cady.frederick I truly believe there are no jobs more important than the two I have right now. I don't know how many can really say that:

- 1.) Raising my kiddo to the best of my ability.
- 2.) Helping others with their health and wellness in a real way.

I partner with the only company I know to have:

- ★ A realistic outlook on the future
- ★ The actual science, innovation, and technology to help people truly change their health and improve their wellness
- ★ Systems that work and don't have people wasting time or money on things that do not have a return.

for those who are interested.

TONIGHT (I've been counting down
the days! 😊) I get to have early access to a product like nothing else that can significantly impact every woman. Personally, as a woman who has struggled with awful periods,
cramps, irregular cycles, mood
swings and so much more, this product is going to be a true
blessing. 🙌

It's a unique approach to hormonal health unlike anything else on the market.

Project 23 addresses the biochemical responses to each cycle phase (two formulas depending on whether you are menstruating or in menopause).

Fluctuations and symptoms (all the symptoms) aren't just due to hormones but to fluctuating metabolites and micronutrients. This product addresses these biochemical responses with easy-to-use and customizable products that sync with your cycle or menopausal needs...

WITHOUT the use of hormones OR soy isoflavones. 🤢

It's insanely amazing! I can offer a few customers early access or help you get and offer it to others. I could never have imagined where this journey was headed in the beginning, but I'm so glad to be here!

Message me if you need this, I've got you! 😊
