FIRST AMENDED CLASS ACTION COMPLAINT

COME NOW Plaintiff Maria Guadalupe Ellis, on behalf of herself and all others similarly situated, through her attorneys, and brings this action against Defendants Nike USA, Inc. and Nike Retail Services, Inc. (hereinafter referred to as “Defendants” or “Nike”); and, upon information and belief, except as to the allegations that pertain to herself, which are based upon personal knowledge, alleges as follows:

NATURE OF THE ACTION

1. Plaintiff brings this action on her own behalf and as a representative of a class of persons similarly situated who purchased Nike’s “Sustainability” Collection Products for personal, family, or household purposes.
2. In recent years, consumers have become significantly more aware of and sensitive to the impact of clothing and household products on the environment. Consumers seek, and will pay a premium for, products that are responsibly made, including products made from materials that will not negatively affect the environment.
3. As a result, demand has increased for “green” products that are made from sustainable and environmentally friendly materials.

4. Nike develops, manufactures, markets, distributes, and sells a variety of personal, family, or household products in its self-proclaimed “Sustainability” clothing line. (identified in Exhibit A attached hereto) (hereinafter the “‘Sustainability’ Collection Products” or the “Products”).¹

5. This action seeks to remedy the unlawful, unfair, deceptive, and misleading business practices of Nike with respect to the marketing and sale of the Products, which are sold throughout the State of Missouri and the United States.

6. In an effort to increase profits and to gain an advantage over its lawfully acting competitors, Nike falsely and misleadingly markets the Products as made with recycled, organic, and sustainable materials which reduce waste and carbon. Nike labels the Products with a hangtag that claims the following: “Sustainability;” “made with recycled and organic fibers” which “reduces waste and our carbon footprint;” support a “Move to Zero” which “is Nike’s journey toward zero carbon and zero waste to help protect the future of sport;” and contain a circular symbol that means that the Products are made with “sustainable” materials. Contrary to these representations, the Products are not made with any “recycled and organic fibers” which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint,” do not support a “Move To Zero carbon and zero waste,” and are not made with any “sustainable” materials because the Products are made with virgin synthetic and non-organic materials that are harmful to the environment. Thus, the Products are not made from any recycled, organic, and/or sustainable materials that are less harmful and more beneficial to the environment. The marketing and labeling deceives consumers into believing that they are receiving Products that are made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint,” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste,” but Nike’s Products do not live up to these claims.

7. Conscious of consumers’ increased interest in more “green” products that are made from recycled and organic fibers and sustainable materials, and willingness to pay more for products perceived to meet this preference, Nike misleadingly, illegally, and deceptively seeks to capitalize on these consumer “green” trends.

8. Plaintiff purchased the Products in reliance on Nike’s representations that these Products are made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint,” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste.” She would not have purchased the Products if she had known that they were not made with any recycled, organic, and/or sustainable materials.

9. Consumers expect products that are marketed as made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste” to be made from recycled and organic fibers and sustainable materials that are less harmful and more beneficial to the environment.

10. Plaintiff and the Class reasonably believed Nike’s false and misleading representations. Nike knew or reasonably should have known that its representations regarding the Products were false, deceptive, misleading, and unlawful under Missouri law and common law.

11. Nike misrepresented, and/or concealed, suppressed, or omitted material facts in connection with the sale, distribution, and/or advertisement of the Products.

12. Plaintiff and the Class Members paid a premium for the Products over comparable products that did not purport to be made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint,” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste.” Given that Plaintiff and Class Members paid a premium for the Products based on Nike’s representations that they are made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint,” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste,” Plaintiff and the Class Members suffered an injury in the amount of the purchase price and/or the premium paid.

13. Plaintiff brings claims against Nike individually and on behalf of the Class Members who purchased the Products during the applicable statute of limitations period (the “Class Period”) for (1) violation of the Missouri Merchandising Practices Act (“MMPA”), § 407.010 et. seq.; (2) unjust enrichment; (3) negligent misrepresentation; and (4) fraud.

PARTIES

14. At all relevant times, Plaintiff Maria Guadalupe Ellis was and is a citizen of the State of Missouri, residing in St. Louis County. During the Class Period, Plaintiff has purchased Nike Products for personal, family, or household use from a Dick’s Sporting Goods store in St. Louis County, Missouri. Plaintiff’s purchases include, without limitation, Nike “Sustainability” Clothing Collection Nike Dri-FIT One Women’s Standard Fit Short-Sleeve Cropped Top, Nike Dri-FIT Rise 365 Men’s Short-Sleeve Running Top, and Nike Dri-FIT One Women's Luxe Standard Fit Tank in the State of Missouri. Accordingly, Plaintiff has been injured as a result of Defendant’s unlawful conduct alleged herein.

15. Plaintiff purchased the Nike Products because she saw the hangtag labeling, marketing, and advertising, which represented that the Products are made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint,” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste.” Plaintiff relied on Defendants’ false, misleading, and deceptive representations that the Products are made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint,” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste.” She understood this to mean that the Products were made from recycled and/or organic fibers and sustainable materials which reduce waste and carbon making the Products less harmful and more beneficial to the environment. Plaintiff would not have purchased the Products at all, or would have been willing to pay a substantially reduced price for the Nike Products, if she had known that they were not made from any recycled and/or organic fibers and sustainable materials that are less harmful and more beneficial to the environment. Plaintiff would purchase the Products in the future if Defendants changed the composition of the Products so that they conformed to their “made with recycled and organic fibers” and made with “sustainable” materials marketing, packaging, and labeling, or if the packages and labels were corrected and she could trust that they were correct.

