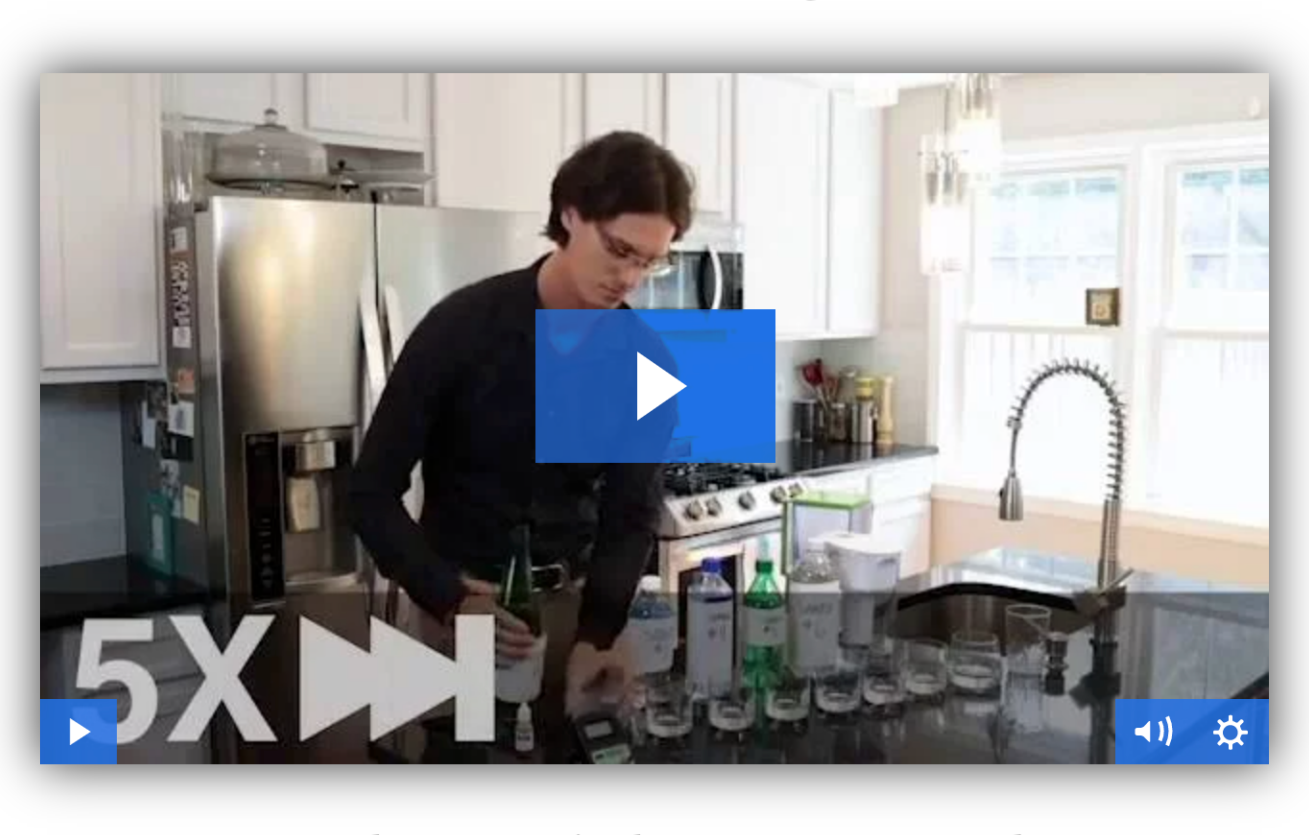
Urgent Warning:

Controversial Video Reveals: Alkaline Water Is Actually “DEAD Water”



“I used to weigh 300 pounds…”

“… but then I discovered this amazing, new kind of water and it completely changed my life – I feel like a new man!

“I have more energy to work out, and I have the motivation to eat better, which helped me finally lose the extra 100 pounds I'd struggled with for decades!”

Over seven years ago, a man said those words to me when we met in Scottsdale, Arizona.

At first, I thought he was in his lower-30s… until I found out he was months away from celebrating his 50th birthday!

“That's incredible…” I muttered to myself

And not just because he was in great shape. Or overflowing with energy. His face actually looked young too.

But was drinking water really his secret?

