thrivewithcarla This excitement we are feeling is coming from the people I have been talking to who are seeing the SAME exact opportunity and vision I did when it was placed in front of me!

- It is okay to outgrow your current situation.
- It is okay to admit something isn't working.
- It is okay to want better leadership.

- It is okay to get excited about a new opportunity.
- It is okay to not “buy” your rank every month.
- It is okay to want financial freedom.

These feelings are normal. These feelings are okay. These feelings will NOT go away by ignoring them and staying stagnant. Loyalty to something that just isn't working will NEVER pay your bills.

Just remember...

A true leader will look and see that something just isn't right and find a better solution for their tribe.
