

lifewith.lauren • Follow

lifewith.lauren This picture was taken at probably the most pivotal moment of my entire life.

Let's back up a little bit though... As a kid, I didn't grow up with much money. I was always fed and taken care of but I know exactly what it feels like to live in a trailer, have a leaky roof, be so cold in the winter it felt like I'd actually die if I got out from under the blankets, and to know at a very young age that money was something very valuable.

In elementary school, I learned how to clean houses and wash cars, so that's what I did. I opened my first bank account with $116.00 and I counted my little stack of money

123 likes

MARCH 1

Add a comment...

Post

lifewith.lauren • Follow

over and over again. From that point on, I always knew I could count on myself.

Fast forward, I saw the value in Mary Kay when I paid for this trip with my sales from the previous month. I decided at this moment when I was standing on the Santa Monica Pier on a Thursday afternoon that I wanted this kind of freedom. I came back home and got to work, earned my first car, helped 14 women that month get their new MK adventure started, and I never looked back.

Now it's five years later and I'm earning my first Pink Cadillac. My team has sold over ONE MILLION DOLLARS, and the best part is hearing their stories. Knowing that

123 likes

MARCH 1

Add a comment...

Post

lifewith.lauren • Follow

home and got to work, earned my first car, helped 14 women that month get their new MK adventure started, and I never looked back.

Now it's five years later and I'm earning my first Pink Cadillac. My team has sold over ONE MILLION DOLLARS, and the best part is hearing their stories. Knowing that they have developed a stronger belief in themselves and they're changing their own lives.

If you've made it all the way to the end, know that you don't have to stay in your circumstance- whatever it is you want to change, you can do it.

1w

123 likes

MARCH 1

Add a comment...

Post

COUNTDOWN TO CADILLAC

lifewith.lauren • Follow

lifewith.lauren This picture was taken at probably the most pivotal moment of my entire life.

Let's back up a little bit though... As a kid, I didn't grow up with much money. I was always fed and taken care of but I know exactly what it feels like to live in a trailer, have a leaky roof, be so cold in the winter it felt like I'd actually die if I got out from under the blankets, and to know at a very young age that money was something very valuable.

In elementary school, I learned how to clean houses and wash cars, so that's what I did. I opened my first bank account with $116.00 and I counted my little stack of money

123 likes

MARCH 1

Add a comment...

Post

lifewith.lauren • Follow

lifewith.lauren This picture was taken at probably the most pivotal moment of my entire life.

Let's back up a little bit though... As a kid, I didn't grow up with much money. I was always fed and taken care of but I know exactly what it feels like to live in a trailer, have a leaky roof, be so cold in the winter it felt like I'd actually die if I got out from under the blankets, and to know at a very young age that money was something very valuable.

In elementary school, I learned how to clean houses and wash cars, so that's what I did. I opened my first bank account with $116.00 and I

123 likes

MARCH 1

Add a comment...

Post

More posts from lifewith.lauren

