Product description

Focusene gives the distracted brain the nutrients it needs to focus and remember better - and then turbocharges your focus and memory neurotransmitters (chemical messengers), quickly and naturally. In the end what you have is a two-part formula giving you a Nootropic Supercharge as well as long-term focus and memory support. Enter a natural brain-enhancing nootropic like no other. It starts with a traditional luteolin + forskolin stack, only our proprietary dandelion extract is 10x more concentrated with luteolin than the popular artichoke extract. In addition to an effective boost to cAMP (brain energy) this gives the formula extra room for a broader set of ingredients that can accomplish a great deal more in a two-capsule dose. Focusene contains dandelion extract, forskolin, phenylalanine, L-Theanine, acetyl-L-carnitine, grape seed extract, bacopa, DMAE, vitamin B6, ginkgo biloba and Korean red ginseng. This set of ingredients is carefully selected to be gentle on the body while turbocharging your brainpower. The formula works to balance out your brain's production of three key neurotransmitters: dopamine, norepinephrine and acetylcholine (while limiting that troublesome acetylcholinesterase). What you end up with is a cholene-balanced, all-natural nootropic stack that invigorates your brain without relying on the cheap energy of caffeine - AND doesn't cause you to crash. And unlike chemical nootropics like piracetam and noopept, this formula grows MORE effective over time - using ingredients your body doesn't feel the need to build a resistance to. In plain English, what this means is whatever chemical imbalance is causing your brain to underperform is re-balanced AND a sprinkle of natural, herbal cognitive enhancement is thrown in. Helps attention problems. Give it a try, you'll want to take it every day. Made with love in California.

100% recommend. If you struggle with ADHD or ADD I can honestly say this works. Since college I had not realized how bad I had become again. (I took Adderall through college) well I got to the point where I couldn't read through a magazine without the hyper feelings and didn't have the energy or focus to clean the house. I ordered this stuff and have taken it for 3 days - you should see what I've gotten accomplished!!! And there is absolutely NO medicinal feelings, side effects, wear off type symptoms at all. I've taken 2 like it said and it says you can take another after the initial 2 tablets (which I have) - I feel better that way. Best of luck to you, it's fantastic, "I'm BAACCK!"

Works as the reviews states on internet. Clears the head, but may increase blood pressure. My husband liked it very much, worked for him, but increased his blood pressure too much. He had to stop using it.

This stuff works amazing. I had tried CILTEP in the past

September 10, 2015

Verified Purchase

Holy COW! This stuff works amazing. I had tried CILTEP in the past, which is a good product in its own right, but Focusene is just more evolved and more effective. It seems like the next evolution for a luteolin+forskolin stack. But dandelion? Never saw that coming. When taking focusene I notice the feeling of being "zoned in" start to build over the first two hours. I can feel it working within the first half hour. But by hour two, I'm just totally plugged in. And it lasts well into the early evening.

I do like that it doesn't have caffeine or any artificial stimulants in it. But that's a double edged sword. If I miss a ton of sleep and take focusene, the effects are lower just because I'm tired. But it's a natural product, so I guess that comes with the territory.

Not major changes

August 24, 2018

Verified Purchase

I read lots of the reviews and those were what made me buy the product. I was hoping to experience the same after 15-20 min reaction or some of the "miracle" reactions many described, unfortunately, no such thing has happened so far except a minor headache in the first few days. I take one pill in the morning and one at lunch after meals. However, I noticed a very slight change in my concentration, but nothing mind-blowing and extraordinary. I really need more time to evaluate this product.

It works!!!

October 3, 2018

I am so happy I found this supplement! I have ADD (which I take prescription meds for) but I still get easily distracted by the overwhelming amount of social media alerts, email overload, kids running in different directions and so on. This product feels like an extra layer on my ability to stay laser-focused and on task. I take 2 in the morning and an additional capsule in the late afternoon when my Rx starts to wear off. I have been searching for something to help with Dopamine balance bc I know through personal history that my brain craves dopamine. I have found it in this, plus a lot of other benefits!

Can't say enough about how great these have been

August 3, 2017

Verified Purchase

I'm finding such a sense of focus since I started using these. I struggle with ADD and it's been a life savor. I also got the Tranquiline pills and I also take one with it. With three kids home for the summer, it's keeping me sane. Just a few weeks ago before having these I was losing my mind trying to do too much and keep up with the kids and all their messes. Can't say enough about how great these have been. Thank you.

Product is helping me

February 15, 2019

Verified Purchase

So far, so good! I hope it is going to last, and increase, but I do believe I am thinking clearer and more able to stay on task. I'm 64, I've had chemo, and trying to finish up a college degree while still working full time. I need all the help I can get!! And I've seen an improvement in class and in homework. Thanks for following up! Teresa
