Makes me productive and allows me to focus better than when I take my ADHD prescription medication

June 21, 2017

Verified Purchase

Great for focus, mental clarity and productivity. I'm beginning to notice that this helps me focus just as much as my prescription ADHD medications. I'd rather go with Brain Focus & reap the rewards of Rx stimulants, but without any of the negative side effects they always give me.

Worth trying!

May 23, 2017

I have been looking for something to not only help me focus at work but also focus for school. I work long hours and have recently started back in school. This product helps me stay focused on the task at hand and get through my day. Then I still have energy to study and absorb what I need to for school. Another added bonus is it tastes great. So it's easy to take, no gritty or chalkiness.

Found what I was looking for!

Being diagnosed with hypothyroidism I had to make some changes. One big change was leaving caffeine, but working over 50 hours weekly it's pretty impossible so I did my research and decided to give Brain Fuel a try. One word: AMAZING. It is part of my routine now and I recommend it to everyone.

It worked for me!

May 31, 2017

Verified Purchase

Liquid Brain Fuel has worked great for me. The results are just as advertised, I feel more focused and energized after taking it and haven't experienced any negative side effects. I use it after lunch for a pick me up and it lasts till the end of the workday. Also I don't feel any sort of crash after the effects wear off which was a initial concern of mine. I'll continue to use this to help get through my brutal work days!

Be careful using this product

October 22, 2018

After 15 minutes of taking this I was driving to work. I was getting off of the overpass as my fave got really tingly and numb on both sides. I felt like I was going to pass out so I put my truck in park. I went to the urgent care and started sweating so the dr told me to go to th ER right now so I did. They did EKG , MRI, Blood test etc to make sure it was not a stroke. Everything came out negative. So that was awesome. I ended up getting a high fever over the weekend cause of this drink and spent thousands of dollars on hospital bills because of this product. They told me not ever take it again and I never would because it scares the crap out of me . The thing that sucks is I have no insurance so I have to pay all this money out of pocket because of this one item . So please be careful taking this and I understand it does not affect everybody the same way but I am healthy and not allergic to anything and this stuff messed me up. I regret buying it now.

College student jewel

July 20, 2017

Verified Purchase

As a college student I wanted to try a supplement that improved focus and concentration. I've had trouble with vitamins before because I'm allergic to iodine and almost all of them have a percentage of iodine in them. So when I found this I was excited to try it. I've been using Brain Fuel for a while and I must say that it's great! Not only does it help with focus but it gives me more energy through out the day due to the B12 in it! I will continue to use it because it works great and as a bonus, it taste really good

Should I or shouldn't I?????????

July 21, 2018

***Edit 08062018*** I have received a full refund from Tropical Oasis so I am changing my review starts to reflect the excellent service even though I didn't care for this product-maybe I will try a different one from them.

I'm not sure...as of today I have tried this product exactly one time. I really can't get past the taste. The one day I tried it I took it in some flavored water and "got it down". As far as does the it work? I didn't give it a genuine try because of well the taste. Plus I was a little timid with the amount I put in after read some of the reviews about the "proprietary" blend. Some people said they got sick. I tried it on a non-work day and didn't get sick but again I did t take that much. So bottom line for me 1) I should have researched this product first more than I did 2) should have given it an honest try 3) I received an email from the seller asking for my honest review or I wouldn't have written one at all. So here it is. I don't know if I will pick it up to try again or let the 27.00 go to waste.

Exceeded expectations

May 8, 2017

Verified Purchase

I honestly wasn't expecting too much from this but figured I'd give it a try as I'm looking for anything to replace prescription drugs to help me focus. This worked surprisingly well. Took it on an empty stomach and felt a nice pick me up within 30min. During the day I felt more focused and energized. I'll be buying this again.
