FOREVER GRATEFUL

Abigail and Aarran

Abigail and her husband Aarran traded in their work-filled world in favour of a lifestyle that is full of travel, time and family...

How did you hear about Forever?

Just over two years ago I had some hair extensions put in for my wedding and I met my now sponsor. We were definitely destined to meet; we got chatting about life and about this opportunity and I guess you could say the rest is history. Who would have thought that two years later that lady would be my sponsor in a business that has given us both the life of our dreams? I will be forever grateful to have met her and to have had her training and guidance.

What strategies have you adopted to help you work the business?

I'm not naturally an organised person but I quickly realised time management and planning would be key. For the first year of my business I was still working full-time and commuting four hours a day; this was hard going with a two-year-old and a husband who also worked a fifty-hour week! I've now learnt to utilise my time both wisely and productively, but I've also connected with my goals. I wear my 'why' like a coat of armour; nothing will prevent me from becoming a success for my family. My attitude, passion and energy developed this business, and I've never lost focus or excitement for helping others achieve.

How has achieving Sapphire benefitted your family?

Sapphire has given us something that no amount of money can buy – each other. We now spend our days together as a family, we don't have the pressures of a usual working day, and we don't need help with childcare. I always knew I wanted to be the mum at the school gates, but it was even more rewarding to see Aarran as the proud dad. Sapphire has given us our dream home and an additional income in the form of a bonus; this pays us more than both of our previous annual salaries combined on top of an already life-changing income provided by Forever!

This last year I have seen so much of the world and I am just so grateful. I was never well-travelled before but now I have made memories that will last a lifetime. But the most special thing that Forever has given me actually makes me cry... before Forever I had never felt like I was worth much; I believed I was of no benefit to others and suffered with low self-esteem. Having a debilitating condition meant I had spent the last nine years feeling useless. Some days I struggle to put on my shoes and I am unable to lift my son ninety-nine percent of the time, but Forever has given me that self-worth. I may not be the mum that he can physically play and run around with, but I am the mum who has enabled the people he loves most in the world to be by his side every day. I promised him I would change our lives and that I would never miss another Christmas party and I meant it.

I would like to say a special thank you to my upline; they believed in me before I even believed in myself and have been by my side mentoring me every step of the way. I would also like to thank my husband, he encouraged me to find my wings and fly, my mum for supporting me every step of the way, and of course I would also like to send a heartfelt thank you to my wonderful team.