“Yes!” he said, “… a certain kind of water that almost nobody in the United States knows about…”

He explained how it's absolutely not regular alkaline water. It wasn't run-of-the-mill filtered or mineral water either.

To be honest, I felt skeptical

I've seen all kinds of products promising the moon, and they're usually disappointing.

But the man was persistent and clearly spoke from the heart, so I opened my mind. After all, just a little bit of faith in something new could help transform your life in amazing ways…

And he did look unbelievably young for his age. So when he offered me a glass of water, I accepted.

Then I took a sip…

… and had to admit the water tasted very clear and crisp.

Then I took a bigger gulp…

… and before I knew it, I'd drank 3 or 4 glasses!

Something was different about this water. Sure, the brisk taste quenched my thirst perfectly, like water that just melted off an ancient glacier…

But even more, something felt different about me. Like I'd just sipped on some premium, organic coffee… but the energy was smoother… more subtle…

… and more natural. There wasn't any crash. I just felt more alive and healthy!

I practically begged the man: “Where do you get this water?”

His response surprised me:

“You can't get it anywhere.”

“What do you mean?” I asked.

He explained, “You can't run to the store and buy a bottle of this water. It's not available on any shelves. You have to make it.”

“Okay… how do you do that?”

My new friend took me aside, and showed me a weird-looking machine, about the size of a briefcase. What on earth was going on?

I tried to figure out what the machine was just by looking at it, and quickly realized it was NOT like any kind of water filter I'd seen before.

He began by pushing a button…

… and I watched as this machine took regular tap water and completely changed it

He gave me another sample, so I could confirm what I'd felt earlier. And the same thing happened. I could FEEL in my body how amazing this water was.

Instant energy…

A crystal-clear head…

… and just FEELING BETTER.

Like my health got a dazzling upgrade, in a way nothing else could deliver!

After feeling these amazing effects, I was hungry to discover more.

What was this unusual machine? And what made this water so much healthier than anything else?

My mysterious friend was willing to share, but there was a catch:

I had to hop a plane to Los Angeles… to meet the lucky few people already changing their lives with this amazing water

So I did.

And I quickly discovered, he wasn't exaggerating about the lives being changed.

As he drove me through town, my new friend explained to me how this water technology is already used all over Japan (where the average lifespan is among the highest of all countries on the planet), even in hospitals… but it's only just getting discovered in the United States.

First, we ate at a restaurant and met the owner, who said he was going to get this certain water machine to use for his cooking.

Then we drove to a large building, where people waited in line to get a temporary supply of this water.

I even helped one lady carry a huge jug of it to her car!

Inside, we watched a French chef give a presentation on how he uses this water to invigorate the food he cooks.

I sat in the passenger seat of my host's car as we drove through LA, listening as an excited woman called. On speakerphone, she gushed about getting her own water machine, after watching her entire family feel and experience the healthy benefits.

During my trip, my host made sure I had a temporary supply of this water with me the entire time. And even though I didn't expect any sudden results beyond what I felt before, in just two days I noticed some changes.

I felt energized, fantastic… I felt years younger. Wow!

My host dropped me off at LAX for my flight back home, and I knew what I had to do.

Once I got back, I started doing my own research…

First, because I was fascinated to learn how this water worked. And… to be honest… because I was still overwhelmed from this new information and these new experiences.

If this water was so great, wouldn't it be headline news? Why was I just hearing about this now? I wondered if I was going crazy!

But I discovered there is a growing mountain of scientific studies and clinical research showing how healthy this water is.

The research is new… but it began almost a hundred years ago, and even involves Nobel Prize-winning doctors and scientists.

I couldn't stop thinking about this strange water, and how hardly anyone has access to it, or even realizes it exists

After a couple weeks, I called the man up, and asked to buy a water machine for myself.

The price tag was pretty steep:

Almost $4,000.

I didn't know it then, but now you can get the same amazing water for a teeny-tiny fraction of that price… more on that in a moment…

… but I figured that specific machine was my only option, so I bit the bullet.

A big, brown box arrived at my door, with my machine inside. As I immediately switched to drinking ALL my water from it, I felt the same brilliant energy…

… but something still nagged at me.

I dove back into my research to see if there were better options for men and women in the United States.

It was clear that this water is the real deal… but was it available for a fair price?