16. Defendant Nike USA, Inc. is an Oregon corporation with its principal place of business in Beaverton, OR. Nike USA, Inc. is a multinational company that is engaged in the design, development, manufacturing, and worldwide marketing and sales of footwear, apparel, equipment, accessories, and services. Nike USA, Inc.’s Products are sold to consumers through its website and at retail stores. Nike USA, Inc. conducts business, including advertising, distributing, and/or selling the Nike “Sustainability” Collection Products, throughout Missouri, including the County of St. Louis, Missouri, and the United States.

17. Defendant Nike Retail Services, Inc. is an Oregon corporation with its principal place of business in Beaverton, OR. Nike Retail Services, Inc. is a multinational company that is engaged in the worldwide retails sales of footwear, apparel, equipment, accessories, and services. Nike Retail Services, Inc. conducts business, including selling the Nike “Sustainability”

Collection Products, throughout Missouri, including the County of St. Louis, Missouri, and the United States.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

18. This Court has subject matter jurisdiction pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d)(2)(A) because this case is a class action where the aggregate claims of all members of the proposed Classes are in excess of $5,000,000, exclusive of interests and costs, and Plaintiffs, as well as most members of the proposed Classes, which total more than 100 class members, are citizens of states different from the state of Defendants.

19. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendant because Defendant has sufficient minimum contacts in Missouri or otherwise intentionally did avail themselves of the markets within Missouri, through their sale of the Product in Missouri and to Missouri consumers.

20. Venue is proper in this District pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1391(a)(1) because Defendants regularly conduct business throughout this District, and a substantial part of the events and/or omissions giving rise to this action occurred in this District.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

21. In recent years, consumers have become increasingly concerned about buying clothing that is made from recycled, organic, and sustainable materials that are less harmful and more beneficial to the environment. Consumers have poured billions of dollars into the “green” and environmentally friendly clothing market.

22. In response to consumers’ desire for more environmentally friendly clothing products that are made from recycled, organic, and sustainable materials, many companies “greenwash” their products by deceptively claiming that their clothing is made from materials that are recycled, organic, sustainable, and environmentally friendly. Unfortunately, rather than creating sustainable and environmentally friendly clothing products that consumers desire, many companies, like Nike, have chosen instead to “greenwash” their products through deceptive labeling, suggesting and outright stating that their clothing products are made from recycled, organic, and sustainable materials, and environmentally friendly when, in fact, they are not. Thus, the clothing products give the false and misleading impression that they are less harmful or more beneficial to the environment than they really are.

The Federal Trade Commission Regulations and Guidance

23. Recognizing this problem, the United States Federal Trade Commission (“FTC”) created the “Green Guides” to help companies avoid making misleading and deceptive claims.²

24. The Green Guides state that “[t]he following general principles apply to all environmental marketing claims, including those described in §§ 260.4 – 16. Claims should comport with all relevant provision of these guides.” 16 C.F.R. § 260.3. Further, the Green Guides’ general principles state:

- (c) Overstatement of environmental attribute: An environmental marketing claim should not overstate, directly or by implication, an environmental attribute or benefit. Marketers should not state or imply environmental benefits if the benefits are negligible.

Id. (emphasis added).

25. In addressing “General Environmental Benefit Claims,” the Green Guides state:

- (a) It is deceptive to misrepresent, directly or by implication, that a product, package, or service offers a general environmental benefit.
- (b) Unqualified general environmental benefit claims are difficult to interpret and likely convey a wide range of meanings. In many cases, such claims likely convey that the product, package, or service has specific and far-reaching environmental benefits and may convey that the item or service has no negative environmental impact. Because it is highly unlikely that marketers can substantiate all reasonable interpretations of these claims, marketers should not make unqualified general environmental benefit claims.

- (c) Marketers can qualify general environmental benefit claims to prevent deception about the nature of the environmental benefit being asserted. To avoid deception, marketers should use clear and prominent qualifying language that limits the claim to a specific benefit or benefits. Marketers should not imply that any specific benefit is significant if it is, in fact, negligible. If a qualified general claim conveys that a product is more environmentally beneficial overall because of the particular touted benefit(s), marketers should analyze trade-offs resulting from the benefit(s) to determine if they can substantiate this claim.
- (d) Even if a marketer explains, and has substantiation for, the product's specific environmental attributes, this explanation will not adequately qualify a general environmental benefit claim if the advertisement otherwise implies deceptive claims. Therefore, marketers should ensure that the advertisement's context does not imply deceptive environmental claims.

16 C.F.R. § 260.4 (emphasis added).

26. The Green Guides also provide examples of General Environmental Benefit Claims in order to “provide the Commission’s views on how reasonable consumers likely interpret certain claims.”³ The FTC provides the following relevant examples:⁴

Example 1: The brand name “Eco-friendly” likely conveys that the product has farreaching environmental benefits and may convey that the product has no negative environmental impact. Because it is highly unlikely that the marketer can substantiate these claims, the use of such a brand name is deceptive. A claim, such as “Eco-friendly: made with recycled materials,” would not be deceptive if: (1) the statement “made with recycled materials” is clear and prominent; (2) the marketer can substantiate that the entire product or package, excluding minor, incidental components, is made from recycled material; (3) making the product with recycled materials makes the product more environmentally beneficial overall; and (4) the advertisement’s context does not imply other deceptive claims.

Example 3: A marketer’s advertisement features a picture of a laser printer in a bird’s nest balancing on a tree branch, surrounded by a dense forest. In green type, the marketer states, “Buy our printer. Make a change.” Although the advertisement does not expressly claim that the product has environmental benefits, the featured images, in combination with the text, likely convey that the product has far-reaching environmental benefits and may convey that the product has no negative environmental impact. Because it is highly unlikely that the marketer can substantiate these claims, this advertisement is deceptive.

Id. (emphasis added).

27. The Green Guides also specifically address “Recycled Content Claims”:

(a) It is deceptive to misrepresent, directly or by implication, that a product or package is made of recycled content. Recycled content includes recycled raw material, as well as used, reconditioned, and re-manufactured components.

