

Get the most out of your career this year with these tips!

Advance Your Career in 2021

Are you hoping this is the year that you pull yourself out of that career rut and start advancing professionally?

Here are a few tips to help you make it happen.

Gain Side Experience

A side hustle is a great way to earn some extra cash and build professional skills in areas outside of your normal scope.

Maybe you want to improve your networking abilities or get better at giving presentations. Think about what type of part-time opportunity could help you accomplish this.

Find a Mentor

It's great to have a mentor at the office, someone who guides you, inspires and challenges you to do your best work.

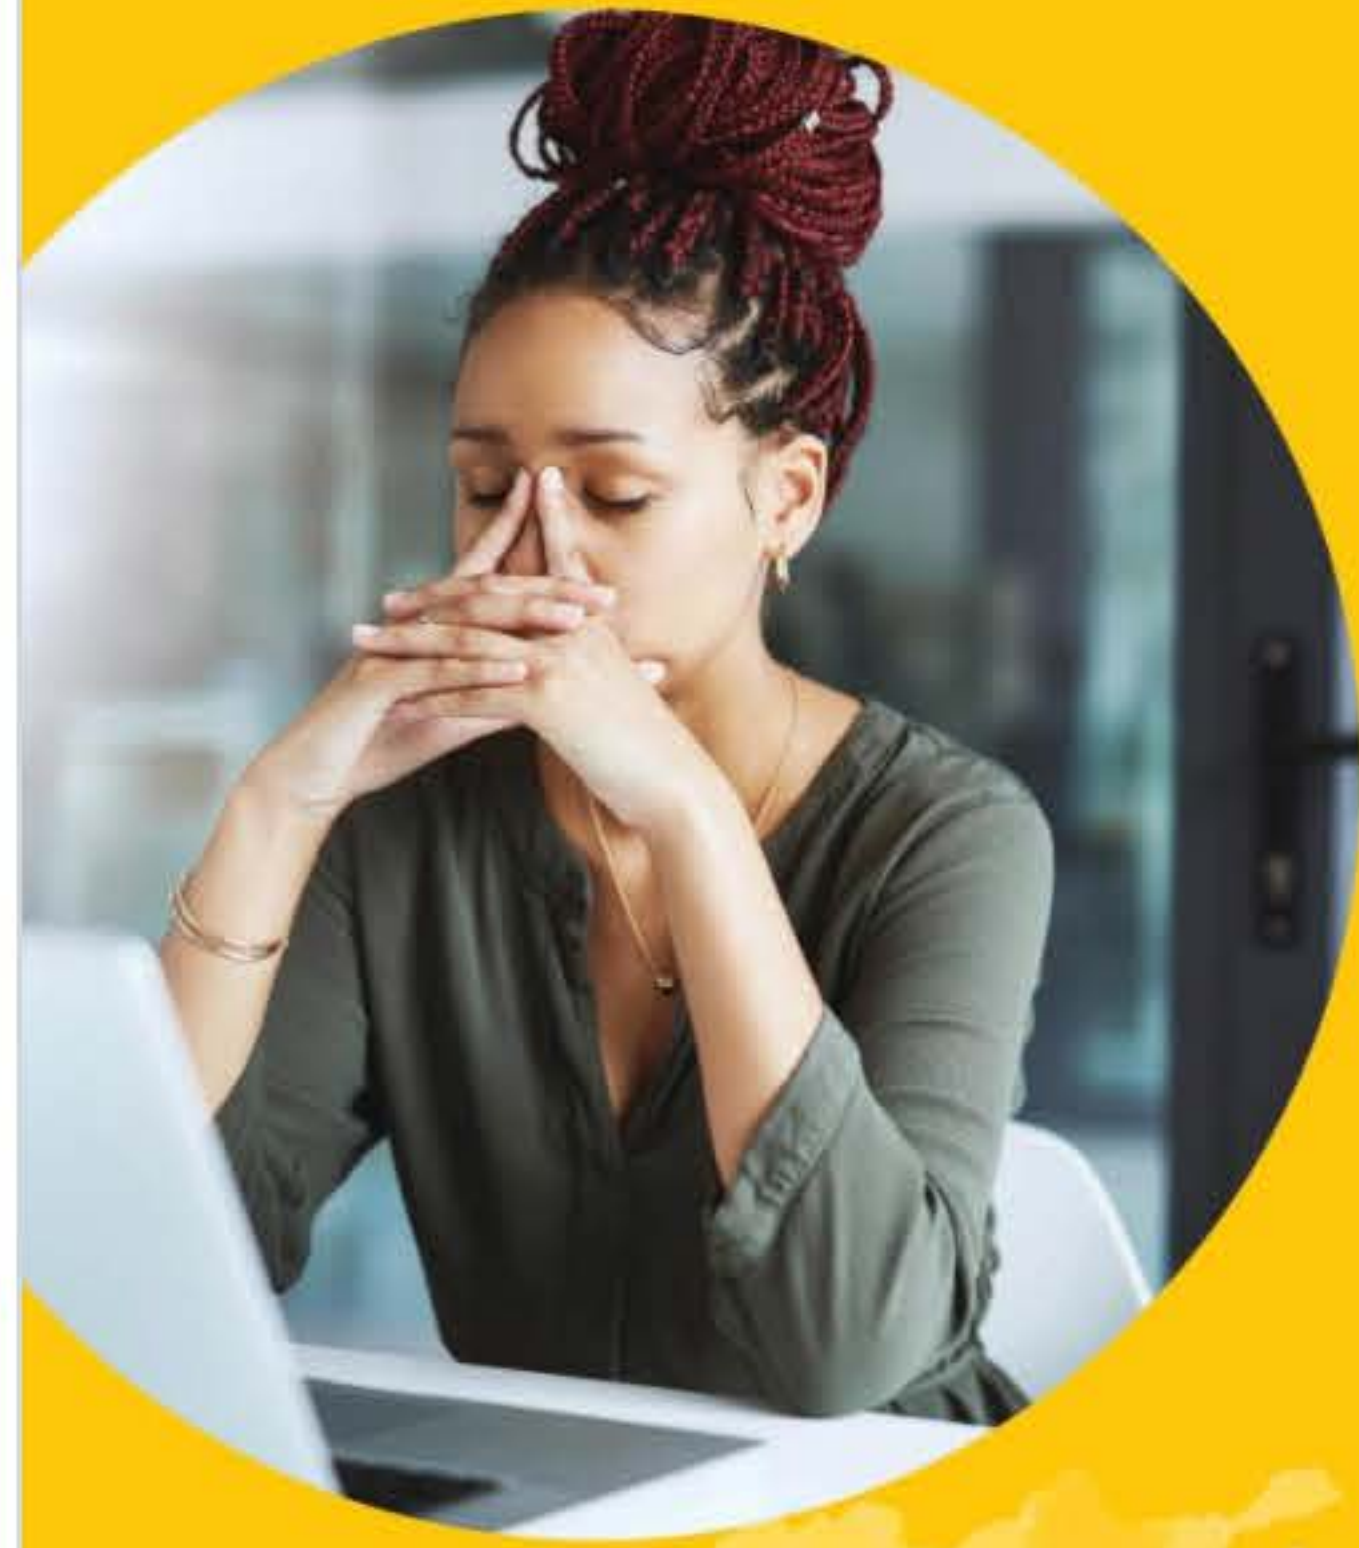

You can also find a mentor outside of your office to give you a different perspective.

Don't Settle for Less

Does it ever feel like your employer is getting more out of the relationship than you? You're not alone.

According to Forbes, many people quit as a result of feeling unappreciated, overworked or undervalued. You deserve to have your hard work and determination rewarded through both higher pay and advancement.

8:17 AM · Feb 20, 2021 · Sprout Social

6 Retweets 33 Likes

