

From Risks Come Rewards

Christina, UK

Christina joined Forever in 2007, not for a business, but to get her hands on the products at a discounted price. She had been using a few of her favourites for a couple of months and knew that she would continue to use them, so why not get them at the best possible price? Little did Christina know this was a decision which would change her life.

At the time, Christina was a computer programmer for Lloyds Banking Group, which she loved. She had a great income, a lovely home, two holidays a year, and what looked like a perfect job, but what Christina didn't have was TIME to enjoy it all.

In 2009 the banking world changed forever along with the hours she was working. This meant even less family time, and redundancy became a real possibility. It was only then that Christina decided to take a serious look at the business side of Forever. She already had trust in the company as she knew the products worked for her. At first Christina couldn't believe just what was possible, seeing others achieving the income she was already earning, but working just part-time hours from home.

Christina was in and set to work around her banking job. When redundancy came she knew she would never have to apply for another job or worry about how she would pay the bills, "I am not a risk taker, but I do know that when I set my mind to a goal it will always be achieved, determination, courage and hard work always pays off. I always see myself as a winner and believe I am very lucky."

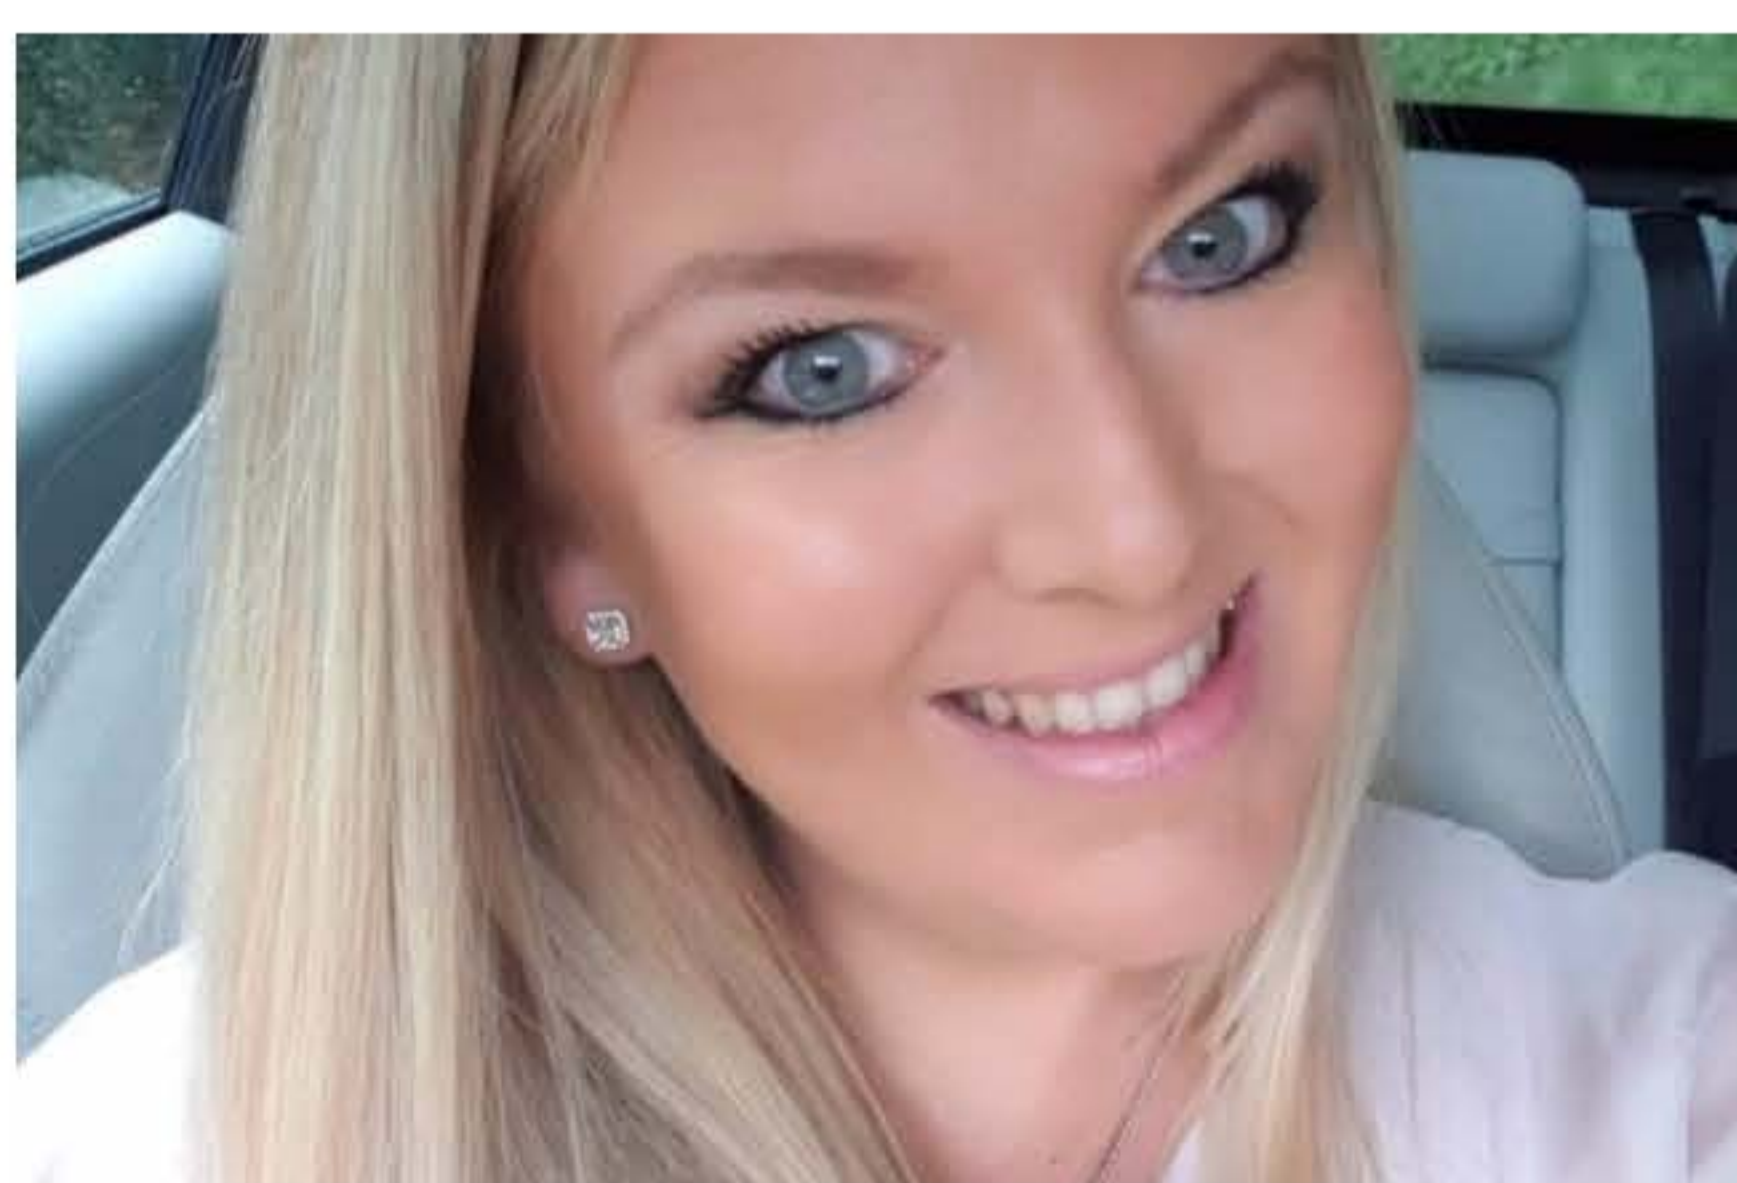

Christina has built her business using all the incentives Forever has to offer. She has treated each incentive as a game to play with a prize to win. Learning the skills along the way, sometimes failing but never quitting until the prize was won. She loves the fact that each year the incentives start again and everyone can compete. "The incentives are a level playing field for everyone, and with a little stick-to-itiveness, everyone can win."

Christina runs her business with her wife, Sue. They have been together for 19 years. "She inspires me every day. She is always there to help and guide me, we work so well together." It hasn't always been easy, Christina was used to working from home, alone with her dogs but that changed overnight when Sue retired. The adjustment took time, but Christina believes having someone you love at your side, working towards personal and business goals and overcoming life challenges together makes all the difference. "Do we always agree, no, does that matter, no, but having someone believe in you and you believe in them means you can achieve anything you set your mind to."

Because she achieved these Forever Business incentives, Christina now owns her dream car but most importantly she has all the time in the world to play golf, spend time with her family and walk her dogs whenever she likes. "My greatest achievement in life is finding personal happiness and contentment. Being able to make the move to a lifestyle where I can choose what I do and who I do it with each day. My parents moved next door to us last year, knowing that I was home and would be available to help should they need it."

"Life for me was always the forty-year plan; I'm so grateful I was shown another way and took the opportunity to change my life."