Turns out, the answer was “Yes!”

In fact, I discovered a super-easy secret to make this kind of water yourself. It's so cheap, it's a better bargain for you than even the cheapest bottled water!

Now I'm ready to go public with my findings. That's why I prepared this presentation for you. In fact…

You're about to discover what makes this water so healthy… how to create this water for yourself… and see it compared to every other kind of water on live video…

Here goes:

As you learned before, this isn't alkaline water…

… at least, not regular alkaline water.

It has another special property…

Something no other kind of water has…

As a result, this water helps…

Revitalize all 37,200,000,000,000 of your cells!

That's right, it works at the cellular level to support your health and energy.

It uses a very specific mechanism. The science is so complicated, it would give you a headache. So think of it this way instead:

Inside your body, a battle is being waged.

When you're young, it's easy to win this battle. But… as you get older… you begin losing.

Your enemy in this battle is the biggest threat to your health and lifespan.

You're under attack RIGHT NOW… and this enemy has been growing more and more powerful for the past 50 years.

Just about every human being in developed countries – like the United States – began falling victim to this enemy. It's helping cause just about every depressing change you see in the mirror.

Here's how to tell if you're currently a victim:

Do you ever feel…

Fatigued throughout the day?

Aches and pains?

Does your skin look dull and dry?

These are all symptoms of the enemy your body is battling right now:

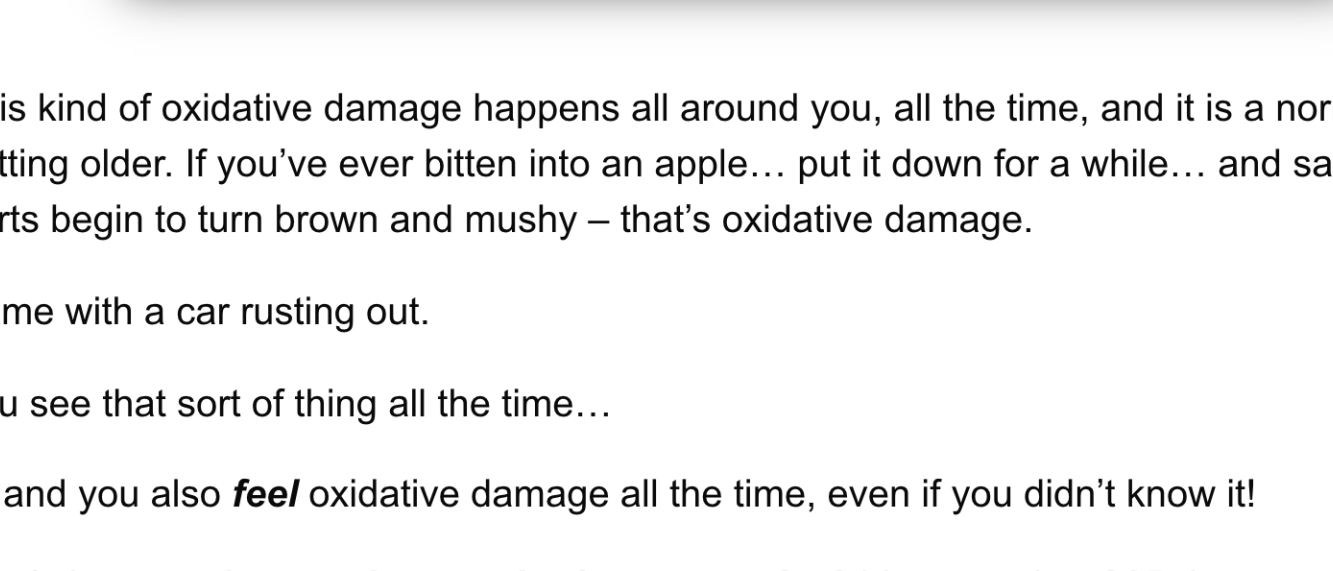
Oxidative damage.

This is the technical term for when…

Electrons get ripped out of the molecules within your cells



This kind of oxidative damage happens all around you, all the time, and it is a normal part of getting older. If you've ever bitten into an apple… put it down for a while… and saw the inner parts begin to turn brown and mushy – that's oxidative damage.

Same with a car rusting out.

