About The Income Portfolio

With interest rates so low for so long it's not easy to build an investment portfolio that is designed primarily for income. But now, the Investment Committee does all the heavy lifting for you.

The Income Portfolio combines the highest-quality, biggest dividend-paying stocks in the world with high-yielding corporate bonds and hybrid securities to offer you outstanding yields, plus potential capital gains. If you want even more income, you can adjust your position sizes accordingly into the higher-yielding portions.

Even though the Income Portfolio is our lowest-risk model portfolio you still could have produced double digit returns in 2017 if you followed our recommendations exactly.

At this level, you get complete access to nine (9) of our newsletters. The portfolio highlights our best ideas from our two income-focused research services: Stansberry's Credit Opportunities and Income Intelligence.

To subscribe to all of this work individually would cost you nearly $11,000 for a single year... but Income Portfolio fees are nothing close to that.

A Done-For-You Model Portfolio Focused on Maximizing Your Retirement Income

The Income Portfolio is for the reader looking for an ideal model portfolio that provides additional income each month without the excessive work of reading through all the newsletters, deciding which ideas are best, and allocating your investments. We believe our readers who are retired or hoping to retire soon will prefer this level.

In short, the Income Portfolio consists of about 25-30 recommendations of stocks, bonds, and hybrid plays that provide regular dividend payments for investors.

Our investment committee pulls the most promising recommendations from 7 of our most popular research services... and bundles everything together into a single fully-allocated model portfolio.

We essentially remove all the guesswork, and save you hours of reading and decision making every month. We'll suggest specific allocations for each recommended company, down to the exact number of shares to buy per $100,000 invested in an effort to maximize your monthly income.

- ✓ Plus, you'll receive lifetime access to all the underlying research.

As a member, you'll receive a monthly briefing that includes a full model portfolio review plus any changes we recommend you make. You can simply hand this document to your broker or type in the stocks on your online brokerage account — it's simple!

The Income Portfolio is designed by our investment committee:

- Dr. Steve Sjogrenud, a PhD in Finance who has worked as a stockbroker, vice president of a $50 million global mutual fund, and a hedge-fund manager.
- Dr. David Ehrig, a former Wall Street investment banker at Goldman Sachs, Chase Manhattan, and Yamaichi. Dr. Ehrig retired from Wall Street, received his medical degree from the University of North Carolina and is published in several medical journals.
- Porter Stansberry, the Founder of the world's largest and most successful financial research firm. Porter accurately predicted the collapse of Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac, which resulted in Barron's profiling him.
- Austin Root, a former Wall Street investment banker and hedge-fund veteran with more than 20 years of investment experience. Austin has worked for world-class investment firms including the Blackstone Group, Soros Fund Management, and SAC Capital Advisors, and he co-founded a hedge fund with a strategic investment from legendary investor Julian Robertson.

The Income Portfolio helps readers live a more comfortable and stress-free retirement. It's full of dividend producing assets that put money into your account month after month such as:

- A 6.3% yield from the unquestioned leader in private equity who JP Morgan analysts call the "best in class" alternative-asset manager.
- A 5.1% yield from the best-run, fastest growing health care real estate investment trust (REIT) on the market.
- A 4.5% yield from a real estate owner that has raised its dividend—which it pays monthly—every year for the past 21 years.
- As of mid-December, The Income Portfolio has 10 different open positions that have reached double-digit gains in less than a year!

It would normally cost nearly $20,000 for lifetime access to all of the research Income Portfolio subscribers receive.
