cayleyxo Grateful. That is all I can come up with right now

For your sweet boy that you came into my life that you chose me to be your mommy that you are so bright and so healthy that you amaze me with your curiosity and innocent joy
I am so immensely grateful

That from the moment you came into this world I haven't missed more than a few hours of your life I haven't ever had to drop you off at day care
I haven't have to choose between work and playing with you I've been able to nurse you every single day for over 10 months and never mis a

I've been able to nurse you every single day for over 10 months and never miss a milestone, that is the meaning of life to me and I am so incredibly grateful

I chose this industry because maybe the opportunity is unparalleled. If you want extra money for a salon appointment it's yours or in you want to turn your $200 investment into 6 figures, it's equally doable. I chose this industry and then found a company that is unmatched. I chose this industry and was graced with a community that has become family. I will chose this industry and over and over again because I found a company that is home to me, and allows me to be a full time work at home mom

This is life

This is life
This is passion
This is the future of our society & for that I am forever grateful
