em.hening That girl standing in her kitchen in 2017 had no idea just how much that box would change her life. She had no idea the growth she would experience over the next two and a half years

The uncomfortableness she would have to push through

The tough situations she'd be put in The areas she would have to uplevel in The joy she would experience from leading a tribe

The self discovery she would have The relationship with god she would grow

One small decision to say • yes • to an opportunity she found on social media would change the course of her entire life

The road to becoming a millionaire wasn't picture perfect, and it wasn't "easy", it wasn't a walk in the park, but it was beautiful and the cause for every change I needed to have in my heart, body and soul.

I don't want you to see the dollar signs attached to the title I just earned, I want you to see a woman who was committed to pushing through every season of life. I want to offer you hope. I want to show you that anyone is capable of achieving the goals that they have. What I need you to know? The most important work you ever do will be on yourself, and how to selflessly love every individual that you come across.

This journey of my career and leadership has allowed me to become a woman I am PROUD of, when two years woman I am PROUD of, when two years ago I didn't even know who I was or how to show myself true love. It taught me that if I wanted to help others excel, I had to battle my own demons first. That I had to start looking in the mirror and being committed to constant and consistent positive change. And my biggest lesson? This is just the beginning.

I have so much more growing to do
So much more learning
So many new hard situations I'll face
So many celebrations to come
I'm not here to be an "influencer" I'm not here to be someone you compare yourself to I'm not here to be a show case of a fancy life
I'm here to LOVE the women on my tribe

I'm here to give the glory to god I'm here to positively impact everyone who comes into my path
I'm here to share this incredible company
I'm here to be better than I was yesterday
I'm here to be me and stay true to who I am ☐