(b) It is deceptive to represent, directly or by implication, that an item contains recycled content unless it is composed of materials that have been recovered or otherwise diverted from the waste stream, either during the manufacturing process (pre-consumer), or after consumer use (post-consumer).

16 C.F.R. § 260.13 (emphasis added).

28. The Green Guides further require marketers to ensure that their claims are supported by a reasonable basis prior to making the claim.⁵ A reasonable basis is defined as competent and reliable scientific evidence, such as “tests, analyses, research, or studies that have been conducted and evaluated in an objective manner by qualified persons and are generally accepted in the profession to yield accurate and reliable results.”⁶ “Such evidence should be sufficient in quality and quantity based on standards generally accepted in the relevant scientific fields, when considered in light of the entire body of relevant and reliable scientific evidence, to substantiate that each of the marketing claims is true.”⁷

29. Moreover, the advertising and marketing of the Products, which are considered textile products, are subject to the Textile Act and Rules, codified as 16 C.F.R. § 303, et seq. (hereinafter the “Textile Act”).

30. Under the Textile Act, “the combination of required information and non-required information” may not be misleading.⁸ Relatedly, “any non-required information or representations placed on the product shall not minimize, detract from, or conflict with required information and shall not be false, deceptive, or misleading.”⁹

Nike’s False and Misleading Representations

31. Nike has misrepresented the Products in its self-proclaimed sustainable clothing line as made with recycled, organic, and sustainable materials which reduce waste and carbon throughout the Class Period.

32. Nike’s marketing materials are replete with statements that the Products are made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials” which reduce waste and carbon.

33. Nike labels the Products “Sustainability” with a hangtag that claims that they are “made with recycled and organic fibers” which “reduces waste and our carbon footprint,” support a “Move to Zero” which “is Nike’s journey toward zero carbon and zero waste to help protect the future of sport,” and contain a circular symbol that means that the Products are made with “sustainable” materials.¹⁰

⁸ 16 C.F.R. § 303.16(a).

⁹ 16 C.F.R. § 303.16(c).

¹⁰ Nike defines what the circular symbol that it places on the Products and their labels means as follows: “Taking Action, Together. Did you know? The ‘Sunburst’ symbol was created in the 1970s as a circular option where asymmetry of the Swoosh logo didn’t work. Since then, in the same nature of our circular design philosophy, we’ve repurposed the logo. Today, when you see this logo, you see one small step in our journey to Move to Zero.”

<https://www.nike.com/sustainability/services> (emphasis added) (last accessed on May 3, 2023).

34. In addition, Nike’s marketing, advertisements, and social media for the “Sustainability” Collection Products centers around “green” imagery with models and cartoon characters surrounded by lots of flowers and plush green plants.

35. Finally, during the Class Period, the “Sustainability” section of Nike’s website, <https://www.nike.com/sustainability/>, contained the following statements that the Products are made with “recycled,” “organic,” and “sustainable” materials that are less harmful and more beneficial to the environment. tally friendly:

BCI works to improve cotton farming globally, sourcing cotton through a system of Mass Balance. All of our organic cotton is grown without fossil fuel-derived pesticides or synthetic fertilizers and we also recycle more than 1.5 million pounds of cotton each year.”¹⁶

- “Recycled Nylon

Our recycled nylon is transformed from a variety of materials, like carpet and used fish nets. The nylon is cleaned, sorted, and converted into flakes, all before undergoing a chemical or mechanical recycling process. The new recycled nylon yarn reduces our carbon emissions by up to 50% compared to virgin nylon.”¹⁷

36. Based on these made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste” representations, reasonable consumers, including Plaintiff, believe that the Products are made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials that are less harmful and more beneficial to the environment. This understanding is reinforced by the Products’ labeling, marketing, and advertising which further represents that they are “Green” products which are known to be made from recycled, organic, sustainable, and environmentally friendly materials. However, in spite of the labeling and marketing representations, the Products are not made from any “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials” which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste” because the Products are made with virgin synthetic and non-organic materials that are harmful to the environment.

¹⁵ Id. (emphasis added) (last accessed on May 3, 2023).

¹⁶ Id. (last accessed on July 25, 2023).

¹⁷ Id. (emphasis added) (last accessed on May 3, 2023).

37. Representing that a product is made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste” is a statement of fact.

38. Consumers reasonably believe that a product in a self-proclaimed sustainable clothing line labeled and marketed as made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste” to be made from recycled, organic, sustainable, and environmentally friendly materials that are less harmful and more beneficial to the environment.

The Products Are Not Made from Any “Recycled and Organic Fibers” and “Sustainable” Materials

39. Nike’s representations that the Products are made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduces waste and our carbon footprint” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste” are false, misleading, and deceptive because the Products are not made from any “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials that are less harmful and more beneficial to the environment.

40. Despite claiming that the Nike “Sustainability” Collection Products are made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials, they are all made with virgin synthetic and non-organic materials. In fact, by Nike’s own admission, none of the 2,028 Nike “Sustainability” Collection Products identified in Exhibit A attached hereto are actually made with any recycled fibers, organic fibers, and/or sustainable materials. Exhibit A.

41. Thus, none of the Nike “Sustainability” Collection Products are made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduces waste and our carbon footprint” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste.” Id.

42. The Nike “Sustainability” Collection Products are all made from plastic-based, conventionally grown, and/or non-organic materials. Id. Synthetic materials like polyester, a form of plastic derived from oil, shed plastic particles, called microplastics, with wash and wear. They are a prime source of microplastic pollution, which is especially harmful to marine life. The Products send microplastics into the oceans from the washing of plastic-based textiles such as polyester and nylon. Textiles are the largest source of microplastic pollution in the world’s oceans. According to a U.S. Geological Survey, 71% of microplastics found in samples of river water came from textiles.

43. Additionally, microplastics harm not only wildlife, but also make their way up the food chain to humans, raising a host of health risks.