You see that sort of thing all the time…

… and you also feel oxidative damage all the time, even if you didn't know it!

That's because it assaults your body constantly, 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

Because of pollution, stress, and toxins, this enemy has been getting stronger and stronger for decades. And it's the hidden, root cause for many problems that occur with age.

For instance, are you frustrated with your aching, tired joints?

Then you might want to know what scientists in Germany discovered…

Joint aches are caused by oxidative damage.

Let's say you overwork your joints one day. Afterwards, every time you take so much as a single step…

You are forcing and squeezing oxidative damage-causing molecules into your joints

Are you also fed up with your soul-sapping fatigue?

If your answer is “Yes!” then fighting back against oxidative damage is your solution.

Here's why:

Your energy comes from tiny little powerhouses in your cells called mitochondria. You have trillions of them.

If too many oxidative damage-causing molecules attack your mitochondria, you feel rundown and start dragging.

But if you help protect your mitochondria, then you can feel a revitalizing surge of energy all day long.

Not only that, but you can LOOK better too.

But this goes deeper than just your appearance or how you feel. In fact, studies show the health of your mitochondria is directly connected to how long you live.

You might have heard of centenarians – men and women who live to 100 years… or even older?

Scientists have studied centenarians for decades, to see if they could crack the code behind their tremendously long life.

Recently, they discovered something exciting…

Centenarians do a better job protecting their mitochondria from oxidative damage!

Not just in some isolated pocket of the world either. This was researched in Japan, Italy, France, Ireland, and Finland.

This could be your key to living to 100, or longer.

Imagine blowing out 100 candles for your birthday, and sharing quality time with your friends and family, knowing deep in your heart you've got plenty more years… and plenty more life… left in you!

Hold onto that feeling… because this fantasy could be a reality for you.

It all comes down to this:

When our bodies aren't protected from the onslaught of oxidative damage… we get “older.”

We feel older…

We look older…

We BECOME older…

… unless we do something to stop it.

That's where this rare water comes in.

It has the special property that enables it to help…

FIGHT oxidative damage in your body and PROTECT you from its harmful effects!

Here's how:

It's bursting with molecules called anti*oxidants*.

Antioxidants are like the good side of the force that brings balance to your body's health.

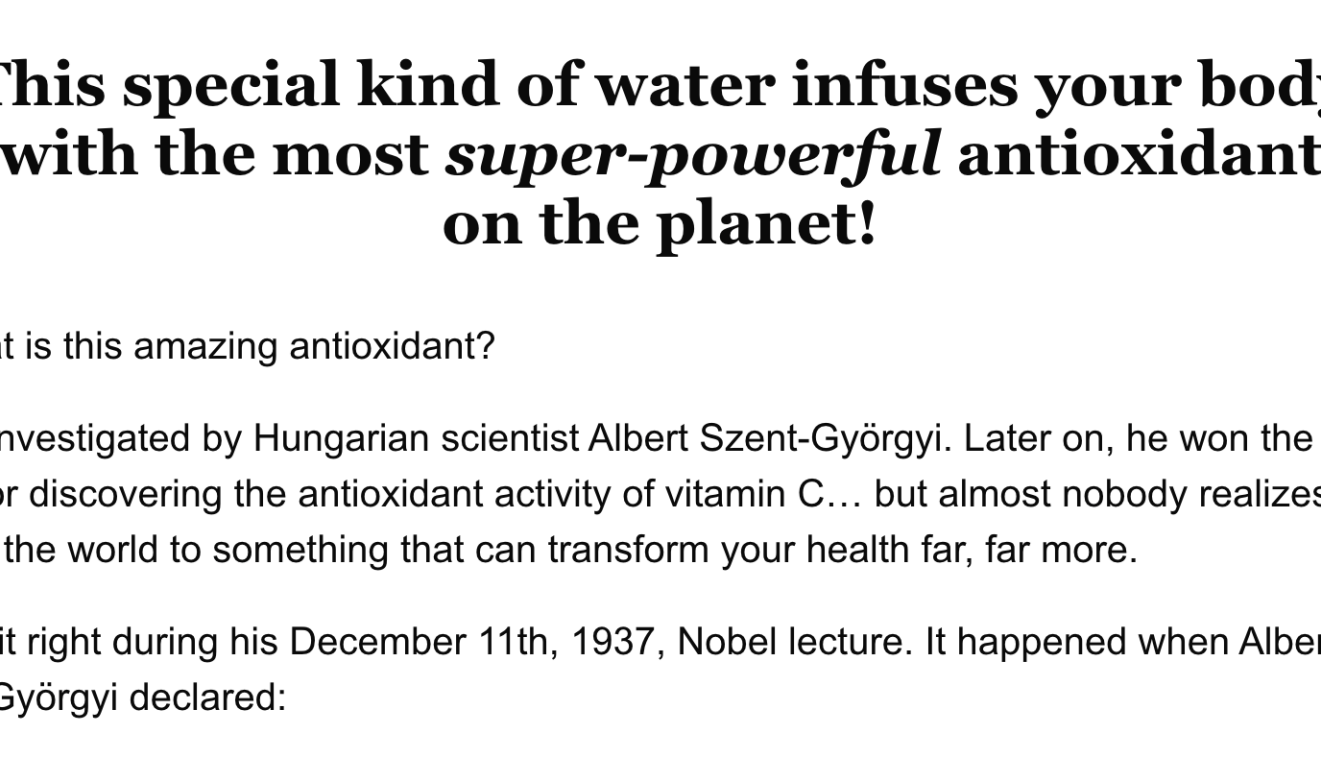
Remember how oxidative damage is when electrons get ripped out of your cells?

