling of being AWAKE. I am now telling all of my co-workers about it!

Its a great substitute if you don't like the feeling of adderrall

March 28, 2018

Size: 60 Count Verified Purchase

Today was the first day that I tried this, and it definitely works as far as what the description for the product says. I am studying for a very important exam and I thought judging by the reviews left by previous users that this would be something worth trying, and I totally agree. Its a great substitute if you don't like the feeling of adderrall, which for me I didn't like because my heart would be racing and I couldn't sleep, and just overall was irritable. With this product you get the focus you need and youre mentally ready for what task needs to be done. I will continue to take it and will write another review on an update after how I feel after this. The only thing is I would really appreciate if this product was FDA approved and researched more.

Definitely helps with the focus from having ADHD. Not only was it significantly cheaper than FOCUS FACTOR- I really did not notice a difference of result between the two. On top of that I am given a second bottle free for writing a review on here? Winner, winner chicken dinner, yo.

The effects are subtle but noticeable. My wife and I both use this. We sometimes find ourselves searching for a word...the clinical term would be expressive aphasia I believe...we are both in our 50's and while this can be an expected part of aging, we find this product reduces the frequency of those moments and makes us feel more focused.

Hit or a Miss

September 15, 2017

Size: 60 Count Verified Purchase

It wasn't always helpful, but it does work sometimes. The first two days gave me stomach and head pain, so I began to test with taking before or after food, and with or without food. The bottle says to take before food, but I preferred taking this with food, more food is better. This doesn't go well in the stomach with something like chocolate, so take this with something like bread or a meal. More importantly, stay very hydrated unless you want a headache, these pills are very hydro-demanding. The pills also work better if you get your blood moving, just a short walk is fine. Energy drinks and coffee go very well with these, as I had a very clear minded experience when taking these with a Monster Java, it was like a cool breeze blowing away the mental fog.

That's been my experience with this product, just trying to get it to work. Some days, I may get lucky and feel very alert even with no sleep, other days it does nothing. By three stars, I mean more of an average rating, not that I didn't like it. It just didn't work as well as advertised. But everyone's body is different, so you have to take these under various conditions to see what works for you. I may buy some more and update my review later since I'm finding the right pattern to making the pills work, and to see if it works better in autumn/winter. Remember to take breaks with these too, it's quite a bit of vitamins and minerals to take everyday.

Great for short term memory.

December 4, 2017

Size: 60 Count Verified Purchase

I've used Neuro Health for a month now. I feel more alert and rested when waking, which is a big change. My short term memory is better because I can remember my appointments and other commitments without constantly referring to my calendar.
