em.hening For those who have been here around for a while you know why Tuesday's are so special for my family & my tribe - but if you're newer let me explain 🙏 Tuesday's are when our weekly commissions hit our accounts, money earned straight from social media is deposited into our bank accounts 📱

The numbers we see, never quite sink in 🙏 What I used to bring in as a retail manager every couple months I can pull 4x that WEEKLY for us 100 That's the power of this compensation plan. I have babes on my team bringing in 15K + weekly Mommas and young women earning an extra $700-$1,000 weekly

Newbies pulling in $70-$100 weekly
Some working to create their first paycheck

Everyone's checks look different because everyone is at different seasons of their journey 🌱

Why is it so important to share those numbers that are so largely different? Because they are all winning. They are all building towards massive goals they will arrive at and achieve.

Too many people walk away from this industry too soon

Too many people think only "certain kinds of women" can make those 6 figure incomes

Too many people won't put the consistent work in because they think this should be a "get rich quick" job or they are out 🙄

A side hustle in this day and age means stability for your future. If you're wanting a better reality than what you have now, If you're wanting time freedom, if you're wanting to build a second income that could end up becoming your full time one; you have to start now.

I refuse to miss moments with my future kids

I refuse to clock into somebody else's dreams

I refuse to spend my days not fully present and enjoying this beautiful life we've been blessed with & I refuse to not fight like hell so every other woman can have that same reality too ♥ Get it moving sis, ain't nobody gonna chase after your dreams for you 🙌