Antioxidants do something very special.

They have their own electrons, and when your body is under attack… antioxidants generously donate their own electrons so yours are spared.

In other words…

These brave molecules act like bodyguards who dive in front of you to “take the bullet”



As a result, you're safe from oxidative damage!

Your joints stay strong…

Your skin stays healthy and glowing…

Your energy stays high…

… and you could stay healthier!

Because scientists in Japan discovered the truth…

This special kind of water infuses your body with the most super-powerful antioxidant on the planet!

So what is this amazing antioxidant?

It was investigated by Hungarian scientist Albert Szent-Györgyi. Later on, he won the Nobel Prize for discovering the antioxidant activity of vitamin C… but almost nobody realizes he alerted the world to something that can transform your health far, far more.

He did it right during his December 11th, 1937, Nobel lecture. It happened when Albert Szent-Györgyi declared:

“… our body really only knows one fuel, hydrogen”

... and that's the secret to this water: Hydrogen.

Instead of regular water, where the hydrogen is bonded and trapped with oxygen, this life-giving water has a certain amount of freed hydrogen.

Clinical evidence is showing how healing it is:

A study out of Japan showed hydrogen could help improve blood flow.

A Japanese hospital found hydrogen helped patients' joints feel better in mere weeks.

Imagine an antioxidant so powerful, it helps support healthy joints!

Still, that's not all.

It might even help...

Increase your energy…

Help your cells feel and function younger…

In fact, animal and in vitro study results from 106 peer-reviewed articles show hydrogen may help support the health of the:

- ✓ Brain
- ✓ Heart
- ✓ Lungs
- ✓ Skin
- ✓ Kidneys
- ✓ Liver
- ✓ Ears
- ✓ Gums

Now, because the research on hydrogen is so new, most of the above is on animals.

So while clinical studies are needed to confirm these results in humans, real people are already feeling the difference. I'll share some of their stories with you in a moment.

Remember, because hydrogen helps protect you from oxidative damage at the cellular level, it could support the health of the entire body. All 37.2 TRILLION of your cells.

It could help protect you from the inside out.

Think of your biggest health concerns, the ones that frustrate you the most…

What would it feel like to be free from them?

How much less pain and stress would you experience right now, if those thoughts disappeared?

The fatigue… the sadness… the exhaustion… dreading where your health is not optimal…

What if you stopped feeling stuck on the sidelines of life and started feeling more confident and carefree?

What if, instead of thinking about your health, you had the energy to play 18 holes of golf. Or work on your garden for hours on end, bending, digging, planting… yet feeling brand-new. Going out and having fun like you used to, and relishing the bright future you have ahead…

You can!

It's all possible with the super-antioxidant hydrogen.

But as you learned before, it must be “freed” for it work. That's because…

The hydrogen is still bound and trapped in regular water

It's the same with bottled water…

… and even alkaline water.

