callieeisele Funny story: I actually was a hater before I decided to give this whole network marketing thing a "go". At the time, (4 years ago) I was looking for a way to pay for my wedding. 🤔 I truly didn't care what it took. I knew I was gonna need the extra money for all the things that came with weddings (not cheap!). My dad told me he would only help us a little. The rest was our responsibility. It's crazy the things you will do when your WHY is that big. I ranked up 3 times in 1 year and earned top in Recruiting out of the entire company in my first year of NO EXPERIENCE. 😳 but Now my WHY has changed after 4 years. I've moved on to a new journey also. Soon I will be able to make that NEW WHY a reality and I can't wait to share it with you. ✨

I found a company the team as a whole is THRIVING AT! Blessed to Bleed BioReigns. 💕
