Ok ppl I'm just wondering is anyone trying the new thrive weightloss supplement/chronic pain reliever/energy for days/amazing result kinda product? Lol it's 2 pills a day with a shake to replace one meal for 5 days a week or u can get the other package that u do all the above 7 days a week instead of 5. I'm thinking about doing it I hear a lot of good things about this stuff and I'm jw if its worth the $$ the only negative things I've read about it was not to take thrive if your on any other type of stimulants

I use Thrive and love it. It's all natural and has helped me with migraine management. I had prescriptions for migraine which didn't help at all, but Thrive eliminates them. 1 day worth of Thrive has the equivalent to 27 cups(or close to, I can't remember the exact number) of yogurt in addition to all the vitamins.
Totally worth the cost, and if you can't afford it, promote it, if you have 2 customers on autopay you get the average of their total costs in credit, which pays for yours.

My name is Lindsey and this is my Thrive Experience !
I am a 30 years old happily married mother of 6 children. I have suffered with... depression and severe anxiety my entire life. To the point where I could not even go into a crowded grocery store without my throat swelling. Let alone hold a conversation with a total stranger.
I lost my twin daughters the day they were born on July 12, 2004 and then my third daughter on March 5, 2010. All 3 passed away from a Genetic X abnormality known as Turner's Syndrome. The deaths of my daughter sent my life into a rollercoaster of emotional chaos and emotional eating. I gained a large amount of weight and was not sure how to find myself again. My journey started when I ended my abusive marriage and decided that it was time to focus on myself. I have lost a total of 180 lbs at this point and Thrive gave me the inspiration and determination to keep going. I have 10 lbs left and know I can do it !
About 2 years ago I was diagnosed with endometriosis, Celiac's Disease (I am Gluten/MSG intolerant and anything containing wheat, rye, barley or additives makes me extremely ill) and I have a large mass in my abdomen known as tubo-ovarian abcess. I spent 80% of my day in bed, curled up in a ball. My pain levels on a scale of 1-10 were always a 10. I also suffered from severe daily migraines, severe back and abdominal pain, mental fog, chronic fatigue as well as abdominal swelling. I could not move let alone be the wife and mother that my family needed me to be. I couldn't exercise anymore. I felt like my life was over.. or should I say did feel that way. Then I was introduced to le-vel Thrive. A very nice man (who is now my awesome upline) gave me some to try. By day 3 I was hooked and knew my life was changed forever.

On day one, I noticed that I was not as tired. My energy levels were up and I was thinking clearly. I knew at this point something was happening, but was not sure what exactly.
On day two, I was out of bed moving around a bit. My abdomen was not inflamed and swelling like it normally was with activity and my pain was dramatically reduced. I was excited to see what would happen next.
Day 3 was the day that I knew my life was changed and knew that I HAD to tell the world. I was cleaning the house and on my hands SCRUBBING the floors ! I was playing with my children again. My pain levels were very minimal and I was in awe ! I am amazed at how this product line has changed my life. In those first 3 days I did not have one migraine. I am reclaiming my life and intend to share this amazing journey with everyone that I know. I am now THRIVING for life !
As for the anxiety, well if you remember I could not go to a store let alone talk to people. NOW, I want to talk to everyone. I want to jump for joy !(and now I can actually JUMP !) I want to tell the world ! So I joined absolutely FREE just so I could share this amazing journey with others.
MY HUSBAND - My husband was a very fit and active Martial Arts Instructor. About 5 years ago he was in a serious car crash that broke his neck, his back and slipped 3 disks. He was placed in a halo brace and had his back and neck surgically repaired with pins and plates. They didn't expect him to walk again. He was determined to train again one day. And was finally able to walk a few years later after years of physical therapy and determination, but he still lived a life of pain. That was until I got him to Thrive ! Thrive has been a blessing for our entire family. We have our lives back ! He is now training again and teaching again. We are both Thrivers for life and are able to be there for our 6 children.

Does anyone know why a doctor would take someone off thrive because of chemo/cancer? There's a few threads going around FB of ppl with cancer not being able to take it and several comments have been things like "but it's all natural" I think there's a misconception out there that all that is natural is safe lol another important reason for the marketing team at Le-vel to educate their ppl, oh wait no education required! I would be devastated if I sold/pushed this on someone and they didn't ask their doctor about it because I promised them it was ok "as per a ton of FB feedback" and something horrible happened.