44. Further, synthetic, plastic-based materials like polyester are not biodegradable or recyclable, require loads of energy for extraction and processing, and are derived from nonrenewable resources.

45. Conventionally grown cotton is bad for the environment because of its high water consumption and pollution, soil degradation, greenhouse gas emissions, and use of harmful pesticides and fertilizers.

46. Moreover, non-organic cotton seeds are hugely dependent on chemicals because they are typically treated with fungicides or insecticides, and are always genetically modified.

47. Because the Products are made from virgin plastic-based, synthetic, and non-organic materials, the Nike “Sustainability” Collection Products are not “made with recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste,” rendering Nike’s representations that the Products are “made with recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste” false, misleading, and deceptive.

48. Nike’s representations are further false, misleading, and deceptive because hundreds of other clothing products from its “Sustainability” Collection that are not included in Plaintiff’s claims that Nike also labels with a hangtag that claims they are “made with recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste” are actually made with recycled, organic, sustainable, and environmentally friendly materials such as recycled polyester, recycled nylon, and organic cotton. it B.

49. Thus, Nike does not misrepresent that all of the clothing products from its “Sustainability” Collection are “made with recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste.”

50. The fact that other clothing products from Nike’s “Sustainability” Collection that are not included in Plaintiff’s claims are actually made with recycled, organic, sustainable, and environmentally friendly materials confirms that Nike’s representations that the Nike “Sustainability” Collection Products are “made with recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste” are false, deceptive, and misleading.

51. Nike is thus aware that the Nike “Sustainability” Collection Products do not contain any recycled, organic, and/or sustainable materials but chooses to misrepresent as much on the labels of the Products.

52. Thus, the Products give the false and misleading impression that they are “made with recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste,” and that they are less harmful or more beneficial to the environment than what they really are.

Plaintiff and Reasonable Consumers Were Misled by the Products

53. Given that the Products do not contain any recycled, organic, and/or sustainable materials, Nike’s representations that they are “made with recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste” are deceptive and misleading.

54. By misleadingly and deceptively labeling and marketing the Products, as described herein, Nike sought to take advantage of consumers’ desire for true clothing products that are made with recycled, organic, sustainable, and environmentally friendly materials. Nike has done so at the expense of unwitting consumers and Nike’s lawfully acting competitors, over whom Nike maintains an unfair competitive advantage.

55. A review of consumer sales between 2013 and 2018 by researchers at the Stern Center for Sustainable Business, of New York University, found that products that were highlighted as “sustainable” would sell much faster than products which were not.¹⁸ So, by giving the impression that they are an environmentally conscious company, and by selling products that are marketed as “made with recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste,” Nike is creating a massive advantage in terms of sales and profit. This is what lies at the heart of its sustainable style focus.

56. The made with “recycled and organic fibers and “sustainable” materials representations were and are material to reasonable consumers, including Plaintiff, in making purchasing decisions.

57. Plaintiff relied on Nike’s misrepresentations, described herein, in making the decision to purchase the Products.

58. At the time Plaintiff purchased the Products, Plaintiff did not know, and had no reason to know, that the Products’ labeling and advertising were false, misleading, deceptive, and unlawful as set forth herein.

59. Consumers lack the meaningful ability to test or independently ascertain or verify whether a product is made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste,” especially at the point of sale. Consumers would not know the true nature of the clothing’s materials merely by reading the products’ label.

60. Discovering that the Products are not made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste” because they are not made from recycled, organic, sustainable, and environmentally friendly materials that are actually less harmful and more beneficial to the environment requires an investigation and knowledge beyond that of the average consumer. That is why, even though all of the Products’ materials are identified on the Products’ labeling affixed to the inside of the garments, the reasonable consumer would not understand – nor are they expected to understand - that these materials are not recycled, organic, sustainable, and/or environmentally damaging.

61. Moreover, the reasonable consumer is not expected or required to scour the Products' materials in order to confirm or debunk Nike's prominent claims, representations, and warranties that the Products are made with "recycled and organic fibers" and "sustainable" materials which "reduce waste and our carbon footprint" and support a "move to zero carbon and zero waste."

62. Nike materially misled and failed to adequately inform reasonable consumers, including Plaintiff, that the Products are not made with recycled, organic, and/or sustainable materials. A reasonable consumer understands Nike's made with "recycled and organic fibers" and "sustainable" materials which "reduce waste and our carbon footprint" and support a "move to zero carbon and zero waste" claims to mean exactly what Nike proclaims them the mean – that the Products are made from recycled, organic, sustainable, and environmentally friendly materials that are actually less harmful and more beneficial to the environment.

63. Nike's representations that the Products are made with "recycled and organic fibers" and "sustainable" materials which "reduce waste and our carbon footprint" and support a "move to zero carbon and zero waste" induced consumers, including Plaintiff and Class Members, to pay a premium to purchase the Products. Plaintiff and Class Members relied on Nike's false and misleading misrepresentations in purchasing the Products at some premium price above comparable alternatives that are not represented to be made with "recycled and organic fibers" and "sustainable" materials which "reduce waste and our carbon footprint" and support a "move to zero carbon and zero waste." If not for Nike's misrepresentations, Plaintiff and Class Members would not have been willing to purchase the Products at a premium price. Accordingly, they have suffered an injury as a result of Nike's misrepresentations.

64. Nike knew that consumers will pay more for a product labeled made with "recycled and organic fibers" and "sustainable" materials which "reduce waste and our carbon footprint" and support a "move to zero carbon and zero waste," and intended to deceive Plaintiff and putative class members by marketing and labeling the Products as purportedly made with "recycled and organic fibers" and "sustainable" materials which "reduce waste and our carbon footprint" and support a "move to zero carbon and zero waste."

