alexmortonmindset PUT IN THE WORK. Now, because of what has transpired globally maybe the work isn't traveling from place to place, event to event.. but the WORK still needs to get done. There's no cheating the grind, hustle, sacrifice and reps.. it must be done. A lot of us are "working from home" which means massive opportunity in many ways. More family time for one, but also more time to LEARN NEW SKILLS that can potentially increase your income. Do you know anything about the foreign exchange markets? Have you invested into different stocks (companies) you believe in? Do you know what's happening in the crypto currency world right now? Do you own BTC, ETH, ADA, XRP, LTC, etc... or are you someone right now? Do you own BTC, ETH, ADA, XRP, LTC, etc... or are you someone who says, "It's just a phase, this digital world thing will be in and out." That's what people said about the television, then the internet, & now this. Change with the times, put in the work, master your craft. Understand there are other options then just solely relying on a linear 9-5 income. Right now is the modern day gold rush. I spend time watching videos, reading blogs, researching coins / companies every single day. You don't need to be academically gifted to make serious money. You need an open mind and a work ethic. You need to sacrifice some short term fun for long term happiness. You need ACCESS to the right information... the right mentors... & need to have a sense of responsibility

I know what I've accomplished in my last 11 years is "great" in many peoples eyes but I'm focused on the next 11 years! What's your goal? What's your focus? Where do you see you and your family? Get CLEAR on what you want and go ALL IN on its attainment!! #AM #NewWorld
