How We Got Started

My husband and I were 3 months married working full time jobs. We were looking for a tax advantage and to make extra income. Along came Fifth Avenue - Beautiful Jewellery! The jewellery sold itself and in the first year of the business I tripled my full time income. 29 years later still loving what I do and make an average $100.00 an hour. Love the freedom and flexibility of being my own boss! If you would like to know more just ASK!

Our Answers ⓘ

What kind of interview questions do you ask applicants?

Rita-anne from Fifth Avenue Collection - Beautiful Jewellery Answered this on May 04, 2018

What qualities and attributes do you feel you have that that will contribute to this job?

What do you think is the biggest reason customers stop doing business with a company?

Rita-anne from Fifth Avenue Collection - Beautiful Jewellery Answered this on March 16, 2018

If a customer stops business with you it's because either you've lost touch with them or they've found someone they know like and trust better. A customer will be a customer for life if you help them get what they want and offer them quality customer service. I have customers from over 26 years... \(more\)

Can you give me input on your tactics and strategy behind asking for customer referrals?

Rita-anne from Fifth Avenue Collection - Beautiful Jewellery Answered this on February 26, 2018

We've helped a number of companies using a different twist on asking for referrals. Everyone loves to get something free. We offer a free piece of jewellery when a referral is made with a sale. It's a really nice gift too that makes it worthwhile for them to work towards.

How do you show appreciation for your customers in the fashion industry?

Rita-anne from Fifth Avenue Collection - Beautiful Jewellery Answered this on February 25, 2018

With the jewellery we sell we give an amazing gift to our Hostesses and have different promotions for our customers. We've been selling Fifth Avenue Collection Jewellery for over 29 years and the biggest compliment you can give your buying customer is a hand written note to let them know you... \(more\)