65. Nike has profited enormously from its false and misleading representations that the Products are made with "recycled and organic fibers" and "sustainable" materials which "reduce waste and our carbon footprint" and support a "move to zero carbon and zero waste." The purpose of this action is to require Nike to undertake a corrective advertising campaign and to provide consumers with monetary relief for Nike's deceptive and misleading product claims.

66. Plaintiff would not have purchased the Products if she had known the truth. Accordingly, based on Nike's material misrepresentations and omissions, reasonable consumers, including Plaintiff, purchased the Products to their detriment.

67. It is possible, however, that Plaintiff would purchase the Products in the future if they were properly labeled, and/or the Products complied with the labeling and advertising statements. Specifically, Plaintiff would like to purchase the Products again if the Products were made from recycled, organic, sustainable, and environmentally friendly materials that are less harmful and more beneficial to the environment.

CLASS ACTION ALLEGATIONS

68. Plaintiff and Class Members hereby incorporate and re-allege, as though fully set forth herein, each and every allegation set forth in the preceding paragraphs of this Complaint.

69. Plaintiff brings this case as a class action that may be properly maintained under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23 on behalf of herself and all persons in the United States, who within the relevant statute of limitations periods, purchased the Products for personal, family, or household use (“National Class” or the “Class”).

70. Plaintiff brings this case as a class action that may be properly maintained under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 23 on behalf of herself and seeks to represent a subclass defined as all Missouri residents, who within the relevant statute of limitations periods, purchased the Products for personal, family, or household use (“Missouri Subclass”).

71. Excluded from the Classes:

- i. Defendants, any entity in which a Defendant has a controlling interest or which has a controlling interest in Defendants, and Defendants’ legal representatives, predecessors, successors, assigns, and employees;
- ii. Counsel and members of the immediate family of counsel for Plaintiff herein;
- iii. The judge and staff to whom this case was assigned, and any member of the judge’s immediate family;
- iv. Individuals asserting claims for personal injury; and
- v. Persons or entities that purchase the Products for sole purposes of resale.

72. Plaintiff reserves the right to revise the class definitions with greater specificity or division after having an opportunity to conduct discovery.

73. The proposed Classes meet all requirements for class certification. The members of the Classes satisfy the numerosity standards. Plaintiff has a good faith belief that there are tens of thousands of Class Members. Defendants have sold millions of units of the Products. As a result, joinder of all Class Members in a single action is impracticable. Class Members may be informed of the pendency of this Class Action by published and broadcast notice.

74. Plaintiff's claims are typical of those of the Class because Plaintiff, like all members of the Class, purchased, in a typical consumer setting, the "Sustainability" Collection Products in connection with Defendants' false, misleading, and deceptive statements. Plaintiff and Class Members have all sustained damages in that each paid the purchase price for the Products and sustained damages from Defendants' wrongful conduct.

75. Plaintiff will fairly and adequately protect the interests of the Class and the Subclass and is an adequate representative of the Class and Subclass because she is a member of the Class and the Subclass. Plaintiff has no interests which conflict with the interests of the members of the Class and Subclass she seeks to represent. The interests of members of the Class and Subclass will be fairly and adequately protected by Plaintiff and her undersigned counsel, who have extensive experience prosecuting complex class action litigation.

76. There is a well-defined community of interest in the questions of law and fact involved in this case. Common questions of law and/or fact exist as to all members of the Class, which predominate over any questions affecting solely individual members of the Class. The questions of law and fact common to the Class arising from Defendants' actions include, without limitation, the following:

- a. Whether Defendants misrepresented and/or failed to disclose material facts concerning the Products;

- b. Whether Defendants' conduct was unfair and/or deceptive;
- c. Whether Defendants have been unjustly enriched as a result of the unlawful, fraudulent, and unfair conduct alleged in this Complaint such that it would be inequitable for Defendants to retain the benefits conferred upon them by Plaintiff and the classes;
- d. Whether Plaintiff and the Classes have sustained damages with respect to the claims asserted, and if so, the proper measure of their damages; and
- e. Whether injunctive, declaratory, and/or other equitable relief is warranted.

77. With respect to the Missouri Subclass, additional questions of law and fact common to the members that predominate over questions that may affect individual members include whether Defendants violated the Missouri Merchandising and Practices Act.

78. These and other questions of law and/or fact are common to the Classes and predominate over any questions affecting only individual members of the Class and Subclass. The resolution of common questions in this case will resolve the claims of both Plaintiff and the Classes.

79. A class action is superior, with respect to considerations of consistency, economy, efficiency, fairness, and equity, to other available methods for the fair and efficient adjudication of this controversy. The prosecution of separate actions by members of the Class and the Subclass would impose heavy burdens upon the courts and Defendants, and would create a risk of inconsistent or varying adjudications of the questions of law and/or fact common to the Class and the Subclass. In addition, the prosecution of separate actions by members of the Class and the Subclass would establish incompatible standards of conduct for any party opposing the Class and the Subclass. Also, the prosecution of separate actions by individual members of the Class and the Subclass, if fully adjudicated, as a practical matter, would be dispositive of the interests of the other members of the Class and the Subclass not parties to that particular adjudication and, as such, would substantially impair or impede upon those members of the Class and the Subclass' abilities to protect their interests. A class action, on the other hand, would achieve substantial economies of time, effort, and expense, and would assure uniformity of decision as to persons similarly situated without sacrificing procedural fairness or bringing about other undesirable results.

80. The interest of members of the Class and the Subclass in individually controlling the prosecution of separate actions is theoretical rather than practical. The Class and Subclass have a high degree of cohesion, and prosecution of the action through representatives would be unobjectionable. The amounts at stake for members of the Class and the Subclass, while substantial in the aggregate, may not be great enough individually to enable them to maintain separate suits against Defendants. Plaintiff does not anticipate any difficulty in the management of this action as a class action.

COUNT I

Any act, use or employment declared unlawful by this subsection violates this subsection whether committed before, during or after the sale, advertisement or solicitation.