It turns out, all the water you've been drinking up until now is closer to a fountain of DEATH… than youth.

Doesn't matter if it goes through a reverse-osmosis filter...

Doesn't matter if it's bottled by a fancy company for an even fancier price…

… It just doesn't matter. The water in your home and the water you can buy in the store is nothing like this unique antioxidant fountain of youth. Instead…

It's dead water. ALL OF IT.

Consider what the Natural Resources Defense Council found after they tested more than 1,000 bottles of water by 103 different brands. A frightening percentage violated state and even federal guidelines for safety.

A study published in the Canadian Journal of Microbiology found something even scarier:

After just seven days of storage, the bacteria count in bottled water can explode a full 1,000 times greater.

Think where we're supposed to drink our water from…

Is it water that's churned through miles and miles of metal pipes, and saturated with chemicals?

Is it water that's grown stale in a plastic container for months and months?

Or water that lies dead in a giant, artificial metal container?

I'm sure you agree the answer is “No!”

And yet… that's where virtually 100% of your water has come from, your entire life.

Think about it! How often have you quenched your thirst with natural water from…

Mountain springs renowned for their rejuvenating powers

Probably never. But that's what your body is designed to enjoy!

And it's where my research led me. We've all heard legends of rejuvenating springs, some with magical healing power.

I hypothesized that the legends of rejuvenating springs were grounded in scientific fact… and that this kind of hydrogen-rich water is the connection.

Picture the water in these springs seeping through layers of rock towards the surface, getting nourished with the right kind of minerals for health.

I wondered: "Could that create free hydrogen naturally?"

Well, it turns out researchers from Germany and Switzerland actually tested certain natural bodies of water.

And guess what?

They confirmed some fresh water from a natural lake has small amounts of free hydrogen!

But then something surprising happened

Excited about the results, these scientists kept a bunch of the water in their lab. And they discovered the free hydrogen eventually disappeared.

Just like seltzer. As soon as you open the bottle, it fizzes.

If you leave it out long enough, it'll go flat because all the gas has dissipated. With free hydrogen, which is even lighter and smaller, this will happen eventually. Even if you keep the cap on the bottle.

So you can't bottle it.

Which is why you can't find this kind of water in stores.

You must make it yourself and drink it almost immediately.

Up until recently, it was possible only with the expensive machine. But then I found a natural way. And you don't have to journey thousands of miles to some healing spring to do it.

Instead…

You can bring its tonic, crystal-clear power to you!

Here's how:

You flow the water through a special filtration process. Here's the equation for how it works:

$$Mg_{(s)} + 2H_2O \text{ --> } Mg(OH)_{2(aq)} + H_{2(g)}$$

I realize this might look complicated to anyone who isn't passionate about chemistry, but you only need to know the basics:

Notice how the right side ends with H_2? That's the free hydrogen.

So what happens when you switch to drinking this nourishing water?

Scientists are seeing astonishing results as we speak. Here are just a sample:

In a small study published in the Journal of Clinical Biochemistry and Nutrition, researchers found eight weeks of drinking hydrogen-rich water lowered the free radical damage of the volunteers, and improved their cholesterol.

A double-blind, placebo-controlled study performed by the Kajiyama Clinic in Japan found the hydrogen-rich water reduced oxidative damage and lead to other surprising changes associated with youth. They even found it helped support healthy blood sugar.

Another study shows hydrogen-rich water helps support joint health

Long-term consumption has also been shown to help support the immune system.

It even works for athletes…

The Serbian Journal of Sports Sciences published a study where athletes drank a hydrogen-rich sports drink during their tough workouts. As a result, their heart rates were lower than those drinking a regular sports drink!

It's also been shown to delay muscle fatigue, and help improve performance.

Can you imagine how amazing you'd feel, if this water could do the same for you?

Now, remember what I mentioned about mitochondria health and centenarians, those who live to be 100 or older?

Remember how I asked you to imagine blowing out 100 candles for your birthday?

Well, a study out of Japan showed this kind of water improves the mitochondrial health of those who drink it.

This could be your lifeline.

It can get into the nooks and crevices of your body where it's needed most… where other treatments can't go! Your poor mitochondria are starving for antioxidants to protect them, and hydrogen is just the one for the job.

But just knowing all this is one thing.

