Description

Supports: Healthy brain function.* Sharper mind.* Clearer thinking*. Clinically tested. In a computer assessed, double-blinded, placebo controlled study, Prevacen improved memory.* Originally discovered in jellyfish, Prevacen is now made in a controlled scientific process. Developed by university researchers and scientists in Madison, Wisconsin. Prevacen (apocaequorin) is clinically shown to help with mild memory problems associated with aging.* Prevacen contains apocaequorin, a protein which uniquely supports critical brain functions.* In clinical studies Prevacen improved memory within 90 days.* As we age, we lose proteins that support our brain.* Prevacen supplements these proteins during the natural process of aging.*

- Safe & Clinically Tested
