Living for a Living..

As a kid growing up in Bexley Ohio I always dreamed of building a life where I could have total freedom & truly do what I wanted to do every single day. Once I realized that the only limits in this life are those limiting beliefs trapped in our own minds I was able to shatter those paradigms and replace them with empowering ones.

In 2013 after earning my first M&M cookie sandwich I had NO idea how I did what I did and I was obsessed to find out how and why I was able to go from rock bottom to rock star and fast.

Spending countless hours with my mentor @proctorgallagher, intense coaching and learning.. it dawned on me and I finally figured it out. Since then, I've been OBSESSED with teaching as many people as I can how to truly BREAK THE CODE and unlock their infinite potential.

I love helping people increase their awareness and achieve astronomical results in their lives and I'll never stop!! My mentor didn't stop all the way up to his very last breath and I'll do the same. ITS ALREADY DONE!!
