Great, Safe Product for Studying and Overall Focus!

November 25, 2018

Verified Purchase

Use this product with some care and it will do you wonders. The short of what Qualia gave me was a feeling of calm focus with a slight boost in energy.

For those more interested in details, I took the directed dose of 5 pills on an empty stomach with a few glasses of water. The initial rush of caffiene hit at about 20-30 minutes, a calmness came shortly after that. I was able to be productive and focused for a solid 5-6 hours a day. The only side effects I experienced were some initial nausea from the caffiene on an empty stomach and some muscle soreness. I would attribute the soreness to not moving from my desk all day. I am a grad student studying sciences and tend to study 8-9hrs a day. I get a noticeable boost to my productivity on the days I take Qualia vs the days I do not.

I have also tried lower doses, taking 3 in the morning, and 2 later around lunch. I found this dosing promotes a sense of calm and focus without the punch of the caffiene.

Good and easy!

It requires to take 5 at a time, which is not my fave. However, I just put them in my smoothie and I am set for the day! They don't have a major after taste, since I blend them and are easy to handle.

They got the formulation right.

November 19, 2018

I tried all the forms of Qualia. The first one was great, but very racy, high-heart rate feeling. Qualia Mind (at least the first formulation of it), gave me brain fog.

This one feels calm, centered, focused, driven and I'm more articulate as well.
I don't do it everyday as I don't want to build up tolerance or become too dependent on it. I certainly love the days when I have it.

Quality ingredients but fails to hit the mark on efficacy and overpriced probably due to high marketing costs.

Not worth the price point.

I've taken a lot of other nootropics in the past and don't feel this one is worth the price point. I did notice a bit of an increase in alertness and focus but nothing anywhere near some of the other claims regarding this product.

I will say that I began taking this during a period in which I have been under a tremendous amount of physical and somewhat mental stress so that might have something to do with it. To expound further on this in the past 6 weeks I've pushed my mind and body to the brink of injury (literally) due to intense crossfit workouts coupled with running and cycling. On top of this I had been remodeling my kitchen (literally installing myself) and training for a crossfit competition.

From a nutritional standpoint I am already very healthy. I eat mostly a whole food diet with a good balance of protein, healthy carbs and fat and I eat lots of fruit and vegetables. I avoid processed foods and sugars, I drink lots of water and during the month of January I avoided alcohol altogether. Even with all this I have struggled with a lack of focus and frequently suffer brain fog. To give an example, I took Qualia

I am on several medications for mood, ADD, and mood. Qualia has helped in all 3 areas. I am hopeful my doctor will be able to eventually take me off the prescribed medication. Is a great product and I am much more focused, sleep well, and mood is great. I was very surprised!!!
