"I feel focused and motivated..."

I have always suffered from major stress throughout my life that has decreased my motivation to do almost anything. My mind always feels shut down yet always on overdrive. As of a few months ago, I've also started to experience moments where my stress was so bad it was hard to breath, almost like I could never actually catch my breath! These strips have made me feel like my mind has done a complete 360! No more racing thoughts, I feel more at ease and not always trying to catch my breath, and more importantly I feel focused and motivated during the day. It feels so good to be able to tackle simple daily tasks without even thinking about it or forcing myself! I have noticed that I'm not letting laundry pile up, I'm making dinner and enjoying it rather than it feeling like a chore, and things are just getting done around the house! I finally feel like myself again!