89. Plaintiff and Missouri Subclass Members purchased the "Sustainability" Collection Products, products that were falsely and deceptively represented as made with "recycled and organic fibers" which "reduces waste and our carbon footprint," a "Move To Zero carbon and zero waste," made with "sustainable materials," and environmentally friendly as stated above, in violation of the Missouri Merchandising Practices Act and as a result Plaintiff suffered economic damages, in that the products she and other Missouri Subclass Members purchased were worth less than the products they thought they had purchased had Defendants' representations been true.

90. Defendants' misrepresentations regarding the "Sustainability" Collection Products are material in that they relate to matters that are important to consumers and/or are likely to affect the purchasing decisions or conduct of consumers, including Plaintiff and members of the Missouri Subclass.

91. Plaintiff and Missouri Subclass Members purchased the "Sustainability" Collection Products for personal, family, or household purposes.

92. Plaintiff and Missouri Subclass Members reasonably and justifiably relied on Defendants' misleading and fraudulent representations about the "Sustainability" Collection Products when purchasing them.

93. At all times relevant herein, Plaintiff was unaware that the "Sustainability" Collection Products were not made with "recycled and organic fibers" and "sustainable" materials which "reduce waste and our carbon footprint," and support a "move to zero carbon and zero waste," and that they were not made from materials that are less harmful and more beneficial to the environment.

Defendants' representations that the "Sustainability" Collection Products are made with "recycled and organic fibers" and "sustainable" materials which "reduce waste and our carbon footprint," and support a "move to zero carbon and zero waste" are a violation of the Missouri Merchandising Practices Act, as further stated herein, and was a material misrepresentation.

97. The foregoing acts and practices of Defendants constituted unfair and unlawful practices, and deceptive conduct, in violation of the Missouri Merchandising Practices Act.

98. As a direct proximate result of the above-described practices, Plaintiff and the Missouri Subclass Members suffered ascertainable loss of money due to the purchasing of the "Sustainability" Collection Products.

99. Plaintiff and Missouri Subclass Members have suffered an ascertainable loss caused by Defendants because they would not have purchased the "Sustainability" Collection Products or would have paid significantly less for the Products, had they known that Defendants' conduct was misleading and fraudulent.

100. Appropriate injunctive relief is necessary to prevent Defendants' MMPA violations from continuing. If Defendants' violations of the MMPA are not stopped by such injunctive relief, Plaintiff and the members of the Missouri Subclass will continue to suffer injury.

101. Defendants' misrepresentations and omissions were material because they were likely to deceive reasonable consumers.

102. As a direct and proximate result of Defendants' deceptive acts and practices, Plaintiff and the Missouri Subclass have suffered and will continue to suffer injury, ascertainable losses of money or property, and monetary and non-monetary damages, including not receiving the benefit of their bargain in purchasing the Products.

103. Plaintiff and other members of the Missouri Subclass lost money or property as a result of Defendants' violations because: (a) they would not have purchased the Products on the same terms if they knew that the Products were not made with "recycled and organic fibers" and "sustainable" materials which "reduce waste and our carbon footprint," and support a "move to zero carbon and zero waste;" (b) they paid a substantial price premium compared to other household clothing products due to Defendants' misrepresentations and deceptions; and (c) the Products do not have the characteristics, uses, or benefits as promised.

104. Plaintiff and the Missouri Subclass seek all monetary and non-monetary relief allowed by law, including treble damages, attorneys' fees and costs, and any additional relief this Court deems necessary or proper.

105. WHEREFORE, Plaintiff and the Missouri Subclass pray for the relief requested in the Prayer for Relief set forth below in this Complaint.

109. As described further herein, whether a product is made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint,” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste” is a fact which may “induce a reasonable consumer to act, respond or change his/her behavior in any substantial manner.”

110. Defendants’ representations that the Products are made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint,” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste” – when the Products are not made from recycled, organic, sustainable, and environmentally friendly materials that are less harmful and more beneficial to the environment – is a violation of the Missouri Merchandising Practices Act, as further stated herein, and was a material misrepresentation.

118. The MMPA prohibits as an unlawful practice the act, use or employment of the “concealment, suppression or omission of any material fact” in connection with the sale or advertisement of any merchandise in trade or commerce. §407.020.1, RSMo.

119. A “material fact” is defined as “any fact which a reasonable consumer would likely consider to be important in making a purchasing decision, or which would be likely to induce a person to manifest his/her assent, or which the seller knows would be likely to induce a particular consumer to manifest his/her assent, or which would be likely to induce a reasonable consumer to act, respond or change his/her behavior in any substantial manner.” 15 CSR 60-9.010(1)(C).

120. “Concealment of a material fact” is defined as “any method, act, use or practice which operates to hide or keep material facts from consumers.” 15 CSR 60-9.110(1).

122. Defendants’ actions as alleged herein constitute the concealment and omission of material facts.

123. Among other things, Defendants concealed and omitted the material facts that the Products are not made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint,” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste.”

124. As described further herein, the representation that a product is made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint,” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste” is a fact which may “induce a reasonable consumer to act, respond or change his/her behavior in any substantial manner.”

128. Plaintiff purchased the Products for personal, family, or household purposes.

129. Plaintiff suffered an ascertainable loss as a result of Defendants' unlawful conduct because the actual value of the Products as purchased was less than the value of the Products as represented. In addition, the Products are legally worthless.

131. Plaintiff hereby incorporates and re-alleges, as though fully set forth herein, each and every allegation set forth in the preceding paragraphs of this Complaint.

132. Plaintiff brings this Count individually and on behalf of the members of the Missouri Subclass.

133. 134. A "material fact" is defined as "any fact which a reasonable consumer would likely consider to be important in making a purchasing decision, or which would be likely to induce a person to manifest his/her assent, or which the seller knows would be likely to induce a particular consumer to manifest his/her assent, or which would be likely to induce a reasonable consumer to act, respond or change his/her behavior in any substantial manner." 15 CSR 60-9.010(1)(C).