Let me PROVE it to you, and show you the results you can see with your own eyes…

Here's how:

It turns out, you can actually measure (in number value) how much a liquid either reduces the potential for oxidation, or creates oxidation.

This is done with something called an ORP meter, which stands for Oxidation Reduction Potential.

In other words, this meter helps indicate how much of a healthy antioxidant a liquid is, or an unhealthy pro-oxidant. A major pharmaceutical company is even trying to corner the market on this technology, because it's so groundbreaking for your health.

I used an ORP meter to test some of the most popular brands of bottled water. Then, I tested it on this special kind of healthy water.

Now I'll show you the results, on live video:

Now that you know about oxidation and how water can actually be

I know it seems hard to believe you can create this health-giving water with something that looks like a simple pitcher. But think of your smartphone: It contains a computer so powerful, just a few years ago, the hardware would take up your entire desk. But now it fits into the palm of your hand.

The same thing happened with this water technology.

And I had to search outside the United States entirely to find it

That's because in Ontario, Canada, a pioneer of healthy water has been quietly perfecting this special method of filtration. For years, he published everything he learned along the way. When I sifted through all the BS surrounding water, his knowledge was priceless.

I tried calling him, but only got a voicemail. So I explained the research I'd done, and how I was trying to let people in the United States know about this amazing water.

A day later, my phone rang. He had called me back!

As we spoke, I realized our philosophy matched up perfectly: Produce the best antioxidant water possible, while keeping the prices reasonable for anyone.

That's when he told me about his breakthrough. The filtering technology required to create life-giving hydrogen can now fit inside of a convenient pitcher.

The Molecular Hydrogen Institute's laboratory even tested this filter

They confirmed it produces free hydrogen, in the water.

All the stars aligned.

I had to shake my head. Just a few short years earlier, I'd paid almost $4,000 for a machine that does the exact same thing as this simple, healthy water pitcher. And you know what? It was worth it.

Then I could let people know about a better option for the absolute best, perfectly-balanced, delicious, energizing water that could help you feel YOUNGER.

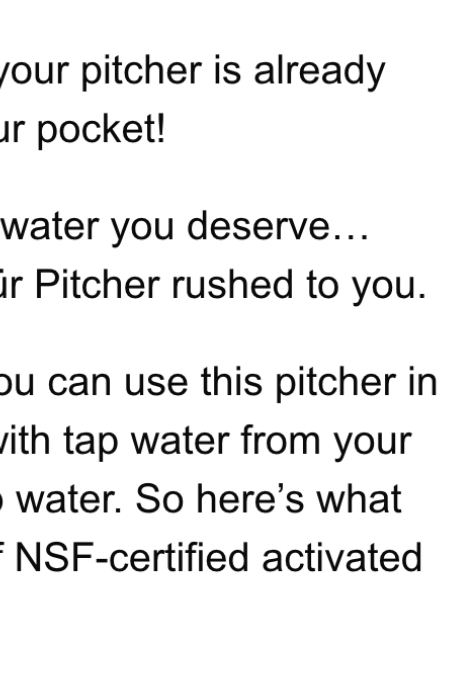
And I vowed that nobody would have to invest anything close to $4,000 for the health benefits this immaculate water provides…

Or $3,000…

Or $2,000…

Or $1,000…

You can now quench your thirst with this radiant, whole water for an absolute bargain.



It's called the Turapür Pitcher, and right now it's available for only $59.95. This is the best bargain available for the healthiest water. After all, you would pay $1.50 to purchase just one bottled water. If you drink only three bottles per day, that adds up to $270 every two months. And it might still be contaminated and still doesn't have the healing benefits of free hydrogen.

If you do the math for buying bottled water for your whole family, you might be shelling out over $800 for a two-month supply of dead water soaking in plastic, and maybe even soaking up the dangerous chemical BPA.

But now you have the chance for energetic, refreshing water for a much better price

In fact, if you avoid purchasing just a single bottle of water per day, your pitcher is already paid for in less than a month… and then you're putting money in your pocket!

Start saving money… drink the best, perfectly-balanced antioxidant water you deserve… and look and feel younger. Click the button below to get your Turapür Pitcher rushed to you.

