

Living Life in the Now

Bettina, UK

Bettina worked as cabin crew for nineteen years. She loved her job initially; she was young with no responsibilities and got to see the world. "Working as cabin crew was fun but very hard work and demanding. The long-haul trips were great, but the days were long." However, things changed when Bettina met her husband, Gio. They got married and now have two wonderful boys Rocco and Marco. The airline business changed like most other companies; they had pay cuts and longer shifts with less crew on board. Every time Bettina got her rota she would panic. Who was going to look after the boys? Which next milestone would she miss? She was tired from doing night flights, and in general feeling exhausted, and unable to spend time with her sons.

Bettina knew something needed to change or she was going to miss out on her boys growing up. Being an ambitious person, she was looking for a new challenge and, luckily, in January 2016 Bettina was introduced to Forever through the products. She immediately fell in love with them; she could see the potential in the business opportunity and couldn't wait to get started. Bettina made her first promotion in five weeks and advanced to the Manager position, a significant step in her business, the next year.

She no longer flies and now works her Forever business around her commitments and her family. Her husband is the most influential person in her life, "We are a great team. Gio keeps me grounded, we complement each other in all different situations." Now Bettina gets to spend so much more precious time with her family and never misses out on a milestone.

She has an incredible team that she works alongside. Everyone has very different backgrounds, but they have made incredible friendships as well as a global business - all of which Bettina runs from the kitchen table. Helping others is what inspires her, Bettina wants to help as many people as possible succeed.

Bettina now has a full-time income working part time hours, personal development and time freedom. The most rewarding part is seeing her team develop and seeing each of them grow individually whilst helping them achieve their goals and dreams. They have a real bond between them, and everyone supports each other. Her business is now flying high and Bettina can't wait to see what's next!
