em.hening I was cleaning out my office today and found the very first dream board I made when I started my business two years ago ☹️ ☐ These were those far out dreams that I N E V E R thought would be possible in this lifetime 😳

He was away in the oil field for 14 days straight

I had 3+ maxed out credit cards

Over 70K in combined debt

Zero income to my name

Zero savings

All I wanted was to be able to breathe and feel like I could contribute to our life.

Within 5 months every single item on this board was crossed off 😭

A reality to this day that shocks me to

Did I get lucky?

Was it a once in a million chance?

No & No

For me to be able to help others accomplish these things, I had to walk first. And I truly believe that's why things unfolded the way they did.

I had already been in this industry for two years. I had put in the foot work. Built the foundation. But I had to listen when I was led to the opportunity that would allow me to serve others.

We accomplished all of those things over a year and a half ago, and everything has grown immensely since then. But I still remember the girl who sat on the bedroom floor with a white board and a marker and told herself to dream as big as she possibly could.

Write out your wildest dreams.

I say this to help you realize that the plans he has for you are greater than you could E V E R imagine or conjure up on your own. He's just waiting for you to surrender to him so he can guide you. He's waiting for you to take one step forward.

I pushed against my gut and heart for so long. I ignored every sign I was sent. I thought I could execute the perfect plan on my own. But I couldn't, and I didn't.

It took stepping out in extreme fear and saying "I trust you" to change our entire lives. And I can sit here and say now that life isn't about the accomplishments you will have, it's the lives you will be able to impact.

But to do that sis, you've gotta get your head about water first. Help yourself so

You can do this. ♥