And one more thing just in case you're still on the fence. Because you can use this pitcher in the comfort of your own home, you're probably going to be filling it with tap water from your sink. Now… I don't know anybody who likes the taste or smell of tap water. So here's what we've done. We've also made sure there's a special filtering layer of NSF-certified activated carbon.

This strips out the bad tastes and odors in our water

Then a layer of Ion Exchange Resin softens the water, making it a pristine pleasure to drink. The entire pitcher, by the way, is BPA-free. When you use it, it's like you're creating water from a fresh bubbling mountain stream. Water that's untouched.

So you can throw out all your other water pitchers and enjoy the delicious, cool, refreshing water from this one!

That's what some lucky folks have done. Here's just a sample of the massive number of stories we've received from happy Turapür customers:

★★★★★ "My skin looks great" - and I'm able to go bowling again!"

I have noticed that my hands have a younger look. Also the skin on my face looks healthy. I don't even use bottled water any more. I fix 2 to 3 pitchers of water a day and save in another container for cooking.

I have not bowled in two years due to my back surgery. I could still feel pain. Since I have been drinking this water I have gone back to bowling and did not even feel tired or pain in my back.*

My husband said he could tell the difference. He does not drink all the time but when he needs a drink of water he drinks from the pitcher.

I have recommended it to many of my friends already.

It speaks for itself. I love it. Will continue drinking it from now on.

★★★★★ Greater stamina and energy, even in 90+ degree weather… and no heartburn at night anymore!

After drinking it for more than two months, I have noticed a greater stamina and energy level when working around the house in a 90+ F temperature this summer. I live in South Florida, the land of high humidity and heat. Turapür water has made a difference for me. I feel better hydrated with Turapür water, and even if I eat dinner later than 6:30 pm, or overeat, I do not wake up with a heartburn in the middle of the night anymore.* This is a great product. My friend has a similar opinion since she started drinking Turapür water. Thank You.

Now you understand the truth about water. Both how terrible regular water could be for you… and how delicious this perfectly-balanced kind of water is.

But it's all meaningless unless you make the simple, correct decision today.

You're now at a crossroads

You can stay on the same road you're already on, and keep drinking water that's making you older. More fatigue, more joint pain, and an older person in the mirror.

Or, you can take this opportunity for a new path. One that can lead you to more energy, healthy joints, and a younger body.

You're spending money on water anyway, so you might as well save money and refresh yourself with the revitalizing, cleansed water that could help make you younger.

It's the smart choice.

Not only for yourself, but for your family too.

Enjoy water with such a vivid taste, it almost shimmers on your taste buds.

Give your health this gift today. You deserve it.

I guarantee it'll be the best gift for your health and energy that you give yourself this year.

This water is like sunshine in a glass, and your satisfaction is guaranteed

This pitcher creates the exact kind of astounding water that you've learned about in this video. To get your Turapür Pitcher rushed to you, click the Order Now button below.

And as you do, picture this:

Imagine you're living in the world thousands of years ago, before any modern pollution.

Gentle rays of morning sun awaken you. As you stretch and yawn, feeling completely refreshed, you decide to enjoy a walk outside.

A quiet stream bubbles right through your secluded backyard. The water gently rushes through mineral-filled rocks.

You tip-toe right next to the stream… reach down… scoop some cool, clear water into your hands… and drink.

First, you taste the refreshing, mineral-drenched, original water. Within moments, you FEEL the water energizing you as you take one drink, and then another… and another...

THIS… is how water is supposed to refresh you every day.

THIS is how it's supposed to help revitalize you from the inside out.

THIS is why we build our homes near it, why we decorate our buildings with it, and why we love it so much. Deep down inside we instinctively realize how splendid water can make us feel and how much it could help heal us.

NOW is your chance to get the healthy water you are meant to drink.

But you must jump on this immediately.

When we first offered the Turapür Pitcher to the general public, we could only secure 1 of these pitchers for every 662 of our readers who saw the message, because of our limited supply.

We completely SOLD OUT in 38 days

Every single Turapür Pitcher was gone and it took months for us to get them back in stock.

It's virtually guaranteed we will sell out our current supply. Even though we scramble like crazy to keep our products available, we've been forced to shut down sales almost half a dozen times, because of massive demand.

Tens of thousands of people are seeing this message now, and they could be grabbing the last remaining pitchers we have in stock.