As described further herein, the representation that a product is made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint,” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste” is a fact which may “induce a reasonable consumer to act, respond or change his/her behavior in any substantial manner.”

139. Defendants’ hangtag labeling, marketing, and advertising for the Products does not disclose that the Products are not made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint,” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste,” and that they are not made from materials that are less harmful and more beneficial to the environment.

140. As described further herein, whether a product is made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint,” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste” is a fact which may “induce a reasonable consumer to act, respond or change his/her behavior in any substantial manner.”

footprint,” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste,” and that they are not made from materials that are less harmful and more beneficial to the environment was a violation of the Missouri Merchandising Practices Act, as further stated herein, and was a material omission.

142. Plaintiff purchased the Products for personal, family, or household purposes.

143. Plaintiff suffered an ascertainable loss as a result of Defendants’ unlawful conduct because the actual value of the Products as purchased was less than the value of the Products as represented. In addition, the Products are legally worthless.

COUNT V
Violation of Missouri’s Merchandising Practices Act (“MMPA”)
Unfair Practice, 15 CSR 60-8.020
(As to the Missouri Subclass Only)

145. Plaintiff hereby incorporates and re-alleges, as though fully set forth herein, each and every allegation set forth in the preceding paragraphs of this Complaint.

146. Plaintiff brings this Count individually and on behalf of the members of the Missouri Subclass.

147. An unfair practice as defined in the MMPA is any practice which “offends any public policy as it has been established by the Constitution, statutes or common law of this state, or by the Federal Trade Commission, or its interpretive decisions.” 15 CSR 60-8.020 (emphasis added).

149. Defendants’ actions as alleged herein constitute an unfair practice under the MMPA.

150. Here, Defendants’ labeling, marketing, and advertising of the Products, as alleged herein, violates the Guides for the Use of Environmental Marketing Claims, promulgated at 16 C.F.R. Part 260 (“Green Guides”), among others as set forth in this Complaint.

151. Under the Green Guides, “[i]t is deceptive to misrepresent, directly or by implication, that a product, package, or service offers a general environmental benefit.” 16 C.F.R. § 260.4. By misrepresenting that the Products are made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint,” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste” as described above, Defendant is violating 16 C.F.R. § 260.4.

152. Further, under the Green Guides, “[i]t is deceptive to misrepresent, directly or by implication, that a product or package is made of recycled content. Recycled content includes recycled raw material, as well as used, reconditioned, and re-manufactured components.” 16 C.F.R. § 260.13(a). And “[i]t is deceptive to represent, directly or by implication, that an item contains recycled content unless it is composed of materials that have been recovered or otherwise diverted from the waste stream, either during the manufacturing process (pre-consumer), or after consumer use (post-consumer).” Id. at § 260.13(b). By misrepresenting that the Products are made with “recycled fibers” as described above, Defendant is violating 16 C.F.R. § 260.13.

153. As alleged in detail throughout the Complaint, Defendants’ labeling, marketing, and advertising of the Products as made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint,” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste,” despite the Products not being made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint,” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste,” and not made from materials that are less harmful and more beneficial to the environment, violates, and is therefore not in compliance with, the Federal Trade Commission’s revised Guides for the Use of Environmental Marketing Claims, 16 C.F.R. Part 260 (Green Guides).

154. The Green Guides also require marketers to ensure that their claims are supported by a reasonable basis prior to making the claim. 16 C.F.R. § 260.2. A reasonable basis is defined as competent and reliable scientific evidence, such as “tests, analyses, research, or studies that have been conducted and evaluated in an objective manner by qualified persons and are generally accepted in the profession to yield accurate and reliable results.” Id. “Such evidence should be sufficient in quality and quantity based on standards generally accepted in the relevant scientific fields, when considered in light of the entire body of relevant and reliable scientific evidence, to substantiate that each of the marketing claims is true.” Id.

155. Defendant’s unlawful conduct also violates the Textile Act under 16 C.F.R. § 303.16(a), because “the combination of required information and non-required information” in the marketing, advertising, and labeling of the Products is misleading. And Defendants’ conduct further violates 16 C.F.R. § 303.16(c), which states that “any non-required information or representations placed on the product shall not minimize, detract from, or conflict with required information and shall not be false, deceptive, or misleading.” Defendants’ false, deceptive, and misleading marketing, advertising, and labeling the Products as made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint,” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste,” despite the Products not being made with “recycled and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint,” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste,” violates, and is therefore not in compliance with, the Textile Act.

156. Defendant’s conduct further violates Section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act (“FTC Act”), 15 U.S.C. § 45, which prohibits unfair methods of competition and unfair or deceptive acts or practices in or effecting commerce. By misrepresenting that the Products are made from recycled, organic, sustainable, and environmentally friendly materials, Defendant is violating Section 5 of the FTC Act.

157. Defendants’ packaging, labeling, marketing, and advertising of the Products, as alleged herein, are false, deceptive, misleading, and unreasonable, and constitute unlawful conduct.

158. Defendants knew or should have known of their unlawful conduct.

159. There were reasonably available alternatives to further Defendants’ legitimate business interests other than the conduct described herein. Defendants should have complied with the law in their labeling, marketing, and advertising or otherwise manufactured and sold products that are truly made from recycled, organic, sustainable, and environmentally friendly materials.

160. All of the conduct alleged herein occurred and continues to occur in Defendants’ business. Defendants’ wrongful conduct is part of a pattern or generalized course of ongoing conduct repeated on thousands of occasions daily.

161. Plaintiff purchased the Products for personal, family, or household purposes.

162. Plaintiff suffered an ascertainable loss as a result of Defendants’ unlawful conduct because the actual value of the Products as purchased was less than the value of the Products as represented. In addition, the Products are legally worthless.