We cross country ski (check the calorie burning on that) and we hike a ton- huge mountains with very large packs, that weigh more when your carrying a 700 lb moose back (check that out too... I only saw 2 actual responses - most people are taking this for energy, which means it was low prior... If it gave you energy and you quit taking it you will most likely go back to.. Yep.. Being less energetic. Honestly I am so fatigued this winter, I tried that and I felt amazing! But I was looking for

So is this just a general comment? People get on here for lots of different reasons and it seems you just did the same thing you asked others not to do :/ you didn't provide anything useful instead you told people to stop being negative? Why? People have every right to be negative if they so choose and there are lots of positive and negative reviews about Thrive it works for some and not for others. Just sayin'

I have to disagree that it couldn't be dangerous - why does those taking it admit they feel like crap when they don't? and 99% of those raving about it are using it to lose weight.

Do you know what? If your doctor prescribed you medication that you were told would help you if you suffered from depression or anxiety would you take it? Would you take it if you knew that it had the negative side effect of having suicidal thoughts/tendencies or permanent liver dysfunction? Well, maybe you wouldn't but millions of people do and when they stop taking them--they too feel like crap!

When a person like myself, has migraine headaches, fibromyalgia, chronic fatigue and when one is in chronic pain, and or has depression--you don't feel like exercising and you feel like shit.

I took the Thrive and felt a result within minutes. Do you know how overjoyed it has made me feel? I have been through serious stress in the last month and I can't believe how I have NOT suffered a mental break-down or anxiety attack. I am soo happy I found this product. Will I feel like crap if I stop taking it? Probably but no worse then I did before I started. I can't say enough good about how I am feeling--I am sleeping through the night, I have my depression under control, I have energy and feel amazing and as a result, I have lost 16 # in the last month. Why do you think all the people are sharing this? Because it is changing lives. If I could help only ONE person to feel as good as I do then I have made a difference. And the biggest difference between me taking this product versus a prescription is that this is actually WORKING with OUT all the negative side-effects. Nothing else has helped me until Thrive by Le-Vel.

Don't you think that if you had a life-changing experience that you would want to share it with everyone you know too? Am I obnoxious? I don't care. The obnoxious advertisements from the pharmaceutical companies are far more annoying and Thrive isn't cheap because it doesn't contain cheap ingredients. I think it is well worth the investment and I am saving money because I don't have to have countless pills, supplements and medications that could have life threatening side effects.

I AM Thriving and I'm happy that I am! I will NOT be selfish! I want to help as many people as I can with this wonderful product and company with a heart behind it. I know...I had a great conversation with the humble co-owner and I am blessed to be working with such an amazing team of people who actually CARE.

I would be curious to know their long term plan is. Typically these businesses "fall off" very quickly. It'll be interesting to watch this "cloud" company

I take thrive for energy and pain control.. I am middle aged and have enough health problems to choke a pig.. however.. after starting Thrive I almost instantly felt like I did in my 20s. I ran out for a couple days waiting for my next month order... yes I "felt like hell" going off of it because I felt just like I did BEFORE I took it at all.

	I was on numerous pain control pills both script and OTC and with Thrive I take NONE of them.. why not take an herbal remedy instead of a man made chemical? Kudos to those of us who use it and are helped by it... Judge it! Report Abuse Reply »

tlc United States	#172 Feb 25, 2014 I am taking THRIVE and have been for about two months. I did stop taking it for a couple weeks & what I felt was the same way I felt BEFORE I started taking it. I have some arthritis & degenerative discs & I normally (without THRIVE) have aches/pains daily & frequent headaches. With THRIVE I feel much better. I'm not saying I don't EVER hurt but it's much less. It also has taken away my cravings for coffee & sweets. I am 48 years old. Not overweight & eat a healthy balanced diet. We live on a farm, raise our own meat, eggs, & grow a garden. I'm conscious of GMO's, high fructose corn syrup, artificial sweeteners, etc. THRIVE is all natural vitamins, minerals, plant extracts, anti oxidant, pro biotic, enzymes, amino acid, etc. A lot of the ingredients are organic & it is non-GMO. Both of my parents take it, a couple friends, a friend's daughter who has MS & others I know. Several of them have taken it to their Dr & all of them have said it's ok. All the way from this is awesome to there isn't anything in it that can hurt you. I felt the same about the way it is marketed...always makes you think it's a scam, but it has really helped me. I would encourage anyone interested to find out more about it & make an informed decision as to whether it is right for you. No one knows your body like you do. Judged: 1 Judge it!
