Two years ago today - our lives were forever changed. For the first time, my team & I surpassed $200,000 in sales in one month, and hit the very top rank in our company.
Then 730 days later this month 📍 we hit millionaires club
Something that was only a dream in my network marketing career. Hit the very top? Make seven figures? Pay off all of our debt? Those were the things I thought about for YEARS, only imagining what my life would actually be like if it ever happened to me. I don't think I ever truly thought it would. But then it did. ❤️
That's the power of this industry & making money from your phone. When you don't quit, when you don't walk making money from your phone. When you don't quit, when you don't walk away, when you keep going; things begin to compound. Your dreams become a reality. You help more individuals than you ever thought possible.

The crazy thing is though, to look back at that second picture I don't even think I knew who I was standing on my own. I was still mentally and emotionally struggling. I was still fighting my silent battles, I was still confused on my purpose. I always joke and tell my team that god brought me through this journey backwards so I could lead them forward. I hit that rank before I was ready - and my immense growth came afterwards. It was a game of catch up trying to learn how to lead a team that large. how to handle a of catch up trying to learn how to lead a team that large, how to handle a business, how to love myself. He had to teach me that the money didn't fix all my problems, it didn't magically solve the mountains in front of me. It wasn't the end all be all. I had to learn those lessons so I could teach my team that. That was are here for more than a dollar sign. We are here to • I M P A C T • and • G R O W • My team has seen me struggle, but they've never seen a day go by where I stopped fighting.

Am I here to help women achieve financial & time freedom? Absolutely, and as a tribe we do that every single day & we couldn't be behind a better opportunity. But my prayer is that it's not just a monetary value. I want you to receive the money when you are ready.