163. WHEREFORE, Plaintiff and the Missouri Subclass pray for the relief requested in the Prayer for Relief set forth below in this Complaint.

COUNT VI
Unjust Enrichment
(As to the National Class and the Missouri Subclass)

164. Plaintiff hereby incorporates and re-alleges, as though fully set forth herein, each and every allegation set forth in the preceding paragraphs of this Complaint.

165. Plaintiff brings this Count individually and on behalf of the members of the proposed Classes against the Defendants.

166. At all times relevant hereto, Defendants deceptively marketed, advertised, and sold merchandise to Plaintiff and the Classes.

167. Plaintiff and members of the Classes conferred upon Defendants non-gratuitous payments for the Products that they would not have if not for Defendants' deceptive advertising and marketing. Defendants accepted or retained the non-gratuitous benefits conferred by Plaintiff and members of the Classes, with full knowledge and awareness that, as a result of Defendants' deception, Plaintiff and members of the Classes were not receiving a product of the quality, nature, fitness, or value that had been represented by Defendants and reasonable consumers would have expected.

168. Defendants have been unjustly enriched in retaining the revenues derived from Plaintiff's and Class Members' purchases of the Products. Retention of those monies under these circumstances is unjust and inequitable because of Defendants' misrepresentations about the Products, which caused injuries to Plaintiff and Class Members because they would not have purchased the Products if the true facts had been known.

169. Because Defendants' retention of the non-gratuitous benefits conferred on it by Plaintiff and members of the Classes is unjust and inequitable, Defendants must pay restitution to Plaintiff and members of the Classes for their unjust enrichment, as ordered by the Court.

COUNT VII
Negligent Misrepresentation
(As to the National Class and the Missouri Subclass)

170. Plaintiff hereby incorporates and re-alleges, as though fully set forth herein, each and every allegation set forth in the preceding paragraphs of this Complaint.

171. Plaintiff brings this Count individually and on behalf of the members of the proposed Classes against the Defendants.

172. Defendants have marketed the "Sustainability" Collection Products in a manner indicating that the Products are made with "recycled and organic fibers" and "sustainable" materials which "reduce waste and our carbon footprint," and support a "move to zero carbon and zero waste." However, the Products are not made with "recycled fibers and organic fibers" and "sustainable" materials which "reduce waste and our carbon footprint," and support a "move to zero carbon and zero waste," because they are not made from any recycled, organic, sustainable, and or environmentally friendly materials that are less harmful and more beneficial to the environment. Therefore, Defendants have made misrepresentations as to the Products.

173. Defendants' representations regarding the Products are material to a reasonable consumer because they relate to the composition of the Products purchased by consumers. A reasonable consumer would attach importance to such representations and would be induced to act thereon in making purchase decisions.

174. At all relevant times when such misrepresentations were made, Defendants knew or have been negligent in not knowing that the representations were false and misleading.

Defendants had no reasonable grounds for believing its representations were not false and misleading.

175. Defendants intend that Plaintiff and other consumers rely on the representations made about the Products, as the representations are made prominently on the Products, and are reinforced throughout Defendants' marketing and advertising campaigns.

176. Plaintiff and members of the Classes have reasonably and justifiably relied on Defendants' negligent misrepresentation when purchasing the Products, and had the correct facts been known, would not have purchased the Products or would not have purchased them at the prices at which they were offered.

177. Therefore, as a direct and proximate result of Defendants' negligent misrepresentations, Plaintiff and members of the Classes have suffered economic losses and other general and specific damages, including but not limited to the amounts paid for the Products, premiums paid for the Products, and any interest that would have accrued on those monies, all in an amount to be proven at trial.

COUNT VIII
Fraud
(As to the National Class and the Missouri Subclass)

178. Plaintiff hereby incorporates and re-alleges, as though fully set forth herein, each and every allegation set forth in the preceding paragraphs of this Complaint.

179. Plaintiff brings this Count individually and on behalf of the members of the proposed Classes against the Defendants.

180. As discussed above, Defendants have willfully, falsely, and knowingly provided Plaintiff and Class members with false or misleading material information about the Products and failed to disclose material facts about the Products, including but not limited to the fact that the Products are not made with “recycled fibers and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint,” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste” because they are not made from any recycled, organic, sustainable, and or environmentally friendly materials that are less harmful and more beneficial to the environment. Despite this, Defendants continue to intentionally represent that the Products are made with “recycled fibers and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint,” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste.” Therefore, Defendants have made, and continue to make, misrepresentations as to the Products.

181. The misrepresentations and omissions made by Defendants, upon which Plaintiff and Class members reasonably and justifiably relied, were intended to induce and actually induced Plaintiff and Class members to purchase the Products.

182. Defendants’ misrepresentations are material (i.e., the type of misrepresentations to which a reasonable person would attach importance and would be induced to act thereon in making purchase decisions), because they relate to the composition of the Products.

183. Defendants knew or recklessly disregarded the fact that the Products are not made with “recycled fibers and organic fibers” and “sustainable” materials which “reduce waste and our carbon footprint,” and support a “move to zero carbon and zero waste” because they are not made from any recycled, organic, sustainable, and or environmentally friendly materials that are less harmful and more beneficial to the environment.

184. Defendants intend that consumers rely on these representations, as the representations are made prominently on the Products, and are reinforced throughout Defendants’ marketing and advertising campaigns.

185. Plaintiff and members of the Classes have reasonably and justifiably relied on Defendants' misrepresentations when purchasing the Products and had the correct facts been known, would not have purchased the Products or would not have purchased them at the prices at which they were offered.

186. Therefore, as a direct and proximate result of Defendants' fraudulent actions, Plaintiff and members of the Classes have suffered economic losses and other general and specific damages, including but not limited to the amounts paid for the Products, premiums paid for the Products, and any interest that would have accrued on those monies, all in an amount to be proven at trial.
